

It's This Way

By Marge Petch

We hesitate to call any authority (?) on the carpet for an occasional misstep, but we find that in the case of yesterday morning's Emerald, Tex Thomson jumped to conclusions far beyond the very obvious facts!

In the STAGE OF THE WORLD, Tex ventured the statement that although he "did not hold the tenet that women's place is in the home, he did hold that her place is definitely out of politics." Going on he asserted that none of our women politicians in the senate have done anything and that they give no promise of doing anything. All this is very well, for the three single examples of women in the senate. But how about our other national women figures, Mr. Thomson?

We hate to embarrass some of our contemporary male politicians by drawing their attention to the brilliant activities of Ruth Bryan Owen, a United States ambassador. The high calibre of intelligence she has shown in her position in politics is really rare. So is that of Josephine Roche, recipient of the National Achievement award and prominent in the United States treasury department, Nellie Tayloe Ross, former governor of Wyoming, is another of our most able lady politicians. She's now at the head of the United States mint.

We desire to point out, in the main, that the chief fault in Mr. Thomson's observations was that he based all of his calculations on the activities of three women. He didn't even take into consideration the women politicians of Oregon. He completely forgot Mrs. Beatrice Sackett, now a respected member of the board of higher education, governor's secretary for two terms, and the outstanding woman in Oregon's political set-up. He overlooked the widely known Mrs. Abigail Dunnaway and Mrs. Dye. He apparently hadn't heard of Mrs. Dorothy Lee, an able member of the Oregon house of representatives. Hanna Martin, also a state representative, didn't occur to him.

Probably the most unthinking observation offered by Mr. Thomson was his assertion that respect is given to women in congress "not because they say anything astute, not because of intellect, but because of 'chivalry.'" True, Mr. Thomson, if intelligence be based on conniving for war and war preparations. True, if the "softening feminine treble"—as Mr. Thomson calls it—is to be merely "tolerated and humored" in its desperate fight for the peace of America. But there are few congressmen who were in office at the

Senior Ball, Big Society Event Saturday; Houses, YWCA, Frosh to Dance

Commencement Motif to Be Used by Senior; Pi Phi, Alpha Chi Omega, ATO to Go Formal

The Senior ball will give the seniors a chance to dance in the atmosphere which will pervade the institution in June when graduation takes place. The dance will feature the Commencement motif Saturday night in McArthur court, and Hay Grayson will be imported for the affair.

The directorate of the dance is: chairman, Frank Michok; assistant chairman, Jack Mulhall; secretary, Dorothy Ann Clark; reception, Nancy Lou Cullers; decorations, Al Wall; publicity, Anne Reed Burns; patrons, Alice Ann Thomas; music, Howard Patterson; programs, Wilha Bitz; finance, Orton Goodwin; tickets, Tom Aughinbaugh.

Patrons and patronesses will be: Chancellor and Mrs. Frederick M. Hunter, President and Mrs. C. Valentine Boyer, Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Schwing, Governor and Mrs. Charles Martin, President and Mrs. George W. Peavy, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Brown Barker, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Irvine, Mr. and Mrs. Lief Finseth, Mr. and Mrs. Willard L. Marks, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Sackett, Mrs. Edward C. Pease, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Brand, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Sammons, and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Callister.

House Dances Friday

Three house dances are scheduled for Friday, February 14. They are Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Tau Omega, and Pi Beta Phi.

Blue and silver decorations will convey the moonbeams motif of the Alpha Chi Omega winter formal. Patrons and patronesses for the dance are Professor and Mrs. Robert D. Horn, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Stehn, Mr. and Mrs. James Crissey, and Miss Grace Waha. Buck McGowan's orchestra will play, and co-chairmen of the dance are Mary Ann Skirving and Marjory Will.

Alpha Tau Omega's winter for-time of the World war who will not admit that they admired the courage and stepped to think of the arguments presented by Jeanette Rankin as she stood resolutely against America's entry!

American women are just starting their political life. Naturally they have not done as much as men. But they have a definite part to play in politics—a part which men have never been able to supply except in rare cases.

They have and will continue to supply that certain measure of clear and calm thinking, that ability to stop and analyze a situation, which is so revolting to men who cry for the rapid fire action which could so easily lead us into another war.

Faculty Women Held Monthly Tea Yesterday

The Women's Faculty club of the University gave its monthly tea yesterday afternoon between the hours of 3:30 and 5:30 at Gerlinger hall. Mrs. H. V. Hoyt was in charge of arrangements for the tea, and Mrs. Daniel B. Gage arranged the decorations.

Large Committee

Mrs. J. M. Miller, Mrs. B. W. DeBusk, Mrs. Earl M. Pallett, and Mrs. Solomon Katz poured. Serving was done by Mrs. A. R. Moore, Mrs. C. L. Kelly, Mrs. Jesse H. Bond, Mrs. W. P. Riddiesberger, Mrs. M. H. Comish, Mrs. E. H. Moore, Mrs. R. R. Martin, Mrs. Calvin Crumbaker, Mrs. Robert C. Hall, and Mrs. R. H. Crosland.

mal will be at the Eugene hotel with decorations in the fraternity's colors of blue and gold. Patrons and patronesses are Dean and Mrs. Karl W. Onthank, Major and Mrs. William A. Wapenstein, Professor and Mrs. D. D. Gage, and Professor and Mrs. N. B. Zane. Woodie Everett and Bobb Moffett are co-chairmen of the affair. Buck McGowan's orchestra will furnish the music.

Valentine decorations at the Pi Beta Phi dance will celebrate the day in true accord. Archie Parrot's orchestra will play, and Kay Buck is in charge of the dance. Patrons and patronesses are: Mr. and Mrs. E. Peterson, Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Beck, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bealls, and Miss F. McCamant, house-mother.

"Ladies' Leap" Friday

The "Ladies' Leap", the Valentine dance to be given Friday afternoon by the YWCA, will be held at four sorority houses, Alpha Chi Omega, Chi Omega, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Kappa Alpha Theta, and persons attending may visit any or all four of the houses. A "King of Hearts" will be elected by popular voting, and the coronation of this lucky person will take place at the Alpha Chi Omega house.

Elaine Comish is general chairman of the affair.

Frosh Plan Hop

The Frosh will cavort Friday evening at the Frosh Frivolities to be given in Gerlinger hall. Prizes, songs, and dances are promised. This is strictly a freshman affair.

Patrons and patronesses will be: Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Gage, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Shumaker, Mrs. Alice B. Macduff, and Dean and Mrs. Virgil K. Earl.

Took Vows

Mrs. Millard Wilhelm, who set aside her maiden name of Evelyn Schaefer last Saturday.

Students Wed On Weekend Rings Glitter

Miss Evelyn Schaefer and Millard F. Wilhelm, both of Eugene, were married at St. Mary's Catholic church Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. D. P. Curley officiated at the ceremony which was attended by a number of friends and relatives.

Mrs. Wilhelm's sister, Miss Catherine Schaefer, was her only attendant. George Wilhelm, of Portland, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Mrs. Austin Frey played the wedding music which was sung by Dale Cooley. Little Janet Cooley was flower girl.

Following a large wedding breakfast at the Osburn hotel, the couple left on a wedding trip to California.

Mrs. Wilhelm, a member of Alpha Omicron Pi, graduated from the University of Oregon last year. Mr. Wilhelm also attended the University and is a member of Phi Gamma Delta.

They will reside at the Wilder apartments on their return.

Oregon Grads Wed

Miss Catherine Stinger, daughter of Charles W. Stinger, and Seth B. Thompson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Seth Thompson, both of Portland, were married Saturday morning at the Church of the Madeleine in that city. The ceremony was performed before the immediate families by Rev. C. F. Heimbach.

Miss Helen J. Stinger, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and David M. Thompson, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

The couple left for a short wed-

Cloudy Days Mean Smart Togs for Coed

By INGRID LILJEQVIST
Though the winter landscape presents a bleak scene of campus life to the unfamiliar eye, and the brooding face of the roving pundit bespeaks an atmosphere of scholars and books—never fear! The frivolous spirit still thrives. As long as coed pulchritude continues to storm the citadel of learning, that worthy institution will hold sway within its own bounds. Beyond that, the blithe coed goes undaunted. Her complete optimism in the face of disaster (exams) puts new life into the lagging male. Even her clothes smack of the essence of gaiety.

Excellent Taste Seen

And in this last lies our interest. How dull the wintry scene were it not for those talented females whose artistic abilities are not delegated to the classroom alone! Though smart clothes are not a rare sight on the campus, the coed who is garbed with invariable chic is a novelty. Not only excellent taste but continual vigilance of immaculateness is required to maintain a smart appearance.

To three girls this week go the honors for upholding this standard. Carol Pope, small, blond, and Alpha Phi, has been seen on the campus in a smart heavy tweed suit that achieves the height of sartorial perfection. With it she wears a silk blouse in duobonnet, the color of the suit, relieving the utter simplicity of the neckline by the addition of a small string of pearls. A felt hat and calf trotters, both in the same wine color, complete the outfit.

Rough Wool Smart

Bernice Healy, Theta in origin, gives the wintry background a definite caché by her many smart costumes. One of particular note is a rough woolen suit in dark green. A dashing collar of lynx tops a flaring coat, short enough to reveal the skirt of the same shade underneath. She wears with this dark brown accessories and a

'No Corsages' Still Ruling Of Senior Ball Directorate Despite Heated Discussion

Isabelle Miller Asks Student Cooperation at the Formal Dance

Senior committee heads and campus authorities on what is what were busy yesterday over the panic caused by the "no corsages" decision for the Senior ball, but, at last, the matter is settled. Isabelle Miller, who has been appointed campus social chairman to take Bette Church's place, says that after a frenzied discussion the decision still stands.

Isabelle is attempting to help every one as Bette did by holding a clearing house for all opinions on how social activities should be carried on. "I want," said Isabelle yesterday, "to hear opinions, find out just what the majority thinks and let others know. In this way the whole campus will be able to dark green ascot knotted at the neck.

Phyllis Elder, of the Kappa house, presents a chic appearance in a red and grey outfit of hairy wool. The bias skirt combines both colors in a diagonal plaid, this design repeated in the scarf on the casual jacket. The latter is in plain grey, fastened down the front with bright red clips in patent leather and nipped in at the waist with a matching patent belt. With this she wears a tailored grey topcoat and grey suede accessories.

Mr. Jiro Harada, lecturer in Oriental art, was a dinner guest at the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, Tuesday evening. He spoke on Japan.

Houses Dine

Chi Omega and Delta Gamma are giving preference dinners this week for men guests. The former entertained Wednesday evening with a Valentine dinner, and Delta Gamma will hold theirs on Sunday.

WAA Initiates 63 New Girls At Simple Rites

At a simple but impressive ceremony held last week in Gerlinger 63 girls were initiated into WAA. On the shoulder of each new initiate was pinned a yellow daffodil, the flower of the organization. Candle-lit alumnae hall was the scene of initiation.
