UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1935

Sport ❖ 1935 SEASON SEES MANY UP-SETS AS SET-UPS RISE TO FORE ON THE COAST.
 OREGON VARSITY AND EM-
 ERALD SPORTS STAFF PICK ❖ Quacks
 By TOM MCCALL

The 1935 football season to date has been one of tremendous up-sets that have brought teams conceded little or no chance in the nationwide scramble, to the fore. The dope bucket received its worst laceration of the autumn when the Bruins of the University of California at Los Angeles were pushed all over the gridiron by the Stanford Cards who flashed superiority in every department of the game, except that of getting points. Then the Uclans proceeded to drive Oregon out of the coast race and to fall prostrated before California, which, in itself, was quite an upset according to the adherents of Braven Dyer. That leaves a California team, which was rated no better than fair at first, as the most logical denizen of the Rose Bowl.

Another surprising decision on the coast was Gonzaga's 7-0 decision over Washington State.
 The pitched battles fought by the reseriless but gallant Grizzlies from Montana have probably provided the biggest thrill weekend in, weekend out.

Chuck Chesire, Uclan half, seems to be the choice of this sports staff, and a large portion of Oregon varsity, for the position of the outstanding back on the coast. This doesn't mean that we and they under estimate Bobby Grayson, By Haines, Joe Gray, and Ed Goddard who are all masters of the art of advancing the pigskin. They are shifty hipped runners. Some pass and kick, but Chesire moves on twins of magic and passes supernaturally.

As the season passes well along into the closing half, two linemen seem to have established their positions in the "sun." The whole conference will give these two full acclaim with hardly a dissenting opinion, I'm sure, for it's hard to find a better end than Stan Riordan of Oregon and a greater tackle than Larry Lutz of California.

Riordan is the perfect type of hard charging end. Big, fast, a good pass snagger, and a tough man to get around, he has won the admiration of all his opponents as well as those that look on. He is also a driving ball carrier, and is probably the best punter in collegiate football today, Bill Shakespeare of Notre Dame, included.

Lutz spends most of his defensive play in the enemy's backfield where he has wrought havoc since early September. All through California's grueling schedule, Lutz has been mentioned among the three outstanding men on the field for every game.

There are a couple of good ball players and teams east of the Rockies on whom I have gathered some very, very interesting slush. It will be out to bore you in a couple of days.

Gates Locked As Ducks Drill For Beavers

Passing Stressed; 'Cripples' Return To Lineup of Both Elevens

The gates of Hayward field were shut and barred again yesterday as Oregon's Webfoots continued their vigorous practice sessions in preparation for the season's biggest football thrill, the annual "state championship" battle with Oregon State College.

Forward pass defense and the Webfoot offense are being stressed by Prink Callison all this week. For the Ducks to beat Oregon State Saturday it will be absolutely necessary to break up the aerial bombardment of Joe Gray, whose bullet passes have clicked against every Orange opponent this fall.

Oregon's offense, none too potent in several games played thus far, is being given a thorough overhauling. Every one of the 50 or 60 Webfoot plays has come in for attention.

Teams at Full Strength
 All of Oregon's injuries are forgotten and all of Oregon State's "bear stories" seem to have blown over, therefore both teams will probably be at full strength when kick-off time rolls around.

Webfoot chances have increased by leaps and bounds since the return of Bud Goodin at left half, and with Dale Lasselle also completely recovered the Ducks will be at full backfield force.

Beaver Backs Sparkle
 Tommy Swanson, Oregon State's hard-working blocking halfback, whose serious head injury in the Washington State game has kept his activities confined to the bench since, is expected to be ready to go Saturday.

Jumping Joe Gray, he of the rubber arm and flaming tath, has at no time been on the ailment list, doesn't expect to be on it, and has well-defined plans of passing the Webfoots into oblivion Saturday. Which is 'nuff said about the redoubtable Mr. Gray, who is certain to open for Lon Stiner's crew in his favorite left half position.

Happy Valley, letterman liner-plunger, has been receiving stiff competition from sophomore Elmer Kolberg, former Lincoln high end, at the Stater fullback spot, and either of the pair may get Stiner's call for the "civil war" clash. At quarterback for the Corvallis outfit is a tough gent named Jack Woerner, a former guard.

If Swanson can't assume the right half duties, John Eilers, another Beaver sophomore will fill in. Still another second-year luminary, Bob Mountain, is in line for a shot at left half as relief for Gray.

Moore to Start at Center
 Oregon State has a pack of line huskies in front of its scintillating backfield who are seldom "in the mood for love," but the Webfoot forward wall can be expected to dish out as much punishment as it takes.

Only one change in Oregon's forward wall is on deck for the big tussle. Vernon Moore, 198-pound sophomore, has been chosen by Callison to start at center over Ed Farrar, formerly the regular. Deny Braid and Chan Berry will be in reserve.

The Spinsters, an organization of young Eugene women, will have charge of refreshments, and entertainment will consist of music by Callison to start at center over Ed Farrar, formerly the regular. Deny Braid and Chan Berry will be in reserve.

Phi Delta Theta; Arthur Pengra, Phi Gamma Delta; Dick Sleeter, Phi Kappa Psi; Dave Montag, Phi Sigma Kappa; Don Tower, Pi Kappa Alpha; Vernon Bungler, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Abe Wuner, Sigma Alpha Mu; Dick Pears, Sigma Chi; Charles Barclay, Sigma Nu; Scott George, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Bill Jones, Delta Upsilon; Leland Terry, Theta Chi; Pete Watssek, men's halls.

The mums, selling for 50c, 75c, and $1.00, will be delivered by the College Flower Shop Saturday morning. Special ribbons decorate the mums sold to the alumni.

This is the second and last mum sale sponsored by the AWS on the campus this year.

BOB BRADDOCK'S BIG MOMENT IN FOOTBALL

AS TOLD TO BRUCE CURRIE

The heart breaking loss of a hard fought game, gave Bob Braddock, Oregon's charging halfback, his greatest thrill in football.

It happened back in 1932 when Bob was playing for Benson Tech. of Portland against one of the toughest elevens to ever represent Commerce high. Both teams fought savagely throughout the first part of the game and at the start of the third quarter, Commerce held a 7-6 advantage.

Near the end of the third quarter, Benson scored a difficult place kick from the 15-yard line, and went into the lead, 9-7. The teams fought on even terms during the first part of the fourth period and, as the game drew near to a close, it looked like Benson's game.

Introducing--- Frosh Pigskin Players

DAVE GAMMON
 A driving 180 pound fullback who stands six feet above the ground and was just 18 years old last week, Gammon is one of the outstanding backs on the frosh squad. He comes from Benson Tech in Portland where he captained the football and soccer teams besides taking part in baseball and track. He was selected "all-city" fullback last year in Portland.

JOHN YERBY
 Yerby is a rugged six-footer who weighs 185 pounds and uses every pound of his weight when he blocks and tackles. He is only 18 years of age and starred in baseball and football for three years while attending Grant high in Portland. John was chosen "all-city" end along with Gammon last year.

Final Round Of Handball Tourney Near

Chaney-Winslow To Meet Victors Of Semi-final Match This Week

The doubles division of the all campus handball tournament has been boiled down to three couples. As soon as the Corey-Overbeck vs. Holmes-Johnson match has been played, the winners of this tilt will take on the Chaney-Winslow combination. The latter pair downed Kotechik and Hunter last week, winning the right to enter the finals.

Chaney and Winslow are both from Sigma hall, Corey and Overbeck are independents, Holmes and Johnson are both independents.

Handball Singles Behind
 The handball singles tourney is not so far advanced as the doubles, as several of the second round matches have not been posted on the bulletin board in the men's gym. Results listed so far are: Bill Johnson beat Bob Seufert, John Rogers beat Bob Wimhush. These winners will battle the victors of the George Corey-C. W. Chaney, and Jack Coleman-Roland Rourke tilt in the semi-finals.

The ping pong doubles tournament has already gone to the final match, with Klonoft and Procknow meeting Hearn and Rubenstein this week to decide the championship. Klonoft and Procknow, of the Yeomen office, defeated Teltoft and Winslow of Sigma hall; while Hearn and Rubenstein, of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Sigma Alpha Mu, respectively were trimming Jones and Eaton from Sigma Chi.

Hearn in Ping Pong Semi-finals
 Only one semi-final match has been posted on the ping pong singles tourney. Eddie Hearn, S.A.E., downed Marvin Hendricksen, A. T. O. There are still three matches to be played.

None of the semi-final matches in the golf tourney have been scheduled as yet, due to the cold weather, which has made it impossible to play the matches on schedule. These matches will be played as soon as possible.

Tennis Tourney Nearly Finished
 The tennis doubles tourney is rapidly coming to the deciding match, with one of the finals combinations already listed. Dean and Vaughn trimmed Teltoft and Heller to enter the finals match. The winner of the Clark-Minger vs. Finke-Faunt match will battle Dean and Vaughn for the coveted title.

Results of the tennis single matches are still somewhat incomplete, due to the adverse weather conditions, but they will be announced as soon as they are played.

1934 Champs Lace Phi Sigs 11-1 in Finals

Reed, Hurd Star For Millracers; Hoffman Scores Losers' Counter

Beta Theta Pi, winner of this year's intramural swim events, made it a grand slam in water sports when she captured the water polo crown last night by convincingly trouncing Phi Sigma Kappa by an 11-1 score.

The scoring as accomplished in a very leisurely fashion with Jim Reed, former Seaside life-guard capturing high-point honors with four counters. Next in line came Jim Hurd, whose guarding throughout the game was excellent and whose three counters helped to boost the score considerably.

Hoffman Stars for the Phi Sigs
 Vernon Hoffman, who performed so brilliantly against Phi Delta Theta the day before, was the only Phi Sig to catch Goalie Ned Simpson of the Betas in a moment of repose. It was a curious shot because Simpson almost nailed it in time but it went spraddling into the net when Hoffman got the rebound.

Phi Sig Defense Cracks
 Throughout the game Phi Sigma Kappa's defense could not cope with the fast-passing Beta offense. Shots which ordinarily would have been easy to stop trickled through Jones, who made heroic but vain attempts to stop them.

Also entering the scoring column in this game were C. Reed and Sexton, Betas, who pushed in two counters apiece.

Coaches' Team Leads League

Members of the University of Oregon faculty and their assistants, have formed a bowling team which is at present leading the local Industrial bowling league.

Bill Hayward, Gene Shields, Prink Callison, George Godfrey, Bob Officer and Walt Bonney are the members of the squad.
 Bonney is captain of the team, which is sponsored by the Heilig theatre.

George Godfrey is high man for the group. He has taken part in 18 of the 21 series played and has averaged 160. Callison has not bowled in many series so far, having appeared in three series for which his average is 135.
