VOLUME XXXVII

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1935

NUMBER 39

STAGE of the WORLD

By Tex Thomason

The big chiefs in both the Republican and Democratic camps are beginning to pound the tom-tom of pre-election propaganda.

Around
The Republican fires are seated several able warriors, most prominent of which is Senator Borah of Idaho, most potent of which is Gov. Alfred Landon of Kansas, and most tenacious of which is Mr. Herbert Hoover, ex of the White House. These are sending up their smoke signals at fairly regular intervals now, every little puff of publicity indicative of each man's desire to at least be a prime factor in the choosing of the party nominee should he himself fail to cop it.

One
Senator Borah is the perennial Republican candidate—only he is never nominated. Next year there is even less reason to believe he will be. The veteran of a hundred parliamentary engagements is now a none-too-spry old man of 70 years. This fact alone might be enough to keep him from being nominated. It would certainly be one picked up and used to telling advantage by the opposition were he to be chosen. Borah knows this and his game is accordingly of another sort.

Two
If there is one man Wm. Borah has no use for it is Herbert Hoover. In the campaign of 1932 he fought him from hell to breakfast, as Billy Sunday used to say. And he will do so again. But Mr. Borah and Mr. Hoover have one goal in common—each will see that the other isn't the nominee of the Republican party. If either of them goes into the convention primaries the other is sure to tag along and do likewise. Anything to see that "dear friend" Bill or Herb isn't standard bearer. They're just that fond of one another.

But each of these gentlemen wants the next nominee and platform to represent his own personal views. Both will talk like candidates indefinitely for this reason. And that is the game both are playing—should either miss squatting on the throne himself he figures the next best thing is to the power behind it.

Three
The biggest of the Big Three is at present Gov. Landon, the man who is the champion of the pay-as-you-go policy of government financing. Slowly, slowly, the build-up of his conservatism and sane scheme of common-sense administration is gathering momentum. Those who profess to know say his management of Kansas has been the smoothest act of budget balancing yet seen at this stage of the depression. To a people wearied of our present frenzied finance this will be an unexcelled vote getter. The man has a good chance, better to be nominated than elected, but a good chance in either event.

Only One
Hunched over the Democratic fire is only one brave. He is the only squawman in the eyes of his New Deal, the only one for her. The smoke signals going up from his tepee tell of glorious achievement, but they are being refuted by wisps telling of continued unemployment, and unbalanced budgets. They are producing plenty of worry, but at least Franklin Roosevelt doesn't have to fret over whether he will be nominated, or who will be his "yes-man." That is a Republican monopoly.

'South Africa' Dr. de Villiers Topic Today

Gerlinger Hall Scene For Lecture at 10 This Morning; All Classes Excused

Student life and customs at Stellenbosch university, from the students' point of view will be described this morning by Cornelius de Villiers when he addresses a general student assembly on the general topic, "South Africa." All 10 o'clock classes will be dismissed for the event in Gerlinger hall.

Dr. de Villiers, visiting professor here under the auspices of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, will compare the University at Stellenbosch which he was graduated, and where he is now dean of sciences, with the universities of Europe and this continent.

Schools Same Size
Stellenbosch university is 35 miles from Cape Town, the metropolis of South Africa. It is comparable to the University of Oregon in enrollment, is co-educational, and is like many other state universities in other ways.

Dr. de Villiers will point out these likenesses and many differences in his lecture this morning. He will also describe student life in European universities, as he has done much work on that continent at Zurich, and in Italian universities.

Here Until December 16
Dr. de Villiers will be on this campus until December 16. This is his first visit to the United States, and, according to Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel, he is enjoying his work here.

Several classes have heard this versatile speaker, who is also versed in music, and coaches drama at Stellenbosch university. H. B. Yocom, professor of zoology, will introduce Dr. de Villiers.

Yeomen Clock Fastened Down

The Yeomen clock, won as a prize in the noise parade which was a feature of homecoming, has been securely established at the Y hut. Whether the clock, gained at the expense of much Yeomen effort and a badly-smashed thumb as the result of a particularly well-aimed sledge-hammer blow by Fred Gieseke, Yeomen prexy, will be allowed to tick out its days peacefully in the seclusion of the hut is a question that will be decided by the group in tonight's meeting.

At any rate, it is fairly certain that the trophy will remain at the hut until a decision is made about it since it has been screwed to the radio and the radio, being of the genus of 1929, is a bit too large to carry about as a watch fob.

Phi Beta Honors Pledges Tonight

Pledges of Phi Beta, national music and drama honorary, will be honored guests of the active and associate chapters in a meeting tonight at the Osburn hotel at 7. Katherine Briggs will be the hostess.

The program will consist of a reading by Katharine Kelley, a skit by Dorothy Griswell and Wilhelmina Gerot, and selections by the string quartet composed of Dorothy Louise Johnson, Audrey Aason, Metty Lowell, Bernice Lewis and Edith Farr, accompanist. Caroline Schenk, Marjorie Tucker and Cecilia Worth, in the vocal trio, will sing.

Six New Patients In Infirmary

Six new patients in the infirmary over the weekend bring the total up to eight for yesterday. Raymond McMichael, Harry Schleifer, Dale Mallicoat, Ben Wiener, Dorothy Everett, and Howard Skinner are the new entrants. Harvey Thompson and Ruth Byerly were old patients who remained over the weekend.

Freshman Hear Speakers Tonight

Earl, Onthank, Rebec Landsbury Talk

Freshman women are to hear speakers in their various houses tonight at 7:30. These meetings will replace the general assembly type of speeches formerly used in acquainting new students with various professors and their ideas concerning the campus.

Five speakers will be heard tonight in an informal discussion. Virgil D. Earl, dean of men, will speak at the Pi Beta Phi house. The freshman women from Delta Delta Delta and Alpha Chi Omega will meet there.

Placement Bureau Teachers' Meeting To Be December 3

There will be a meeting for all prospective teachers for next year who hope to avail themselves of the services of the University placement bureau, Tuesday, December 3, at 4 p. m. in room 4 of the education building.

The meeting does not include supervised teachers.

Moore Returns From Convention

Oregon Sigma Delta Chi Chapter Tenth in Nation

Bob Moore, president of the University of Oregon chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism society, returned to the campus last night after attending the society's twentieth annual national convention held November 15, 16, and 17 in Champaign-Urbana, Illinois.

Moore represented the Oregon organization which was ranked tenth in Sigma Delta Chi chapters throughout the United States. The professional society ranked third in the ratings.

More Positions Open
Sigma Delta Chi's employment bureau has reported more positions for journalists this year than at any time during the past six years, Moore stated the convention indicated.

Charles H. Dennis, editor emeritus of the Chicago Daily News, Phillip Kinsley, editor of the Chicago Daily Tribune, and Paul Scott Mowrer, associate editor of the Chicago Daily News, were among the outstanding speakers at the meet.

Farley Speaks On KORE Hookup

A good-sized crowd, including a number of students, gathered at the railway station Saturday noon to catch a glimpse of Jim Farley, postmaster-general, as he passed through Eugene on his way to Portland.

Farley alighted from his train and spoke for a few minutes over a radio hook-up connected with KORE. He told of the improvements which have been made in mail transportation and predicted that in a very few years trans-Atlantic airplane mail service will be established.

Several foresighted persons produced stamp books which Mr. Farley obligingly autographed. This brought about a general scurry which resulted in Mr. Farley's affixing his signature to everything from memo books to sheets hastily torn from notebooks.

Recital in Music Auditorium at 8

The school of music will present Miss Harriet Gamble, harpist, Miss Brandon Young, harpist, Miss Norma Zinser, pianist, and Mrs. Eileen Edibloom, soprano, in a recital in the music auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock.

Two Houses 100 Per Cent For Oregon

Alpha Gamma Delta, Phi Kappa Psi Cup; 340 Copies Sold In Subscription Drive

Alpha Gamma Delta and Phi Kappa Psi have been awarded the two Oregon cups for being the first two houses to subscribe 100 per cent to the yearbook during last week's drive.

Totalling 340 subscriptions, Oregon week was declared a success by Newton Stearns, manager. Nine living organizations have not as yet reported and the total for the year now stands at 1126, only 36 short of the previous goal of 1200.

Stearns Raises Quota
The quota has been upped to 1300 by Stearns, since it is his belief that when representatives from the remaining houses turn in their blanks, the figure will be well above 1200. This, he said, will provide the staff with more money with which a greater book may be made by the 1936 Oregoniana.

Figures used in ascertaining percentages of house standings are official, being from the dean of men's office. The following groups have not yet reported to Dick Hill, circulation manager, who asks that they do so at once: Gamma hall, Sigma hall, Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Nu, Chi Omega, and Susan Campbell hall.

Subscribe Next Term
Winter term registration will be absolutely the last opportunity for students to subscribe to the 1936 publication, which officials forecast will be the largest book in at least 10 years, featuring a greater picture display than ever before.

Portland League To Hear Morris

Dr. Victor P. Morris, professor of economics here, will present the last lecture of his series of talks on current problems before the Portland League of Women Voters next Friday afternoon at 2:30. Dr. Morris will speak on "Economic Security." His other lectures pertained to Roosevelt's monetary policy and to the economics involved in the Italian problem.

The League of Women voters is a non-partisan, civic organization sponsors the talks on civic problems every year.

Yeomen Will Plan Christmas Dance

Discussion of a dance planned for Christmas vacation to which students and townspeople will be invited, will be held by the Yeomen in their meeting tonight at 7:30 at the Y hut. The dance, if it is held, will be held at the Green Parrot and proceeds will be used for an Oregoniana picture fund.

"Christmas Revels" will be the subject of a talk by S. Stephenson Smith, of the English department, to the Yeomen tonight. Cider and doughnuts will be served as refreshments after the meeting.

Libe Excavations Uncover Fossils

Fossils millions of years old are being unearthed daily in the excavations of the basement of the new library of the University of Oregon, according to Warren D. Smith, head of the department of geology.

An exhibit of the fossil shells will be placed in one of the cases on the lower floor of Condon hall soon, with both scientific and common names listed with each shell.

They mark the site of the former sea beach, and are representative of the Oligocene period. The exhibit is being prepared by Dr. Smith with the assistance of Lloyd Ruff and Frederick Hoffstead, staff assistants.

MISS HICKSON H. S. TEACHER
Eileen Hickson is teaching in the high school at Grass Valley, Oregon.

Women Vote Today on AWS Constitution

Obsolete Terming, Old Rules to Be Done Away With if New Regulations Adopted

Whether the AWS will be governed by a new constitution or by its old one will be decided today when AWS members cast their votes between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. in front of the Co-op.

A week has passed since mimeographed copies of the new constitution were distributed among women students attending the last AWS meeting. This was to give voters sufficient time to understand the question on which they are deciding.

ASUO Tickets Necessary
Students must present their student body tickets upon going to the Co-op, and have their name removed from the list of those eligible to vote.

The proposed constitution follows work this year by the present officers of the group headed by Margaret Ann Smith, president, to unify and clear up misunderstandings of the older constitution.

Terming Obsolete
Various terming used in the old constitution is now out of date, and the new edition is an attempt to correct this fault, officers say.

The proposed constitution, following its drafting by the officers, has been approved by the executive committee composed of representatives of all women's organizations and of the dean of women's office.

Visitors Praise Oregon Library

Main Libe Open; Condon Closes on Holiday

James G. Hodgson, special assistant in the University of Chicago, was on the campus Saturday collecting documents to complete the files in his university. The library was able to supply him with 14 pamphlets in volume form.

According to Mr. Hodgson, the University of Oregon library has more complete files than most of the schools he has visited.

The hours for the different branches of the library during the Thanksgiving day vacation were announced by M. H. Douglass, head of the library.

Keep Special Schedule
Reference and circulation libraries will be open on Thanksgiving day from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. The reserve libe will close at 5 Wednesday afternoon and will not re-open until Friday. Books may be taken out of the reserve libe between 4 and 5 Wednesday and will become due at 8 Friday morning when all divisions of the library will resume their regular schedules.

Cross Country Run Wednesday

Tomorrow will be the great day for donut cross country athletes inasmuch as at 4 o'clock they will begin a grueling three-mile run for this year's Bill Hayward trophy.

Runners have been warned by Coach Rus Cutler to be sure to receive their correct starting numbers.

Fifty-five runners, to date, have entered this year's event and some thrilling sprints should take place before the end of the race which will be run in the hills surrounding the city.

CALAVAN IN PORTLAND
Corwin Calavan, LL.B., '35, is practicing law with Wood, Montague, Matthiessen and Rankin in Portland. Offices are in the Yeon building.

MISS KLEKAR IN FRISCO
Kamilla Klekar is treasurer of the San Francisco chapter of Phi Beta. Her mailing address is 665 Pine street.

Pigger's Guide On Sale at Co-op

Student Directory Has New Features

Pigger's guide, long awaited student and faculty directory, will definitely go on sale today at the University Co-op store and the graduate manager's office, it was confirmed last night by A. S. U. O. officials.

The sales for the first two days will be handled by the Associated Students hile the Co-op will take care of the few straggling sales for the rest of the term.

Contains New Features
This year's student directory, hot off the presses yesterday, contains many new features between its modernistic cover plate. Chief among these new innovations are:

AAUW Scholarship Applications Must Be Filed by Dec. 1

Applications for all AAUW scholarships and fellowships must be handed in to dean of women's office by December 1, Hazel P. Schwaner, dean of women, announced today.

Several of these scholarships are available to women students, and information on them may be had from Dean Schwaner.

25 Sigma Xis Will Visit OSC Chapter

Dr. de Villiers Will Lecture at Banquet

Approximately 25 members of Sigma Xi, honorary scientific society, will leave about 4:30 p. m. Tuesday for Corvallis to meet in a joint banquet with members of Sigma Xi of the Oregon State chapter. The banquet will be at 6:15 in the Memorial Union building.

The dinner will be followed by a lecture on some new theories of evolution by the guest speaker, Cornelius de Villiers, according to Warren D. Smith, professor of geology.

Dr. de Villiers is dean of the science faculty of Stellenbosch university in the Union of South Africa, and is also scheduled to speak on this campus today at 10:00 a. m.

Pi Lambda Theta Pledges Initiated

Over 68 members of Pi Lambda Theta, national women's educational honorary attended the Founders' day banquet and initiation held at the Osburn hotel Saturday, November 23.

The theme of the decorations was yellow rosebuds and blue candles, carrying out the honorary's colors, blue and gold.

Each of the ten pledges gave an original, and in many cases, humorous poem.

Bossing May Read Paper at Convention

Nelson L. Bossing, dean of the school of education, has been invited to read a paper on the subject of prophesying teaching success at the annual convention of the National Institutional Teachers' Placement association to be held in St. Louis February 22.

Dr. Bossing has not yet decided as to whether or not he will accept.

Thursday will be the only holiday for Thanksgiving, and classes will meet Friday and Saturday.

Oregana Picture Schedule Listed

Decision Making Final Date Announced

The final schedule for those who have not had their Oregana pictures taken is as follows:

Yeomen and Independents, Tuesday, December 3.
(The Yeomen and Independent schedule sheet will be posted at the Y hut.)

Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Kappa Sigma, Tuesday, December 3.

Alpha Tau Omega, Wednesday, December 4.

Phi Delta Theta, Thursday, December 5.

Sigma Phi Epsilon and Sigma Alpha Mu, Friday, Friday, December 6.

Zeta hall, Monday, December 9.

December 10 until exams will be devoted to those who have been unable to have their pictures taken at their scheduled time. After this term no one who was in school fall term will be able to have their picture taken. Only new students will be given the opportunity to get their picture in, the decision is final. There will be no exceptions.

Medical Test Set For December 6

Medical aptitude tests will be given December 6 at 2 p. m., according to an announcement received from the committee on aptitude tests for medical students by Dr. H. B. Yocom. The local tests are under the supervision of Dr. Yocom and will be in 105 McClure.

A charge of one dollar per applicant will be made to defray the expenses of the test committee of the Association of American Medical Colleges.

Tests have proved helpful, being used as a factor in the selection of the students of 90 per cent of the medical schools. Last year the tests were taken by 10,569 students of 617 colleges. In the University of Oregon, there were 22 applicants.

The test itself lasts approximately one hour and a half. It is objective in nature and largely psychological.

Bowen Leaves For Palo Alto

Dr. Ray P. Bowen, head of the romance language department, will leave today on the noon train for Palo Alto, California, where he will attend the 37th annual meeting of the Philological Association of the Pacific Coast at Stanford university. The association will meet on November 29 and 30.

At one of the regular meetings Dr. Bowen will read a paper he has written, which is a study on "The Dramatic Elements in the Construction of Balzac's Novels." Dr. Bowen has been a member of the P.A.P.C. ever since he became a member of the University of Oregon ten years ago. He is now on its executive committee. President C. Valentine Boyer is an ex-vice-president of the philological organization.

ROSE AT PRINEVILLE
Frank Rose has a teaching position at Prineville this year.

Misses McCracken, Burns, Sumpter Are Picked; Hall, Reed Newhouse Selected

By LE ROY MATTINGLY
Senior six, composed of outstanding members of the class of '36 who have been chosen for Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary, was selected yesterday afternoon when the honorary elected members at its fall meeting. The six seniors upon whom the highest of scholastic honors was conferred are:

Ann-Reed Burns, journalism major.

William O. Hall, economics major.

Mary L. McCracken, education major.

Andy J. Newhouse, law major.

Marjorie Sumpter, English major.

Charles A. Reed, history major.

Initiation of the new members has tentatively been set for December 14.

In addition to the election of the senior six, officers for the Oregon chapter of the national scholastic honorary were also selected at the meeting Monday afternoon.

Warren D. Smith Elected
Warren D. Smith, professor of geography and geology, was elected president and will head the organization for the forthcoming year. Dan E. Clark, assistant director of the extension division, was chosen vice president, Mary E. Kent, office manager of the extension service, was re-elected to the position of secretary, while Florence D. Alden, professor of physical education, was chosen as a member of the executive committee.

Two new members of the membership committee, Jesse H. Bond, professor of business administration, and Frances E. Frazier, were elected.

Initiates Active on Campus
Ann-Reed Burns of Portland, journalism major, was awarded the Gerlinger cup last year. The Gerlinger award is made annually to the outstanding junior woman on the University of Oregon campus.

William O. Hall, also of Portland and a major in economics, was awarded the Koyl cup in 1934, a presentation made annually to the outstanding Oregon junior.

Mary L. McCracken, an education major and also from Portland, is president of the senior class and has been extremely active in campus affairs.

Marjorie May Sumpter of Mill City is an English major. She is a member of Phi Lambda Theta, women's education honorary.

Charles A. Reed, Hood River, is a history major on the Oregon campus and a member of Condon club, geology and geography honorary society. Reed re-entered the University in 1934 as a junior after an absence of three years.

Andy J. Newhouse, a law major from Broad Bend, was given the Phi Beta Kappa award of $25 in books in 1934, his sophomore year. The books are given to the sophomore having the highest grade point average.

Others Selected Later
Other members of Phi Beta Kappa will be chosen from the senior class later in the year. The six students eligible for Phi Beta Kappa and outstanding on the campus during fall term are named as members of the senior six in addition to the honor of election to the national scholastic honorary.

AWS President Asks All Members to Cast Votes at Co-op Today

Ballots on the new AWS constitution are to be cast between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. today in front of the Co-op, and Margaret Ann Smith, president of AWS, urges all women students to vote.
