1932 FRESHMAN STANFORD REMAIN STILL UNBROKEN

By TOM McCALL

For five or ten minutes we will dispense with the order of the day while the genial old geezer at the trigger of the Underwood harps on the outcome of a prediction he made in this column about six weeks past.

It was during a bye-gone sojourn in the infirmary that the slowly greying hair and drawn brow were drooped over a bedside typing machine whose tapping digits spelled out the forecast that the 1935 football season would feature the use of the field goal to decide plenty of games. Oh, sweet ball lifting hoof, how you have functioned to vindicate that doughty prognostication.

There comes a rumor from the rainy southland that a youth named Jim (Monk) Moscrip has won three games for a certain Leland Stanford university, entirely through the use of the "obscure" place kick. Young Moscrip's toe artistry gave that Stanford place victories over Santa Clara, Washington, and Southern California. Even the mighty Ramblers of Notre Dame resorted to a ruse of antiquity when Marty Peters thumped a liner between the uprights to make possible an Irish 9-6 victory over the Panthers of Pitt! The spell binding tactics of Andy Kerr's Red Raiders could not surmount a three point obstacle established by Holy Cross a few weeks ago. Rice's 1935 bid for fame wouldn't have gotten out of Texas without her 10-7 win over Louisiana State in the season's opener.

Ducks Work On Offence For Huskies

Punting Stressed by Callison; Goodin and Budd Jones May Be Unable to Start

With only two days of practice remaining before Saturday's traditional battle with the University of Washington, Prink Callison last night worked Oregon's Webfoots again on offensive tactics to be used against the Huskies.

The practice field adjacent to the stadium, once grassy turf, was such a mess of mud and slobber yesterday that efforts to scrimmage were abandoned.

The four duck passers—Bud Goodin, Dale Lasselle, Romey DePittard, and Bobby King—were heaving the pigskin in signal drills. Every play Callison plans to use in the Husky tussle received a trial.

Webfoots Must Be at Top
 In the Portland university game the Webfoots ran into a sample of what they may expect in the way of attack at Seattle, for the Pilots, like the Huskies, employ the Notre Dame system. The powerful charges of Jimmy Phelan are hardly to be compared with Portland U., however, no matter how much climbing up the ladder of football prestige the Pilots may be doing.

Jacksons May Start
 Two diversions from what is considered Oregon's first string lineup may be made by kick-off time at Seattle. Bud Goodin, whose recovery from the brin concussion he suffered in the Oregon State contest may not be complete enough to permit his starting Saturday, is one of the regulars who may be out. Budd Jones, who suffered a leg injury in the Beaver struggle, may also be out of the opening lineup.

If Goodin cannot take over his old post at left half, Dale Lasselle is sure to start. In Jones' spot at right end, if necessary, will be Lief Jacobsen, the ex-Jefferson high sophomore, only man to play all 60 minutes in the Portland game.

Air Y' Listenin'

 The U. H. C. A. (United Hot Clubs of America) has been officially launched, and seven branch rhythm clubs have been organized. Los Angeles, Cleveland, Chicago, New York, Boston, Birmingham, and New Haven each have the nucleus for a live and thriving "swing" audience that may presage a national awakening to this type of music.

31 Freshman Football Players Win Numerals

Numeral letter awards for 31 frosh football players, who excelled in ability on the field of play this fall, were announced yesterday by Coach John Warren through the graduate manager's office.

Since the close of football season Coach Warren has spent considerable time in judging the merits of the frosh pigskinners and the list which he filed in Hugh Rosson's office yesterday is a composite of the players who show the most ability and the greatest promise for the future.

Because of injuries during the last of the season a few of the yearling gridsters did not have the required amount of playing time necessary for numeral awards. These players, however, were recommended for numerals by Coach Warren and were accepted by the board.

Those players who will receive numerals are: Robert Anet, John Belding, Thomas Blackman, Alvin Bogue, Fred Buroker, Willard Caspell, William Chrisman, James Dimit, David Gammon, Nello Giovanni, Wallace Greenland, Wolf Heiberger, Robert Himman, Edwin Hopper, Leroy Irwin, Jean Lecau, Clifford Morriss, Alvin Meyer, James Nicholson, Harold Niemi, Henry Nilson, Merle Peters, Leonard Robertson, Joy Smith, Charles Stevens, James Taylor, Donald Van, Tony Veronda, Francis Watkins, Elmer Williams and John Yerby.

Carnegie Grants Money For Music

Miss Young Teaches Appreciation Course
 Dr. R. W. Leighton, chairman of the committee on the appreciation of the arts and nature, received a letter confirming the grant of $2250 by the Carnegie Foundation, for the advancement of the course in music appreciation, November 18.

The decision, made at the November 7 meeting of the executive committee of the corporation, stated that payment would be made by the treasurer, November 15.

The course, inaugurated in the school curriculum just this year, is taught by Miss Lovisa Youngs, graduate studying for her master's degree in music and education.

She has been working on the course for two years. The first year she developed a tentative course and presented it to adults under the adult education plan.

Last year, the Carnegie Foundation donated $2500 worth of equipment, comprising music books, records, and a phonograph, without a request for that grant being made.

Men's Houses To Lodge Visitors

Men's living organizations of the campus will provide beds for men representatives to the International Relations conference, the last of this month and the first of next, according to Paul Plank, co-chairman for the conference. The announcement was made after a conference with Dean Earl, dean of men.

Plank also urged that each living organization send a representative to the symposium Thursday night at 7:30 in Gerlinger hall. This is necessary in order that Oregon students may become acquainted with the spirit and purpose of the conference and so that plans can be made for a representative delegation from Oregon.

The conference, for which plans are being made by the local YMCA and YWCA, is expected to bring at least 100 delegates from colleges and universities from Washington, Idaho, Montana, and Oregon. Dr. De Villiers, who arrived on the campus Monday, will be one of the principal speakers. Dates of the conference are November 29, and 30, and December 1.

Yeomen, Orides Learn to Dance

Approximately 25 couples turned out for the first Yeoman-Orides learn-to-dance school at the Green Parrot Tuesday at 2 o'clock and a like number is expected for today's lesson which will also be held at the Green Parrot.

So successful has the idea been that, according to Fred Giesecke, president of the Yeomen, the classes at the Green Parrot will be continued all term with the possibility that they will be kept up all year.

Special classes for tomorrow night and Monday night only are scheduled at Gerlinger hall on the sun porch at 7:30. All Yeomen and Orides are welcome.

'In Old Kentucky' Has Rogers, Star Dancer

Bill Robinson, who made his first motion picture appearance with Shirley Temple in "The Little Colonel," has been teamed with Will Rogers in "In Old Kentucky," starting Saturday at the McDonald theatre.

In the picture, Robinson not only demonstrates some of the marvelous tap dances which have won him world fame, but actually teaches Will Rogers how to execute some of his steps.

Zeta Hall B Team Wins Over Theta Chi

Sigma Chi Downs Gamma Hall; Chi Psi Defeats D.U.'s After Battle

A heavily defeated Theta Chi B volleyball team was sent down to defeat by Zeta hall, 14-16, 15-7, 8-15, in the closest match of last night's intramural net contests.

A smart exhibition of spiking and passing gave the win the first and third games. In the second set Theta Chi drove Zeta to a defensive stand and abolished a six-point deficit in a scoring jamboree that netted 14 consecutive markers.

Nasi, Hall, and Low were the outstanding men on the floor.

Sigma Chi, Chi Psi Win
 Other games of the evening saw Chi Psi beat Delta Upsilon, 15-14, 15-10, and Sigma Chi trounce Gamma hall, 15-10, 15-8.

Three teams, Omega hall, Kappa Sigma, and Sigma Nu, turned in victories via the forfeit route.

Mrs. Bryant Will Talk on Kagawa

Jane Thacher, professor in the University school of music, returned to her home here yesterday following a week's trip to California.

At Santa Cruz Mrs. Thacher presented a concert program before members of the Santa Cruz Women's club. She was accorded high praise from her audience, and a review the following day in the Santa Cruz Sentinel is replete with commendation of her interpretations and technique.

While in Palo Alto, Mrs. Thacher was the guest of Dr. Bertha Stuart Dymont, former head of the women's physical education department here, and also of Mrs. Virginia Walker, Oregon graduate and former resident of Eugene.

Mrs. Thacher is the wife of Prof. W. F. G. Thacher, of the University faculty.

Student Directories Now on Way; Coeds Waiting Anxiously

The "Pigger's Guide" is on its way!

Ninety per cent of the men who enter the Co-op store to buy the so termed "Pigger's Guide," ask for the student directory. And ninety per cent of the women know it by name—the "Pigger's Guide."

Marion McClain, manager of the Co-op, doesn't know whether to attribute it to insincerity or modesty. But just the same McClain said "it's wishful thinking on the part of the feminine buyers."

From now on college coeds will hold their breath when the telephone jingles for on the campus are numerous "smoothies" who have known the last name but not the first, or perhaps the telephone number.

Theta Sigma Phi Hears Mrs. Allen

Mexico, the country of contrasts and extremes, was described by Mrs. Eric W. Allen at the open meeting of Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary, given for all women interested in journalism, last evening at the Alpha Chi Omega house.

Mrs. Allen explained her conception of the ancient civilization of Mexico from observations made the past summer which she spent in Mexico. She said that the modern revolutionary spirit of the Mexicans was the result of the desire of those people to return to the artistic civilization of the former Mexico.

Nearly 75 attended the meeting which was presided over by Henriette Horak, president of Theta Sigma Phi. Ruth Stora, Phyllis Adams, and Laura Margaret Smith were in charge of the affair.
