Band Prepares For Weekend

Snappy Drill-Team
Stunt to Be Unveiled

The University of Oregon band has been in intensive rehearsal all week in preparing for the coming double-weekend. An unusually heavy schedule has been mapped out for the organization. It appeared at an assembly Friday afternoon; played in the big noise parade Friday night, will play at the game Saturday; and is slated to take part in the Armistice day parade Monday.

The Oregon State band and the Webfoots will be out full strength Saturday, serenading down-town Eugene people before the game and it is planned to unite the two groups for the impressive flag-raising ceremony preceding the game. Oregon State will have a 60-piece band and Oregon will turn out 50 strong, giving a massed group of 110 players.

A snappy drill-team stunt has been prepared by John Stehn and will be "unveiled" before the large crowd Saturday, during the half.

Girls Receive Athletic Awards

Eileen Donaldson and Gertrude Brantover have been awarded small "O's" by the Women's Athletic association for having five activity checks in the organization.

To receive a small "O" a girl must also show leadership, cooperation and good sportsmanship.

Presentation of the awards will be made at the winter term WAA banquet.

Paulsen, Nash

"The spirit, cooperation and unity of the Oregon football team has never been greater than it is now," Romey DePittard, team captain for today declared. "You of the student body can expect every man on the team to do his duty. And if you do your part in backing up the team there will be a team out there that is out to win."

The proposed amendments to the ASUO constitution were read by Jim Blais, student body president.

That Article 111 be amended as follows, "That an elective office known as the independent executive position shall be created. This officer shall have been in attendance at least four terms in the University; he shall not be a member, pledge, or associate member of any living organization during his term of office. The first shall be appointed by the executive council and thereafter to be elected at the regular election."

And, that Art. 5 be amended as follows: "the Independent Executive officer shall be a member of the executive council, and will carry out duties delegated to him by that body."

These amendments will be put to vote next Friday at the election of junior finance man.

Ed Vail, yell king, introduced two new yells and a stunt for today's game. They appear elsewhere in this paper. Vail urges students to "whop it up" as much as possible and cooperate with the yell leaders.

Speeches were made by Prink Callison, Jack Campbell and Basil Williams, Oregon Alumni and former line star. All urged the support of students for today's game pointing out that defeat could be overcome only by so doing.

Penthouse Idea

(Continued from Page One) this morning at 9 o'clock at the Anchorage in a new event of Homecoming. At 10:30 the alumni association is to convene in the Guild theater for its annual meeting.

At noon today a get-acquainted cafeteria is to be held at the John Straub memorial hall. Dishes at 5 cents each will be sold from 12:30 until 1:45 o'clock, there being no set time for the affair.

Harriers Compete

A cross country race between the lettermen's club of OSC and UO is to get underway at 1:55 at Hayward field before the game.

Registration closes at 5 o'clock and in order to count in the attendance among houses, alumni must register. After the game the houses are to play host to former members, entertaining at dinner before the dance.

Oregon's Grid Headman

When the mighty Oregon football team takes the field this afternoon at 2 o'clock against a passing, clever, OSC team, Coach Prince G. Callison will be at the reigns. Today marks the 39th meeting of the two teams.

Peace Plebiscite Ballots Available

Congregational Church
Sponsor of Program

A peace plebiscite will be taken Sunday morning, November 10, at the Congregational church as part of a national program of the Council for Social Action, to find the attitude of American people toward war.

Ballots may be obtained during the week or Sunday morning at the Congregational church, located on Thirteenth avenue and Ferry street.

The plebiscite will include the following questions: Will you bear arms in or otherwise support any war which the United States government may declare, any war declared by the United States government against an internationally recognized aggressor, only a war in which the United States' territory has been invaded, only a war declared by the United States government after making utmost use of every agency for peace, no war which the United States government may declare?

Council to Give Final Decision at Meeting

Green lids or no green lids will be the problem confronting the Frosh council when it meets today at 3 o'clock in the YMCA hut.

Members of the council have spent the last week in discussing the question of frosh lids with groups in their living organization and the stand taken by freshmen on the traditional hats will be determined today.

The council, reorganized this fall after years of inactivity, ordinarily meets every other week, but this special meeting was called to find out what the frosh thought of wearing green lids in order that they may be purchased and sold as soon as possible, if the yearlings pass favorably on the question.

Smith Offers

(Continued from Page One) working plan for the enlargement of the vocabulary. He has quite successfully met a challenge that has "stumped" the large body of grammarians—the challenge of teaching people how to extend the range and exactness of their vocabularies. He not only recognizes and suggests the old stock theory of wide and correct reading as a means of gaining familiarity with the language, but he adds to this unique tests, exercises, (based on scientific study of reading habits) simple illustrations of correct usage.

The book should be invaluable both to the student and to the layman whose most common admittance of educational shortcomings revolves about his inability to express himself in words that "fit."

No Odds

Jumping Joe Gray, spectacular Oregon State passer, will be the lad the Ducks must watch most closely. Jack Woerner, punting quarterback; Tommy Swanson, iron man blocking half, and Happy Valley and Elmer Kolberg, fullbacks, are other outstanding orange stars behind the forward wall.

Michek Leads Oregon

Mighty Frank Michek, Scapoose unlimited, spearhead of Oregon's "cruncher" and "double cruncher" plays, is the ace Web-foot ball toter. In support of Michek are Bob Braddock, leading ground gainer of the year, at right half; Bud Goodin, pass-heaver, at left half, and Johnny Reischman at quarter.

In the Oregon line will be three potential all-coast stars — Stan Riordan, left end; Del Bjork, left tackle, and Captain Carter, left guard. The Beavers are boasting an all-coast prospect in Ken Deming, center.

Weather conditions for the gigantic struggle are uncertain. Should rain fall, it is possible that the Webfoots will benefit, for a sloppy field and soaked ball should reduce the efficiency of Oregon State's passing attack.
