Swimmers

Mike Hoyman's Oregon swimmers leave for California next Tuesday. Who do they meet? When? See today's story on Duck mermen.

Frosh And Rooks Play In Igloo Tonight

Delts Shade Alpha Hall in Tight Donut Hoop Tussle 20-17

Abba Dabbas Trounce Delta Upsilon, 24 to 9; Kappa Sigs Tumble Co-op Quint, 19 to 9

A clicking Delta Tau Delta "A" quintet edged out Alpha hall, 20 to 17, in the opening basketball fray in the men's gym yesterday afternoon.

Every hoopster on the Delt team registered at least one basket. Kenneth Weber, forward, led the Delts with eight points.

Gus Gailas, forward, and Sam Gauehy, pivot man, tossed in three field goals each for Alpha hall.

Abba Dabba Wins Easily

After securing a flying start in the first quarter, Abba Dabba "A" five breezed through to a 24-to-9 win over the Delta Upsilon "A" hoopmen.

Kappa Sigs Triumph

Abba Dabba bolted in the first quarter for a 9-to-0 lead in the initial quarter with both teams netting a pair of baskets the second period. Hale, Abba Dabba forward, chalked up over half of his teammates' score with a total of 13 points.

A more accurate shooting Kappa Sigma "A" quint captured a 19-to-9 win from the Student Living association "A" hoopmen.

The losers greatly aided their own downfall with a flock of missed shots. Kappa Sigma amassed a 13 to 2 lead by half time. The Student quintet rang up seven points in the last half while the winners were limited to six.

Huffman, Kappa Sigma center, garnered eight points and Ken Rolfe, forward, rifled in five for the losers.

Fijis Take Morning Tilt

In a delayed basketball fray played Thursday morning the Phi Gamma Delta "B" hoopmen submerged the Delta Upsilon "B" five under a 25 to 11 score.

This game was regularly scheduled for Thursday afternoon but due to a mistake in the published schedule Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Sigma Chi played a game at that hour.

Game Thrown Out Of Donut Standing

The "A" donut basketball game played between Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Sigma Chi Thursday afternoon will not count in the basketball standing as the playing of the fray was due to a mistake in the published schedules. The two teams are in different leagues with the SAE quint in league one whereas Sigma Chi is a member of league six.

The game that Sigma Alpha Epsilon was supposed to play with Omega hall Thursday has been rescheduled for Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Cougars to Play Idaho Tonight

Washington Secure Atop Division Heap

NORTHERN DIVISION STANDINGS

Table with 5 columns: W, L, Pct, For, Ag'st. Includes Washington, OSC, Oregon, WSC, Idaho.

Three games will be played by northern division basketball teams this week-end. Washington State and Idaho play at Pullman tonight and tomorrow night the Cougars and Vandals tangle at Moscow.

Tonight's Washington State-Idaho tilt is a toss-up. Last week the Vandals upset a favored Cougar quintet, 33 to 30, in a nip and tuck fight.

Duck Lineup For OSC Game Takes Shape

Courtney, B. Jones, Silver, Liebowitz Expected to Start; Other Post in Doubt

Four Oregon basketballers are virtually certain of places in the Grenadier quintet which will open the Oregon State game at Corvallis tomorrow night, but three men are battling for Howard Hobson's starting call at the fifth position.

Silver, Coming Fast Silver, sophomore from Lincoln high of Portland, has been coming fast of late and was the Webfoots' leading offensive threat in the second Washington game here last week-end.

Budd Jones, another member of the five which threw a scare into Washington's unbeatable Huskies Saturday, is a strong defensive player and a consistent floor man.

Courtney to Start Courtney has a slight edge over Rollie Rourke for one of the guard posts. Little Bill will be detailed to the dubious task of checking willow Wally Palmberg, the northern division's leading point

UO Swimmers to Hold Trials Today

Squad to Leave for South February 11

Mike Hoyman's Oregon swimmers will leave at high noon, February 11 for California, where they will meet the swimming squads of San Jose state, Stanford, and California in three successive days of grueling competition.

The Duck mermen will swim against San Jose State in the Spartan pool on the evening of February 12. They then journey to Palo Alto, where they will match strokes with the powerful Stanford swimmers on February 14, and then to Berkeley for a meet with the Bears the following night.

Large Crowd May Attend Although untried in competition this season, tales of the Webfoots' speed and skill have already invaded the campuses of the southern colleges, and large crowds will probably attend the meets to see the Oregon team in action.

Time trials will be held in the Gerlinger pool at 3 p. m. today to decide the swimmers who will accompany Hoyman. Only nine men will be taken, and several of the positions are still open.

For the first time in many years, the Pacific coast conference's northern division will hold its swimming meet on the Oregon campus. The meet will be held in Gerlinger pool on April 4. Oregon will have the great advantage of swimming in its own pool, which will help the Ducks defend their championship.

The University of Washington swimmers will journey south to Eugene for a meet with the Oregon mermen in Gerlinger pool February 29. After the conditioning trip south, the Ducks should be in the pink of form.

Sport TROJAN HOOP COACH BRANDS LUISETTI AS REFEREE'S "PET" Quacks MENTOR BUNN AND FIGURES REFUTE BARRY'S CHARGES By TOM McCALL

When Stanford's Hank Luisetti scored 30 points against Southern California in the game that dropped the Trojans from the leadership of the southern division, he started an argument or two among coaches, players, and other followers of the leather "borl."

The importance of the verbal duel concerning the coast scoring record was diminished, however, by a few rather nasty remarks that were coined by Sam Barry, coach of the coast championship Trojans.

"With respectable officiating, Luisetti would have never been able to get on that scoring rampage. Eddie Oram was doing his best to guard Luisetti legally, but Luisetti would give Eddie a shove with his shoulder and then loop the ball into the basket with an overhand sweep."

Don't think for a minute that Johnny Bunn, Stanford mentor, would let the reputation of Luisetti be sullied while he, John, was still walking upright on this earth. A San Francisco Examiner reporter tapped Bunn for the following rebuttal:

"It sounds like a bit of sour grapes to me, and I think I can understand Sam. It's tough to be 15 points ahead in the middle of the second half of a game and then lose out by four points, particularly if you're the defending champion."

Bunn maintains that Luisetti plays with less contact than any hoopster he has ever seen, or come up against.

Bunn could have silenced the yipping of the veteran Barry by merely quoting the clean play record that Luisetti hung up last year as an Indian Papoose. During the 31 games that he played as a frosh Hank averaged 19 points a game and yet had a total of only 38 fouls called against him.

Yearlings Set For 'Little Civil War' Tilt

Anet Out of Duckling Lineup; Both Quints Undefeated Since Splitting Openers

Having lost but one contest of the 12 played so far this season, and that a two-point over-time defeat by the Oregon State Rooks, John Warren's Oregon Frosh will swing into action on the home floor tonight against the Beaver Yearlings in an attempt to further avenge that loss.

The Frosh came back after their first and only defeat of the year to take the second game from the Orange youngsters by a 32-21 count. The third of the four game series tonight is scheduled to start at the Igloo at 7:30.

Since their last meeting, both quintets have been undefeated, the Frosh having taken Astoria, Tillamook, and the Riggs' All-Stars in stride, while the Rooks hold recent wins over LaGrande, Pendleton, and Baker high school.

After last night's brief workout, Laddie Gale, center, and Wally Johansen, forward, seemed to be the only two men certain of starting assignments. Gail Fouts or big Dee Phelps will start at the other forward position, while both guards will be named from a group consisting of Bob Smith, Gale Smith, Rod Hanson and Hank Nilsen.
