Manchurian Coal Motive
For Japan's Invasion,
Scientist Says

"On a changing earth a changing philosophy is necessary," said R. W. Chaney, professor of paleontology of the University of California, in concluding his speech on fossils, political situations in Manchuria, China, and Japan, and general observations on life before the student body in Gerlinger hall yesterday.

The plateau country of Manchuria is definitely under Japanese control, according to Professor Chaney. Japanese money, stamps, even theaters, are found in abundance. Manchuria, a young state unable to take care of itself, is dominated by the Nipponese who need the coal found in the south of the puppet empire.

Nippon Needs Coal

While the paleontologist was interested in the coal mine for the valuable fossil remains of redwood trees, the Japanese shipped most of the mine's output to her island, professing to use it to help the "cold Chinese."

"Japan is creating an inland empire—is consolidating the yellow race, as she says," Professor Chaney declared, "against the world." Although the nationally known professor is extremely opposed to such imperialistic measures, he

On Nippon Empire

International Club to Meet
In Gerlinger Tonight;
Public Welcome

"The Expanding Japanese Empire" will be the subject of a talk by Harold J. Noble, associate professor of history, at a meeting of the International Relations club tonight at 7:30 in the men's lounge of Gerlinger hall.

Born in Korea, Mr. Noble lived there, attending grammar and high school until he was 16, when he came to the United States for his college training. After getting his master's degree at Ohio State college, he returned to Korea for four years, teaching at Ewha college, Seoul, Korea, 1926-28.

Traveling in China, Japan, Manchuria, and Siberia, Mr. Noble has been to the Orient five times since then. He spent most of last summer in Korea and China, and some time in Japan, whose present activities are attracting much attention and comment.

Caswell's Book
To Be Ready Soon

A. E. Caswell, head of the department of physics, has nearly completed his revision and enlargement of the general physics text which he wrote several years ago. Dr. Caswell expects to have the book ready to send to the press within a week. The Macmillan company is publishing the text.

Insects devour one-tenth of the world's crops.

Campus
Calendar

Junior Prom directorate meets at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Junior-senior breakfast directorate will meet at 4 o'clock at the YWCA bungalow.

Sigma Delta Chi pledges and members are requested to meet at the College Side at 5 o'clock tonight. Final plans for the Pendarvis dance will be made.

Pan-Hellenic council meeting will be held in 110 Johnson this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Buy Ice Cream
To Celebrate May
Day, Say Kwamas

Celebrate the first of May tomorrow by buying a nicker ice-cream bar! Kwamas are selling popsicles, milkshakes, fudgsicles, and ice cream nut bars Friday from 10 o'clock to 4 o'clock, in booths to be put up in front of the art school, the old library, and Oregon.

Doris Mable is chairman of the ice cream sale, sponsored by Kwama, sophomore woman's service honorary. Kathleen Duffy is making posters, and Gladys Battleson is handling publicity. Freshman girls are being contacted to sell at booths.

This is the first time any organization has undertaken a nicker ice cream sale. Brownie sales and doughnuts for chilly, brisk days, but as yet nothing so suitable as cooling, refreshing ice cream for warm, lazy days.

Buy an ice cream bar instead of a May basket.

Bikman Wins $20
Poetry Prize

Pillette Is Awarded Second
Prize of $15; Bromberg
Takes Third Money

George Bikman won first prize of $20 in the W. F. Jewett poetry reading contest held yesterday afternoon in the men's lounge in Gerlinger hall.

Milton Pillette was awarded second prize of $15, and Stanley Bromberg won third prize of $5.

This was the second annual poetry reading contest held on the campus, under the direction of the speech department and in conjunction with the drama department. It was held for the purpose of increasing interest in oral reading.

Kessler Cannon, John Luvaas, and Marian Bauer were the other contestants participating in the final contest. Twelve students entered the preliminary trials held last week.

Each contestant read selections from three groups of poetry: lyrics, blank verse, and sonnets.

Judges were Prof. H. C. Howe, chairman of the English department; Robert D. Horn, assistant professor of English, and Mrs. Edna Landros, assistant professor of Latin and Greek.

Dr. Smith to Lecture
In Portland Friday

Dr. Warren D. Smith, geologist, will go to Portland tomorrow to speak to members of the Oregon Mineral and Agate society upon the "Geological Framework of Oregon."

Recently Dr. Smith acted as a judge for a contest sponsored by this society.

Delta Phi Meet Tonight

Delta Phi members will meet in the Carnegie room of the music school tonight at 7:30. Robert Gould will play the operaglogue "Pe-leas et Melisande," by Debussy.

Mrs. Ernst's Play Highlight
Of VLT's Final Program

"The Wooden Wife," a colorful and poetic drama of the Chilkat Indians by Alice Henson Ernst, assistant professor of English and instructor in playwriting, will have its Eugene premier as the highlight of three one-act plays to be presented by the Very Little Theatre, May 16, 18, and 19.

The play, based on Mrs. Ernst's studies of the Indians in the Northwest and Alaska, won the nation-wide play contest sponsored by the Montana (University) Masquers and had its first production by that group.

In his review of Mrs. Ernst's book of plays, "High Country," Bernard Hewitt, director of dramatics at the University of Montana, writes in the magazine, Frontier and Midland: "The Wooden Wife" stands by itself in material and in merit. It is a drama of the Chilkat Indians before the white invasion. Mrs.

Junior-Senior
Breakfast Will Come Sunday

Invitations Sent to Many Notables; Salesmen of Tickets Named

Invitations have been issued to many prominent University women who plan to attend the traditional junior-senior breakfast Sunday. The breakfast is sponsored yearly by the YWCA, according to Frances Schuapp, invitation and ticket chairman, who also released her list of ticket salesmen yesterday.

Mrs. E. E. DeCout, newly-elected president of the YWCA advisory board and former University of Oregon dean of women, will be one of the principal speakers, as will Mrs. Virgil D. Earl, state of Oregon president of the American Association of University Women. Guests named

Other guests include: Mrs. Frederick M. Hunter; Mrs. C. Valentine Boyer; Mrs. C. L. Schwering, dean of women; Mrs. Alice B. Macduff, assistant dean of women; faculty members, YWCA advisory board members, housemothers, and junior and senior women.

Mary McCracken, president of the senior class, will repound for the senior women to Elaine Comish's welcome and good luck farewell from the juniors. It is also planned to have the Eugene high school girls' quartet, and a harpist to entertain before the breakfast until everyone arrives.

Salesmen Told
Appointed ticket sellers are: Mary J. Mahoney, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Regan McCoy, Kappa Alpha.

Mu Phi Epsilon
Holds Banquet,
Elects Officers

Mu Phi Epsilon, women's national music honorary held its annual spring banquet Monday night in the Japanese room of the Osborn hotel. Honor guests were two new patronesses of the sorority, Mrs. Hazel Schwering and Mrs. E. H. Moore and four initiates, Ellen Dixon, Harriett Moore, Dorothy Howell, and Doris Peterson.

Hollis Horen, president of the Active chapter, introduced Miss Maude Densmore of the alumnae group who acted as toastmistress. An interesting program of original compositions was played by Harriett Moore, Dorothy Howell, Doris Peterson, and Edwina Anderson. Miss Madelle Beidler, soprano, accompanied by Marjorie Scobert.

After the banquet members of the active chapter held a business meeting electing Doris Peterson to the office of alumnae secretary, and voting on the year's elections to membership. Elections are from the sophomore class and are based on scholarship, achievement in performance, and ability. These will be announced next week.

Nosegay for Mom
Can Be Obtained
By Buying Duck

"Be a duck today, and buy Mother a nosegay" is the motto all Junior Weekend duckling salesmen will quack about the campus from now until May 8 when the yellow tickets purchased for 15 cents may be redeemed for a corsage for Mother at the YWCA bungalow.

Reviving an old custom which has not been active for several years on the campus, a group headed by Elisabeth Stetson will invade sorority, fraternity, and independent organizations on the campus to tell them of the beauties of nosegays.

Every Mother loves flowers, especially when presented from a favorite son or daughter, and this year the attractive bouquets promise to be more beautiful than ever. They are guaranteed to be fresh and dewy as blossoms on the hill-sides.

Committee heads appointed so far by Elisabeth Stetson, general chairman, are: Marjorie Will, tickets; Phyllis Adams and Lillian Warn, publicity; Katherine Markovich and Virginia Chase, flower arrangers.

Seats for Jam
To Be Available

Balcony Tickets to Hear
Pendarvis and See Floor
Show to Be Sold

For those who come to listen and not to dance to the swinging strains of Paul Pendarvis and his band in the Igloo Saturday night, the balcony will be thrown open and seats will be sold, Sigma Delta Chi, which is bringing the San Francisco orchestra here for the Journalism Jam, announced Chairman Dan Clark Jr. last night.

The balcony duets will be on sale at McArthur court only. The price for admissions will probably be 50 cents each.

Dean Hazel P. Schwering has granted a 1 o'clock permission to University women, so that it will be possible to enjoy dancing to the Pacific coast's leading orchestra all the time from 8:30, when Pendarvis will open with his "Hear the Violins" theme song, until the last number is played at 12:30.

The length of the program is accounted for by the fact that there will be a long intermission, taken up by a brilliant floor show.

Pendarvis will arrive in Eugene tomorrow.

Tonqueds Honor
Eugene Mothers

Tonqueds, organization for University girls who live in Eugene, entertained at tea Sunday afternoon, April 26, for mothers of Eugene girls. Mrs. Hazel Schwering and Mrs. Alice Macduff were invited as special guests.

Kathleen Hougum was general chairman for the affair. Tea and coffee was served from 3:30 to 5:30 with Mrs. Karl W. Onthank, Mrs. W. E. Buchanan, Mrs. E. R. Endicott, and Mrs. John Stark Evans pouring.

The program, of which Rachael Koken was in charge, consisted of a piano solo by Kathleen Hougum, a vocal solo by Dorothy Denslow, a piano solo by Evelyn Erickson, and a vocal trio by Fredrica Merrill, Dorothy Ann Rader, and Helen Gorrell.

Mollie Bob Small was in charge of reception, and Jean Taylor headed the service committee. Servers included: Betty Sether, Jean Martin, Dorothy Griswold, Betty Yocum, Marian Smith, Betty Onthank, Maxine Horton, Doris Wulzen, Louise Pursley, Elizabeth Stetson, and Dorothy Mae Elson-Stohn.

Beulah Chapman was in charge of food and kitchen, with Dorothy Rowland and Mildred Morgan assisting.

The clean-up committee consisted of Dorothy Ann Rader, Helen Gorrell, and Fredrica Merrill.

Invitations were sent to about 175 mothers, according to Jean MacLaren who was in charge of invitations.

11 Juniors
In Weekend
Queen Race

Nominces Will Parade
Campus at 12 Today;
Election Friday

Campus nominations for the Queen of Junior Weekend included the names of many prominent Oregon coeds, as well as the usual run of fictitious females. Due to the fact that the votes were so evenly distributed among eleven of the contestants, all their names will be included on the ballot tomorrow.

The candidates nominated were: Jean Favier, Helen Jones, Lucille McBride, Josephine McGilchrist, Starla Parvin, Alice Pauling, Grace Peck, Irene Schuapp, Kay Skalet, Joe Skene, Jean Stevenson.

At noon today the women nominated will be paraded around the campus. Friday morning the polls will be opened at 9 and closed at 3. Five of the queenly aspirants will be voted for on each ballot. The woman receiving the highest number of votes will be automatically elected queen of Junior Weekend, and the four receiving the next highest number of votes will be attendants.

Coronation of the queen will take place on Friday, May 8, during the all-campus luncheon.

The committee in charge of the queen's election and reign deny the rumor that the ballot box was stuffed in favor of several of the contestants.

Bill Marsh Wins
$20 Jewett Prize

Kessler Takes $15 Second
Prize; Combs Awarded
Third Prize

Bill Marsh, junior in journalism, won first prize of $20 in the W. F. Jewett after-dinner speeches held in the men's dormitory regent's room last night. Marsh's topic was "Thomas Alva Edison: the Man."

Howard Kessler, sophomore in journalism, took second prize of $15 with "For a Brave, Nude World," and Avery Combs, junior in business administration, was third, speaking on "William Jennings Bryan."

The Jewett after-dinner speeches for men are held annually at the University, along with several other contests sponsored by the fund left by the late W. F. Jewett.

Delta Phi Alpha
Initiates 26

Delta Phi Members will meet in orary, initiated 26 members at a banquet held last night in Seymour's cafe at 6 o'clock. Guests of honor and speakers were S. St. Stephenson Smith, Dr. F. G. G. Schmidt, and Dr. Edmund P. Kremer.

Pledges who were initiated at the banquet were: Nathaniel Israel, John Allen, Mark Switzer, Bobette Lane, William Starr, Rosalynne Kitchen, Jean Berghan, Dave Morris, Grace Martin, Ivon Duff, Lloyd Faust, Helen Christensen, Rubie Shiomi, Helen Krebs, Kay Helberg, Louise Krechman, Harold Davis, Fergus Wood, Leonard Jacobson, Richard Miller, Harold Hanson, Fred Voigt, Howard Backlund, Gerald Smith, Vic Rosenfeld, and Abe Wiener.

Charter members of the local chapter are: Beverley Caverhill, president; Helen Bartrum, secretary-treasurer; Margaret Cass, Leonard Thielemann, Velvo Lucas, Worth Chaney, Walter Engle, and Dr. Astrid Mork Williams, advisor. Officers for the coming year will be elected at the May meeting of the chapter.

Campus Lunch
Work Progresses

New Name Planned; Band
To Entertain During the Various Ceremonies

"A bigger and better campus luncheon" is the motto of Chairman Margielee Morse. The annual all campus event, which takes place Friday, May 8, of Junior Weekend, is one of the outstanding celebrations honoring the Oregon mothers that weekend.

A new menu is being planned this year to tempt the palates of Oregon's finest epicures and their fond parents. As yet, however, the full details have been spoken of only in the committee meetings.

The campus luncheon is put on with the cooperation of all sorority and fraternity groups, Ordes, Yeomen, men's and women's cooperative houses, and all the dormitories. Through their financial aid and support, the luncheon is expected to top preceding successes.

Among the outstanding features of the luncheon are the coronation of the queen, who will be selected tomorrow, the pledging of Mortar Board, senior women's service honorary, and pledging of Friars, senior men's service honorary.

All during the luncheon the University band will entertain the students and their mothers. Kwama, Thespian, and Skull and Dagger members will assist with the serving. Immediately following the luncheon an all campus tennis court dance will be held.

The member of the committee include Margielee Morse, chairman; Ralf Finseth, assistant chairman; Lillian Warn, serving; Ken Phillips, grounds; Avery Combs, finance; Bob Olbeksen, service and cleanup; Marie Rasmussen, secretary.

May 7 Set as Date
For Shine Day

Thursday, May 7, was set for the traditional Junior Shine day at a committee meeting Wednesday.

As yet no theme or slogan has been decided upon, according to Chairman Gilbert Schultz.

"Treetops" and "Gus," campus shine parlor proprietors, have agreed to close their shops on the day of the annual tradition.

Heads of committees were assigned their respective duties. Ralph Finseth is designated to procure the junior shine crew. Other committee heads are: construction, Vernon Buegler, Robert Dean; equipment, Rex Cooper; tickets, Henryetta Mummy, and publicity, Virginia Endicott.

Three booths will be located at College Side, between Commerce and Oregon buildings, and in front of the library. Shines will be given for the usual 10 cents from 9 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 4 p. m. Thursday.

Millrace Dunking Face Faces
Moot Trialers Today

The law school's turmoil over the ducking of student body officers will be aired today in the fourth moot trial of the want-to-be lawyers when the case of Harry McCall versus Tallant Greenough and Robert Miller will be tried at 7:30 p. m. in the Lance county courtroom.

The complaint filed by McCall states that on April 6 he was taken by force to the mill race and thrown in. The defendants contested that this mill race ducking was a well-established precedent to which all elected or duly appointed officers of the law school student body are subjected, and that McCall had just been appointed sergeant-at-arms by the president, Robert Hunter.

Mr. McCall is basing his charge on the contention that this was

Baseball Game Is Rained
Out; Many Basements
Are Flooded

By WAYNE HARBERT
A deluge of cloudburst proportions poured from the skies yesterday afternoon, leaving in its wake streets filled to the curbs with swift waters and flooded basements in many campus buildings and fraternity and sorority houses.

Thunder and lightning roared and flashed from black clouds as the sudden rain began descending at 4:30 o'clock, chasing early afternoon sunshine from the skies. A total of 1.6 inches were recorded during the first hour which is believed by old-time Eugeneans to be a record for that length of time.

At 7 o'clock the weather observer reported the precipitation at 1.72. Some hail also fell. Skies were still dripping at a late hour last night.

The floor in the journalism building was covered with two inches of smelling seepage water. The Emerald staff had to abandon the news room and move into other quarters of the building. George Turnbull, journalism professor, said it was the deepest he had ever seen it. Pumps will hasten the flood's ebb if it fails to drain.

Johnson hall's basement and the University press were also partially flooded.

The tunnel at the University heating plant was filled with three feet of water which drained out through the sewer before any damage was done.

Plans to Help
Mothers Attend

Transportation Is Being Arranged; Eugeneans to Help in Lodging

A proposal whereby more Oregon mothers will be able to visit the campus during Junior Weekend is being formulated by mothers of Oregon students living in Eugene and Portland.

Arrangements are being made for transportation to Eugene and return to those mothers living in the vicinity of Portland who feel they cannot afford the trip. Once here, rooms and possibly rooms and breakfast, will be furnished for $1.00 per night by mothers of Eugene students.

Those sponsoring the plan urge that all mothers who are financially able to take care of transportation and hotel expenses for the weekend do so, but that those who wish to come down for Mother's day and cannot afford all the expenses usually connected with trip take advantage of the plan.

Arrangements to get transportation to Eugene and return and rooms while here may be made through the dean of women's office.

Personnel,
Pay Changes
For UO Made

"Base wage" ratings and numerous pay adjustments appeared for University employees, and "personnel adjustments" were made known in the new personnel schedule for the entire higher education system released by C. D. Byrne, secretary of the state board, yesterday.

The new rate schedule also included a number of resignations and releases for the University's personnel, which were considered at the state board meeting in Ashland on Monday.

Approval was given an allowance of $1200 to President C. Valentine Boyer in place of the house and grounds usually furnished by the University. This will be added to his present salary of $6500, but even the net salary of $7700 does not come up to the $8904.11 set as the base rate for his pay.

Board Reveals Further
Changes; Boyer Gets
$1,200 for Housing

Approval was given an allowance of $1200 to President C. Valentine Boyer in place of the house and grounds usually furnished by the University. This will be added to his present salary of $6500, but even the net salary of $7700 does not come up to the $8904.11 set as the base rate for his pay.

Changes in Base Rate
Pay adjustments in most cases were figured on the "base rate," which is the pay the employee would receive if depression cuts were restored, and "reduced rates," which is the actual pay received.

Changes for the most part were raising his actual pay from $3,965 included.

Charles D. Byrne received a $500 increase on his base pay of $500, raising his actual pay from $3965 to $4,465.50. Byrne's pay was distributed between the three offices he holds—secretary of the state board, director of information, and assistant to the chancellor.

Only two other change are made to "centralized activities" personnel. S. H. Rondeau, half-time auditor, goes to full time in place of the late Sam Kozler with base pay of $2,595.50; actual pay $2,245.11. Ray Herman, clerk, advances from $1620 base to $1720 base, actual pay $1,534.24.

Other University adjustments: E. Lenore Casford, periodical librarian, receives $37.50 to offset teacher's pension loss during summer period; no change in actual pay of $1,835.75.

Willis Warren, reserve librarian, increased from $1,500 to $1,700 base rate; actual pay, $1,516.40.

George Belknap, catalogue editor, base rate increased from $2,000 to $2,200; actual pay $1,922.80.

Clifford Constance, assistant registrar, $2,100 base increased to $2,200; actual pay $1,922.80.

Grace Griggs, recorder, $1,380 base increased to $1,440; actual pay $1,297.44.

Lucile Cornutt, examiner, $1,320 base increased to $1,380; actual pay $1,243.38.

Janet Smith, employment office, $1,500 base increased to $1,800; actual pay $1,605.60.

Beth Beal, secretary (business administration), $1,271.74 base increased to $1,500; actual pay $1,351.50.

C. L. Kelly, no change in $3,780 base or $3,031.56 ordinary pay but $1,200 additional allowed for services in managing Miner building. Total actual pay $4,231.56.

Victor P. Morris, professor of economics, to be acting dean of business administration; base pay of $4,000 advanced to $4,725; actual pay advanced from $3,208 to $3,661.87.
