Webfoots Look Toward Oregon State Struggle

Beavers Play in Igloo Tomorrow; Silver and Liebner to Start

Two new faces are expected to be in Oregon's basketball lineup when the Webfoots tackle the Beavers of Oregon State in the third "civil war" clash of the season at the Igloo Saturday night. Dave Silver, sophomore south-paw, is booked to start at center, and Sam Liebner, veteran stylist, is in line to open at forward. Willie Jones and Ward Howell are the men they will replace. Chuck Patterson, who performed brilliantly at the backboards in the recent Washington State series, will be shifted from center to forward.

Silver scored 14 points in the second Washington State contest, and Liebner's floor work was instrumental in Oregon's winning of the first tilt. Liebner is still the leading Webfoot scorer.

Purdy and McLean to Start

At guards tomorrow night will be Ken Purdy and Chief McLean, both of whom broke into the first string five against the Cougars and performed brilliantly. Purdy poured in 12 points in Monday night's encounter and his passing and floor play was a revelation to spectators. McLean ran circles around the visitors in both games and his speed and drive are certain to be a big help to the Ducks in future games.

Hobson sent the squad through the second of three pre-game workouts at the Igloo last night and from the look of determination on the faces of the players it was apparent to observers that Oregon State will be in for a ball game tomorrow night. The Beavers will be heavy favorites to make it two in a row and three out of four for the season in "civil war" competition, but the Webfoots haven't forgotten the recent 49-to-23 she-lacking they took at Corvallis and are out for blood.

Ducks Eye .500 Mark

The Ducks are still only two games below the .500 mark and have every chance to finish the season even with the boards. The final Oregon State game will be played at Corvallis Friday, February 28, and early in March the Webfoots will invade the Inland Empire to close out their schedule against Washington State and Idaho.

Wally Palmberg and his fighting Oregon State teammates took two games from Washington State last week-end and retained a mathematical chance to edge Washington out for the title. Hopping against hope for a few assorted miracles, the Beavers are struggling intensely for tomorrow's struggle here. Reports from Corvallis indicate that Art Merryman, forward, who has been suffering from an injured knee, has recovered and will be ready for alternate duty.

Oregon Has Chance for Second

Students who understand the intricacies of higher mathematics point out that Oregon has yet a chance at the northern division crown. If Washington drops all six of its remaining starts and the Webfoots win all six of theirs, Washington, Oregon State, and Oregon will tie for first place and a play-off will be required. How-

Snap-Shots

RAY JEWELL

"Our team is working together better now and we are pointing for the Oregon State game Saturday night," said six-foot-six and one-half inch Ray Jewell, substitute center on the Oregon hoop team last night.

"If we can stop Palmberg, we can beat the Beavers," he continued, "and I believe we can stop Palmberg."

Portland Prep Star

Jewell spent his prep days playing basketball and track for Franklin high school in Portland. In 1934, his last year, he was practically unanimous choice of Portland sports scribes for the all-city center position. That year, he played against another alternate Webfoot center, Dave Silver, who was running up and down the maple court for Lincoln. Silver was all-star forward.

Last year Ray spent his freshman year at Southern Oregon normal, playing second string varsity center and regular freshman pivotman. He followed Hobson and his crew of sharpshooters to the Eugene campus because he liked the school here and he had numerous friends going to Oregon.

Picks Palmberg

"Elbows" most exciting game came when the Southern Oregon normal freshman division of the varsity played Medford's independent St. Mary's team last season. The baby SONS were trailing at the half by over 15 points. With Wayne Scott and Jewell leading the rally, the quintet came back strong in the final period to eke out a 42-43 win.

"Palmberg has been Oregon's outstanding opponent so far," said "Ruby," "mainly because he never stops driving. He never gets tired."

The tallest member of the giant Webfoot squad is majoring in education, taking in a minor in physical education. He has definite ambitions to coach basketball when he graduates from school.

Martin Goes to Idaho On Business Trip

ever, the Ducks aren't worrying about it.

Second place is still within reach of the Webfoots, but to take the runner-up position they must win at least five of their six games, including two from Oregon State, present holder of second. A loss to the Corvallis cagers tomorrow will dump Hobson's proteges completely out of the second place race.

Grapplers Advance in Donut Rounds

Nine Mat Artists Move up in First Day's Bout; Kappa Sigs Lead

Grunt and groan artists displayed their technique in the opening matches of the intramural wrestling tournament last night with the nine mat artists advancing to the next rounds by virtue of wins over their respective opponents.

Jack Hay, ATO wrestler, proved to be just a bit off in his match with Clarence Francis, of Phi Gamma Delta, and lost the opener on the card in 1:30. Francis clamped a headlock on his opponent at the outset of the match and threw him into the ropes. About a half minute later, Hay lost the bout through a body-press. They were 135 pound men.

Cougill Takes Only 45 Seconds

Vernon Cougill, of Phi Sigma Kappa took his opponent, Leonard Johnson, Sigma hall ace, by storm in their 145 pound fracas last night and won in the record time of 45 seconds. Cougill lost little time in swarming on Johnson and soon had the match with a body press.

Johnnie Keyes, Kappa Sig, pounced on B. Spears, of ATO and won by a decision in the six-minute bout. At one time during the match Spears lost his tempter and started spears keyes around the ring. Keyes came right back and secured a grape-vine hold which Spears could not break.

Mountain Tosses Miller

A Yeomen wrestler, John Mountain, in the 135 pound class, was too tough for Chuck Miller of Kappa Sigma, and won by a body press in 2:28. Miller tried hard to get out of Mountain's pining hold and had almost succeeded when he lost the match.

The roughest match of the evening was staged between Noel Benson, Phi Delta Theta, and Don Brooke, of Phi Psi, in the 145 pound class. Benson started the match at a fast rate and butted the Phi Psi flash all over the ring with his shoulder. Brooke clamped a half-nelson on his opponent but Benson easily extricated himself and started his shoulder butts again. Brooke was on the mat in 5:15.

Ed Boyd, of ATO, lost a quick match to Bob Olbekson, of Kappa Sigma, when he made a flying tackle and missed. As he missed, Olbekson dropped on him with a body press and it was all over in 1:45. They wrestled in the 165 pound class.

Clever wrestling ability won a match for B. Johnston, of Kappa Sigma, over Herman Folland, of Sigma hall, in the 155 pound class. Johnston showed some strange holds in winning in 3:30. The use of a front grape-vine

Washington and Idaho to Tangle At Moscow Tonight

NORTHERN DIVISION STANDINGS
	W.	L.	Pct.	For Ag't
Wash.	10	0	1.000	398 280
OSC	8	4	.667	403 334

WSC	4	6	.400	358 373
Idaho	1	10	.091	304 440

Play in the northern division of the Pacific coast basketball conference will be renewed tonight when Washington and Idaho tangle in the first of a two-game series at Moscow. The Huskies and Vandals meet again tomorrow night and at the same time Oregon State and Oregon clash in McArthur court here.

Washington, with 10 consecutive victories, is so far ahead of the rest of the league that only a slim outside chance remains for Oregon State, in second place, to catch up. Two wins over Idaho will assure the Huskies of at least a tie for the title. After the Moscow series they move to Pullman for games with Washington State and then wind up their state with a pair of tilts against Oregon State at Seattle.

hold won a match for C. Mansell, Yeomen, over Floyd Vaughn, of Phi Delta Theta. Through the use of this hold Mansell acquired a good portion of the time advantage. Time, 1:55. They were 155 pounds.

In another rough match, Bob Johnson, Phi Sig wrestler, beat Jimmie Perkins, of Kappa Sigma, in 2:05.

Intramural Wrestling Results:

Hay, ATO, threw Francis, Fijj, 1:30.

Cougill, Phi Sig, threw Johnson, sigma hall, 45.

Keyes, Kappa Sig, decisioned Spears, ATO.

Mountain, Yeomen, threw Miller, Kappa Sig, 2:28.

Benson, Phi Delta, threw D. Brooke, Phi Psi, 5:15.

Olbekson, Kapa Sig, threw Boyd, ATO, 1:45.

Johnston, Kappa Sig, threw Folland, Sigma hall, 3:30.

Mansell, Yeomen, threw Vaughn, Phi Delt, 1:55.

Johnson, Phi Sig, threw Perkins, Kappa Sig, 2:05.

Forum Entries Judged Today

Six Best Pairs of Ten Will Be Named for Jewett Radio Contest

Winners in the preliminary hearing of all forum entries in the Jewett radio contest will be announced today, said John L. Casteel. The preliminary contest to select the six best entries from the ten pairs of students contesting was held yesterday afternoon in room 218 Fielder hall.

Because of the necessity of looking over manuscripts, the decision of judges John L. Casteel, James A. Carrell, and W. A. Dahlberg on winners will not be announced until today.

Six of the following combinations will be selected to take part in the final contest to be held Wednesday evening, February 26, at 7:30: Walter Eschebeck and Avery Combs speaking on "The Next President of the United States"; Earl L. Bucknum and Herb Clark on "The Townsend Plan"; Betty Brown and Mary E. Bailey on "Unemployment"; William Lubersky and Kessler Canon on "Inflation Measures"; Fred Bales and Jason Lee on "Our Diminishing World"; Zane Kemler and Paul Plank on "The Matanuska Experiment"; Don Serell and Cliff Speaker on "The Revision of the Versailles Treaty"; Howard Kessler and Minoru Yasui on "American-Japanese Relations"; Charles Paddock and George Bikman on "The Ethics of Cooperation"; Gilbert Schultz and William Thomason on an unannounced subject.

Geography Classes Hear Talk on Ethiopia

Members of the advanced geology seminar and students of the European geology class held a joint meeting in 101 Condon yesterday afternoon to hear J. Norman Carls of Monmouth normal school talk upon the political geography of Ethiopia.

Dr. Smith Addresses Geology Students

Members of the Condon club, geology honorary, and some students of Dr. Warren D. Smith's geology and geography classes met at the Smith home last night. At the meeting Dr. Smith gave a resume of the Northwest Regional Mining Planning conference held in Spokane which he recently attended. Refreshments were served to the thirty students who attended.

Freshmen Drill For Tomorrow's Rook Fracas

Heller Listed as Starter At Forward; Tilt to Be in Afternoon

Honest John Warren's Oregon freshman basketball team will jog to Corvallis tomorrow afternoon for the final tilt in their "little civil war" series with the Oregon State Rooks. The game is scheduled for 2:30.

Warren has been working his outfit hard all this week in preparation for the fray and the Ducklings are hoping to annex their eighteenth win in 19 starts. Already they hold two victories over the Rooks to one win for the Corvallis youngsters.

Leonard Heller, former Washington high star, is expected to get Warren's call for a first string position in the coming Rook contest. He is a consistent scorer and has been coming fast of late. Teamed with Heller at forward will be Wally Johansen, slim Astorian, and at center will be Laddie Gale, who has run up 199 points to date. At guards will be Bobby Anet and Hank Nilson.

Other men who will make the Corvallis trip are Dee Phelps, Gail Fouts, Red Hansen, Ford Mullen, Gale Smith, George Jackson, and Bill Campbell.

Psychologists Plan for Meeting

Banquet, Films to Feature First Confab of Oregon Association Here

Psychologists from all the colleges in Oregon will gather here February 28 and 29, to hold the first conference of the Oregon Psychological association.

The meeting will start Friday afternoon with a general discussion of problems in teaching elementary psychology. Friday evening the visiting guests will be honored at a banquet. The program of the banquet will consist of the showing of motion pictures on psychological subjects instead of the customary after dinner speeches. Among some of the films to be shown are "Life Begins," "Acoustics Phenomena" and "Animal Learning."

Saturday morning will be spent in the reviewing of research problems being conducted here and at other schools in Oregon. The conference will adjourn in the afternoon.

"Although there are national and regional psychological conferences there is a feeling that local psychological problems might better be discussed in a group like this one," said Dr. Calvin Hall who is assisting Dr. Howard Taylor, head of the psychology department, in making arrangements for the meeting. "The purpose of a psychological conference is not only to exchange ideas but to organize psychologists into strong groups for the improvement of the standards of the profession. Unlike doctors, dentists, and lawyers, who have definite standards, anyone can set himself up as a psychologist to exploit the public," Dr. Hall continued.

About 25 or 30 psychologists are expected to come to Eugene for the event. Most of the meetings will be held at Condon hall.

Susie Cagers Beat Pi Phis In Exhibition

Hall Sextet Is Victorious 32-10 in Feature Tilt For WAA Week

Susan Campbell hall defeated the Pi Beta Phis, 32 to 10, in an exhibition basketball game for WAA week yesterday. Intramural semi-finals were postponed because all of the league teams have not played their preliminary play-offs.

In the first quarter the Pi Phis led Susan Campbell, 10 to 2. However, it wasn't long until Sue Moshberger started shooting to pile up a 20-to-10 lead for the hall at the close of the first half.

Subs Play for Susie Team

Substitutions were made for Susan Campbell. Leilani Kroll went in for Betty Cleator as guard; Jane Thomas took Evelyn Genobles' place at side-center, and Dorothy Burgess replaced Dorothy Hutchens at guard.

Pi Phi substitutes were Dorothy VanValkenberg for Frances Watzek at jumping center and Betty Mauchen for Jacqueline McCord at side center.

Sue Moshberger, senior forward for the hall, and Bee Scherzinger, her mate in the front court, kept the ball on their side of the floor most of the time in the second half, rolling up 12 more points, while the Pi Phis failed to score.
