

No Men

The women's page of the Emerald, appearing each Thursday, prints much that even the men should read.

Oregon Emerald

Movie Fans

By following "In Review," readers of the Emerald may be sure they're not reading studio publicity clippings.

VOLUME XXXVII

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1935

NUMBER 8

Student Says He Will Fight ROTC Decision

Campus Groups Are Expected to Support Connelly in Demand For Drill Exemption

The military exemptions committee's refusal to grant exemption from drill to Gordon Connelly, journalism student, was followed last night by Connelly's declaration that he will fight the case and under no circumstances will take ROTC. Connelly based his application for exemption on the grounds that the military course is academically valueless and a waste of time.

Two students appeared before the faculty committee when it met Tuesday, one of them Connelly, and the other Gilbert Titus, conscientious objector, who was exempted. More than 25 students have been exempted on these grounds, according to Colonel E. V. D. Murphy, head of the military department.

Connelly said last night, "I view the decision of the military exemptions committee as obviously unfair. My reasons as presented to that body constitute what I consider fully adequate grounds for exemption. I will under no circumstances take military training, and I intend to fight this case until a satisfactory decision is rendered."

Ordinarily the committee exempts students on two grounds, conscientious objection and a heavy work schedule. Connelly departed from the usual procedure by basing his complaint entirely on the allegation that the military course is valueless, a waste of time, and has no legitimate place as a compulsory feature of a liberal university.

Compatriots of Connelly said last night several organizations are expected to support him in a test case. Just what procedure will be followed is not known, but will rest more or less with military authorities, since Connelly has said he will under no condition return to drill.

Campus Calendar

Westminster dramatics group meets today at 4 at Westminster house.

Wesley club cabinet will meet at the home of Dorothy Nyland, 613 Eleventh avenue east, at 7:30 tonight. All members are requested to be present.

AWS council will meet today at 5 in the College Side.

There will be a short but important Amphibian meeting tonight at 7:45 in the women's gym.

The YWCA consumer's group will meet today at 5 o'clock in the bungalow.

Delta Upsilon members and pledges will have their pictures taken for the 1936 Oregoniana at the Kennell-Ellis studios today.

Purpose and contact group members meet at YWCA at 4:30 this afternoon.

The Classical club is sponsoring a lecture on "The Interpretation of Greek and Roman Art" by Prof. W. R. B. Willcox tonight at 8 in room 107 Oregon. The public is invited.

Christian Science organization will hold its regular meeting tonight at 8 in the YWCA bungalow. All those interested in Christian Science are welcome.

There will be an intra-fraternity council meeting tonight at 6:00 o'clock at the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity house.

All Yeomen who plan to attend the banquet Friday at 7:30 must register by Thursday at 5 p. m. at the YMCA hut.

Makeup Examination In Room 107 Villard At 4 o'Clock Monday

Makeup psychological examinations will be held in 107 Villard instead of in the assembly hall in Villard on Monday, October 14, at 4 o'clock, according to the registrar's office. The change was made necessary by the Japanese art and culture class in the assembly room at that hour.

Dr. Hunter Is Alumni Guest

Boyer, Rossen, Blais To Speak at Banquet

Affording them their first opportunity to meet with Oregon's new chancellor, Dr. Frederick M. Hunter, alumni of the University of Oregon will gather Friday evening in Portland for their second annual Founders' Day banquet at which time Dr. Hunter will deliver the principal address, according to Robert K. Allen, alumni secretary.

The alumni are taking advantage of the opportunity afforded by the California-Oregon game the following day to invite alumni from all parts of Oregon for this second annual event. A record crowd of more than 500 alumni is expected.

The affair is to be held at the Woodcraft Temple, Southwest Fourteenth and Morrison streets, at 6:30 o'clock. Although the banquet is primarily for alumni, faculty members have been especially invited to attend. On the program with Dr. Hunter will be President C. V. Boyer, Graduate Manager Hugh E. Rossen and Student Body President James Blais. A short pep program featuring the University band and the student rally committee has been arranged. A broadcast of this feature is planned.

The event is being sponsored by the Portland alumni association of which Paul D. Hunt is president. George Weber is in charge of the banquet. Tickets, which are $1.00 per plate, may be obtained by calling at the alumni office on the campus.

WAA Has First Meeting of Year

Representatives of the Women's Athletic Association met last night in Gerlinger hall for their first meeting of the year.

Representatives of the various women's living organizations include: Alpha Delta Pi, Iris Franzen; Alpha Gamma Delta, Evelyn King; Alpha Omicron Pi, Norma Rising; Alpha Phi, Betty Jane Bernitt; Alpha Xi Delta, Jean Elvington; Chi Omega, Winifred Pembroke; Delta Delta Delta, Helen Payne; Delta Gamma, Imogene Wiley; Gamma Phi Beta, Jane Bogue; Hendricks hall, Betty Claisley; Kappa Alpha Theta, Marjorie Gearhart; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Margaret Johnson; Pi Beta Phi, Kay Buck; Sigma Kappa, Genevieve McNiece; Susan Campbell, Barbara Ketchum; Zeta Tau Alpha, Ruth Lake.

The duties of the representatives are to keep in touch with sports, to report announcements of the house games and intramural hours, and to organize house teams. Representatives must be sophomores and must be associated or active members of the W. A. A.

17 Are Pledged By Tau Delta Delta

Tau Delta Delta, local undergraduate music honorary, formally pledged 17 members this Tuesday evening. The new pledges are: Betty Sether, Dorothy Ann Rader, Louise, Burnesan, Charlotte Plummer, Madge Conaway, Kathleen Houghum, Mollie Bob Small, Doris Wulzen, Martha Hennigan, Rachael Koken of Eugene; Marionbeth Wolfenden, Jacqueline Wong of Portland; Jane Henderson of Oregon City; Dorothy Burgess, Dorothy Gore of Medford; Francella Oliver of Baker; and Shirley Golden of Tillamook.

Guarding Frontier Headquarters

With war drums beating throughout the Ethiopian hills for general mobilization to ward off attacks by Italian troops, these soldiers of Halle Selassie's army are gathered near the front along the French Somaliland border protecting their frontier headquarters.

Lincoln High Offers Course In Industry

College Credit Earned On Courses' Competition

Oregon's industrial possibilities, as yet unscratched, will be the basis of a new course, Oregon Commerce and Industry, to be offered during the fall term by the Portland Extension Center at Lincoln high school. Regular college credit will be earned by all those completing the course.

Walter R. May, manager of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, is chairman, and professional and industrial leaders, such as E. B. MacNaughton, president of the First National Bank of Portland, and George P. Berkey, vice president of the Crown Willamette Paper company, will deliver the weekly lectures stressing the manufacturing and commercial industries in the Northwest, and their relation to foreign and domestic markets, personnel, raw materials, and power.

Registration will open next week at Portland Extension Center in the Oregon building or at the next class session in Lincoln high.

Phi Mu Alphas To Give Smoker For New Students

Meeting to Be Held At Music Auditorium

Phi Mu Alpha, men's national music honorary, will present one of its semi-annual smokers tonight at 8 o'clock in the music auditorium. The purpose of the get-together is to acquaint the music honorary members with new students in the University who are interested in modern American music, according to Alvin Templer. The program will consist of instrumental and vocal selections of the group. Following the informal concert everyone will go to the music lounge, where refreshments will be served and members will have an opportunity to meet the new students.

"I personally extend an invitation to every man on the campus who is interested in developing and furthering modern American music to attend Phi Mu Alpha's smoker Thursday night," Templer said last evening, "and I am certain it will be an hour and a half well spent."

James Morrison, supreme councilman of the group, aided by Clarence Woods and Robert Freed Bales, is in charge of the smoker and said last night he expected a large audience.

Miss Thompson Talks To Student Nurses

Miss Elnora E. Thomson, director of the department of nursing education at the University medical school in Portland, spent yesterday on the campus advising upper division students in the department of nursing education.

She was highly pleased with the decided increase in this department, which is the largest in its history. Twenty students are taking lower division work and 17 are enrolled in the more advanced courses. Last year, Miss Thomson said, only 13 were enrolled in both divisions.

Co-op Living Group Drafts Model Set-up

The Students' Cooperative Living association, dedicated to economical living conditions, provision for group life among students who could not otherwise participate, and experimentation in the technique of cooperative living, this week assumed the responsibility of drafting an organizational set-up which is expected to become the model for future cooperative houses on this and other campuses.

Officers elected at the Tuesday meeting were Howard Ohmart, executive secretary; Charles Pad-

(Please turn to page three)

Oregon Libe Shows Bibles

8 Facsimile Pages Display Early Dates

In commemoration of the 400th anniversary of the first Bible printed in English, the University library will have on display facsimiles of different editions and translations of Bibles, ranging from the years 1525 to 1611. Those facsimile pages received by M. H. Douglass, librarian, showing the history of the English Bible, are:

1. Tyndale's New Testament, Testament, 1525.
- II. Coverdale's Bible, 1535.
- III. Mathew's Bible, 1537.
- IV. The Great Bible, 1539.
- V. The Geneva Bible, 1560.
- VI. The Bishop's Bible, 1568.
- VII. The Rheims-Douai Bible, 1582-1610.
- VIII. The King James Bible, 1611.

The anniversary starts October 4, which date appears on the last page of the Coverdale Bible in 1535 as the date when the task of printing the Bible was completed. The display will be kept until December 8, which is the second Sunday in December and which day, for several years, has been Bible Sunday in many churches and seems an appropriate date for ending the observance.

An article in The Publisher's Weekly related: "Four hundred years ago, the first great translator of the Bible into modern English was held in a Belgian jail . . . and the first Bible was being stealthily issued from an unmarked press."

The American Bible Society, Bible House, New York City, printed the facsimile pages sent out by the National Commemoration committee. The exhibit to be held in our library will play its part in helping to make this anniversary a national movement.

Ticket Deadline Is Thursday at 5

Assistant Graduate Manager Ralph Schomp announced yesterday afternoon that today would be his last day for the non-ASUO members and the general public to buy tickets to the California game in Portland.

They may be secured any time in the office of the graduate manager in the Igloo, which closes at 5 o'clock.

Dads' Day to Be Orators' Topics At Noon Meals

Circulars to Be Given At Houses and Co-op

Fraternity and sorority men and women will be interrupted today noon in the middle of their lunches by stirring talks which Frank Bondurant, committee head, hopes all students will relay home to their dads.

The topic of each orator will be an entreaty for all to inveigle some method of getting their dads to come to Oregon for a day on October 19 when annual Dad's Day festivities will reach a climax at the Idaho-Oregon football game.

This will be the first duty of the recently chosen speakers committee, headed by Al Davis, whose duty is to advertise by word of mouth, outstanding ASUO events of the year.

Circulars advertising Dad's Day events will be distributed to each student who will be asked to take or send it to his or her father in the near future. Students who are not affiliated with living organizations may secure these circulars at the Co-op.

Serving on the student committee under Bondurant are: Virginia Proctor, Jean Stevenson, Mary McCracken, Dan Clark, Jr., and Wayne Harbert.

Idaho Professor Visits Campus

Mrs. Sargent Tells About Nazi Germany

Mrs. M. L. Sargent, professor of Romance languages at the University of Idaho, visited Dr. Schmidt's German classes Monday and Tuesday, discussing broadly the current conditions in Germany and other European countries. She retraced German history, showing the causes which led up to the present German political history.

Professor Sargent, who has recently been to Germany during her year's leave of absence, told of the enthusiasm with which German people accepted Hitler, describing him as "a man with a singleness of purpose and a love for the people."

An open forum discussion followed her talk. Mrs. Sargent recommended "Germany Under the Treaty" by W. A. Dawson, and "The Road to War," by Millis, as excellent references for anyone further interested in the situation.

Wesley Club Will Meet in Corvallis

Wesley club, Methodist student organization, will travel to Corvallis this Sunday to attend a discussion led by Harold Ehrensberger, nationally known leader in religious drama. Cars are leaving the Methodist church at 4:00 p. m. Ehrensberger will be in Eugene Monday for a speaking engagement and discussion sessions.

Students have been urged by Wesley club officers to attend the Corvallis meeting, phoning travel reservations to Dorothy Nyland, 1550-J.

Frosh to Meet To Nominate Class Officers

Villard Hall to Be Scene of Political Gathering at 7:30; Rourke Is Adviser

Hordes of inexperienced frosh which have been streaming over the campus since the opening of school are to meet tonight to nominate class officers—the first necessary step in the direction of organization.

The time has been set at 7:30 and the place at Villard hall, which, if any young freshman should get lost, is located north of historic Deady hall. Roland Rourke, ASUO vice-prexy, is to assume the role of chief adviser to help the yearlings get their political machine rumbling towards election.

Frantic young men were dashing wildly from one end of the campus to the other last evening, breathing phrases through the fog of promises, ending with "If I'm elected president." The whole situation is expected to simmer down after tonight's meeting to be one of the most fiery political frays to be seen among members of the entering class in several years.

Nobody seemed to know who was going to run for what. A man who was planning to be a presidential candidate one minute would change his mind the next, leaving reporters much in the dark as to possible tickets.

Three tickets were reported, without definite confirmation, to be forming which will make the campaign all the hotter. Two parties usually make up the ticket. Last year, after the two organized groups had nominated their candidates, heralding each with a well-divided blast of hysterical screaming and handclapping on the part of fellow pledges and political allies, a third candidate was put up on the boards. This confused the political machine for a few days until the third candidate withdrew in favor of one of the organized tickets.

Lamps burned the oil until early this morning as proud fraternity upperclassmen penned the most prolific and flowery phrases for the frosh candidates to recite to their classmates tonight. The object of these orations is usually to make every living organization think it will get the most "gravy" without actually promising anything.

Age-old political combinations of strong groups of houses have been cracked wide open by the precedent-setting frosh in their pre-nomination dicker. Individuals most active reported yesterday, however, that respective fraternities would probably be lined up definitely on one side or the other by the meeting tonight.

After tonight, the candidates will be carried around on a chip to meet the freshman women in the sororities, at whom many promising smiles will be made as a bait for their support. Regulations on the campus make it illegal for sororities to openly support a given political group.

Orides Change Plans for Banquet

A slight change in the program as stated in Wednesday's Emerald for the Orides banquet, planned for Friday at 7:30 p. m. at the YWCA hut, was announced today by Miss Theda Spicer, president.

John Castiel, instead of giving the main address, will give but a brief talk, lending humor to the affair. Janet Smith, employment secretary, will be toastmistress, while Miss Spicer will also address the group.

Those planning to attend will be given until Thursday night to register for the banquet. The former deadline was Wednesday. The charge will be only 15 cents, and all independents are urged to attend, since this will be the one big "get-together" for independents of the term.

The dance with the Yeomen's club is to be held at 9 p. m. at the Green Parrot Palms.

Rourke Announces Freshman Meeting In Villard Tonight

All frosh are to congregate this evening in Villard hall to nominate their candidates for class offices for the coming year.

The time has been set at 7:30, announced ASUO Vice-President Rourke who is in charge of yearling class elections.

Sophs Name Committee

Date of Informal Set for October 26

Announcement of committees for the sophomore informal were made today by Elizabeth Turner, acting president of the sophomore class, with approval of the sophomore council.

Miss Turner was named acting president of the sophomore class in place of Lyle Baker, who was unable to take office.

The date for the dance has been scheduled for Saturday evening, October 26, at the Igloo. Tickets will be $1.00 and 75c.

Those on the various committees are: co-chairmen, Louis Hills and Bill Jones; assistant chairmen, Frances Johnson and Marge Gearheart; publicity, Bill Pease and Virginia Wellington; decorations, Clyde Keller and Sam Fort; finance, Al Carter and Ralph Cathey; construction, Harold Olsen and Gladys Battleson; refreshments, Gayle Buchanan and Marjorie Brainard; patrons, Peggy Church and Molly White; reception, Beverly Burkitt and Betty Rosa; entertainment, Genevieve McNiece and Bill Finch; floor, Mel Shevich and Larry Crane; policing, Bill Dalton; music, Chuck Barclay and Vivian Emery; clean-up, Noel Benson; programs, Bob deArmand and Marion Dryer; tickets, Bob Wilhelm.

Supreme Court To Decide Taxes On Miner Building

Friday at 1:30 p. m. Oregon's nine supreme court justices will decide whether or not Lane county and the city of Eugene can legally tax the W. E. Miner building.

Circuit Judge Skipworth earlier in the year decreed that the Miner building was tax exempt but Lane county appealed the case to the state supreme court, which is now meeting in Salem where H. E. Slatery, Eugene attorney, will present the case for the county.

If declared tax exempt, the $7,500 ordinarily paid out in taxes can be used by the University of Oregon to grant scholarships.

Non-Portland Girls Must Get Parents' OK

All girls planning to go to Portland to the game this week-end who do not reside in Portland must bring written permission from their parents to the dean of women's office. Sign-out slips must also be turned in.

Mighty Oregon Band Will Rival Bear Musicians

This coming week-end when the University of Oregon Varsity squad has its trial by fire against the first of its Coast Conference competitors, there will be another contest raging in the streets, the radio stations and the great theatrical arenas of downtown Portland.

The University of Oregon band, which has been described variously as "The mighty 80 piece Oregon band" and the "fifteen pieces that played in Bend," actually a well-knit organization of 49 men, will be running up against what is ballyhooed as the stiffest band competition on the coast. California is sending up an 80 piece organization, selected from nearly five times the amount of raw material that the Oregon group has on tap. And they've been rehearsing since mid-August.

Theater Rally Ticket Sale Starts Today

Committee Decides Event Dutch Treat ; George Asks Student Support for Send-off

It's "Dutch treat" for Friday night! The men dig deep after thin dimes week-end after week-end and the women contribute a bit at Mortar Board but the big rally at the Broadway theater in Portland Friday night is to be "even Stephen." This was the decision of the Oregon rally committee headed by Jack Campbell which is in charge of Oregon's official festivities in the Rose city Friday and Saturday.

Ticket booths have been established on three main campus crossroads: the old libe, in front of the law temple, and on the Co-op front porch. Tickets sell for 40 cents and will be on sale until noon today. Everyone is urged to get their tickets early as a large crowd is expected. Men and women buy their own tickets and all come prepared to blow the theater roof off at the big funnest Friday night, urged Campbell.

A rousing pep rally tomorrow noon at the Southern Pacific station is being planned by Bill George, yell leader, who asks that every able bodied man and woman be on hand at 12:20 to let the team know that all the students are behind them on the eve of the big game.

George asked that living organizations try to have early lunches on Friday to permit students to join in the huge send-off, pep affair before the train leaves.

Friday night the big rally will start in front of the Broadway theater at 9:30 o'clock. At 10:00 everyone will go inside and either see the screen attraction or dance in the ballroom upstairs to the music of Buck McGowan's orchestra.

After the show, an all-Oregon stage review and pep stunts are planned. Campbell urged everyone to turn out and expect a good time. The stunts include dances by former Broadway review stars and many feature entertainments. "We're going to really have a swell time," said Campbell.

After the game Saturday the Oregon alumni and the rally committee will stage a dance at the Multnomah hotel. The charge will be $1.00 a couple.

"If the students whoop it up and show the enthusiasm they did at the Utah game, the dance Saturday night will be a victory dance," Campbell predicted.

Eleven Students Still Patients at Infirmary

The epidemic of colds continues, as the infirmary was nearly filled to capacity October 9. The list of 11 includes Robert Anet, Naomi Cronin, Virginia Schultz, Beth Glaisyer, Frances True, Fayette Thompson, Delbert Bjork, Jim Ballew, Carson Shumake, Bill Martin, and George Birnie.