

Betty Hughes YW Secretary To Go East

Mrs. J. S. Evans to Take Over Duties as Leader of Women's Group

Betty Hughes, retiring secretary of the YWCA who was to have held office until the end of spring term, is leaving the University of Oregon at noon today to motor to Swarthmore college, Pennsylvania, via Los Angeles, to begin work in the training school of adult leaders for peace education and organization of the United States. Miss Hughes will be replaced by Mrs. John Stark Evans.

Accompanied by Ruth Haefner, temporary pastor of the Congregational church proceeding Rev. Williston Wirt, Miss Hughes will drive to Los Angeles where three more volunteer leaders representing California will be picked up. From there the group will go on to Swarthmore college near Philadelphia.

Leaders Disband to Schools

Following the period of leadership training for the emergency peace campaign the leaders will disband to four training schools for students. These include Whitier college, Grinnell college, Duke university, and Swarthmore.

At these training headquarters students will gather in June from all over the United States for three weeks education for peace organization. Then, in groups of five and six they will tour the states for the summer, giving plays, programs, and speeches, strengthening pacific alternatives to armed conflict, bringing about such political and economic changes as are essential to a just and peaceable world order, and recruiting and uniting in a dynamic movement all organizations and individuals who are determined not to approve of or participate in war.

YWCA and YM Have Blanks

Each peace volunteer will be responsible for a share of his total expenses which include transportation, maintenance in the field, supervision, books, literature, supplies, etc., which will cost approximately $60 a month. Half of this will be provided by the Emergency Peace Campaign.

Students who would be interested in such a project for the summer are asked to call at the YWCA and YM for application blanks and further information.

Such committees as publications, music, student, welfare, and forensics are now under the executive council which is responsible to the president of the University. The executive council will be replaced by the two boards, athletic and educational activities, with a director over each, both of whom will be responsible to the University's president.

Present Set-up to End

The present organization of the ASUO will be discontinued July 1 when Hugh E. Rosson and N. Thomas Stoddard, graduate and assistant graduate manager, respectively, will resign. Both Rosson and Stoddard assisted in the formulation of the new plan.

Dr. Boyer has made none of the appointments, but will do so immediately providing the state board approves the plan Monday, it was revealed.

Messenger to Garcia Is Ill

Pointing out his perilous route, the man who won world note by carrying the famed "message to Garcia" is shown here—Col. Andrew S. Rowan, army veteran, reported failing in health in his San Francisco home. He will be 79 April 28. Rowan evaded the watchful Spaniards to reach the Cuban commander at Bayamo on May 1, 1898, with assurance from President McKinley that Garcia could count on U. S. aid. Rowan's message was verbal, so he would not be shot as a spy if documents were found on him.

State Board Will Meet at Ashland

UO Medical School May Be Permitted to Educate Health Officers

Formal permission allowing the University of Oregon medical school to add the necessary course for education of public health officers and nurses will be among the business considered by the state board of higher education at its monthly meeting in Ashland next Monday.

Selection of the University medical school as one of the few institutions in the country permitted to prepare public health officers and nurses, was made recently by the federal government. The choice was made both because of the reputation established by the school and because it is the only class A medical school in the northwest.

Will Approve Budgets

Chief business of the board, however, will be the approval of the operating budgets for the various schools connected with the state system. These budgets have been prepared during the past several weeks.

Routine business such as the changing of course numbers and various minor appointments will probably conclude any action the board may take at the meeting.

Following the meeting, members of the board will inspect agricultural experiment stations at Talent and Medford as well as the plant of the normal school at Ashland, where the meeting is being held.

Ban on Jazz Off For Minstrel Show

Phi Mu Alpha Will Present Swing Music Concert in School Auditorium

The closed door policy on jazz will be overlooked at the music school auditorium Thursday night, when Phi Mu Alpha presents its "Modern Minstrel Show."

For the first time in the history of the University, jazz music will be played in public by a band of picked campus musicians directed by Earl Scott, Portland, according to Jimmy Morrison, director and master-of-ceremonies of the show. "Those who see the show are in for a mild surprise," Morrison said, "as our idea of a 'modern' minstrel show does not include a lot of 'corny' gags. The program will not be entirely jazz music, or 'swing' concert, for Phi Mu Alpha has endeavored to build a well-rounded program of representative music of today."

Twenty-two members of the honorary will take active part in the program. Robert Garretson is scheduled to play a classical piano number; Wayne and Wendell Gilfrey, a baritone horn and bassoon duet; Grayson Ross will sing with the chorus; other vocalists and instrumentalists will perform. A Ray Noble arrangement of "Blue Danube" will be played by the orchestra.

Admission is 25 cents. All seats are reserved. Proceeds from the show will be used to help send a delegation of Phi Mu Alpha members to its province convention in Pullman May 1-2.

Educated Rat Given New Home By Psych Profs

About 3 p. m. yesterday small, towheaded George Billings wandered into Condon and asked where he could get a white rat. Puzzled bystanders sent him up to the psychology department, for they thought "they used rats up there for something."

Wearily George climbed to the third floor of Condon. There he saw Dr. L. S. Beck, psychologist, and repeated his request. Dr. Beck directed him to Dr. Calvin Hall, also a psychologist, who has charge of rat experimentation. Dr. Hall asked George what he wanted it for, and George, who was getting a little tired and frightened by this time replied that he wanted a big white rat for a pet.

Notes were sent and several calls made and George finally became the proud possessor of the largest white rat in the rat shack. George's rat will have the advantages of an education, it was said, as it has been a subject of learning experiments carried out by the psychologists.

George is 11 years old and a pupil of Francis Willard grade school.

Yeomen Meeting Off Till Thursday

The Oregon Yeomen meeting which was originally to be held tomorrow night has been postponed until Thursday at 7:30 because of its being the night before campus elections.

At the meeting Thursday night, nominations will be made for officers for the coming year. They will also discuss plans for the next year's work.

Fred Gieseke appointed Tom Wildish chairman of a committee to work with Helen Lewis of the Ordes, on a picnic to be given about the middle of May by the combined groups.

John Miller, James Mountain, and Lew Evans have been named to help Wildish for the Yeomen, the Ordes assistants have not been selected as yet.

wild and woolly session. Zeta hall did not score until the fifth, when it tallied three counts. In the sixth the determined Hallmen pushed five more runs home to bring the score to 16 to 8, adding five more in the final inning to set the final count at 16 to 13. Cannon pitched for the Dabbas, while Truby and Patterson worked for the losers. Big Ed Jacobs was the class of the day's play, with his sparkling work on the initial sack for the Abba Dabba team.

Behind the stellar pitching of Beanpole Wheelock, the sweethearts of Sigma Chi scorched the Yeomen by an 11 to 3 count. The castlemen counted two in each of the first two innings, followed with four tallies in the third, and three more in the fourth to win the contest handily. Hodes opposed Wheelock on the mound.

The championship playoffs will be conducted on a round-robin basis, rather than an elimination basis, according to word received from Marion Weitz, director of intramural sports. The Pi Kaps and Omega hall will play off for the league four title this afternoon at 4 o'clock, and the round-robin tourney will start tomorrow at 4. Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Theta Pi, and Abba Dabba are already assured of a place in the championship playoff.

Oregon Song Series This is the second in a series of Oregon songs representing various periods in the growth of the University. DREAMS OF MY OREGON Recollections always linger of my Alma Mater. Where her standards point to victory, for each son and daughter; Midst the coast and Cascade ranges, dauntless is the yellow; May her banner wave forever ideals that we hallow. Like the giant fir abounding, o'er the hills surrounding, Are the roses of past conquests, cowardice defying. In the archives of my school-days lives the Lemon Color May we thru the ages, ever emulate thy valor. By Willamette's sparkling water, stands our noble Alma Mater; Sing thy praises evermore of battles fought and won. Sweet remembrances abiding of the same canoes gliding. Let me dream by the old mill race dreams of my Oregon. —Dudley Huntington (McCosh) *Courtesy the University Co-op POOLE FUNERAL HOME 1100 Charnelton Street
