

Miss Parvin, McGirr Only Candidates

Constitution Ambiguous But Says Write-ins Not Intended

OFFICIAL ELECTION NOTICE

Junior class elections will be held Tuesday, March 31. Polls are open at the Y hut from 9:00 to 3:00.

(Signed) Roland Rourke

John McGirr and Starla Parvin need only the official vote of the junior class next Tuesday to place them in the offices of president and vice-president, respectively, it was learned yesterday.

It was at first thought that it might be possible for other candidates to be elected by a write-in election, but the constitution says in article IV, section VI, "No person shall be elected to any office under this constitution who has failed to file his declaration of intention to become a candidate."

Write-Ins Out Before

A four-to-one ruling of the judiciary in the case of the "write-in" election of Tom McCall as head of the senior class declared that the constitution on this point was ambiguous, but that the intention of the constitution was to invalidate all write-in elections.

The judiciary denied McCall the right to take office. Its interpretation, printed in full in the Emerald of May 9, 1935, states that only formally nominated candidates were eligible for election.

Voting Tuesday

Official choice of a president of the third year class will be made next Tuesday when the juniors cast ballots for the unopposed candidates at a special election.

Conceded the election, McGirr was called yesterday and asked if he would announce the appointments for Junior Weekend before he was officially elected in order to speed delayed plans for the event. He said that because he wanted to measure the qualifications of each committee head he would not announce any appointments before Monday.

Thirty-five Frosh

(Continued from page three) tain to be well guarded. Smith has been a standout at Grant high and in American Legion junior and summer ball for several seasons. Dave Gammon from Benson Tech of Portland and Urgel (Slim) Wintermute of Longview, Washington, are other first sack hopefuls.

Bobby Anet of Astoria, already a numeral winner in two sports, is a likely candidate for second base on the Duckling club. Plenty of stiff competition for the position is sure to be put up by Jim Cassidy, Waukon, Iowa; Homer Cooley, Pendleton; Willie Frager, Albany, and Phil Thompson, Saskatchewan, Canada.

Jack Gordon Out

Jack Gordon, brother of the famous Joe Gordon, now the property of the New York Yankees and at present with the Oakland team of the coast league, is the leading shortstop aspirant. Other shortpatchers are Walt Van Emmons, Klamath Falls, and Floyd Vaughn, Baker.

Outstanding candidate for third base is Ford Mullen, all-state infielder at Olympia, Washington, last year. Other hot corner possibilities include Don Freeman, Eugene; John Hay, Lakeview; Gale Putnam, Newberg, and Ken Rolfe, Powers.

Outfielders Listed

Jimmy Nicholson and John Yerby, both football players, and Wally Johansen, basketball, are fly chasers of prominence. Nicholson is from Salem; Yerby from Washington high of Portland, and Johansen from Astoria. George Tichy, Jefferson high of Portland, is another likely looking youth.

No definite schedule has been arranged for the frosh as yet. The

Biblical Seminary Scholarship Open

A full scholarship for three years is being offered by the Biblical Seminary of New York to the Oregon senior who can comply with the rules of the offer and who is recommended by the faculty, according to a recent letter received from the school by Dr. C. Valentine Boyer.

The scholarship, which offers $500 a year for three years, is sufficient to pay room and board and all tuition costs.

To retain the scholarship it is necessary that the student maintain at least a B average. To be selected the man must be an honor student at Oregon.

Five Track

Oregon is certain to have two meets with Oregon State, despite rumors that the Beavers will not have a team.

The Pacific coast conference meet at Los Angeles will take the place of the former Northwest championship meet. This meet in the southland will bring together the teams from Washington, Idaho, Oregon, Montana, and California.

Two weeks after the coast conference meet, Chicago will be the scene of Olympic tryouts in the National Collegiate Athletic association meet. These meets form the goal which the Duck track stars have set their hearts upon.

Oregon's track schedule for 1936:

Hill relays, March 27, Portland.

OSC relays, April 25, Eugene.

WSC, May 2, Eugene.

Washington, May 9, Eugene.

OSC dual meet, May 23, Corvallis.

Pacific coast conference meet, May 29 and 30, Los Angeles.

Annual four game series with the Oregon State Rooks is certain to be on the bill and other games will be with high school and independent clubs.

Group Asks For Petitions Immediately

Call Issued to Aspirants For Emerald, Oregon Head Posts

Although the deadline date for petitions of aspirants for the publication posts of editor and manager of both the Emerald and the Oregonian is not until April 10, the publications committee asked yesterday that the petitions be turned in immediately.

The committee said in its request that it was extremely desirable for all candidates to turn in their petitions this weekend or the first of next week at the latest, in order that a thorough study might be made of them.

Information Cited

Full qualifications of the applicant are to be set forth in the petition, including past record, editorial policy, and plans for the future.

The petitions are to be delivered to the graduate manager's office or to President James Blais, head of the publications committee.

The decision as to who is to receive the various positions is usually made the third week in April, with the executive council making the decision upon recommendation of the publications committee. The ASUO constitution states that this recommendation must be made by then.

Jim Hurd Fifth

(Continued from page three) Olympic prospect. He finished right on the heels of Haapaniemi in the fastest trial heat. The winner dashed off the distance in 23.5 seconds.

Reed Not Reported

Jim Reed, Oregon's other representative at the N.C.A.A. meet, either failed to place or was not entered in the 150-yard backstroke and 220-yard free style events. No report of his showing had been received at a late hour last night.

Hurd, one of 13 qualifiers in a field of 35 in the 50, will be entered in his best event, the 100-yard free style, today. Coach Mike Hoyman, Hurd, and Reed will head for Chicago and the Olympic tryouts at the close of the N.C.A.A. meet tonight. They expect to be home in time for the northern division coast conference meet to be held in Gerlinger pool April 4.

Donut Softball

The season will open at 4 o'clock Wednesday on three diamonds. Six games will be played every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday for six weeks. Three games will start, one on each of the three diamonds, at 4 p. m. and three more at 5 p. m.

Marion Weitz, assistant supervisor of intramural sports said he expected approximately 24 entries this season and stressed the fact that all entries must be turned in by noon today.

Three Veteran Tackles

The tackle situation is a rosy one, for, in addition to Bjork, Callison has two other lettermen. Ken Skinner and John Engstrom, who divided the right tackle assignment last year, are both back. Pat Fury, Bill Foskett, and Chuck Shimomura, all reserves last season, are on hand, and sophomores Cliff Morris and Joy Smith round out the roster.

Lief Jacobsen, who broke into the regular lineup as a sophomore last fall, is the sole returning end jetterman, and the terminals are definitely the weakest positions on the squad. Leonard Holland, and Jerry Calhoun, squad member two seasons back, are returning, and four freshmen and a transfer com-

Edward Stiener First Speaker

Grinnell Professor Slated For First Assembly Next Tuesday at 11 o'clock

Edward Alfred Stiener, prominent sociologist and professor of applied Christianity at Grinnell college, Iowa, since 1903, will be speaker at the first general assembly of spring term next Tuesday at 11 o'clock in Gerlinger.

His topic will be "The Conflict Between the Old and New Generations."

Dr. Stiener, born in Czechoslovakia, received his education at the University of Heidelberg and the University of Berlin. He is the author of numerous books on immigration. Among his other works is "Tolstoy, the Man," a biography of the great Russian novelist. Tolstoy, Mr. Stiener was appointed American biographer for the writer by Tolstoy himself.

At present Professor Stiener is on a speaking tour of various colleges on the Pacific coast and in the middle west. He will come to Oregon from the University of Idaho and from Whitman college where he delivered a series of addresses. After his talk here he will spend several weeks in Portland visiting his son before continuing his tour.

plete the wing possibilities. Most outstanding of the men up from the yearling crew are Bob Hinman and Mel Engel, who performed on the yearling crew two years ago. Hank Nilsen, Leonard Robertson, and John Yerby are others.

Spring grid practice will continue through most of the term, with the annual game between next year's candidates and the graduating seniors set as the climax and finish of play.

Eree Cuppoletti and Alex Eagle, former Webfoot luminaries now in professional football, are aiding the regular coaching staff of Callison, Gene Shields, and Johnny Kitzmiller.

Extension Assignment Arrives After 2 Month's Trip

Traveling by dog sled in 40 below zero weather, by boat and by railroad, in a journey covering 2500 miles and lasting almost two months, a letter from John Frank Banish, school teacher at Pilot Station, Alaska, has finally reached the extension department of the University.

Mr. Banish, who is taking a correspondence course in American history, receives mail once in two months by dog team, which can be used only from the beginning of cold weather in the fall to the ice break-up in May. His letter to Miss Mozelle Hair, head of correspondence study, was dated February 8, and contained another letter written January 15, which, he explained, was a prompt answer to Miss Hair's letter mailed from here November 22.

Even Santa Claus, who ought to be at home in a country of ice and snow, falls down on the job—Mr. Banish received a package with the card, "Do not open until Christmas," on February 8.

In addition to his work of teaching a small school of Eskimo children, Mr. Banish also supervises the care of a herd of 6,000 reindeer on the Koyukuk river. He is required to make a monthly report on the number of deer butchered, marked, and killed by wild animals, and to keep an account of the number of deer owned by each native.

Twice a year, once in July and once in January, these reindeer are rounded up, counted and marked—not branded—after which they are turned out on the tundra. An Eskimo chief and four natives look after the deer throughout the season.

During the several days of the roundup, Mr. Banish slept in a sleeping bag in a small tent—with the mercury below zero. However, he says, he found that the work was extremely interesting and that the weather was stimulating and enjoyable.

Mr. Banish has attended the State Teachers' College of North Dakota, the University of North Dakota, the Southern Oregon nor-aroma... it's as much a part of Chesterfield as the taste

Did you ever notice the difference in the aroma of Chesterfield tobacco?

Every person who knows about tobacco will understand this... for to get a pleasing aroma is just like getting a pleasing taste from fruit.

Mild ripe tobaccos, home-grown, and welded with the right kind of tobacco from far-off Greece and Turkey (Samsoun, Smyrna, Xanthi and Cavalla)...

...that's why Chesterfield has a more pleasing aroma.

...with that pleasing aroma
