UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1935

Sport Quacks

Even a none too ardent follower of Oregon State football publicity would receive the impression that the "Four Horsemen" are staging a rodeo over on the Orange campus.

Prominent in all headlines pertaining to the welfare of the neighboring eleven, are such words and phrases as, "Orangemen Rest, Football Players Recuperate, So and So is on the Shelf, Orange Injured Slowly Recoverer," all of which were extracted from but two papers which I happened to pick at random. Following this black dirge of the headlines were stories which would bring the brine thundering from the eyes of the strongest of men; stories that make one see giant athletes broiling under heat lamps in a welter of bunting and tape, while outside a few of the lucky are running through light signal practice, supported by crutches or fast moving wheel chairs. Then comes the Saturday of the game bringing with it not the slightest vestige of the mile long bandage of the previous week.

There is no doubt in my mind that the best of the "bear story" artists in the Northwest function at a no more disant point than the city of Corvallis. It would be interesting, to say the least, to watch the scribes there, slugging at the controls of the Underwood, clad in their raiment of tear stained sack-cloth.

Beavers Hold Light Scrimmage on Crutches and in Wheel-Chairs.

Quacks

Hardly less prolific in the dispensation of near obituary treatises, are the publicity men of the state college of Washington. There groans a ghastly group of grid-iron gazers!

So b stuff is apparently as prevalent in the sporting set-up as your quarterbacks, forwards, and pitchers.

Now the point that I have been trying to reach, via all the preceding blabber, is that the publicity man for the University of Oregon athletic department doesn't conjure up images of crutches and heat lamps for practically every report. The coaching staff doesn't approve of "bear" stories, either. Consequently, when you read that an Oregon athlete is injured and out for the season, he is injured out and out for the season. Still it's not often that you'll have to wade through a list of casualties and long lines admitting that the home team is starting Saturday with a few professors, house mothers, etc., to supplement the one player on the squad who is still "in toto."

Betas Meet Phi Sigs in Finals Today

The two Hoffman brothers, members of Phi Sigma Kappa, spoiled whatever hopes the Phi Delt entertained in getting into finals with the Betas last night when they combined efforts and beat them by a 3-2 score.

The contest was an interesting one, even though it had only a few spectators, and, at times, developed into a real slug-fest. Both goalies made their share of spectacular saves but the Phi Delt goalie, Harry McCall, really had to stop more direct shots. During the contest, the Phi Sigs never had to apply real pressure until the end of the game when the Phi Delt went berserk and tied the score at two-all.

Anderson, Devers Come Through

Leading this furious attack was the forward wall of the Phi Delt team composed of Anderson, J. Devers, and D. Devers. Just before the final gun, the score was tied by Joe Devers, who broke through the entire Phi Sig defense with a deceptive flip shot which just barely escaped Jones, the Phi Sig goalie.

Hoffman Scores in Overtime

During the first half Phi Sigma Kappa took a commanding lead when two easy goals were scored by J. Halverson and V. Hoffman. After the two goals were scored the Phi Sigs settled down and played a defensive game which failed to work. After the score was tied, the Phi Sigs discarded this defense and switched to offense.

After about two minutes of overtime B. Hoffman found himself in a good position to score and sent the winning counter crashing past McCall and into the net.

Fallen Leaves From the Past

No less an authority than Parks "chess maestro" Hitchcock issued a standing challenge today that has the campus agog. Hitchcock, captain of a team composed of Lloyd Speer, Ed Pitt, and Roy McMullen, has dared Dr. Eric A. Pollard of the German department and any three faculty members he may choose, to engage in a battle of brains across the chess board.

"We want blood!" declared Hitchcock.

Attendance Cups Planned

Two new Homecoming alumni attendance cups have been purchased and engraved by alumni officials and are to be awarded this weekend to the fraternity and sorority having the largest number of former students present.

It will be absolutely necessary, stated Robert Allen, alumni secretary, yesterday, that to be counted in the judging, all alumni must register in Johnson hall sometime between 1 o'clock Friday and 5 o'clock Saturday.

Get Together Planned

Allen suggested that alumni would be given a good opportunity to register at the cafeteria get together slated for John Straub memorial hall Saturday noon.

Circular letters have been sent to all living organizations by alumni officials asking students to bend all efforts to see that every alumni registers and attends the cafeteria instead of eating at the houses at that time. Saturday night will be the "big night" for alumni at houses, he said.

Jim NicholSEN Definitely Out Of Final Game

Sprained Ankle Puts Frosh Star Out of Last Game With Orange Rooks

Jimmy NicholSEN, star quarterback and most dangerous offensive threat of the frosh football team, is definitely through with football for 1935.

A sprained ankle received in scrimmage two weeks ago was twisted again in the Washington Babe game Saturday and has forced the ex-Salem flash out of action for the only remaining game on the frosh schedule with the OSC Rooks Friday night at Corvallis.

Without the services of NicholSEN, Coach "Honest John" Warren is faced with the task of rebuilding his entire backfield. There are several good men available for service but no combination has yet been found that clicks in a manner well enough to avenge the first defeat by the Rooks.

Bob Anet, the fighting fisherman, will handle the quarterback post but the two halfbacks and fullback will be a wide open battle between Dave Gammon, Tom Blackman, Bill Bogue, Tony Veronda, Jean Lacau, and several others.

The frosh line, although strengthened by the return of Henry NilSEN, star end, is still weak and will undoubtedly go through many changes before the Rook game. Coach Warren has admitted dissatisfaction with the work of the linemen and intends to try to improve their work this week. Several of the men were badly bruised in the Washington game but none are expected to be on the sidelines Saturday.

Phi Sigs Beat Sigma Nu Team

Delts Also Win in Volleyball Contests

By means of a driving rally in the last two games, Phi Sigma Kappa won its opening "B" league volleyball game yesterday afternoon from Sigma Nu. Sigma Nu won the first of the three games played by a 15-11 margin and appeared to be well on the way to taking the series two straight when the Phi Sigs began their sensational rally. They finally won the second tilt 15-13 and went on to take the deciding game easily 16-6. Hitchcock and Hesia looked especially good for the Phi Sigs, while Olson and Ray Hockette sparked the Sigma Nu offense.

The Delts had little trouble taking Delta Upsilon 15-9 and 15-10. The Delts put a veteran team on the floor and exhibited smooth team work. Rice and Silven kept the D.U.'s going. Swanson, Shaw and Blais played consistent ball for the winners.

Good team work featured the Kappa Sigs' sweeping victory over Omega hall 15-1 and 15-5. Bob Thomas helped speed up the games for the Kappa Sigs.

Zeta hall and S.A.E. were each presented with a win by forfeiture. Sigma Alpha Mu and Pi Kappa Alpha were the teams failing to show up.

The other game scheduled between Gamma hall and La Casa Filipina was declared no contest as neither squad appeared. The tilt cannot be played later, according to intramural directors.

brilliance, more accuracy through the air lanes.

With Lon Stiner and his Beavers will come sophomore Joe Gray, famous "jumping Joe" of Roosevelt high, one of the outstanding halfbacks in the West. Gray's passing proclivity, coupled with the shifty running of another sophomore half, Bob Mountain, has enabled the Staters to score at least one touchdown against all of the six teams they have faced this fall.

Completing the battering Beaver backfield are Wayne (Happy) Valley at fullback and Jack Woerner at quarterback. To nullify the touted prowess of this formidable behind-the-line quartet, Prink Callison has mighty Frank Michiek, Bud Goodin, Bob Braddock, and Johnny Reischman.

Injured Beavers Recover

Reports from Benton county are to the effect that the long list of Beaver injuries is rapidly dwindling and that all the Orangemen will be fit for action against their arch rivals. Oregon State won a hard-fought tilt from Portland University Saturday, 19 to 2.

Prink Callison is drilling the Webfoots behind locked stadium gates this week. For the first time this season everybody is barred save players, coaches, trainers and student managers.

Though the Ducks' practice program for the week is known to consist of work on fundamentals—blocking, tackling, signal drill, etc.—Callison is taking no chances on exhibiting anything before the prying eyes of Oregon State scouts.

The Webfoots will run through every offensive play on their books during the week, including power plays especially designed for the Beavers.

Y's to Conduct Relations Meet

Approximately 100 delegates from universities and colleges of the Pacific Northwest are expected to attend the International Relations conference scheduled for November 29 and 30 and December 1, here.

Frank Evenson and Mary Nelson are co-chairmen for the affair and expect to have at least a similar number of University of Oregon representatives present.

The conference, a yearly affair conducted by the regional council of the YMCA and the YWCA, will discuss the league of nations and the Ethiopian situation. Leaders of discussion will be Dr. Cornelius de Villiers, who is to be on the campus for a month starting November 17, and Allan A. Hunter, Congregational minister from Hollywood, representing the Fellowship of Reconciliation, a peace organization.

Dr. Villiers will lead discussions on the general topic of the League of Nations and the Ethiopian situation and Rev. Hunter will discuss what students can do for peace.

Sessions of the conference will be held in the faculty room of the S. H. Friendly hall. Women delegates to the gathering will stay at the women's halls of residence; no arrangement has as yet been made for men representatives.

Barn Dance Held At Gerlinger Hall

"Swing left, your partner," and many other such calls were heard last Friday night in the gymnasium of Gerlinger hall, at the real old fashioned barn dance that was held there from 7:30 until 9:00.

Townpeople dressed in costumes suitable to the occasion, students, and faculty members all joined in the Paul Jones, square dance, and several good old fashioned waltzes that were played by a typical barn dance orchestra which consisted of a piano and two fiddlers. Mr. Fishel from Junction City was one of the old time fiddlers who helped make the evening complete.

Cross-Country Set for Nov. 26

This year's cross-country race will take place Tuesday, November 26, according to an announcement received last night by the Emerald from the intramural office.

Russ Cutler, director of this year's race, wishes to inform all contestants that the time is growing short in order to get nine practices in order to compete. There is still time, however, for all planning to run to get these practices.

A big turkey will be awarded to the individual winning this year as will be the Bill Hayward trophy to the winning house.
