

STAGE of the WORLD

By Tex Thomason

Blue Uniforms

Yesterday I had an experience that a person doesn't want too often in a lifetime. Two very capable looking state policemen called on me. As with people who have a narrow escape from death my past flashed through my mind with incredible speed. I could recall doing nothing much beyond the pale of the law, but then, an EMERALD! Ah, the cat was out of the bag. Again my scribbles were being shown to me. The old story, but this time with different. Policemen, not critics, sought me out!

They came directly to the point. "Our force immediately investigates any violation of the law. May we have proof of the accusations you made recently in this paper?" Just simple direct questions. As soon as the quaver had sufficiently left my voice I told the circumstances under which the story had come, that I did not care to involve anyone in something that had been related as an anecdote and from which I had chosen to draw a moral, and that no aspersions were intended cast on any particular official or branch of the state government. He said that was all he wanted to know, and offered to thoroughly investigate the matter. Upon suggesting that we just let the matter drop he readily acquiesced, and in leaving said something that prompted this column. He said, "You know, we don't have any newspaper to get to the people the way you do. We take it on the chin for the slightest slip in the enforcement of the law, and we have no way to present our side of the case until the public has already decided one way or the other. It's a tough situation, yessir, but we're sure doing our best to enforce the law and to weed out any undesirables in our organization." I believed him, and as he clomped down the steps, the stock of the police of Oregon went higher than I would have ever thought possible.

Strike

Many times have people wondered what New York City would do if a fire started to rampage through its skyscrapers. Now they see at least as paralyzing if not as devastating a spectacle in the elevator operators' strike. Pictures (Please turn to page four)

Food Class Sees Meat Display

Aristocratic sirlin and lowly hamburger met on common ground Thursday evening when Walter McPherson, of Elliott's Grocery, explained and demonstrated different cuts of meat to the members of Miss Mabel A. Wood's foods preparation class in McClure hall.

Beginning with a hind quarter of beef, Mr. McPherson explained where club, tenderloin, porterhouse and T-bone steaks are found. He then described the cuts of meat which come from the rump—round steak, "Pikes Peak" or heel of beef, and Hollywood steaks.

From the front quarter of beef, Mr. McPherson cut a skirt steak, which, he explained, is used only for ground beef, the brisket, standing rib roast, prime short ribs, a shoulder arm roast, and discussed briefly the different prices and different ways of preparing the various cuts.

'Outward Bound' Vane's Play, Opens Spring Season

University drama season for spring term will open April 10 with Sutton Vane's "Outward Bound," which will run for two successive weekends at Guild theatre in what almost might be considered a "request" production.

"Outward Bound" is a play to which I feel I can give an extra amount of enthusiastic and sincere direction without lessening my own personal joy in doing it," Ottilie Turnbull Seybolt, director, says of her latest production.

Riflemen Take Seven of Ten Postal Meets

Hearst Cup 5-Man Team Scores Not So Good, Says Blythe

Oregon riflemen won seven out of ten postal rifle matches fired last week, said Sergeant Harvey Blythe, ROTC instructor, yesterday. Points scored were 3720 in 10-man, 4-position matches, and 1380 in the 5-man, 3-position match.

Scores of the Hearst Trophy match, fired this week, were poor, according to Sergeant Blythe. Scores of the first and second teams were each 918. Kenneth BeLieu was high man with 196, and Del Bjork was second with 192.

First team members are Kenneth BeLieu, Del Bjork, John Halverson, H. E. Olsen, and Jack Lew. Second team members are B. J. Cross, Stanley Warren, Leith Oglesby, L. Jacobsen, Lloyd Gould.

The bright spot of the week, said Sergeant Blythe, was BeLieu's score of 196, only two points under that made by Earl Thomson, national individual champion, last year. The sergeant considers BeLieu to be a good contender for the national individual championship.

Schools fired against last week were University of Missouri, 3706; University of Iowa, 3612; University of Alabama, 3584; University of Pittsburgh, 3687; Washington University, St. Louis, 3595; Rose Polytechnic school, 3488; University of Pittsburgh, 1352, in a 5-man, 3-position match; University of Florida, 3778; UCLA varsity, 3745; and UCLA ROTC team, 3743.

Gamma Alpha Chi Dances March 28

'Fifth Avenue' Is Motif of Women's Ad Group for Igloo Affair

"Meet Me on Fifth Avenue" will be the password for the first weekend of spring term, when Gamma Alpha Chi, women's national advertising honorary, presents its annual spring dance Saturday, March 28. The dance this year will be held at McArthur court.

Betty Coon and Maude Long, co-chairmen for the affair, have appointed committees who will soon have completed arrangements. As in previous years and in accordance with leap year, women invite the men to the dance.

Tickets, now on sale in all women's living organizations, can be obtained for 99 cents. Directorate for the dance is: tickets, Irene Schapp, Katherine Salisbury; programs, Mary Starbuck, Frances Spence; models, Hannah Crossley, Toni Lucas; displays, Helen Bartrum, Margery Kissling; decorations, Katherine Larson, Kathleen Duffy; orchestra, Frances Spence; patrons, Millicent Olin; publicity, Margery Kissling.

Flu Attack Sends Mrs. Leighton Home

Mrs. Lucia Leighton, secretary of the school of education, is recuperating at home after an attack of influenza. During her absence Catherine T. Shimanek, senior in education, is taking her place.

Registration to Be March 23 in Igloo

Material Will Be Released From Johnson Hall Due To Gym Remodeling

Because of the remodeling work on the men's gym, registration material will be released to all students from the registrar's office in Johnson hall, Clifford Constance, assistant registrar, announced yesterday.

Although material will be released at Johnson instead of the men's gym, students will register at McArthur court as during former terms. Registration will be held on Monday, March 23.

Since space is extremely limited in the administration building part of the students are requested to defer their registration until a later hour.

Danger of the extreme congestion that might prevail is shown in the fact that last term registration material was given to over 800 students during the first hour, to an additional 400 during the second hour, but to only 400 during the next two hours.

All seniors who expect to graduate this coming June must have an application on file in the Registrar's office. If thesis has not already been filed it should be done at once.

Bennett Contest Interest Grows

Turnbull Asks Faculty to Put Essay Test Before Students in Classes

"Interest in the contest is picking up," commented Prof. George Turnbull on the Philo Sherman Bennett essay contest.

"I would like to ask," he added, "that faculty members, particularly those in social sciences and in writing departments, would present the contest to their classes."

The subject of the essay, which must be 5,000 words long, is "The Place of Pressure Groups in a Democracy." The contest is open to any undergraduate in the University.

The deadline for entries is April 15, but if there is any conditional demand for extension of time, two more weeks may be added.

"The short break following winter term examinations will make an appropriate time to complete the major part of an essay," stated Mr. Turnbull, who is a member of the sub-committee on awards which is in charge of the contest.

Prizes to winners of the contest are $35 to first place, and $10 to second place.

Hobson, 203 Villard. Hoyman, 103 Journalism. James, 107 Villard. Jorgenson, 107 Villard. Sears, 7-8 Commerce. Shields, 6 Friendly. Warren, 203 Villard. Washke, 5 Commerce. Weitz, 4 Commerce.

ASUO to Sponsor Rifle Matches

Living Organizations Can Enter One Man; Winner To Receive Trophy

An all-campus rifle match, sponsored by the ASUO with the cooperation of the ROTC, will be held in the early part of spring term. Robert Thomas, student in charge of the match, announced yesterday.

Each living organization and group can enter one man. The winner will be all-campus champion, and will be awarded a trophy. Second and third places will receive merchandise prizes.

Rifles and ammunition will be furnished by the ROTC. Major Back will officially score the targets, and Sergeant Blythe will be in charge of the range.

Contestant will be given five practice shots in each of the three positions to be fired—prone, sitting, and standing.

Everybody is invited to witness the matches, which will be held at the ROTC shack, said Thomas. "Much has been heard about the rifle team and marksmanship," he said, "and this is your chance to see expert riflemen perform."

Guard May Print Dunn's Articles

"Again I See in Fancy," written by Frederic S. Dunn, head of the classics department on the campus, may again make an appearance. William Tugman, managing editor of the Eugene Register-Guard, has asked to see copies of the column and will be allowed to use the material, Mr. Dunn said.

The articles are about happenings of early Oregon, and were used by the Emerald last year. Mr. Dunn has spent his boyhood, college career, and part of his teaching career here.

Health Conditions Little Changed

36 Students on Sick List; German Measles Cases Number Nine

There was little change, if any, in the health conditions on the campus yesterday.

No visitors will be allowed at the University infirmary for the remainder of the term, University health officials report.

There are still 36 students on the sick list, nine of these being cases of German measles.

Pacific Has 14

The Pacific hospital leads the sick list with 14 patients. John Maeder, Judith Siegrist, and Edith Ekstrom were the only new patients to be admitted there yesterday. Others there are Virginia Scoville, Gwen McCune, Bernice Healey, John Mulhall, Jerry Chessman, Peggy Chessman, Betty Barr, Jack Newman, Gerald Green, Kathleen Rose, and Daniel Jordan.

Twelve in Annex

The infirmary annex comes next on the list with a total of 12, only one new patient, Anna Marie Driskell, being admitted yesterday. Others include Carol McFall, Barbara McBreen, Priscilla Mackie, Lois Thompson, Jerry Sumner, Marcia Brown, Ann Herrenkrohl, Dorothy R. Clark, Marian Smith, Eileen Donaldson, and Martha Stewart.

The University infirmary, with vacant beds for the first time in several weeks, had only 10 patients, but five of these being measles cases. New patients there are Albert Jensen, Louis Kelsey, and James Roy. The other seven are William Stockton, Kenneth Miller, Glenn Pahl, Edwin Robbins, Fulton Van Dusen, William Speirs, and Robert Moffett.

Deadline Passed For No Scruples, Humor Magazine

Deadline for No Scruples, new campus humor magazine, has been reached and copy is being sent to the printer as fast as it is being edited, according to Winston Al-lard, editor.

No Scruples is filling a need for a purely humorous campus magazine, long felt since the old Lemon Punch was discontinued in 1924. At that time Hammer and Coffin, national humor society, was active on the Oregon campus and was largely responsible for the success of the publication.

The first issue of No Scruples will be released on the campus during Junior Weekend. The magazine will be 32 pages and will be done in two colors.

Band Closes Term With Sunday Finale

'Bolero,' Trumpet Solo Featured Numbers; Stehn Directs

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in McArthur court the University of Oregon concert band swings into its last performance of the winter term, under the baton of John H. Stehn. Ravel's "Bolero" is included in the program.

H. L. Clark's "Southern Cross" a concert solo for trumpet, with band accompaniment is to be the featured number of the program. William Gresham, campus musician, will be the soloist with the band Sunday afternoon.

Bach's "Organ Fugue in G-Minor," especially arranged for band, will be another number on the program. This arrangement was made by John H. Stehn, conductor, and gives every instrument in the band opportunity at one time or another during the number to carry the theme.

All holders of ASUO cards will be admitted to the concert free of charge. There will be a nominal admission for those who have neither ASUO cards nor season tickets for the ASUO winter concert season.

The complete program to be played follows:

- I. Marcia Sinfonica, Inglesina... Della Cese
- II. Overture to Mignon... Thomas
- III. The Southern Cross... H. L. Clarke
- IV. (a) Fuga Giocosa... John K. Paine
- (b) Organ Fugue in G Minor... Bach
- V. Minuetto, from the E Flat Sonata... Mozart
- VI. Bolero... Maurice Ravel
- VII. Southern Rhapsody... Lucius Hosmer

Endeavor Group To Present Play

A group of Christian Endeavorers from Central Presbyterian church will present a play at Westminster house Sunday evening at 6:30. The play, "Pilgrims of the Way," is directed by Adrian Martian. A tea at 6 will precede the forum.

Edna Carlsen and Laura Bryant will have charge of the morning group at 9:45 and will report on the Older Girls' conference which was held in Eugene last week.

Student Council Holds Luncheon

The Student Christian council, and interested students and townspeople lunched together at the YW bungalow yesterday noon to make plans for a peace plebiscite and census of the city of Eugene.

Mr. J. J. Handsaker, secretary of the national council for the prevention of war, spoke to the group at which Mrs. W. M. Maxham, secretary of the local council, presided. Arthur Stanley, was appointed to head the local campaign group.

Miss Rasmussen New Tri-Delt President

Marie Rasmussen, junior in sociology from Ontario, Oregon, was recently elected president of Theta Delta chapter of Delta Delta Delta sorority. She succeeds Dorothy Ann Clark, Portland, who has held the office for the last year.

Helen LaPollette, Portland, and Elaine Comish, Eugene, new president of the YWCA, were elected vice-president and secretary, respectively, of the sorority.

Juniors Postpone Vote; Name Barker Temporary Leader

Junior Chief

The junior class last night chose Cecil Barker, above, to act as temporary class chairman to replace class officers ruled out by scholastic ineligibilities. Barker will handle all class and Junior Weekend appointments.

Noted Bio-Chemist Visits Campus

UO Social Science Group Schedules Alsborg for Faculty Club Talk

Dr. Karl Alsborg, chairman of the Pacific coast regional committee on social science survey and dean of graduate students at Stanford university, will discuss the development of social science schools on the Pacific coast with local members of the social science committee at 5 o'clock in the Faculty club.

The discussion will be followed by dinner at the club.

Dr. Alsborg has been instrumental in obtaining for the University many grants from the national committee on social survey. He has been making a tour of nine major Pacific coast colleges and universities to discuss research and social science.

Information gathered on his trips will be featured at the social science research meeting in San Francisco, March 27 to 29, where grants to Pacific coast social science schools will be made.

Recognized as one of the foremost bio-chemists in the nation, Dr. Alsborg has been invited twice by the Japanese government to study food conditions there. He is director of the foreign research institute of Stanford and has played an important part in the field of Pacific relations.

Hunter to Address

Heads of houses, both old and new, will meet next Tuesday at 6 o'clock in the Osborn hotel for their annual banquet. Speaker of the evening will be Chancellor Frederick M. Hunter, talking on "Student Leadership."

University Summer Session Catalogue Out in April

The preliminary catalog for the University summer session, which begins June 22, will be issued the first week in April, with the regular catalog coming out late in May.

The Portland summer session begins a week earlier than the Eugene session, because the National Education association, which convenes in Portland this year, is holding its meetings in the Lincoln high school, also headquarters for the summer school. During the meeting, the Portland session will be dismissed, and persons from the Eugene session who wish to attend will be able to make up their classes on Saturdays.

The Eugene post session is from August 3 to August 28.

Appointments of Junior Weekend to Be Made By Him if Judiciary Approves Action

After voting to postpone nominations and election of officers until spring term the junior class last night elected Cecil Barker as temporary chairman with authority to make Junior Weekend appointments, subject to approval of this procedure today by the judiciary committee.

Barker said at the meeting that appointments for Junior Weekend would be made within the next two or three days, so that work could be started immediately. He, however, had none to announce in this morning's Emerald, but said they would be printed in the first issue of spring term.

Unofficial OK Given

The judiciary committee had indicated unofficially yesterday that it would probably give its approval to last night's procedure. The body meets at 10 today to consider a petition asking:

"Is it legal in light of the present emergency, for the junior class to elect a temporary chairman at its class meeting and to vote to postpone nominations until spring term? Could this temporary chairman make the Junior Weekend appointments legally?"

No Dissent

Approximately 30 students attended last night's meeting, which was held on the north steps of Villard hall, with ASUO Prexy James Blais presiding. The entire evening's action went through without a dissenting voice.

Jason Bailey made the motion to postpone nominations and elections. Nomination of Barker was made formally by Ken BeLieu, after Al Davis had started a similar nomination earlier. Dave Lowry moved that nominations cease, and with the assent of the group Blais declared Barker as temporary chairman and turned the meeting over to him.

Another Question

To cover a non-favorable decision by the judiciary as regards the two questions cited above, President Blais also asked in his petition:

"If these steps are illegal, has the executive council (of the ASUO) the authority to make Junior Weekend appointments, in light of the current emergencies?"

Alpha Delta Sigma Pledges 4 Men

Four new members were pledged to Alpha Delta Sigma, advertising honorary, at a meeting Thursday.

The pledges are: William H. Cummings, Medford; John W. Hill, Eugene; Lawrence W. Quille, Eugene; and Walter R. Vernstrom, Portland.

Alpha Delta Sigma will organize a softball team this spring, according to Tom McCall, president of the society. William Jones is to be manager of the team. Challenges will be sent to various other organizations.

University Summer Session Catalogue Out in April

A social feature of the summer session this year will be the two-week conference of elementary school principals following the NEA and the summer school of the University of Oregon. If the meeting is a success, similar ones will be held in future years after NEA conferences.

Another feature of the summer session will be the Synod of the Presbyterian churches of Oregon, which will be held on the campus July 14-17.

Selection of teachers and courses has not yet been completed, but deans of schools and heads of departments are preparing their programs. Six or seven instructors from other universities and col- (Please turn to page four)
