University Seethes As Alumni Return For Homecoming

Ear-Splitting Rally, Two Dances, Game, Breakfast, Meetings, Signs to Entertain

By WAYNE HARBERT
Hosts of alumni are to begin arriving on the campus today under moderating fall skies to join with the greater student body to relieve their days at Oregon by participating in a multitude of homecoming events today and tomorrow.

In the spotlight as the outstanding events are the precedent-shattering noise procession which is to wind its way through the streets tonight, starting at 7:30 at Thirteenth and Kincaid streets, the lofty Penthouse Homecoming dance tomorrow night, and the featured OSC-UO game tomorrow afternoon.

James Heads Event

Bud James has been leading in preparations for the weekend as committee head.

Vehicles carrying clattering noise making devices of all descriptions are to be entered in the parade by each fraternity, and each is to be followed by strings of cars. Rally officials said last night that only one noise-bearing car is to compete for each organization and that both sides are to bear the name of the fraternity.

Noise is to be the only consideration to be taken into account by the following six judges in awarding an electric clock to the winner: Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Washburne, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Robinson, and Mr. and Mrs. L. Rowling.

'O' to Flare

The flaming "O" on the butte will flare into being as the rally turns south on Willamette, ending in time to permit participants to return to the campus in time to attend the rally dance at 8:30 in Gerlinger hall.

Flickering mechanical signs are to be constructed on the lawns of each living organization today, to

At present he is working on a new type of journalism; taking moving pictures and writing his own continuity. After leaving Eugene yesterday he started for Grants Pass with his equipment intending to photograph a number of natural attractions in that vicinity.

Burg, during the past few years, has traveled extensively having accompanied William Beebe, noted naturalist and author, on an exploring trip to the Bermuda islands; Julius Fleischmann, yeast manufacturer, on a yacht trip around the world; and has recently returned from South America where he has been gathering material in the Tierra del Fuego region.

Paddock, Luvaas Petition Mayor Large For Parade Permit On Armistice Day

Whether the Student Christian council will be allowed to parade on Armistice day following the demonstration of armed army units and whether it shall be permitted to carry any banners and posters, or affiliate with any organizations they see fit will be decided by the Eugene city council at a special meeting called for this morning by Mayor Elisha Large.

rectly petitioned for a parade permit by Charles Paddock and John Luvaas, official representatives of the Christian council, which decided earlier in the day to seek the sanction for some sort of public demonstration in the defense of peace groups throughout the city.

BANNERS SCOFFED

The action of the general committee for the 1935 Armistice day demonstration, headed by Con Dillon, in refusing to allow the Christian and student groups to march with the official military companies unless they carried only the American flag and one identification placard brought about the majority vote of the council to apply for a separate parade.

Tuesday Clayton Van Lydegraf and Robert Merrell, representing the local chapter of the American League Against War and Fascism, were refused parade permission by Mayor Large, who intimated that no group without respect for the

Eddy Upholds Socialism, Condemns Facist System

By CHARLES PADDOCK

Branding fascism as the greatest threat to world peace now facing the world, Sherwood Eddy, one of America's most dynamic Christians, yesterday warned a near capacity gathering in Gerlinger hall that the only effective resistance to war is a new social order based on cooperation.

Mr. Eddy defined fascism as an aggravated form of capitalism in its dying throes. Italy, Germany and Japan were cited as the three danger zones of the world. All have the same imperialistic, militaristic complex, he declared.

"The menace of war, however, is only symptomatic," he warned. "The whole social order is one of strife between classes, between capital and labor, between the rich and the poor, between different races and colors, and between nations."

Bold and striking was Mr. Eddy's condemnation of America for her determination to exploit the tense situation in Europe. America, he declared, is ready to gorge on profit, by selling all kinds of war materials to the belligerents in Europe.

Oregon State's Greeting

(Editorial)

No rivalry on the gridiron exists anywhere that is more important to the on-looker than the annual traditional Duck-Beaver football tussle again brought on local fields for a combined gala Homecoming. Guests of the University of Oregon Associated Students during this Saturday's game, we of Oregon State college look forward to this opportunity to be the bitterest of fighters on the gridiron but to act our parts as guests and to further the mutual and fine relationship that has grown between the two schools.

Two institutions 36 miles apart, bound together through the Oregon State System of Higher Education under one chancellor with interchanging heads of departments and schools, certainly have a right, as rights go, to build up spirit, enthusiasm and rivalry against each other to the superlative degree. As a steam engine with its hot coals in the fire box and a boiler full of steam is a useful mechanical invention under control but a steam-propelled devastating monster for dealing destruction if freed, so is this U. of O.-O. S. C. spirit.

The fire of enthusiasm, pep and rivalry develops steam in the boiler of school spirit and if controlled not only is useful in building the character of higher educational institutions but is a necessity. Out of control they can only cause anxiety, hard feelings and possible trouble. We both should be ready to have controlled school spirit to build pride and admiration in Oregon's state-owned university and college.

A cultivated host-guest attitude has already been developed between the two schools, starting last Friday when the good-will president of Oregon State met with your University of Oregon student and administration heads.

We're bringing our alumni and the student body up to the game . . . looking forward to your reception as hosts; we're ready to play our part as guests. If your Duck eleven breaks that Beaver dam, then we'll sing our Alma Mater first and watch you besiege the orange-black goal posts. If the Ducks become soup from the Beaver onslaught, then you give us the "Mighty Oregon" and we'll bring home the goal-post kindling. May the best team win!

Student League To Be Organized

Initial Meeting to Be Held Tonight

The National Student League for Industrial Democracy will be organized at 8 o'clock tonight at the Students' Cooperative Living association, 715 East 13th street. Gordon Connelly will be temporary chairman in charge.

The N. S. L. F. I. D. was originally founded by Jack London, famous author, in 1914. Its principal objective is to produce a social order where production for use instead of profit is the aim. Other policies of the organization include its demand for education without militarism, academic freedom, and low fees for students.

Originally organized on the Oregon campus about three years ago under Wallace Campbell, student leader who presented the first petition to the faculty in opposition to compulsory R.O.T.C., the group finally died out.

Immediate action of the group will be taken on the students' peace demonstration for Armistice day, probably in conjunction with the Student Christian council.

Herbert Hoover, Jefferson Davis, Benjamin Franklin, Henry Hudson, William Penn, David Livingston and Ben Hur are registered at the University of North Carolina this year.

Rooters' Lids, White Shirts Required In Rooting Section

All students having tickets marked "rooters' Section" must wear white shirts and rooters' hats to be admitted to their seats, Ralph Schomp, assistant graduate manager, announced yesterday.

Parts of section N and O have been reserved for rooters and they should be in their seats well before the start of the game.

New Yells to Be Introduced At Student Body Meeting In Gerlinger Today at 1

Pep Rally to Follow Junior Finance Officer Nominations; Dance Starts After Break-up of Parade Downtown

By FLOYD TUPLING

Spirit for the homecoming rally and dance tonight will be kindled at the regular ASUO student body meeting in Gerlinger at 1 o'clock today. Following the nominations for junior finance man, new yells will be introduced and plans for the rally announced.

Jim Blais, student body president, said yesterday that no new credentials had been filed by aspirants to the junior finance office. Frank Nash, junior in law, who filed papers earlier in the week is the only man up for the job.

Large ROTC Unit to March

Oregon Band to Play In Armistice Parade

Between 300 and 400 Oregon ROTC students are expected to march in the Armistice day parade next Monday, Col. E. V. D. Murphy, head of the military department said yesterday. Assembly of students will be 9 o'clock Monday morning at the barracks.

The last preparatory drill will take place today. The military classes have been drilling regularly for the last two weeks and will make a creditable showing, it is believed. Those participating will receive three credits for drill, said a memorandum from Colonel Murphy. These merits may be applied to cuts already made or may be used in the future.

Two Battalions March

The group will be divided into two battalions, each consisting of eight companies. The Oregon band, regimental officers, and battalion officers will make up the rest of the University sector of the parade. Major Wapenstein will be in charge.

Regimental colors and guidons will be carried and the cadets will carry rifles on the march. Cadet officers will receive special instructions today on taking charge of the group. Since the uniforms of the junior military students have not arrived, they cannot participate in the march.

Alpha Delta Sigma Pledges Five Men

Five men were pledged to Alpha Delta Sigma, men's national advertising fraternity, at a luncheon meeting of the group held yesterday at the College Side Inn. They were: Ed Hanson, William Jones, Robert Wilhelm, John Brunton, and Frank Bonduant. Two others who were not able to attend the meeting, Pete Garrette and Andy Anderson, will be pledged later.

Plans for the "Krazy Kopy Krawl" annual dance sponsored by the fraternity, were discussed and the date for the occasion set for Saturday, January 4.

Women Presidents Will Meet Tuesday

Heads of Houses, the official organ of all women's living organizations on the campus, will meet on Tuesdays at 5 instead of on Thursdays. Margaret Jane Cooper is president of the body.

This group originated on this campus several years ago, consists of heads of all sororities, women's dormitories, and a representative of Ordes. It is a self-governing body, and meets twice a month.

This organization tends to band together living organizations in scholarship and activities.

It has been estimated that only one-third of all American children are born in hospitals.

Homecoming

Homecoming activity starts to pop . . . assembly at 1, rally parade at 7:30, bonfire on butte at 8 and dance at 9. Rally! Rally!

Dance Informal

"Rally" will be the cry of informally-attired students at the dance, also scheduled for Gerlinger hall, to begin tonight at 8:30. Admission is to be 25 cents a person. Buck McGowan's orchestra is to play.

Bedlam will reign supreme tonight and noise will be the order of the day, if plans outlined by Jack Campbell are predictions of the rally parade. During the assembly Ed Vail, yell king, will instruct rooters in yells for Saturday's game.

Short pep talks will be made by Prink Callison, head football coach.

Rumors that Kermit Paulsen would be nominated from the floor at today's assembly were confirmed last night by political leaders of a faction opposing the Nash group.

Ross Carter, captain for the Oregon State game, and Basil Williams, former Oregon line star. City to Echo

At 7:30 tonight the parade will start, in which every kind of noise-making contraption in the city has been collected.

Wash-tubs, boilers, kettles, sirens, horns, and 2500 loud and lusty voices will combine to create the noise for what is expected to be Oregon's greatest Homecoming rally.

Then the rally will swing into collegiate glory down Kincaid to Eleventh, led by the University of Oregon band. A right turn will be made to Broadway past the Eugene hotel, turning right on Oak and left at Eighth. A steady roar of NOISE will be carried through the entire line of march. Down Willamette the climax will be reached and the parade will wind up again on the campus.

Then to Gerlinger the crowd will travel where Buck McGowan's band will strike the latest tunes for the no-date dance scheduled. Campus clothes are in order. Charge 25 cents per person.

TO HEAR HUFFAKER

Dr. C. L. Huffaker, professor of education, will speak before the Santa Clara PTA Tuesday, November 12.

Campus Calendar

All itemized expense accounts for the Homecoming signs have been asked to be given to either Reed Swenson, Delta Tau Delta, or Dorothy Ann Clark, Delta Delta Delta, before noon today.

The Students' League for Industrial Democracy will be formed tonight at 8 p. m. at the Students' Cooperative Living association, 715 East 13th street, with immediate plans to be drawn for participation in the student peace demonstration on Monday. Everyone invited!

All Yeomen who have cars for, or want transportation for the parade tonight meet in front of the Y hut at 7 o'clock.
