

Dr. Shimer to Be Guest of Phi Betas

National Editor, Secretary To Visit Local Chapter On May 11

Dr. William A. Shimer, secretary of the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa, will be the guest of the University of Oregon chapter on the afternoon and evening of May 11.

Dr. Shimer, who is editor of the American Scholar and the Key Reporter, Phi Beta Kappa publications, is making a tour of the country, in which he is visiting chapters of the organization and also a number of colleges not represented but having faculty members who belong.

The executive head of the national scholastic honorary, who succeeded the veteran Dr. Oscar M. Voorhees in the position in 1931, will be on the campus from 4 p. m. of May 11 until his train leaves at night for the South. He will be the guest of the Oregon chapter at dinner at the Anchorage, at which time he will deliver an address to the members on the aims, purposes, and present projects of the organization, which has become more active in the last ten years.

Arrangements for the entertainment of Dr. Shimer are in the hands of a committee made up of Dr. Andrew Fish, chairman; Dr. George Rebec, and George Turnbull. Further information regarding the occasion will be issued later by the committee.

'Finn' Lindgren

(Continued from page three) will come this year. What he desires more than anything else is his third stripe which will make him eligible for his varsity blanket and the five-year pass for all athletics events of the University.

Lindgren ran his first meet in Uniontown, a district of "Finnville-by-the-sea" when he was 11 years old. The Rotary club was holding its Olympics for boys 12 years or over. Arne being too young, fished his age and placed fourth in the 200 yard dash and in the standing broadjump.

In high school he participated in football, basketball, and track. He was on John Warren's state championship basketball squad in 1930. When he was a freshman at the University he made his numeral in basketball and track. He played forward and center on the maple court.

In high school track wasn't popular to any extent. Consequently he used to go down to the river sandlots by old "Suomi" hall, where the Finns trained all day long. It wasn't at all surprising to see several 40-year old men in their leisure moments running the mile or the half mile with the kids, throwing the shot, discus, and javelin, or jumping.

A national Finnish fraternal organization, the Kaleva brothers and sisters are forever holding picnics here and there throughout the Northwest, and in these picnics the athletics events are one of the

Bonuses Babes

The baby derby among the employees of J. Nelson Kagarise, manager of a Los Angeles express firm, should be brisk this year, for Kagarise has offered a bonus of $100 to each employee whose home is visited by the stork this year. There are 125 employees, over 100 of these married.

main attractions. While trying out for the Astoria chapter team, "Finn" Lindgren jumped 20 feet, one-half inch the first time he ever tried the running broadjump. He won first place in the track meet held in connection with the grand convention of the lodge in Aberdeen, Washington. He was some big potato then.

"At these meets," Arne explained, "the kids and the old men would go forth to throw the shot, discus, javelin, hammer, run the hundred, and possibly some of the longer races, high jump, broad jump, and then after the events go eat hot dogs and pop and go swimming. Then that night they'd dance."

"Finn" is an institution in the ASUO training rooms. He helps Bob Officer tape ankles, and as a rub-down expert, the boys says he has such a soothing touch. He was trainer for the freshman football team last year. His ambition is to secure a good position coaching track, basketball, or football.

As basketball coach at University high, he placed his green team at the half way mark of the league.

Corvallis Wesley Club Here Sunday

About 50 members of Wesley Foundation at Oregon State college are expected to be guests of the University Wesley club at tea at 6 p. m. Sunday in the Methodist church in Eugene.

"Religion—Does It Help in College?" will be the subject for a panel discussion in which two speakers from each group will take part. Victor Goff, president of the University group, will lead worship.

Landon Backer

That Gov. Alf M. Landon will have at least 247 votes on the first ballot in the G.O.P. national convention next June is reported as the conclusion of Oscar S. Stauffer, above, editor of the Arkansas City Traveler and one of the principal managers of Landon's campaign. Only 501 votes are required for nomination.

Faculty Members Chosen for Commencement Speakers

Nine University faculty members have been scheduled to speak at commencement exercises at various high schools in the state, and others will probably be scheduled within the next few weeks, Bernard Hinshaw, director of social welfare in the general extension division, who is in charge of correspondence with school principals, announced yesterday.

Each year a list is prepared of those faculty members at the University, the state college, and the three normal schools, who are interested in giving commencement addresses. The list is then sent to all the high school principals in the state.

Others who will speak at graduation exercises are James M. Carrell, assistant professor of speech, Sutherlin, May 28; John L. Casteel, director of speech division, Sheridan, June 5; N. H. Comish, profes-
