Court Smashes NRA

WASHINGTON — The NRA, its vast code structure tumbled by a sweeping supreme court decision of unconstitutionality, tonight suspended "all methods of compulsory enforcement."

Acting a few hours after the high court held unanimously that the president had been given too much "unfettered" authority in proclaiming codes, and that code provisions went too far in regulations affecting intra-state commerce, the administration took two preliminary steps.

Donald Richberg, NRA administrator, after a conference with President Roosevelt, issued a plea that employers continue to operate under their codes until some new structure could be reared.

In the same statement Richberg added:

"This decision of the court makes codes of fair competition unenforceable as a matter of law; and in deference to that ruling all methods of compulsory enforcement of the codes will be immediately suspended."

Graf Zeppelin Damaged

CASABLANCA, Morocco — The Graf Zeppelin was reported in difficulty tonight off Larache.

A wireless message picked up at the Snaï station said one of the Zeppelin's motor compartments was damaged and asked the Seville base to prepare everything for a probable landing there.

The message also asked for information as to the amount of gas available at the Seville base.

Debt Moratorium Blasted

WASHINGTON — Legislation enabling debt-burdened farmers to obtain a partial five-year moratorium on their mortgage debts was blasted off the statute books today by the supreme court.

Unanimously, the high tribunal held the Frazier-Lemke act unconstitutional, speaking these words through the mouth of the veteran associate justice, Louis Brandeis: "For the fifth amendment commands that, however great the nation's need, private property shall not be thus taken even for a wholly public use without just compensation."

English, Germans Confer

LONDON — Great Britain will "call" Adolf Hitler on his offer to abolish submarines when Anglo-German naval talks open here June 4, well-informed quarters said tonight.

Hitler, in his speech to the Reichstag last Tuesday, offered to meet other powers in curbing armaments, even to the scrapping of U-boats, dreaded German weapon.

Other nations, including the United States, will be informed of the specific limitations which Germany may be willing to accept.

Great Britain is determined that a general naval conference be held before the end of 1935 in order to fulfill naval treaty obligations. In view of Hitler's projected naval building program Germany's participation as well as Russia's is considered important.

HOLC Ready to Reopen

WASHINGTON — The home owners loan corporation tonight was ready to swing open its long closed doors to receive new applications for aid from distressed home owners.

The starting again of its machinery was dependent only upon the virtually certain signature by President Roosevelt of a bill giving the corporation an additional $1,750,000.

Of this amount, $300,000,000 must be invested in home loan bank debentures. The rest will be available to help mortgage-burdened home owners who already have received $2,600,820,136.

Within the last two weeks several score of appraisers and other professional men have been restored to the corporation's payroll to care for the expected rush. These men were dropped last November when the corporation stopped new applications.

4 Psychology Majors Join College Staffs

Carlson, Buxton, Courts, And Humphreys Have Jobs

Claude Buxton and Fred Courts, graduate assistants, and Lloyd G. Humphreys and J. Spencer Carlson, graduating seniors in the psychology department have been awarded positions from universities through the country for the coming year, it was announced today by Dr. Howard R. Taylor, head of the psychology department.

In the past the psychology department has had no difficulty in placing students who have received their masters degree in assistantships where it would be possible to work for a higher degree. This year the seniors who plan to get higher degrees in psychology have been offered positions, according to Dr. Taylor, in other educational institutions. This is especially pleasing because of the usual difficulty in placing them during the financial depression.

Mr. Buxton, associate member of Sigma Xi, who will receive his M.A. degree in June, in recognition of his work here received an assistantship at the University of Iowa, where he will continue his graduate work in the field of motor abilities. He has recently completed a thesis on reliability and validity of tests for eye and hand preference, a study of unusual significance in diagnosis of reading, writing and speaking disabilities.

A position as instructor of elementary courses in experimental psychology at Reed college in Portland has been received by Fred Courts, associate Sigma Xi, who receives his master's degree this term.

Lloyd Humphreys, graduating senior, associate Sigma Xi, and member of the Senior Six, is offered an assistantship at the University of Indiana, where he will work in the psychological clinic or laboratory.

J. Spencer Carlson, also associate Sigma Xi and graduating senior, received a fellowship at Northwestern university and an assistantship at the University of Minnesota. Mr. Carlson will go to Minnesota and study there in industrial psychology.

Howard R. Taylor Will Head Social Science Groups

Schumacher and Bond to Hold Office

Dr. Howard R. Taylor, acting head of the University psychology department, was elected president of the faculty social science club at its May meeting. Other officers chosen to act with Dr. Taylor during the coming year are Dr. Waldo Schumacher, professor of political science, vice-president; and Dr. Jesse H. Bond, professor of business administration, secretary, a position which he has occupied for seven years.

Dr. Nelson L. Bossing, professor of education, is the retiring president of the club, and Dr. Taylor served this year as vice-president.

The social science club, founded about the time of the World war, includes all faculty people interested in this field, whether or not they are on the staff of this particular department.

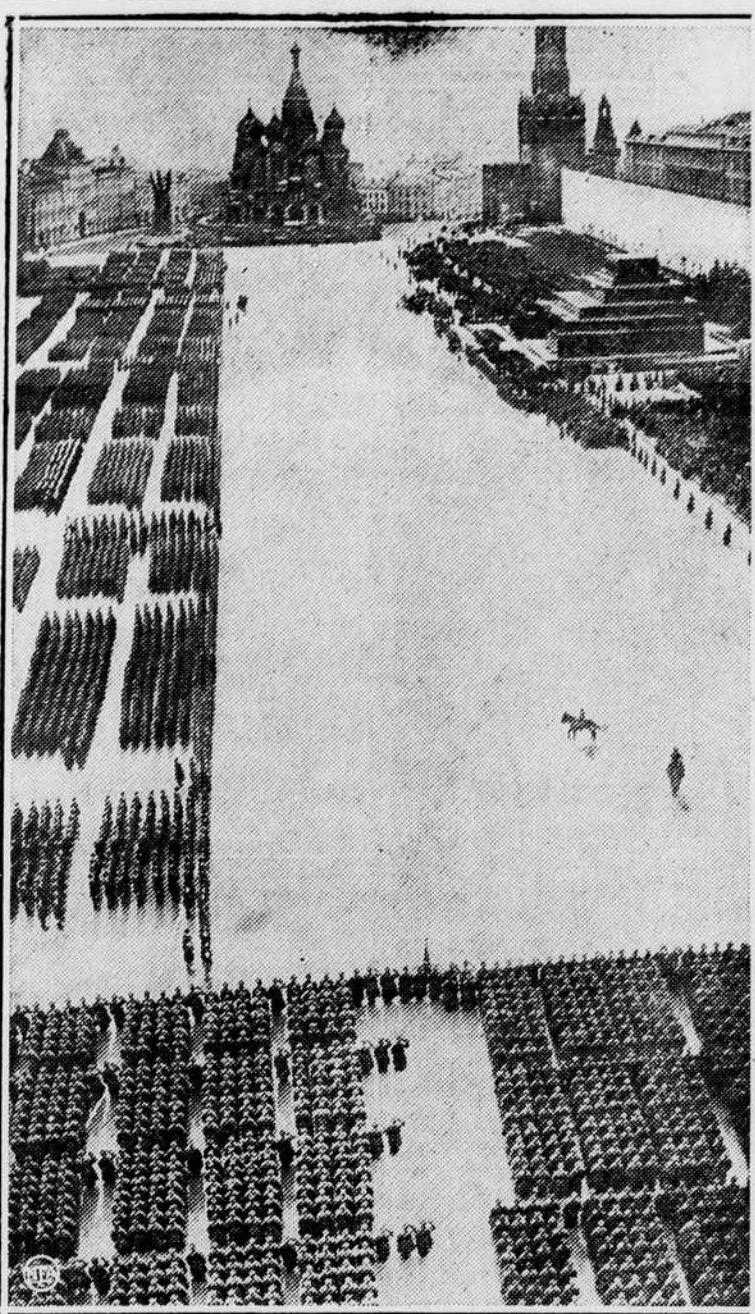

Visits in Portland — Helen Larson visited during the past weekend with her parents at her home in Portland, returning to the campus Sunday.

Russia Is Ready

While 700 war planes roared over head and 300 tanks rumbled an ominous refrain, the military leaders of Soviet Russia paraded 40,000 soldiers through Red Square in Moscow in a demonstration of might calculated to be warning to possible foes. Here is an impressive view of the formidable military array.

Oregon's Tinted Sheet to Reveal Shocking Deeds

The "Green Goose," annual issue of tinted Oregon scandal, is to flicker amusing sidelights on the recent lives of many Oregon students early next Tuesday morning at five cents a flick.

A box has been placed in the College Side by members of the staff and it is hoped by Winston Allard, editor, that a multitude of shady, shocking sins of students will be harvested from the receptacle the latter part of this week.

Allard said last night that a prize will be offered for the best story dropped into the hold of the box at the College Side.

The Goose will be of eight pages and tabloid form on green newsprint.

WAA Net Victors Will Receive Cups

The four tennis tournaments being conducted by W.A.A. are well underway and all matches have been played to the third rounds.

A cup will be awarded to the winner in the singles and also in the doubles all-campus tournaments. Plans are now underway for the cups to be given at the W.A.A. banquet in the coming week, if the tournaments are finished in time. Girls are asked to play their matches when scheduled so that the tournaments may move along at a rapid speed.

Subscription rates $2.50 a year.

Dean Schwering Tells of Changes For Fall Rushing

Tuesday Dinner to Open Week for Women

Plans are already underway for fall term rushing according to Hazel P. Schwering, dean of women. Rushing will not begin until Tuesday dinner giving the freshmen women more time to take their academic exams before entering the social side of the first school week.

"We have tried to make rush week more dignified, and in a measure it has succeeded, but it still remains hectic. This we believe will make it less strenuous for the entering women," Dean Schwering said.

Dates will be divided in the same way as before, the only change being in the beginning of rush week. This means that preference night will be the following Saturday and that bids will be given out in the dean's office on Sunday morning.

"It will be a splendid thing from the standpoint of the various living organizations," she concluded.

Bryson Sings in Salem On Request Program

Roy Bryson, baritone, is to appear in a request program this evening at Salem, which is being sponsored by a group of Salem business men and service clubs.

The program is to be approximately the same as Mr. Bryson sang at a recent concert on the Oregon campus. The affair is to be held in the auditorium of the First Congregational church and will begin at 8:15.

YWCA Breakfast Held on Sunday

The annual junior-senior breakfast, the last YWCA social function of the term, will be given this Sunday, June 2, Doris Mabie, social chairman, announced today. The affair, to which juniors invite seniors as their guests, will take place at 9 o'clock in Gerlinger. Hazel P. Schwering, dean of women, will be the principal speaker.

The committee for the breakfast is composed of the following girls: Genevieve McNiece, tickets; Helen LaFollette, serving; Mary Ellen Eberhart, properties; Olive Lewis, food; Helen Bartrum and Betty Shoemaker, publicity; Gladys Battleson, cleanup.

In each house a girl will be appointed to sell tickets and make reservations for juniors. Prices for the breakfast will be 70 cents a couple.

Denizens of Deep May Be Ogled in Deady Hall Room

A large table display of denizens of the deep or Oregon sea coast inhabitants is now a feature of the zoology laboratory room in Deady hall. The specimens are bottled.

For instance, there the octopus and the sinister-looking "dead man's finger" which is a round, plushy appearing, red object dotted with open holes. And there's the scorpion and the sea-urchin, a small purplish, thorny-looking substance that eats holes in rocks where it lives. Perhaps the strangest and yet the most picturesque is a lavender-colored spiraled, rather dainty exhibit which is a type of worm and a parasite at that. The chiton which is a large, brown, oval mollusk and resembles a clam in its structure is represented. The sea-cucumber, which probably wouldn't be so good in salad, is a vest-pocket edition of the chiton. Centipedes, clams, crayfish, sand crabs, horse shoe crab, pink and white coral are other exhibits.

The display is to further the general acquaintance with animals of the sea coast, members of the zoology department said.
