

Lake of Gas Discovered

LOS ANGELES — A huge underground lake of pure gasoline was discovered in the harbor district near Wilmington today, causing hundreds of persons to stampede to the scene.

Shallow wells, most of them dug to a depth of only two feet, were producing from four to six gallons of gasoline an hour.

The scene, a low area about two blocks square, was dotted with hundreds of gasoline "prospectors," some of whom brought hand pumps to speed up production.

Gasoline service stations in the vicinity were deserted as the usual customers backed up their trucks and family automobiles to get their tanks filled.

Fire Chief Ralph Scott, admittedly at a loss to account for the gasoline reservoir beneath the earth's surface, said however, it was likely it came from a leak many years ago in one of the larger oil company's pipe lines leading from a refinery to a harbor terminal.

Planes Set New Record

WITH THE U. S. FLEET IN MANEUVERS WEST OF HAWAII — Three million miles of flying over the North Pacific will have been accomplished during the six weeks of naval maneuvers to be completed with the arrival of the United States fleet at San Diego, June 10.

Officers said this establishes a new record in aviation, with the flying under all kinds of weather and in varying conditions in the different areas of the 5,000,000 square miles between Alaska and Hawaii, and midway and the Pacific coast.

Colonists Draw Lots

PALMER, Alaska — The "drawing of lots" at a big public celebration, probably within the next day or two, will bring "luck" of a new kind to the 200 middle west farm families of the Matanuska colonization project.

Unlike foreclosure sales or sheriff's evictions at similar "public gatherings" of farmers in the Middle West in recent years, the drawing will give each family a 40-acre

Tydings Flays Long's War Record

Newest of Huey Long's senate antagonists is Senator Millard E. Tydings, above, Maryland Democrat, who hurled a scorching challenge at the Kingfish to justify his World War record, after the Louisiana had alluded to the war work of President Roosevelt as assistant secretary of the navy at $10,000 a year. Tydings, a veteran, angrily warned Long that he might face something besides an oral argument. Long did not serve in a military capacity during the conflict.

Committee Picks Figures, Phrases For New Library

Names of seven fields of learning, investigation, or study will be written in Latin above the seven windows of the new library, according to the final report of the committee chosen to select inscriptions. The committee selected consisted of George Rebec, dean of the philosophy department, Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel administration, and James H. Gilbert, dean of the college of social science.

The inscriptions will read: Ars, Litera, Natura, Philosophia, Societas, Historia, Religio. Above the two entrances in the front of the library will be placed the Bible quotation, "Ye shall know the truth" and "The truth shall make you free." The committee chose these to portray the function of the library.

Five outstanding figures of the past were recommended to appear repeatedly to cover the space at the top of the building. They include the heads of Plato, Aristotle, Jesus, Dante, and Shakespeare. It was suggested in the report that the numbers of repetitions of these figures which would be necessary to cover the space might become monotonous and lose their force.

The revision proposed was that the five figures should be centered in the building and figures of less importance throughout the ages be depicted.

Portlanders Are in Favor Of Chancellor

Resolution Recommends Continuation of Office

Oregon and OSC Chapters Oppose Abolition

PORTLAND, Ore., May 22.—(AP)—Continuation of the setup with a chancellor as head of Oregon's system of higher education was recommended today by Portland chapters of the University of Oregon and Oregon State college alumni associations.

"Due to the agitation to abolish the position of chancellor in the system of higher education in the state of Oregon," the joint resolution said, the groups "wish to go on record as favoring the continuation of the present system until it has been given a thorough and further test."

Abolition Efforts Hit
The resolution further opposed "any efforts to abolish the position of chancellor at this time."

The Mothers' organization of the University of Oregon, and the University Dads at recent meetings resolved the position of chancellor was unnecessary and should be abolished.

"Any statements previously made by any organization or individual to the effect that the alumni of the University of Oregon favored abolishing the position of chancellor were unauthorized by and made with out the consent of the board of governors and duly elected officers of the Portland chapter of the University of Oregon alumni association."

Ducks Annex First Place With 11 to 9 Victory Over Idaho

Bonus Backer

Speaker Joseph W. Brynson seemed to get genuine enjoyment out of signing the soldier bonus bill, as pictured above. Today the senate votes on whether or not to override President Roosevelt's veto.

Yesterday the house gave a resounding vote in favor of the bill despite a personal message by the president listing the reasons for having his veto sustained.

Senators to Vote On Roosevelt's Bonus Bill Veto

Representatives Repass Measure Over FDR

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—An irrepresible house majority yesterday swiftly re-passed the Patman bonus bill over President Roosevelt's veto warnings of "disastrous consequences," only to send the new money plan to an almost certain death in the senate.

Scarcely had Mr. Roosevelt's voice ceased echoing in the crowded house chamber where he hammered objection after objection into the $2,200,000,000 bill than the representatives voted 322 to 98 to override his veto—the first personally delivered in history. It was many more than the two-thirds majority needed.

More deliberately, the senate decided to wait until today to consider the presidential message which, with the house, it heard lay "printing press money" as an invitation of "an ultimate reckoning in uncontrollable prices and in the destruction of the value of savings."

'Iron Man' Saves Game With Ninth Inning Relief Work

NORTHERN DIVISION STANDINGS

	W.	L.	Pct.
Oregon	8	5	.615
OSC	7	5	.583
WSC	8	6	.571
Washington	5	5	.500
Idaho	3	10	.231

The University of Oregon baseball team defeated the Idaho Vandals 11-9 on the Vandal diamond yesterday and gained undisputed possession of first place in the Northern Division baseball race.

All other teams were idle as the Webfoots counted their triumph and as a result the Reinhartmen advanced a notch in the standings and are now a half game ahead of Washington State and Oregon State.

The Beavers will play the University of Washington in the first of a two-game series at Seattle this afternoon, while the Cougars rest until May 31 when they meet their deadly rivals, the Huskies.

McFadden Stars

Oregon's sensational "iron man" pitcher Don McFadden, who has been the only consistent winner for the Reinhart-coached baseball team this season, came through with another superb hurling exhibition yesterday.

McFadden, who has been responsible for three wins and one loss in the first five games of the Ducks' current half-dozen contest road trip, again saved the ball game and Oregon's pennant aspirations for his team when he struck out two men in a row and held the third to an infied out in the last of the ninth inning after Idaho had loaded the bases.

Pitches Two Tilts

The first of McFadden's brilliant performances came on the first day of the tour—last Saturday afternoon at Seattle when the ex-Southern Oregon Normal star pitched in both games of a double-header and split the pair of contests. He started the first tilt, but lost a heartbreaker, 2 to 1, in the nightcap, he relieved Cece Inman and won the ball game.

Tuesday afternoon, McFadden took the mound again, this time against the WSC Cougars on their home diamond, and allowed his opponents only two hits in chalking up a 5-2 victory. Today saw his third win.

Nasund Hurls Again

Oregon opened the scoring in yesterday's ball game in the first and pounded Shepard for four runs before Nasund replaced him in the third. Nasund, who tossed brilliant ball against Oregon State Tuesday, kept Oregon's batters guessing until the eighth when his arm gave out.

Each team used four pitchers in an effort to stem the free-hitting speers of their opponents.

The teams will play the last of their four-game series today.
