

Rally to Start Optional ROTC Petition Drive

16,371 Initiative Signers Necessary to Put Bill On Ballot

A city-wide rally Tuesday night will officially launch the state-wide initiative undertaken by a committee of students in an attempt to make military training optional at the University of Oregon and Oregon State college. The rally meeting will mark the opening of a campaign designed to get 16,371 names to put the initiative on the ballot in the general election November 3.

Last preliminary plans had been laid last night, and optional leaders were awaiting the petitions which have been at the printers since Tuesday. The ballot title will be "Noncompulsory Military Training bill." The proposed act reads: "No student in attendance at any of the state institutions of higher learning in the state of Oregon shall be compelled or required to take or attend any course or courses of military science and/or tactics or to attend any military drill as a necessary requirement to obtain any degree or degrees or to be graduated from any of said institutions."

A total of 2,000 pledge cards have been printed to be signed and returned by persons wishing to work on the initiative. The card pledges signers to "work for an initiative . . . ; to educate the people to the importance of the question, always by honest argument, unimpeachable facts, and fair and respectful treatment to all who may oppose the initiative; and to secure signatures for the initiative."

Petitions are expected to arrive today, and it is hoped to have several hundred turned in before the official opening of the campaign Tuesday night. At the meeting beginning at 7:30 in the Y hut quotas will be set up, the budget discussed, questions and answers in connection with petition-pushing talked over, and other campaign business transacted.

Officers Announced

New officers announced this week include Rev. Cecil F. Ristow of the Methodist church, church secretary, and S. Eugene Allen, Grange chairman. Ristow said letters urging support of the initiative will be sent to all ministers in the state. Allen plans to contact every grange in Oregon in an endeavor to boost the number of farmer signers. Lane county's quota will be 5,000, the greater part of which will be solicited by University students.

Students at New York University Praised

Science, Philosophy Viewpoint Given in New Courses

"The object of these courses is to show more clearly the relationship of literature to the ideas and thought movements of the time," said President G. Valentine Boyer in speaking of the two new courses which are to be introduced into the literature department.

The courses, philosophic backgrounds of literature and scientific backgrounds of literature will be offered beginning with next fall term to all students who are interested in them. They are to be upper division courses.

"We are offering these courses as presented from the point of view of the philosopher and the scientist in order that the student may learn what effect developments in these fields have had on literature," President Boyer continued. As an example of the far-reaching effect of a scientific discovery on literature he told of the emphasis placed on form and style which came as a result of Newton's discoveries and conception of the universe as law and order. Darwin's theories concerning evolution also had a profound effect upon literature, he said.

President Boyer envisions a setup in which students preparing to enter the various professional fields will have the opportunity to gain an integrated view of life since the Renaissance and of the various currents of thought which have motivated and influenced that life. He believes such a background could be given through courses planned toward that end and including the fields of literature, history, science, and philosophy.

ASUO Office

The assembled students accepted a resolution presented by LaBarre which would place officers elected in executive positions next year should the new constitution be accepted at the polls on April 23. Under the new constitution, read to the students by ASUO President James Blais, only four elective offices would be retained. For next year only, the eight student body leaders chosen would be given special positions.

The constitution, with the accepted resolution is printed on page four of the Emerald.

The nomination of Finley for the office of president was officially made by John Lewis. Finley's nominating speech was presented by George Burnie, graduate student in law, whose eligibility to nominate was questioned on the grounds that he did not have a student body card.

BeLieu Offers Hammond
"We must think first of the good of the associated students," Kenneth BeLieu said in a speech presenting Hammond as a presidential nominee.

The nomination of Jim Hurd, identified as "Oregon's All-American," for vice-president was made by Frank Nash. Opposing Hurd is Gilbert Schultz, whose nomination address was made by Stan Bromberg.

For the office of secretary, Bob Moore took the floor to nominate Jean Stevenson and Bob Thomas proposed that the name of Grace Peck be added to the ballot.

Other Nominations Made
Margery Kissling and Pearl Johansen were nominated for the office of executive woman by Ben Chandler and Paul Plank.

William Thomason made a brief nominating speech for Walter Eschebeck, candidate for the office of executive man on the Hammond ticket, while Bill Marsh proposed the name of Cecil Barker, who is running for the same position under Finley colors.

Proposal of Bill Pease and Charles Erwin for junior finance officer by Dave Silver and Budd Jones ended the nominations.

Skalet, Tongue Win Hilton Prize

Order of Coif Initiates 2 After Banquet; Awards Made by Donor

Herbert O. Skalet and Thomas H. Tongue, were awarded the $50 and $25 prizes, respectively in the Hilton prize contest held Wednesday evening at a Del Rey cafe dinner banquet. The banquet was followed by the Order of the Coif initiation, legal honorary, in which Wilbur Riddlesbarger and Bertram Isaminger were given membership.

Using notes only, the four contestants were allowed 15 minutes each to make their speeches, which were based on manuscripts previously submitted to the faculty, and from which their selection was made for participation in the contest. The other two were Hale Thompson and Otto Vonderheit.

Judges for the contest were President C. Valentine Boyer, Judge Leonard S. Goddard, and Edwin A. Hecks, associate United States attorney residing in Portland.

The awards were made by Mr. Hilton himself, who endowed the prize originally.

exciting contest from the SAE nine by a 9 to 6 count in the other feature contest of the afternoon. Smokeball Jones turned in a good performance on the mound for the victors, despite his eleven inning win over the Fijis Wednesday. The DU ballhaws started out in slambang fashion when Nombalais scored on Newlands' single in the first inning. Silven singled Newlands to second, and both men scored on Jones' lusty double to left field. Beyers' single brought Jones home, and McInturff's one-bagger sent Beyers to third. Tommy "Pelican" Briody, classy shortstop, stepped up to the plate and smared a long single to center to score both Beyers and McInturff. Nombalais, up for the second time in the inning, smacked a healthy double to bring the Pelican across the plate with the sixth score of the frame.

SAE Rallies in Sixth
A home run by Battling Newlands in the third, and two more tallies in the fifth on Silven's long triple brought the DU total to 9. In the sixth frame, however, Jones began to show signs of wildness, and walked in a run. A single by Cummings with the bases loaded brought two more runs in for the SAE nine. Ed Hanson poled a double to send runs number four and five home, and Lewis scored on Underwood's single. Jones then settled down and fanned the remaining batsmen to end the game with the DUs in a 9 to 6 lead. A double play from Nombalais to Newlands in the fourth inning was one of the sweetest bits of fielding seen so far this season.

Alpha 10, Fijis 3
The batsmen of Alpha hall found little difficulty in swatting the offerings of Johnny Maeder, Fijis chucker, as the rejuvenated hallmen downed the Phi Gam outfit by a 10 to 3 score. The Fijis nine, tired from their strenuous 11 inning game Wednesday, and with half of the first string absent, played careless ball, giving little support to Maeder. Close, Alpha tosser, was backed up by an air tight infield. The big inning for the hallmen was the fifth, when, six runs, Sigma 4.

"Brownie" Shaw pitched the Delta Tau Delta nine to a 10 to 4

James to Give Science Talk

Liquid Air Authority First Speaker of Series; To Be in Villard Hall

Elliott James, who had charge of the liquid air demonstrations at the Chicago Century of Progress Exposition, will be the speaker at the first of the popular science lectures for spring term to be held in Villard hall Tuesday, April 21, according to Dr. E. A. Caswell, head of the physics department.

James, who is widely known in his field, will present an exhibition of the properties of liquid air, which is unique in that it has a boiling temperature of about 312 degrees below zero. He will also demonstrate the behavior of different substances at this temperature at which even mercury, alcohol, and kerosene are frozen.

Exhibitions Interesting

The behavior of molecules at low temperatures is illustrated when a gong made of lead is cooled until it rings as if it were steel, and beefsteak, when immersed into the liquid becomes so brittle that upon being struck it shatters like glass. Another of his interesting exhibitions is the demonstration of the protection of what is known as "vapor film," when he pours the liquid over his hand, and takes a glassful into his mouth.

The lecture will be non-technical and of interest to both those who have little knowledge of science and those interested in the physical and chemical aspects of the demonstration.

Former Y Secretary Visitor on Campus

Walter Myers, who was YMCA secretary on the campus, was a Eugene visitor yesterday to set up plans for the state Christian Endeavor conference to be held here April 23-26.

There will be about 1000 delegates many of whom will be guests of University people. Campus and people will cooperate with those working on the conference in some of its phases such as the recreational side.

Victory over Sigma hall, his mates helping him out with a big rally in the sixth inning. Aaron Miller, Sigma hall tosser, pitched winning ball until the sixth inning, when the hillmen bunched their bingles to shove the six runs that won the game across the rubber.

Phi Sigma Kappa forfeited to Omega hall and the Student Living association forfeited to Chi Psi in the other two scheduled games.

Walter Myers, who is now field secretary for Oregon Christian Endeavors, spoke on "My Experiences With Conferences." Mr. Casteel, who is an instructor at Seabeck, Young People's Christian association camp in Washington, told the guests of "Seabeck, Past and Future."

In a lighter vein five members, Harold Klonooff, Leonard Huffard, Maxwell Morris, Don Yeager, and Fordyce Thornber, were awarded prizes for their supposedly outstanding achievements during the past year.

Little Art Gallery Has Display Of Odd Wallpapers

Modern wallpapers designed by modern textile designers are now on display in the Little Art gallery of the school of architecture and allied arts. Miss Brownell Frasier, associate professor of interior design, arranged the exhibit, which came to the campus from New York studios.

These wallpapers, which are in a sense bizarre, do not conform to the old standard conception of wallpaper but are interesting for their originality and their deviation from the conservative. They could best be used in public lounges, cocktail rooms, beauty salons, and could also be used in place of a wall - hanging as a panel for decorative purposes.

One paper features sentences in French, human figures, and buildings - red and blue being the outstanding colors. Another is a map of the "Ocean Indien," featuring compasses, old sailing vessels and various islands such as "Nouvelle Hollande," Java and Sumatra. Vivid colors make the wallpaper designed for a cocktail room stand out - glasses of all shapes, cigarettes, and dice also make this paper unusual. One paper looks like nothing more than a child's crayon drawings of various figures and objects. A strikingly modernistic wallpaper is the one which presents designs in orange and silver on a beige background.

All the wallpapers on display are for sale. The exhibit will be up two weeks and is open to the public at the usual hours.
