

Engle Back From Chicago

Townsender Predicts Election Results

"Nothing can stop us from electing the next congress and the next president of the United States," was the enthusiastic verdict of Walter Engle, junior in German, who returned to the campus Saturday from the Townsend convention held in Chicago, October 24 to 27, which he attended as a delegate from the Montavilla Townsend club in Portland.

Scuffling at rumors of dissension in the ranks of the old age revolving pensions plan supporters, Engle emphasized the invitation sent out to six ex-Townsendites who accused the leaders of the movement of absconding with a portion of the funds.

Offer Rejected
"The Townsend organization promised to pay all the expenses of these men if they would appear before the delegates and support their accusations. It is significant that not one of them accepted," Engle stated.

Among the 6000 Townsend club members gathered at the Stevens hotel in Chicago, were ladies of over 60 years who had hitch-hiked from California, and a man who came from Alaska to attend the convention.

"If the present administration does not incorporate the Townsend plan in its policy by January of next year," said Engle, "our leader and his secretary, Robert Clements will decide who the Townsend organization will support for the presidential election of 1936."

Planning Board Places Godfrey

Members to Outline Publicity Campaign

George H. Godfrey, staff member of the University in charge of the news bureau, has accepted a place on the state planning board. It was announced here today by Dr. P. A. Parsons, head of the department of sociology of the University, and chairman of the planning board's committee on planning coordination and development. Godfrey will assist Dr. Parsons and V. B. Stanberry, executive secretary of the board, in outlining a publicity campaign for a series of meetings of county planning boards scheduled for the near future, and will help board members in publicizing other activities.

Here Eight Years
Before coming to the University eight years ago Mr. Godfrey was editor of the Hilo, Hawaii, Tribune-Herald. He was press agent for the Eugene Sunset Trail in 1929 and again in 1934. At present he is northwest regional director of the American College Publicity association, an organization composed of publicity representatives of all leading higher educational institutions in the country.

Mr. Godfrey will work closely with Dr. Parsons on activities for the planning board. Their offices are in the same building on the campus. The work on the planning board will not interfere with Mr. Godfrey's activities at the University.

Chapter Open To Campus Poets

An open invitation is extended this week to students interested in verse production to become members of the University of Oregon chapter of the College Poetry society, a nation-wide organization of students in the United States' major colleges.

Campus poets who desire membership in the local chapter are asked to notify Ora Mae Holman, acting president of the group, at the Tri-Delt house, phone 2900. Monthly meetings, each time featuring a writer or guest-speaker, will be held during the remainder of the year.

Eddy to Speak At Assembly

Forum to Follow Talk in Gerlinger

Sherwood Eddy, just returned from making a fresh study of the present situation in Europe, will speak before a general assembly Thursday morning at 10, in Gerlinger hall, to be followed by a forum in alumni hall of Gerlinger. C. V. Boyer, president of the University will preside.

Eddy, world traveler, author, and lecturer, will speak on "the meaning of the present world situation." On his recent tour, Eddy visited Russia, Poland, Germany, Austria, France, and Great Britain. Recent developments of the League of Nations were carefully studied.

Interviewed Statesmen
In intimate conferences and personal interviews he met many of the statesmen of Europe, economists, government officials and students. On his twelfth visit to Russia, Dr. Eddy endeavored to study the situation in government, industry, and collective agriculture.

Sherwood Eddy graduated from Yale in 1891, and five years later he went to India where he worked fifteen years among the students of that country. He was then secretary for the YMCA in Asia, his work including conducting meetings for students throughout that continent. He has come to know hundreds of leaders in various nations, including the prime minister of Great Britain, the viceroys of India, Mahatma Gandhi, Kagawa of Japan, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek of India, and others.

Sherwood Eddy is the author of some twenty volumes on international relations.

NSL Will Meet Tonight at Y Hut

Plans to Be Made for Celeste Strack's Visit

Oregon's newly organized chapter of the National Student league will meet tonight to lay plans for the campus visit of Celeste Strack, nationally known student leader, who has worried education officials in southern California for the past two years.

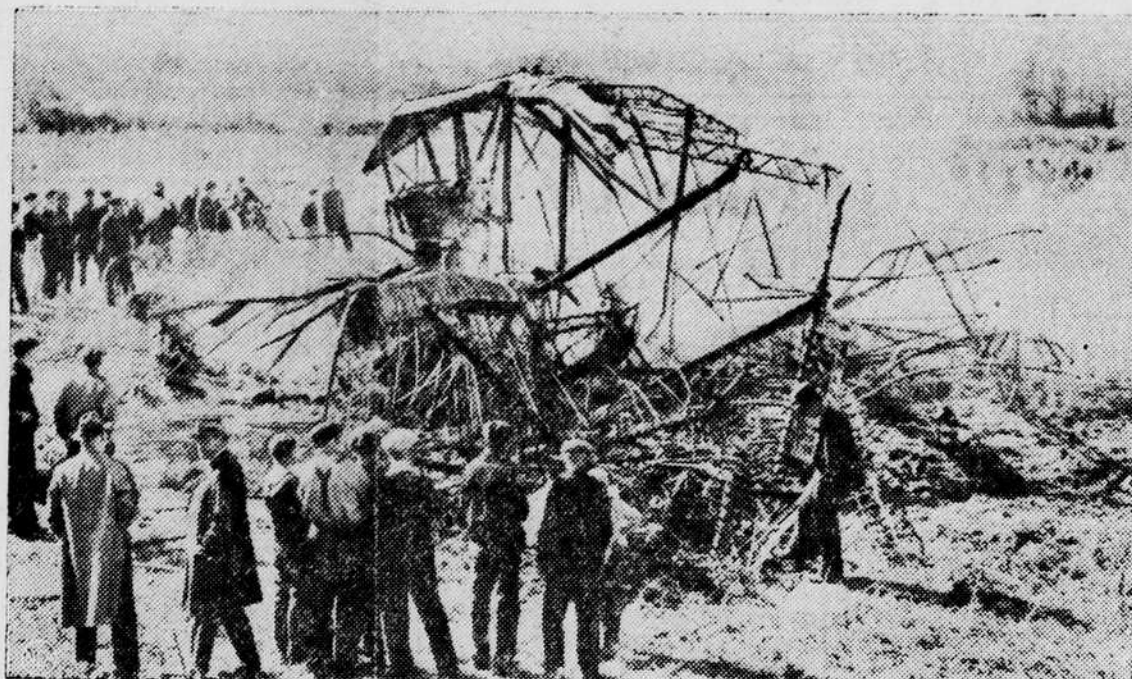

The student league will confer in the Y hut tonight at 7:30, in a meeting which is open to all interested students. Plans for a demonstration against war on Armistice day and an outline of the organization's work and purpose for the school year will also be discussed.

May Present Resolution
Should present developments in the military training situation come to naught the organization will probably adopt and present to the faculty committee on military education a resolution asking for optional ROTC.

The NSL will meet again in two weeks, probably in conjunction with the local League for Industrial Democracy chapter which is scheduled to organize Friday of this week.

Ashes May Hold Plane Crash Secret

This heap of charred wreckage was thoroughly examined by federal and New York state authorities, investigating the crash of the 20-passenger craft in which Ruth Nichols, famed aviatrix, was critically injured and her pilot, Harry Hublitz, killed. Four passengers, all honeymooners, were slightly burned. A down draft is believed to have caused the huge ship to crash into a tree on a farm near Troy, New York. The plane was owned by Clarence Chamberlain and had been used by Miss Nichols and Hublitz to carry passengers on short trips.

YMCA Will Help In Discussions

Decision to Cooperate with YWCA in its Weekly Current Events Discussions

Decision to cooperate with the YWCA in its weekly current events discussions was made by the YMCA council at its meeting yesterday afternoon.

Speaker at the current events meeting this week will be Warren D. Smith, head of the geology and geography department, whose topic will be "Planning for Civilization."

Committee Will Draft Tentative Constitution

Plans for a Smoker to be Held in Co-operation with Herb Owen, Eugene Wrestling Promoter, were Made at a Yeoman Meeting

Plans for a smoker to be held in co-operation with Herb Owen, Eugene wrestling promoter, were made at a Yeoman meeting held at 7:30 last night in the Y hut. It was decided to furnish three preliminary bouts for a card to be presented in the near future. In return, all Yeomen are to be admitted free to the event and any expenses incurred in preparation for the bouts will be paid out of gate receipts.

Mild and yet they Satisfy — how do you do that?

Well, to start with, we take tobacco from our own Southland—mild ripe tobacco with lots of natural flavor but no harshness or bitterness.

THEN AS A SECOND STEP—

We blend this home-grown tobacco with spicy, aromatic Turkish tobaccos from across the seas. These Turkish tobaccos, you may know, have a flavor and fragrance entirely different from our own.

AS A THIRD STEP—

These tobaccos are cross-blended—welded together—the best way we've found to get a more pleasing flavor and a better taste in a cigarette.

THAT'S WHY CHESTERFIELDS ARE MILD AND YET THEY SATISFY

In a single day people from ten different states visited our Chesterfield factories. 8,200 visitors during the past year saw Chesterfields made.
