

AWS 1936-37 Program Includes New Girl-Date Harvest Dance Nov. 21

New activities to be undertaken by the Associated Women Students throughout the coming year include a girl-reverse harvest dance, scheduled on November 21 after the Oregon-Oregon State game, a campus sing, and exchange desserts between women's houses and women's dormitories, according to plans made by Martha McCall, AWS president, and council members at the annual planning conference held last week.

The annual Frish "Get Wise" party will not take place this year. Frish orientation groups and a systematic program to be carried on by pledge trainers will take its place.

All council members agreed that the excessive number of ineffectual honoraries should be reduced and a campaign motto of "Lower dues and do more" was suggested.

Martha McCall announced that $250 had been contributed by AWS for the library browsing room and she urged that houses and organizations cooperate in raising more money for a project that will be of benefit for every University student.

Isabelle Miller, social chairman, reported that all social events must be scheduled by October 8.

MISS KING HONORED
Miss Martha King will be the guest of honor at a dinner given by the Alpha Xi Delta tonight. Miss King is an Alpha Xi Delta from Ohio State college. She is the house guest of Warine Eastburne and Jane Potter.

on the campus enters songs in a contest which in past years was judged throughout "campus sing" week at luncheons by a committee composed of John Stark Evans and two students. Such a program will be initiated by group meetings of song leaders at the Y to receive instructions and "tips."

The two Oregon representatives made the trip to the Far East, to present a medallion ordered for Mr. Matsuoka by the Alumni association in honor of his service for his country. Mr. Matsuoka, since leaving the University in 1900, has represented his country at the League of Nations at Geneva and instituted the famous "walk out" that alarmed the world a year ago. Besides being active politically, he has become director of the South Manchurian Railway and very prominent in Japan's industrial life.

After being met in Japan by Charles Yoshii, also a University of Oregon graduate, the Portlanders were entertained, taken for trips to Yokahama and Tokio in Mr. Matsuoka's private car, and presented to various high government officials.

Monday Mrs. Stevens will be conducted around the campus and will finish her inspection before leaving for Corvallis in the afternoon.

Members of Mortar Board who are entertaining Mrs. Stevens are: Martha McCall, Elaine Comish, Margilee Morse, Helen Bartrum, Mildred Blackburne, and Virginia Endicott.

Alumni Heads Bring Booty From Orient

Treasures from the Orient were brought to Portland by Paul D. Hunt, president of the Portland Alumni association of the University of Oregon, and Miss Ruth Covington, member of the board of governors of the association, when they recently returned from a tour to Japan.

Principal booty of the trip was two Japanese dolls, dressed in native costumes and standing in glass-enclosed cabinets. They were the gifts of Yosuke Matsuoka, Japanese industrialist and statesman, and graduate of Oregon.

Advisers for Mortar Board for this year will be Miss Florence Marriot and Mrs. Virgil Earl, Virginia Endicott, president of the local chapter, announced yesterday. The new advisers and Mrs. Stevens will be guests at supper Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. Schwing. Conferences with the officers of Mortar Board and the advisers will be held Sunday evening.

Other guests at the Sunday evening affair will be: Mrs. Alice B. Macduff, Miss Helen Peters, Mrs. Edgar DeCou, Miss Virginia Hartje, Mrs. Frederick M. Hunter, and Miss Esther Payne.

Mortar Board Makes Plans for Entertainment Of National Treasurer

Extensive entertainment is being planned by the University of Oregon chapter of Mortar Board for Mrs. Coral Stevens, national treasurer of Mortar Board, who will come to Eugene October 11 to inspect the local chapter.

Mrs. Stevens, whose home is in Pasadena, California, will visit the local chapter in an inspection tour of the Pacific coast colleges. Sunday the group will take the visitor for a drive on the McKenzie highway and will have dinner at McKenzie Bridge.

Autumn Note Is Introduced At Exchanges

Pumpkin and mince pies with hot cider or coffee are popular desserts at exchanges between fraternities and sororities and such entertainment symbolically introduces the autumn social season. Fall dances and dinners with the autumn leaves and fruit are scheduled for the weekend.

Last night sororities who were hostesses to fraternities were Kappa Alpha Theta to Delta Upsilon, Delta Gamma to Phi Delta Theta, Chi Omega to Phi Kappa Psi, Alpha Phi to Sigma Nu, Gamma Phi Beta to Alpha Tau Omega, and Alpha Gamma Delta to Theta Chi. Fraternities who entertained were Phi Gamma Delta to Delta Delta Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon to Alpha Chi Omega, and Kappa Sigma to Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Tonight the Sigma Chis are hosts to Alpha Omicron Pi and Phi Delta Theta to Pi Beta Phi.

Delta Delta Delta will entertain Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Theta Chi will have Pi Beta Phi as their guests Friday evening.

Hendricks hall is having a dinner for Omega hall tonight with Nettie Rossen in charge of arrangements. Friday night, Susan Campbell hall is hostess for Gamma hall at a dinner dance.

GIRLS!

Meet the Winter With a Leading Winner

GREETINGS to all the fair sex, and others, on the Oregon campus. This year we are featuring this column for your benefit. Start the year right and read, faithfully, UP TO SNUFF, every Thursday. "BE IN THE KNOW."

Seen on the Campus—

The coeds of the campus, this year, seem to have used exceedingly good taste in selecting their fall clothes. FLORENCE (PETER) SMITH, Alpha Chi, has been seen going to and from classes wearing the newest of new, CULOTTES. They are brown flannel with double pleats in the front and back. Over an orange and brown plaid blouse, she wears a green suede jacket. Brown Stetson Highboys complete her outfit.

At H. Gordon and Co., JEANETTE CHAPMAN, Theta, found a brown light weight wool dress. It is trimmed with buttons down the front and a white collar. In keeping with the fashions, the dress features the swing skirt. Just the right thing for football games.

GREETINGS

We welcome you Coeds of Oregon to visit our smart fall fashions for all events.

Cinema

By WINSTON ALLARD

Here it is Thursday with an epidemic of new shows in town or on the way. Killing and comedy all wrapped up and delivered at the Heilig in a neat little package called "Alibi for Murder," so the patron should watch his shiver and chuckle quota. A radio news commentator, played by William Garzan attempts to get a famous inventor on the air for an interview. Instead, he gets a corpse and a beautiful secretary. Everyone has an alibi and the action pyramids until the murderer lands with a sickening thud at the feet of the police.

If you like westerns you'll undoubtedly like "The Three Mess-outiers," playing along at the Heilig, and if you don't like westerns you may like this one anyway. It has a different plot than the standard horse opera and concerns the struggles of a group of disabled war veterans to make a place for themselves in the West after their release from the veterans hospital.

At the McDonald Dick Powell and Stuart Erwin vie for comedy honors in "Stage Struck" and "Women Are Trouble," respectively. We haven't seen the pictures yet but everyone has heard the songs from the Powell opus, "Fancy Meeting You," "The Body Beautiful," "The Income Tax," and "In Your Own Quiet Way."

O'Connell, the genial brass hat at the McDonald says that with two more pictures playing tunes in the box office like "The Gorgeous Hussy," he can install an extra balcony and roof garden.

If you like something for nothing, don't forget that Mayflower guest tickets are good until October 15.

Something New for Open House—

Have you seen some of the hair dresses that KATHERINE MILLS at MILL'S BEAUTY SALON has given the Coeds? She can make you feel terribly dressed up for Open House. Let her help you be the perfectly groomed lady for the occasion.

LOUISE ROBINSON, CHI OMEGA, has the right idea in wearing her quaint black taffeta dinner dress. It is trimmed in starched white lace and tiny cerise velvet bows.

BUD GOODIN, PHI DELTA THETA'S pride and joy, is out of season for football, but is in season for fashion. He found the answer to a college man's prayer when he got the best looking grey single-breasted suit at DeNeffe's. The inverted pleats and belted back make it a very comfortable one.

BUD has competition for being one of the best dressed men on the campus. NED SIMPSON, BETA'S hero, bought the newest gadget on the campus when he got one of DUDLEY FIELD'S Saddle Bag Jackets.

Be sure that you watch for our next week's headline in "UP TO SNUFF," FASHION AND FLASHES.
