Ducks Renew Old Vandal Feud Today

Webfoot Gridsters Under Leadership Of Captain Michek

Forward Wall of Oregon Is Ready For Muscovites Backfield Men

By PAT FRIZZELL
 Oregon's scrappy Webfoots clash with Idaho's irate Vandals on Hayward field this afternoon in the 25th renewal of one of the Pacific Northwest oldest gridiron rivalries.

Idaho, wild to break into the win column after three successive heart-breaking defeats, presents a definite threat to Prink Callison's Ducks, who will be fighting in the race for the Pacific Coast conference championship.

All of the Vandals' three losses, to Washington, Gonzaga and Whitman, have been by the closest of scores and have only served to rouse Ted Bank's hearties to violent fury. It'll be do or die for the machine from Moscow and Oregon may be in for a rough time.

Webfoots Ready to Go
 The Webfoots are ready to go, but, as usual, Callison is in a gloomy mood. Loss of Bud Goodin, his backfield ace, has depressed the Duck mentor considerably, and with good reason, for none of the three left halfbacks now on deck appears capable of completely filling his flying cleats.

Dale Lasselle, slight and shifty sophomore from Grant, is fairly certain to receive the starting call at the important ball-carrying post, but Romey DePittard, 180-pounder who starred here three years ago, is still a starting possibility. Speedy Bobby King is Prink's third bet for Goodin's old place.

Fullback Frank Michek will captain the Oregon squad, with Eust 'em Bob Braddock at right half and consistent, hard-hitting Johnny Reischman at the signal-barking spot.

Andy Hurney to Start
 The forward wall of the driving Ducks will shape up about as it has in previous tilts when the opening whistle sounds today. Indications last night were that Ed Farrar, Oregon's veteran center who suffered a jaw bruise in the California fray, would assume his regular position this afternoon. Sophomore Vernon Moore will be Johnny-on-the-spot for relief duty if Farrar tires, and it is still possible that he may start.

The only likely alteration in the first-string Webfoot line will be at right guard, where Handy Andy Hurney, who can play any old position satisfactorily, is scheduled to open over Tony Amato. Hurney started last week, but Amato has been considered the regular.

Oregon's two bidders for all-coast laurels, Del Bjork and Ross Carter, are ready at left tackle and left guard respectively, with Ken Skinner booked for the other tackle berth. Stan Riordan and Budd Jones will be at the wings.

Oregon Leads in Series
 Idaho hasn't beaten the Webfoots since the pre-historic days of 1926, when Vernon "Skipper" Stivers, now coach at Benson Tech, passed and plunged to a touchdown that gave the Vandals a 6-to-0 triumph. The only other Idaho victory over Oregon came the previous year, in 1925, when the count was 13-to-0.

Those games were played in the hey-day of football glory at Moscow and the dark ages of grid history at Oregon. In 1927 the Vandals earned a scoreless tie with the Ducks, but the following fall Webfoot domination began in earnest.

Since then Oregon has crushed the Idahoans six times in a row. Total figures for the 24 contests played between the two teams show Oregon with 18 wins to a lonely two for the Vandals, with four tussles ending in deadlocks.

Past records don't daunt the sturdy lads who absorb their football knowledge from Ted Bank, however, and they'll be out for blood today.

The Idaho squad, 30 strong, arrived in Eugene yesterday and snapped through a workout in the stadium. Bank is somewhat uncertain as to his starters, but the established first-string team is expected to open. At quarterback there is a possibility that Clarence Devlin, made-over halfback, will get the call over Russ Honsowetz.

Theron Ward, fleetest back for his size west of the Rockies, will be on hand to pack the mail at left half. Harvie Walker, a senior who has never before started a varsity game, is almost sure to open at the other half, with pile-driving Ross Sundberg in line for the fullback job.

Behemoth Bob McCue, one of the few pass-heaving tackles in captivity, is Idaho's outstanding lineman. McCue, hero of many a Vandal conquest, flips 50 yards to a dime without batting an eye. Norman Iverson and George Rich pull most of Big Bob's tremendous tosses out of the upper atmosphere.

Other Idaho forward wall regulars are Gene Brado at right tackle, Johnny Cooper and Stonko Pavkov at the guards and Joe Wheeler at center. Jim Moore, tackle star of the Vandal-Webfoot clash here two years ago, is also due to see action.

Ducks Close Drill
 Callison sent the Webfoots through a brisk closing workout last night. All men are in good shape. If and when the Ducks push over their touchdowns, Winifred Pepper, sub guard, will be called in to convert. Pepper has been practicing on boots between the cross bars all week and last night he was splitting the uprights consistently.

Today's game will be the feature of the Dads' day festivities on the campus. Kickoff time is 2 o'clock. Probable starting lineups:
 Oregon
 Riordan ..... LE..... Iverson
 Bjork ..... LT..... McCue
 Carter ..... LG..... Cooper
 Farrar ..... C..... Wheeler
 Hurney ..... RG..... Pavkov
 Skinner ..... RT..... Brado
 Jones ..... RE..... Rich
 Reischman ..... Q..... Honsowetz
 Lasselle ..... LH..... Ward
 Braddock ..... RH..... Walker
 Michek (C)..... F..... Sundberg

Officials: Tom Louttit, Portland, referee; Mike Moran, Portland, umpire; Ralph Coleman, Corvallis, head linesman; Jerry Buckley, Portland, field judge.

NYA Handles Jobs In Present Set-up
 NYA is the present set-up for federal employment of students, Earl Pallett, executive secretary, explained yesterday to answer the many inquiries that have arisen over the organization. Last year the federal emergency relief administration had charge of student relief employment. That organization was discontinued during the past summer and the national youth administration took its place.

J. Smith Is Yeomen Star

The powerful Yeomen swim team established itself as a championship contender by crushing Omega hall 42 to 7 yesterday evening. Led by J. Smith, the Yeomen took all of the first places, and most of the seconds. Smith and Levy, both Yeomen, swam the 40-yard free style in a dead heat, with a time of :20.6. Oglesby and Stevens took first and second place in the 40-yard backstroke for the Yeomen, while Smith and Kirby teamed up to win a first and second in the 40-yard breaststroke for the Yeomen.

The Chi Psi team showed well-balanced power in scoring a 34 to 15 win over Delta Tau Delta in the only other meet of the day. The Deltas got their only first in the 40 yard backstroke, when Larson splashed up and down the tank in :29.4 seconds. Wells of the Chi Psi team won the grueling 60-yard individual relay in the nice time of :45.7. Brooks and Heidel showed up well for Chi Psi.

The other scheduled meet between Phi Gamma Delta and Gamma hall went to the Fijis via the forfeit route when the Gamma team failed to appear.

Crumbaker to Speak At Teachers' Meeting
 Calvin Crumbaker, professor of economics here, will leave Monday for Albany, Oregon where he will address the Linn County Teachers' Institute. His subject will deal primarily with the teaching of social science in high schools.

The speed of the humming bird is extremely difficult to determine since its flights are short and spasmodic, but tests have shown that no bird can make a short dash with the speed of the tiny hummer.

Injury Puts Man On Hospital List
 Ross Sonburg, fullback on the Idaho team which will meet Oregon today, was treated at the infirmary yesterday for an elbow infection. The infection, probably resulting from a game injury, is responding to treatment and Sonburg will, it is expected, play today.

The cheering prospect of Dads' day, combined with the sunny weather, has caused a new low in attendance at the infirmary this week. Colds and sore throats with one or two cases of tonsillitis are the main reasons for the six patients in the hospital and some of them may be released in time to enjoy today's game.

Those in the infirmary are Priscilla Mackie, Arthur Burghardt, Zollic Volchok, Howard Patterson, George Williams and Lindley Jensen.

New Threat to Speeder
 A new curb on auto speeders that promises startling results is shown in operation here—the Massachusetts State college highway speed meter. As a car passes the first of the two light source poles shown across the road, it starts the meter and as it passes the second, 18 inches distant, the recording instrument's operation is stopped, giving the speed within a fraction of a mile at 30 and within two miles an hour at 60.

Frosh Play Normal Boys At Astoria

Home-town Lads Hope to Make Good Against Teachers For Coach Warren

"Honest John" Warren returns to the city he made athletically famous tonight when his University of Oregon frosh football team tackles Oregon Normal's tricky teachers under the brand-new lights and equally brand-new turf field at Astoria.

Warren and 26 eager Ducklings left for the Columbia river metropolis on Greyhound buses at 2 p. m. yesterday. All week the frosh have drilled vigorously against Monmouth plays, scouted by assistant coach Howard Hobson last week. The Webfoot future stars made a somewhat disappointing showing in the Southern Oregon Normal fracas last Saturday and are out to prove that it was all a big mistake by slaughtering the Wolves.

It will be a real homecoming for four of the frosh youngsters, as well as "Honest John." Bob Anet, quarterback, and Harold Niemi and Chuck Stevens, guards, all hail from Astoria high and all starred for Warren on Fishermen teams before following him to the University. Hank Nilsen, another fighting Fisherman, has been a regular end on the frosh squad, but was injured in scrimmage early in the week and will be unable to play.

Astoria to Honor Warren
 The population of Astoria is expected to turn out en masse to welcome its illustrious citizens home. A banquet and dance will be given in honor of Warren and his boys after the game.

The frosh lineup scheduled to open against Al Cox's Wolves is potentially the strongest in Duckling history. A first-string backfield composed of Jolting Jimmy Nicholson at quarter, Tony Veronda and Tom Blackman at the halfback positions and big Gene LeCou at full is probably equal to any first-year quartet of backs on the coast. Reserve backfield stars congest the bench.

At ends John Yerby and Bob Hinman are the likely starters, with Nilsen out of it, while at tackles will be Merle Peters and Joy Smith. Niemi and Stevens, the home town lads, will doubtless open at the guards, with Taylor or Chrissman at center.

Army, Navy Journal Arrives at Library

An interesting bound periodical was received at the University library recently, the United States Army and Navy Journal, Volume I. The volume begins with the Gazette of the Regular and Volunteer Forces of the Civil War, members of which evidently comprised the editing staff. The periodical covers a range of two years, 1863 to 1864.

Sport Quacks
 By Tom McCall

A few moments of quiet, please, for at this time I am going into the realm of the future where so many great contests are transpiring. I hope I find the right door to dreamlands' stadiums because last week the feature game of my seance saw Gonzaga wallop OSC. Anyhow, I got in the right stadium to see the UCLA-Stanford game and to send that prediction door to posterity.

Everything's turning black now. (Just like the last time I passed out.) There is a strange roaring in my ears which grows louder as time flits. A light approaches and grows as it approaches, like a fast moving dawn.

Objects are becoming more discernible. Noise is everywhere. My eyes and brain focus suddenly. I am lying in the middle of a heavily traveled intersection. Tall buildings brood above. I glance at the swirl of traffic about me. A heavily loaded van approaches, surprises me in my prone position, and rolls over my protesting body. Darkness again. The white light and anaesthesia of the hospital ward. "Good morning," coos a sweet set of pipes.

"Good morning?"
 "Good Sunday morning."
 "No? Prove it."

"Here is the paper. Read the dateline."

I snatch it. It's an L.A. paper dated October 19th. Holy smoke! There is a box on the front page. Holy smoke! It's packed with football scores.

Holy smoke! Here is what I read.
