Betas and ATOs Advance Toward Donut Softball Championship

SPORT CHAT

By PAT FRIZZELL

Anonymous field won't be anonymous when Don McFadden flings the first pitch of the northern division season toward the lead-off Oregon State batter tomorrow afternoon. After a year and more of playing on a nameless field Oregon's athletes will begin a brand new schedule on a diamond with a brand new name. Definite announcement has been made that the field will be named and dedicated officially by President Boyer prior to the "play ball" call.

Speculation as to what dear old Anonymous will be christened are rife around the campus, and several possibilities are being buzzed around. Whatever the name is to be, the committee is having a hard time choosing it.

A new name ought to mean a new feeling and spirit in baseball this spring, but it has its seamy side.

Where in all the United States of America is there another field with the unique and significant appellation of Anonymous? That was a different name, one which distinguished Oregon as a place where names weren't handed out for a nickel.

But, as our boss, Dan Clark, remarked the other night, any old name will suit the headline writers better than Anonymous. That ungodly string of letters had the lads who count out the heads tearing their hair and crushing their finger nails between their molars repeatedly.

Editor's Note: This column has done Mr. Ed Dooley of the sports department of the Oregon State Barometer a grave injustice. The fault was not Mr. Frizzell's, whose byline was erroneously (or maliciously) attached to yesterday's Sport Chat column, and in whose gentle hands today's tirade is entrusted, but the sports editor's. For this error, he submits his most abject apologies. His error lay in not instructing an over zealous and conscientious night staff, not to be so zealous and conscientious.

Because of the higher feelings of the night staff a quotation from Mr. Dooley's column in the Barometer was changed by the night staff (in spite of correct copy) to read: "... Oregon split two games with Linfield; Oregon State lost one. The Ducks split—if OUR memory serves US correctly—with Oregon Normal ..."

However, this was not as Mr. Dooley would have it, and we are honestly ashamed and somewhat afraid he might take official action and therefore haste to print his little message AS HE RAN IT IN THE BAROMETER, adding the little bit of information which "the" memory failed to supply: "... Oregon split two games with Linfield; Oregon State lost one. The Ducks split—if OUR memory serves ME correctly—with Oregon Normal ..."

President of the model league will be Walter Eschbeck. French representatives are Don Serrell and Kessler Cannon. Other representatives are: Germany, Carl Anton; Russia, John Luvaas; Japan, Charles Shimomura; Italy, Orton Goodwin; England, Maxwell Morris. Jason Lee will act as United States observer.

Abba Dabbas and Pi Kaps Lose in Well Played Tilts

Anderson Pitches Good Game; Final Round Will Continue This Afternoon

Alpha Tau Omega and Beta Theta Pi chalked up victories in the first day's play of the round-robin tournament for the 1936 intramural softball championship yesterday on the intramural diamonds on East Fifteenth street. Play will continue today at 4 p. m.

The classy ATO team took Pi Kappa Alpha by a 5 to 2 score, although Don Anderson, ATO speed merchant, was not bearing down on the ball to the fullest extent of his ability. Stocky Bree Cuppoletti opposed Anderson on the mound, and pitched effective ball. The game was marked by frequent arguments with Umpire Ward as to how many players should occupy the base line at one time. Toward the last of the game both teams were so excited they would dash onto the diamond protesting Ward's every decision.

ATO's Score First
The winners drew first blood in the opening frame when Danielson walked, Marshall sacrificed him to second, Scott singled him to third, and Stroble's long single brought him in. The count stood at 1 to 0 until the third, when the hotelmen tallied two more. Singles by Danielson and Marshall put two ducks on the pond. Satchel Scott sacrificed Danielson home, and Stroble also sacrificed to bring Marshall across the plate with the third run. One more tally in the fourth put the count at 4 to 0. In the Pi Kap half of the fourth, the Beef Trusters bunched four hits to bring two runs home, for the only Pi Kap counts of the afternoon. The final ATO run was made in the fifth when Al Davis scored on a long, hard-hit double by Keith Wilson, swatting ATO backstop. The final two frames were scoreless.

Betas Wallop Ball
The larruping lettermen from Beta Theta Pi won a wild game from the scrappy Abba Dabbas by a 5 to 3 count in the other play-off of the day. Big Ed Jacobs brought the first Dabba tally across in the second canto on a single by Tingle.

The Betas evened the count in the third frame, when Burnett doubled, scoring on Dewey Carpenter's long single to left. The fighting Dabbas jumped ahead again in the fourth. Liebowitz singled, Rowan doubling him to third, with Sammy scoring on Wellnitz's sacrifice bunt. Another sacrifice by Cannon brought Rowan over the rubber with run number three.

Betas Rally
Nothing daunted, the Beta ball-hawks staged a rally of their own in their half of the fourth. Siegmund and Beard singled. Bud Burnett stepped up to the plate, but Siegmund scored on catcher Wellnitz's error. Burnett poled out a single which was fumbled twice, permitting both Beard and Burnett himself to score. The 4 to 3 score stood until the sixth, when the Beta men shoved the final tally home to win the ball game 5 to 3. Carpenter and Parke twirled for the winners, with Cannon tossing for the luckless Abba Dabba team.

Orides Smack Hendricks Hall

Florence Miller in Stellar Role as Softball Pitcher in 15-10 Tilt

Orides took Hendricks hall 15 to 10 in the second game of the women's interhouse softball tournament yesterday evening. All other games scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday were postponed because of rain.

The expert hurling of Florence Miller won the game for the independents by allowing the hall girls only one run. The other nine Hendricks runs were made in the first inning, then the Orides pitcher was changed and the game lost for the hall.

Games Postponed
The Gamma Phi vs. Alpha Omicron Pi and the Alpha Chi Omega vs. Alpha Delta Pi games slated for Tuesday evening will be played next Thursday, April 30, at 6:30, according to Jane Bogue, who is in charge of the tournament. The Alpha Phi vs. Susan Campbell game will be arranged later.

Augusta Heiberg of the physical education department was umpire for last night's game. Batteries were: Orides—Florence Miller, Helen Lewis, and Lillian Schaffer; Hendricks—Louise Watson, Marie Davis, and Maxine Goetsch.

The University infirmary contained 11 patients yesterday, four of them being German measles cases. Those confined are: Jean Babcock, Jack Gavin, Pat Pollard, Roderick Aya, Clyde Walker, Doyle Pigg, Richard Reum, Woodrow Robinson, Cloyd Conner.

Callison Works Gridders Hard

Injuries have shrunken the size of the squad turning out each day for spring football practice somewhat but nevertheless, Prink Callison is rapidly whipping the Oregon gridders into shape for a practice game which will take place in the near future.

In his search for punters, Callison has been concentrating his attention on Dave Gammon, Jimmy Nicholson, Tom Blackman and Dale Lassalle. Gammon, Blackman and Nicholson were outstanding on last year's frosh team while Lassalle saw much service as a sophomore on the varsity machine last season.

The center position has bolstered somewhat by Harry Addams, who has donned the moleskins.

Bill Hayward Drills Cinder Athletes Hard

Portland Pilots to Enter Annual Relay Meeting Here Saturday

Every afternoon Hayward's trackmen, the pride of the Oregon campus, burn the cinders on Hayward field, strain at the shot put, bend the poles in the vault event and do other equally strenuous things in preparation for the season ahead, which is juicy with nice fat track meets for the Ducks.

The Webfoots may taste the first fruits of their efforts in the triangular relay meet with Portland university and Oregon State here this Saturday.

The Portland Pilots will be newcomers in this annual affair, formerly a private battle between the Ducks and the Beavers. News has trickled down from the Portland campus that both the Oregon and the Oregon State cinder squads may have their hands full in the meet keeping ahead of their new-comer rival.

Relay First Held in 1928
The first relay meet was held in 1928. Since then Oregon has won 4, Oregon State 3 and one has been a tie. No records have been broken in the relays since 1932.

The crack Pilot squad will be made up of such outstanding men as Virgil Colombo, Lloyd Handy, Laverne Schooler, George Sweet, and Pat Lydon.

Two new events have been added to the meet to bring the total up to 10. The events will consist of the 440, 880, mile, two-mile, four mile, shuttle hurdle, distance, and sprint medleys, high jump and shot put.

Rumors have wafted over from the Beaver camp that the mighty Ernie Guggisberg's reign in threatened by a teammate, Moll Clasper. Jim Daneri will enter the hurdles for Oregon State. Funk and Smith will probably run the sprints, Lewis the 880 and Huggins and Hansel the 440.

Anonymous Field To Be Dedicated On Opening Day

Webfoots and Beavers to Clash Tomorrow for First League Contest; Will Start at 3

The University of Oregon's first chance to defend its twice won Northern Division baseball title, and the official naming of Anonymous field after one of Oregon's greats are the feature events of "Baseball Day" in Eugene tomorrow afternoon.

Mystery shrouds the name Anonymous field will be called hereafter, and no one but University officials will know the new name until the dedication, which is slated to inaugurate opening day ceremonies at 3 o'clock.

Efforts of Oregon and Oregon State boosters during the past few days point to a crowd surpassing the 2700 present at the opener last spring.

Hunter to Pitch
A last minute change in the white-collar lineup will have Chancellor Hunter pitching the first ball of the season to Mayor Elisha Large, trying to strike out OSC President Peavy and Oregon's Dr. Boyer.

Complete opening day flavor will be given the occasion by the parade through the Eugene business district, led by the entire ROTC unit and the Oregon band.

Predictions on the outcome of the game give the Webfoots a little better than even chance of repeating last year's initial victory, although few think this season's squad can equal the 17-0 score posted.

McFadden to Start
Don McFadden, ace Webfoot curver, will probably start pitching for the home team, while Slats Gill's chucker will no doubt be Dean Johnston, husky right-hander.

From comparative scores, Oregon is a definite favorite to cop the game. Including contests with Linfield, ONS, and Willamette, OSC captured one game and lost six. In seven games against the same opponents, Hobson's men walked away with four wins against three losses.

Indications from the Beaver campus are that the Beavers will lineup as follows: Bergstrom, catcher; D. Johnston, pitcher; Sutherland or Keebe, first base; Merryman, second base; Worthley, shortstop; Joe Gray or Kappel, third base; and outfielders, Dockery, Conkling, and Woerner.
