

Make Your Summer Count by Attending Summer Sessions of University of Oregon

AT EUGENE

Carnegie Art Center — held only at Harvard and the University of Oregon. Visiting instructor: Dr. Eugen Gustav Steinhof of Vienna and New York. Eighteen courses open to regular students of the summer session.

Clinical School in education, offering training in the important field of problem children, with a laboratory and actual case work. Conducted by specialists.

Courses offered: Supervised Remedial Teaching, Remedial Techniques, Diagnostic and Remedial Techniques, Psychology of Atypical Children.

Summer Session Library Courses for students and others who desire, through a series of summer sessions, to secure a certificate in school library work. Eight courses. Visiting instructor: Miss Jessie Boyd of Oakland, California.

Summer School of Athletic Coaching. Prince G. Callison in football; William L. Hayward in track; Howard Hobson in basketball and baseball. Two weeks — June 22 to July 3.

Wide and varied offerings in graduate work, including seminar and thesis courses, with preliminary and final examinations for degree candidates. In the 1935 summer session, a total of 228 graduate students were enrolled for summer work at Eugene.

Departments Offering Graduate Work:

- Anthropology
- Architecture and Allied Arts
- Business Administration
- Economics
- Education
- English
- German
- History
- Law
- Philosophy
- Physical Education
- Political Science
- Psychology
- Romance Languages
- Sociology

Low costs are available for summer students. Fee, regular session, $20; post session, $10. Board and room at dormitory, $7 to $8 a week.

Two Sessions — Campus Session at Eugene, from June 22 to July 31; Portland Session in Lincoln Tigh School, from June 15 to July 31, with one week out (June 29 - July 3) for the N. E. A. meeting. Nine term hours of credit.

Post Session — At Eugene for one month, from August 3 to 28, serving the two regular sessions, and providing in effect a summer quarter. Six term hours of credit.

Regular students of the University of Oregon will find the following important values in summer school:

1. New courses not given in the other terms.
2. Stimulating instructors from other institutions.
3. Opportunity to round out program by taking courses missed during regular year.
4. Opportunity to make up work or to ease up load in regular year.
5. A friendly, informal atmosphere, and individual work with instructors.
6. Freedom from pressure of outside activities.
7. A chance to compete with able and eager adults enrolled in the various classes.
8. If graduating this year, a profitable time to begin graduate work.
9. The benefits of association with school administrators and successful teachers in service.
10. Keeping up the momentum of development of the mind and personality.

COURSES WILL BE OFFERED IN THE FOLLOWING SCHOOLS AND DEPARTMENTS:

AT EUGENE:

ANTHROPOLOGY
ART AND ARCHITECTURE
BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION
CHEMISTRY
DRAMA
ECONOMICS
EDUCATION
ENGLISH
GERMAN HISTORY
JOURNALISM
LAW

LIBRARY
MATHEMATICS
MUSIC
PHILOSOPHY
PHYSICAL EDUCATION
PHYSICS
POLITICAL SCIENCE
PSYCHOLOGY
PUBLIC SPEAKING
ROMANCE LANGUAGES
SOCIOLOGY
ATHLETIC COACHING

AT PORTLAND:

ANTHROPOLOGY
ARCHAEOLOGY
ART
BACTERIOLOGY
BOTANY
BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION
DRAMA
ECONOMICS
EDUCATION
ENGLISH
FRENCH
GEOGRAPHY
GERMAN

HISTORY
JOURNALISM
LATIN
LIBRARY
MATHEMATICS
MUSIC
PHILOSOPHY
PHYSICAL EDUCATION
PHYSIOLOGY
POLITICAL SCIENCE
PSYCHOLOGY
PUBLIC SPEAKING
SOCIOLOGY

OTHER SUMMER SESSIONS IN THE STATE SYSTEM OF HIGHER EDUCATION:

- Oregon State College, Corvallis, June 22 - July 31; August 3 - 28.
- Oregon Normal School, Monmouth, June 8 - July 17; July 20 - August 21.
- Southern Oregon Normal School, Ashland, June 8 - July 17; July 20 - August 21.
- Eastern Oregon Normal School, La Grande, June 8 - July 17; July 20 - August 21.

ASK FOR CATALOGUE OR OTHER INFORMATION AT

Registrar's Office Graduate School Office
Summer Session Office, Extension Division School of Education

AT PORTLAND

Summer School for Writers, One week, June 22 - 26. Intensive program in short story, novel, verse, non-fiction, editing, marketing. Instruction by staff of 40 authors, journalists and specialists. Fee, $5.

Visiting lecturer in literature: Dr. Ernest Sutherland Bates, formerly head of the English department, University of Oregon, now a writer of New York City. Joint author of the recent book, "Hearst: Lord of San Simeon," and author of four former books. He will offer Modern American Fiction, Romanticism in Literature, and American Drama.

The meeting of the National Education Association, largest educational gathering in America, will be held in Portland from June 28 to July 2. The Portland session will have a week's recess during that time.

Special Courses:

- Japanese Art and Culture
- Children's Drama
- Problems of the Consumer
- European Dictatorships
- Outlines of Classical Literature
- Psychology of Personality
- Poverty and Dependency: Social Security

Visiting Faculty:

- Art: Dr. Jiro Harada, Tokyo, Japan; Miss Florence Tilton, University of Minnesota.
- Drama: Mr. L. A. Haydon, Portland Civic Theatre.
- Education: Dr. Jay C. Knode, University of New Mexico; Elmo A. Robinson, San Jose State College.
- English: Dr. V. L. O. Chittick, Reed College.
- German: Dr. G. Q. Morgan, Stanford University.
- History: Dr. Leonidas Dodson, University of Pennsylvania; Dr. Oscar O. Winther, Stanford University.
- Mathematics: Dr. Henry F. Price, Pacific University.
- Philosophy: Dr. S. Kerby-Miller, Reed College.
- Physical Education: Miss Janet Wood, Arizona State College.
- Political Science: Dr. R. M. Katke, Willamette University.
- Psychology: Dr. James P. Porter, Ohio University.
- Sociology: Dr. Charles N. Reynolds, Stanford University; Dr. Dorothy Reed, Principia College.

Summer Session in a Metropolitan Environment. Facilities for recreation afforded by city of 300,000 population. Steamer chartered for cruise on Columbia river to Astoria, July 18.