

Flu Epidemic Holds; Social Ban Remains

Annex Opens to Carry Infirmary Overflow, Dr. Miller Plans

The epidemic of influenza has not shown signs of decreasing and health officials will continue to take precautionary measures to keep it from spreading.

Dr. Fred N. Miller, University health director, has planned to open the infirmary annex at 14th and Onyx sometime today.

The dispensary is still taking care of a large number of students who come in with sore throats and colds.

"We have done as much as possible to prevent the spread of sickness, by placing the ban on social functions, and although we realize that it is no fun for the students to have these affairs called off, the attitude of the students is appreciated," Dr. Miller said.

Four new patients, all girls, entered the infirmary yesterday, bringing the total to 11. They are Ellen Dixon, Felker Morris, Leilani Kroll, and Betty Bretscher. The other patients there include Margaret Harbaugh, Jean Larson, Lucy Houghton, Walter Engele, Dewey Paine, Cyrus Cook, and Rupe Park.

Eighteen University students are confined in the Pacific hospital, including five new patients. The new patients are Abram Merritt, Walter Naylor, John David Hamley, Orville Lee, and Helen LaFollette. The 13 other patients are Frank Beers, Ralph Cathey, Wesley Gunderian, Jack Hazlitt, Daniel Jordan, Jay Langston, Bernard Nelson, Richard Roberts, Harrison Cumstons, Kenneth Wood, William Cummings, and Donald Tower.

Alfredo Fajardo, who earlier this week was believed to have suffered a fractured skull, was released from the Pacific hospital yesterday. Mary Henderson was also released.

V. Pomeroy, Kappa Sigma, beat Denny Bread, Phi Delta Theta, in 2 minutes and 35 seconds. Pomeroy showed some clever wrestling during the heavyweight match.

Valentine Wins Thriller Ned Valentine, Yeomen bad boy in the 155 pound class, clamped a headlock on B. Johnston, of Kappa Sig, after 4 minutes and 10 seconds of hectic wrestling and took this match. At the very outset Valentine nearly won the match with his crushing headlock but Johnston managed to evade it then.

Phi Sigma Kappa's B. Johnson beat Noel Benson on a decision. This bout was fought on even terms until the very end, but Johnson had a little more time advantage.

Other wrestling results were: Mansel, Yeomen, threw Cougill Phi Sig, 1:55; Olbekson, Kappa Sig, threw Cummings, SAE, 2:00; Owen, independent, threw Backus, Phi Psi, 5:15; Francis, Fiji, threw Mennis, Phi Delt, 2:55; Keyes, Kappa Sig, threw Barlow, Phi Sig, 5:10.

Co-op Group Visits U of W

To study the cooperative movement on the University of Washington campus, nine University of Oregon students left at noon yesterday for a week-end visit at the cooperative organizations at the Seattle school.

Five members of the Oregon Students' Cooperative Living organization, Howard Ohmart, Charles Paddock, Arthur Stanley, Brittain Ash, and Gordon Connelly, went on the trip. Jane Gulovson, Theda Spicer, Mary Bailey, and Opal Stilwell, representing the Oregon girls interested in forming a girls' co-op house here, also went with the delegation.

F. S. Dunn Writes Research Papers

Professor F. S. Dunn of the Romance language department is the author of two articles, "Masonry's Attic of Phantoms," and "King Solomon Mythos," which appear in a volume of Masonic papers recently published by the Research Lodge No. 198.

This volume of research papers is the first to be published by Research Lodge No. 198 and contains articles by many persons who are prominent in public as well as Masonic affairs.

Hinshaw Speaks on 'Art in Living'

Bernard Hinshaw will speak on "The Place of Art in Living" before the morning group at Westminster house Sunday at 9:45. In the evening Glenn Griffith, secretary of the University YMCA, will continue his talks on "A Technique for Idealists." A tea at 6 will precede the forum. The Westminster council will meet at 8 Sunday evening following the forum.

Kermit Stevens Here On Short Furlough

Lieutenant Kermit Stevens, Eugene, who graduated from the University in 1933, is home for a few days furlough. He is a member of the U. S. army air corps at Randolph Field, Texas.

While at the University Mr. Stevens was prominent in athletics, being a letterman in both basketball and baseball. He was president of the Order of the O, member of Friars, and of Phi Delta Theta.

league, but it meets the toughest competition in the East. Remember how New York university took the California Bears apart last Christmas vacation. Well, George Washington decentralizes the Violets wherever and whenever they meet. For the skeptic who jibes, "Well, who is California, anyway?", there is this answer: "California is the quintet that knocked over Stanford leaders of the southern division of the Pacific coast conference, by a 30-point margin to rise up to within an inch of the race leadership."

New York has the name of being the greatest year in year out basketball team of them all. The Violets seldom finish a season with more than three losses. Yet Reinhart avers that Georgetown university has the finest basketball squad in the East, this season.

University Speech Squads Swing Coast Circuit

Swinging into the middle of their speaking season, University speech squads will tour the Pacific coast during the next two weeks, from Ashland in the south to Vancouver, British Columbia, in the north, according to the schedule announced this afternoon by Prof. John L. Casteel, director of speech.

First, however, speakers on the problem, "Can the United States Remain Neutral?" will meet a team from the University of Washington in this city, tomorrow and Monday. William Hall, Kessler Cannon, Howard Kessler, John Luvaas, Don Serell, George Tichy, Scott McKeown, and Jason Lee are the squad members who may speak in four debates, the first of which is to be given in the Community Liberal church Sunday evening. On Monday the debaters will be guests of the Kiwanis club at an afternoon luncheon at the Eugene high school and in the evening will debate in Gerlinger hall at 8:00 under the auspices of the Student Federation. The public is invited to attend the debates Sunday and Monday evenings.

Tuesday of next week, the neutrality squad will visit Creswell. Then, from March 2 to 8, both the propaganda and neutrality teams will take their longest trips of the year, the former to the south, and the latter to the north.

Prof. W. A. Dahlberg will accompany George Hall, Avery Combs, Walter Eschebeck, and Fred Bales to Ashland, Glendale, Medford, Jacksonville, Bellevue, Kirby, and possibly several other towns along the coast. Professor Casteel will go with William Hall and Howard Kessler to the University of British Columbia at Vancouver, and the University of Washington at Seattle. All of the discussions except the one at Vancouver will be in the symposium style inaugurated at Oregon by Professors Casteel and Dahlberg several years ago, with no affirmative and negative teams opposing each other, but a presentation of all phases of the problem by the speakers, and a period of questioning after the speeches. In the symposium debates there are no rebuttals, and in the opinion of Professor Casteel the new form has more informational value than the older parliamentary system.

Theta Sigs Fete Mrs. Eric Allen

In honor of Mrs. Eric W. Allen, who is leaving next month for several months in Europe, members of Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary, entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. J. L. Hesse. Mrs. Allen is adviser to the group.

Members of the group presented Mrs. Allen a traveling gift. After an informal evening refreshments were served. Plans for the affair were made by Corrine LaBarre, Dorothy Dill and Virginia Endicott. Guests were Mrs. W. F. Osburn and Marian Lowry Fischer.

Davis Wesleyan Speaker

F. K. Davis, state commander of the Sons of Union Veterans, will speak to Wesley club on "Keeping American Safe," Sunday at 6:30 o'clock, in the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Fellowship hour will be at 5:45. Jack Rowland will lead worship.

Farmers Ask For Dismissal Of Professor

Texas Faculty Member Arouses Antagonism With AAA Lectures

Dismissal of Dr. A. B. Cox, University of Texas director of the bureau of business research and professor of cotton marketing, has been asked by farmers of central Texas. Dr. Cox, prior to the supreme court decision declaring the AAA unconstitutional, had lectured against the new deal measure.

The college daily at Texas university repudiates the demand in an editorial by saying that American democracy retains its value only so long as there are many dissenting ideas which neutralize and modify each other.

Washington's Council Accused of 'Prejudice'

UCLA Panhellenic Chooses 'Spotters' To Check Rushing

At UCLA the Panhellenic council has appointed ten women as a "spotting committee" to determine if rushing rules are being violated. The ten will be selected secretly and will not know the identity of the other members of the committee.

Included in the rules laid down are: no favors or corsages all during the week, no outside entertainment, a limited budget for each rush affair, and no contact with rushees during the period of truce.

Instructor Missing From Seattle School

Dr. George K. Boyce, history instructor at the University of Washington, has been missing for ten days, according to the campus daily. Officers found no trace of the instructor.

Boyce's personal belongings will be removed from his apartment house rooms when the rent falls due, Harry W. Lang, manager of the apartment house, said.

Stanford will open its library on Sunday nights immediately preceding final week for student research and study.

Jury Procedure Will Be Investigated, Revised By Fraternities

In response to complaints against the Interfraternity council's so-called "prejudiced" jury at the University of Washington changes in the jury system are being considered.

Complainants say that the present procedure uses only one body acting as a grand and trial jury. By this system the jury investigates a case, virtually determines the guilt or innocence of the defendant, and then tries the case.

The judge is not part of the council, and the jury or board of judges is chosen from the faculty, council, and alumni, thereby making it a body not entirely related to the fraternities.

Laddy Gross, council president, said that as soon as rushing rules have been completed, the council may give its attention to a revision on the present trial system.

Proposed rushing rules are for $2 registration fees for all rushees, fixing a maximum of three dates with a single fraternity, and have a house bond of $25 to $100 to be posted with the Interfraternity council.

Grayson, Mallet Talk on Fascism

Bobby Grayson and Bob Mallet, students at Stanford, have been chosen to debate before the San Francisco Commonwealth club on "Resolved, that Fascism is probably in the United States."

This is the second of a series of annual forensic debates between Stanford and California. Last year Bob Gros and Will Rogers, Jr., defeated the California speakers.

California has asked that no decision be given this year, but the Commonwealth club desires to retain the debate on its present basis. If California refuses to participate either the University of San Francisco or the College of the Pacific will be selected as Stanford's opponent.
