Donut Champs!

Within another week championship games will have determined the victors in men's intramural basketball. Outstanding teams this year make the playoffs especially interesting. Watch the sports page.

Kappa Sig, Theta Chi, DU Teams Trounce Donut Competitors

Large Scores Piled Up as Season Nears Finish; Omega, Zeta Halls, Chi Psis Lose

Theta Chi proved too strong for Omega hall in last night's feature intramural basketball encounter and won handily, 23 to 13.

Two full Theta Chi "B" teams saw action against the hall team which held its own until the half and then tired noticeably when fresh players for Theta Chi started scoring at will.

Theta Chi's big star of the evening was Hanscam, who came through with five field goals. Kato and Kidder, of Omega hall, played brilliant ball.

Kappa Sigs Trounce Chi Psi

Every member of the Kappa Sig team scored at least four points in last night's "B" league fray with Chi Psi. Final score was 34 to 4. Rummel and Carter, of Kappa Sigma, were high-point men.

Keller, Chi Psi substitute, scored the only points for his team.

DU Beats Zeta Hall

Zeta hall ran up against the strong Delta Upsilon team last night and lost by a 31 to 9 score. McInturff, high-scoring DU forward, collected a total of 13 points against the hall outfit. Other leading DU point-makers were Silven, Nombalais, Dean, and Kirtley.

Fifty-eight points in four games is the all-time Oregon state basketball tournament scoring record held by the Webfoots' sophomore, Wayne Scott of Silverton.

Scott and his Silverton high squad played for three consecutive years at the Salem tournament, with the present Oregon substitute garnering all-state forward honors in 1933 and 1934. Wayne also earned three awards in baseball, playing first base.

Last season, while a freshman, Scott saw quite a bit of action with Southern Oregon Normal school. When the SONS went to the national amateur tournament last spring at Denver, Scott scored eight points in the last game Hobson's team played, when it was eliminated with the other two college quintets after reaching the third round.

One contest he will always remember was the Benson-Silverton battle in the 1933 state tournament. Benson, sparked that year by Bill Courtney, held a five point lead with only 90 seconds left to play. Practically unaided, Scott snatched victory from the eager Tommen by pocketing three long howitzers in those 90 seconds.

testants will be notified whom they have drawn as their first opponent by telephone.

Many members of the 1935 varsity football squad will discard their moleskin raiment and don a pair of wrestling trunks to enter this tournament. Among the most noteworthy are Johnnie Reischmann, Pat Fury, and Del Bjork.

Elton Owen, son of the Eugene wrestling promoter, will see action in the 165 pound class. Owen is a strong, heavy wrestler and may give contenders in this division much trouble.

Webfoot Vets Will Start, Says Hobson

Howell, Jones, Purdy McLean, Patterson Listed for Action in Coming WSC Series

When Oregon and Washington State square off in the Igloo Monday night in the first contest of a two-game northern division basketball series the same Webfoot combination that started the pre-season campaign early in December will be on the floor.

Tired of experimenting with the new combinations, Howard Hobson has announced definitely that the lineup considered "regular" at the opening of the season will, with a single exception, start against the Cougars. The quintet to which the Grenadier mentor has reverted ran up 13 victories in 15 practice starts, and went on to trounce Idaho twice and Oregon State once in early conference combat.

Old Lineup Listed

Ward Howell and Willie Jones are scheduled to open at the forward spots, with Chuck Patterson at center and Chief McLean and Ken Purdy at guards. Purdy is the lone member of the five who was not a regular in the early weeks of the season. The clever Long Beach lad takes the place of Sam Liebowitz, who has been in a slump for several weeks.

McLean was a regular at the outset of the year, but an injured knee has kept him on the bench in

No sooner had the Corona been shifted into high than the man what as runs de sheet trotted in and warned the occupants of the sports room to cut all stories to the quick as the naughty ad man had been very active again. So it was with a tired sigh that a grizzled author threw waste basket way a thirty page diatribe entitled, "The History of the Boston Crab, or Who Stole Charley Ross?" "Twas a wrenching history of sin in the rassing game which will never reach the public now. But on with another yarn.

Back at Wisconsin, Dr. Clarence Spears, former Oregon football mentor, is still in the toils of the most contests. Fully recovered, the Indian speed demon is a certainty to open at one of the guard posts. Bill Courtney and Rollie Rourke have alternated in McLean's place and are likely to see action in the Cougar contest.

Howell, Willie Jones, and Patterson were important cogs in the machine which piled up 11 consecutive pre-season triumphs and got off to a flying start in the conference race.

Ducks Work Hard

Hobson sent the Webfoots through another hard workout last night, with fast-breaking offensive plays being stressed. Lots of rest is on tap for the Ducks this weekend before they enter the arena with Jack Friel's Cougars Monday.

regents investigating committee of the Badger school.

The plump doctor got into the questioning clutches of the committee when the Wisconsin trainer, William Fallon, signed affidavits to the effect that he had been ordered by Spears to insert a little firewater into drinks served to football players before games.

On the witness stand the other day, the doctor and two former Wisconsin football players very nearly turned the tables on accuser Fallon. Said Spears emphatically, "No! when he was asked if he had ordered Fallon to spike the players' drinks. Then the ex-gridders, Moon Molinaro and Dave Tobias, turned the tables further in favor of the doctor by relating that Fallon had given them "smiling syrup" between halves of games before Spears ever came to Wisconsin.

Said Tobias: "I remember well when I went past Fallon's locker and saw a bottle full of liquor. He said that he used to have it when he was trainer at Missouri and Michigan."

So it looks as if Dr. Clarence will see the sun rise on another Wisconsin football season with himself at the Badger helm.

Campus Fencers Organize Club

Exhibition Planned For Beaver-Duck Game

Eleven men and eight women turned out to organize a fencing club at the University of Oregon last night at 8 o'clock in Gerlinger hall, 19 enthusiastic fencers eager to advance their own knowledge of the art as well as gain practice, poise, and liteness of movement.

Dual chairmen, Mrs. Hugh Miller and Norris Porter, and a secretary, Jane Potter, were elected, as plans were made to get in touch with the AFA so that the group might become part of the national fencing organization.

It was decided to meet on Monday and Thursday afternoons for optional practice with Wednesday night the compulsory meeting to be held in Gerlinger dancing room.

It was also planned to see if new equipment might not be obtained for the men as their present jackets, especially, are antiquated, and most of the equipment is in need of repair.

Mr. Hugh Miller explained the meaning of the prep, novice, junior, and senior fencer, and declared that fencing is not effeminate as so many people have been led to believe. Plans were made to put on an exhibition between the halves of the Oregon-Oregon State basketball game.

Orides Win First Game

Erma Huston Scores 32 Points for Record

In their first venture onto the court this season, the Orides romped over the Alpha Delta PIs, 46-18.

The end of the first quarter saw the ADPIs leading by a narrow 7-5 margin, but from that time on, the Orides began to click, and when the gong sounded again they held a 17-13 lead.

Early in the third quarter the independent forwards began sinking baskets in rapid succession to smash the Alpha Delta Pi hopes for victory.

Gretchen Smith, ADPI basket shooter, guarded by Gertrude Branthover, was able to add only five counts during the last half, while Erma Huston, fast-breaking Orides forward, was busy rolling up a score of 32 to set a high-point record for all games played this season.
