Webfoots Even Series With Idaho

SPORT CHAT

It wasn't only the rain that dampened Washington State college athletes when they invaded the Webfoot camp this past week. Before the Cougar teams left the Pullman caves, press notices fell out of the mailman's bag like snow in mid-winter and each press notice told how WSC was going to clean up the conference in track, baseball, tennis, and golf. The Oregonian, the Journal, and the Eugene papers heralded WSC teams as "the ones to beat."

And that's just what we did! We split a double-header with them in baseball, after being on our way to winning both of the games, before the big rain. And, we skinned them in track. That was sweet revenge for Col. Bill Hayward and all the lads. For the past two years they have been just barely edged out by the Cougars by a fraction of a point. This year they whipped the Pullmanites by a convincing margin.

Another treat for sport fans is in store next Saturday when the Washington Husky tackles Oregon in a track and field meet on Hayward field. The northerners beat Oregon 76 to 55 at Seattle last year, but they're going to have to hump it to clean the pneumonia-chasing Duck trackmen this season.

Some real races are in store in the 440 and mile runs, and prospects point toward an even more exciting meet than the Ducks and WSC staged last Saturday.

Schools to Give 'Hansel and Gretel'

An adaptation of "Hansel and Gretel" by Humberdine will be presented by the 5th and 6th grade school children of Eugene under the direction of Mrs. Anne Landsbury Beck, professor of public school music, May 19, in McArthur court.

Genevieve Crum and Edwina Anderson, both seniors in the University school of music, will be accompanists for the production. Other practice teachers of the music school will assist the public school music department with the operetta.

"Hansel and Gretel," usually given by an adult opera company, is one of the more difficult operas. This is the first time that the children's adaptation will be given in Eugene. The stage cast for the operetta will be chosen from the various grade schools. The chorus of 500 children's voices will serve the double function of chorus and orchestra.

'Oregon Birds' Topic of Lecture

"Oregon Birds" will be the topic of an illustrated lecture by Dr. R. R. Huestis, professor of zoology, at the eighth of the year's series of popular science lectures to be presented tonight at 8:00 p. m. in Villard hall.

This lecture will mark the conclusion of the series of lectures planned by the science faculty and directed by Dr. A. E. Caswell, professor of physics, intended to popularize scientific topics by presenting non-technical discussions. The lecture will be free to anyone interested.

Radio Programs Planned by Hopkins

George Hopkins, professor of piano, will present three of his pupils in a series of broadcasts over KORE beginning this evening at 8 o'clock when Lois Anne Whipple, freshman in music, will be heard.

Genevieve Ide, 14-year-old musician from Portland, who has been studying with Prof. Hopkins for some time, will play May 12. She will also appear in a concert to be given the same evening at the school of music by pupils of Prof. Hopkins.

On the final program of the radio series on May 19, Marjorie Scobert, daughter of Frank W. Scobert, Eugene, will be heard.

Idaho Nine Wilts Under Duck Power: Webfoots Win 4-1

Millard Hurls Oregon to Victory; Pitcher Gets 9 Strikeouts; Idaho Wins Saturday, 8-7

Bob Millard, Oregon's sophomore southpaw, limited the Idaho Vandals to three scratch hits on the sawdust freshman field yesterday afternoon and Howard Hobson's Webfoots evened the series with an easy 4-to-1 win.

Millard was just wild enough to keep the Idaho batters from taking a toe hold at the plate. He walked five men and hit three but more than offset that with nine strikeouts. The only hits off his left-handed slants were two singles by Wally Geraghty and one by Bill Kramer. The lone run was unearned.

Millard Robbed of Shutout
Last week Millard led Washington to State down with four hits and tacked a 4-to-0 shutout to his record. Yesterday the ex-Grant high pitcher was even more effective and only bad breaks robbed him of another whitewash.

Oregon's runs came one at a time, in the third, fourth, fifth, and seventh. The ducks found Clarence (Racehorse) Hallberg, Vandal left-hander, for only seven hits but they made them count in the clinches.

Oregon's crew scored in the third without a base hit. Ralph Amato, first up, drew a walk, was sacrificed to second by Chief McLean, and took third on Goodin's infield out. After Andy Hurney worked Hallberg for another pass, Amato crossed the rubber as Catcher Baldwin threw wild in an attempt to cut off Hurney as he tried to steal second.

Pitcher Tallies in Fourth
Millard scored Oregon's second run after an infield single as first up in the fourth. The Webfoot twirler looped a hit over first and raced into second as Right Fielder Anderson let the ball roll through his legs. Millard took third as Lewis filed to Katsilometes in center field and scored on Bill Courtney's second single of the fray, a sharp drive to center.

Chief McLean lashed a triple into centerfield with one out in the fifth and cantered home with Oregon's third run when Hurney poked a single to the same spot. McLean tallied Oregon's final run in the seventh. The Chief drew a walk and completed the circuit as Goodin doubled to center.

Idaho Run in Fifth
The unearned Idaho run came in the fifth. Millard hit Wishart, first batsman of the frame, with a pitched ball. Pitcher Hallberg sacrificed him to second, and after Goodin had made a beautiful running catch of Anderson's foul for the first out, Wishart took third when Lewis muffed Kramer's roller. Pesky Wally Geraghty was up next and the Idaho pepper pot smacked a single to right field to ruin Millard's shutout.

Coach Hobson shifted his batting order for the game, moving Amato into the leadoff spot and putting Courtney down in eighth. Courtney apparently took a liking to the niche, for he maced out two singles to tie McLean for hitting honors.

Next start for the Webfoots is Friday afternoon, when Washington plays here.

Eight in Infirmary; None Have Measles
Eight patients were in the University infirmary over the last weekend, and for the first time this term, none of them had measles.

Those confined are: Guy Simpson, Dorothy Reed, Norma Strom, Mary Graham, Esther Clausen, Mary Benson, Althea Burghardt, and Ruth Weber.
Faded second defeat in the two season of northern division pitching in the series opener Saturday afternoon, 8 to 7. The tilt was played on Howe field.
The Vandals got away to a seven-run lead in the first four innings, and the Webfoots spent the remainder of the game in a vain effort to catch up. Three hits, a base on balls, and an error by Summers gave Oregon three runs in the sixth, and in the eighth Bud with Andy Hurney aboard. Millard tripled and McFadden doubled to drive in another and put the Ducks within one of knotting the count, but Pitcher Black tightened and held them scoreless in the ninth.
Hurney, Goodin, McFadden, and Millard, all with two hits, were the leading Oregon bludgeoners of the day.

Duck Trackmen Beat Cougars In Close Meet

Oregon Breaks Old Jinx Held by WSC; Victory By 8 Full Points

The University of Oregon's track team came through with flying colors Saturday in defeating the powerful Washington State track and field squad on Hayward field 69½ to 61½. Under the watchful eye of the veteran coach, Bill Hayward, the Ducks made a fine showing in downing the Cougars, who have held a jinx over the Oregon teams for several years.

One conference and six meet records were shattered in Saturday's meet. Bill Benke of Washington State, broke the 30-year old northern division broad jump mark by five full inches when he hurtled through the air to establish a new record of 24 feet, 8 inches. The mark was previously held by Kelley of Oregon, who jumped 24 feet, 3 inches, in 1906. Benke also set a new meet and field record in the 440-yard dash sprinting around the oval in :48.7.

Rud Shoemaker, duplicated his last year's feat by again winning both the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Shoemaker sped down the 100-yard stretch in :09.8 to tie the meet record that he set last season.

George Scharpf, Oregon track captain, beat out Cariker in a fast mile. Scharpf was able to set a new dual meet record of 4:21.3, in this event. Edell Bryant ran the fastest mile that he had ever run to take a third in this event. Bryant also entered the grueling two-mile event and finished third, although he had never run it before.

Sam McGaughey beat out Scherger in the two-mile race to establish a new dual meet record of 9:44.6. Squeak Lloyd had another big day under the Oregon colors, as he took seconds in the 100-yard sprint, broad jump and high jump. Janak hits 6 feet 1 7-8 inches.

Marvin Janak, ace Duck high jumper, set the bar up to a new meet record of 6 feet 1 7-8 inches. Janak also took first in the pole vault. Koskello and Patterson proved their worth to the Webfoot team, although neither man took a first.

Duck Tennis Team Trails Huskies

Rain Halts Play After Two Matches Are Finished at Seattle

Rain halted the tennis match Saturday between Oregon and Washington at Seattle with Washington leading two matches to none.

Pal Rosenberg, number one player for Washington, downed Jack Crawford 6-2, and 6-1. Bill Carpo, Washington number four, defeated Larry Crane 6-3, and 6-3.

In the incompleting singles matches Oregon was leading in two, and Washington in one. Chuck Eaton, Oregon number two, was trailing Ken Klegg after losing the first set 1-6. John Economus, Oregon number three, took the first set from Barney Grevstad by the score 6-1. Norman Winslow, Oregon number five, was leading Dick Mosier by taking the first set 6-4.

Oregon would probably have lost the match by the score 4-3, at the best, granting the two singles points, it is doubtful if the Ducks have a doubles team that could defeat Rosenberg and Klegg. The seven men making the trip were: Jack Crawford, Chuck Eaton, John Economus, Larry Crane, Norman Winslow, Worth Chaney, and Bill Zimmerman.

Etchings Shown At Libe Display

The etchings of Gordon Gilkey, graduate student in the school of architecture and allied arts, are featured in the library display this week. The arrangement was made by Miss Gladys Yoder, secretary to M. H. Douglass.

Mr. Gilkey is working for his master's degree in etching in the art school. His display includes a group of construction essays showing the new library in its various stages of growth. The group in the upstairs showcase includes an etching of one of the corners of the browsing roof.

ATO's Defeat Omega Hallmen 10-3 in Tilt

Win Gives Alpha Tau Omega Second Place Honors in League

Alpha Tau Omega pounded out a 10 to 3 win over Omega hall yesterday to ring down the curtain on the 1936 intramural season and also to win second place in the championship tournament in softball, placing second to Beta Theta Pi. Official results on the outcome of the year's intramural competition will not be available until tomorrow.

After three scoreless innings the ATO nine found the apple in the fourth and shoved three runs across the home plate. Scott singled, Strobles' hunt was good, and Anderson walked to fill the bases. Gordy Morris then patted a single to score Scott with the first run of the game. A lusty double by the ATO middle-gardener brought Anderson and Morris home after Strobles was caught out at second.

The next inning, the fifth, saw four more tallies for the winners chalked up on the score sheet. Marshall doubled on Kato's error, and Scott walked to put two men on. Strobles' long single to center brought both Scott and Marshall home. Anderson's single was too hot for Don Casciato, Omega third-sacker, and Strobles scored on an overthrow at home plate. Anderson later scored on the second double of the day by the ATO center fielders. Omega hall was not to be shut out, however, and started fighting in the fifth. Howard Overback patted a double, later scoring Omega's first run on Ogura's double. In the sixth Kipper was passed, Casciato advancing him with a single. Roth's hit was good, but Kipper was caught out at home. Anderson walked Shimoyama to fill the bases. Another lusty blow by Howard "Hero" Overback, brought Casciato and Roth home with Omega's second and third runs.

Game on Ice
The ATO's put the game further on ice by tallying three more runs in the seventh. Anderson singled and ran to third on Morris' single. Andy then scored after the catch of a high fly by Kato, stellar Omega left gardener. Grout's one-bagger, advanced Morris to third, and a long double off the big bat of Keith Wilson, star catcher, drove Morris and Grout in with the final runs of the afternoon. Don "Dizzy Dean" Anderson and Bob Kidder were the rival twirlers, with Andy's mates giving him the game by their heavy stickwork at the plate.

Horace Robinson Plans Summer Trip

Horace Robinson, professor in the school of drama, and his wife are planning an extensive trip this summer in order to visit the drama centers of United States. They will leave the first of August, when Mr. Robinson will have completed teaching his summer courses. The couple will travel south through California, across northern states and up the east coast.

The summer colonies, barn theaters, pageants, play festivals, and new Broadway productions will be visited by the Robinsons in the New England states. They will return the last of September through Detroit and Chicago.
