ROPE SKIPPING is the latest Hollywood "keep fit" fad, as demonstrated (above) by one of the movie colony's younger et.

FINANCIAL conditions would probably prevent the return of science courses, even though Wednesday's appeal of pre-medical students were granted, said President C. V. Boyer last night as he outlined the procedure for University students to follow their efforts to get more courses in upper division science.

LEGALITY of the provision giving Gov. Chas. H. Martin (left) a $7,500 a year salary will be contested in circuit court soon, declared Rodney Allen, Woodburn editor Thursday.

STRETCHING out is Harry McCall (above) Oregon's ace first baseman. The northern division's most brilliant fielding initial sacker will thrill Seattle fans today when the Ducks meet the Washington Huskies.

SHOT at the door of his apartment, Henry E. Bolte, (above) U.C.L.A. law teacher, is being rushed to a hospital in an ambulance while his wife bends over him. William M. Howard, former navy ensign, is held for the shooting of Bolte, and the killing of Paul Wharton, Hollywood dress designer.

WALKING along a New York sidewalk, Mrs. Rose Samonoff (above) was crushed to death by an automobile which had collided with a truck. Dazed with grief her husband stood for torturing minutes while waiting for an ambulance.

SHOCKED was Atlantic City's Mayor Harry Bacharach when Ethel Farrell (left) appeared in an open-work lace swimming suit. Nationally famous for conservatism in beach styles, the mayor-beach censor was perplexed: should he be straight-laced or the suits open-lact?
