

Hall, Pallett on Committees for Tenth Dad's Day

November 13, 14 Date Set; Rook-Frosh Game And Banquet Set for Parents' Program

Barnard Hall was appointed general chairman of the tenth annual Dad's Day on the University campus by Fred Hammond, student body president. Hall and his co-workers have begun their work of contacting fathers of the students and welcoming them to the two-day affair to be held November 13 and 14.

Earl M. Pallett, registrar and faculty chairman of the day said, "There has been some confusion as to the date. Dad's Day has definitely been set for November 13 and 14. Some think that the event will be held in conjunction with Homecoming. This is not true, however."

A freshman football game on the home field will be the highlight of the two-day program. The Ducklings are to play Oregon State's rooks Friday of that weekend. The day for the banquet and the place where it will be held will be named in a few days, Pallett said.

Working with Hall on the Dad's Day committee are Robert Lee, publicity; Robert Moffett, advertising; Phyllis Gardner, banquet; Josephine McGilchrist, registration; and Gladys Battleson, secretary. Besides Mr. Pallett the faculty committee consisted of George H. Godfrey, publicity; George Belknap, advertising; Virgil D. Earl, registration; Mrs. Genevieve Turnip seed, banquet; and Clifford Constance, awards.

Co-ops Serving Student Needs, Says Onthank

Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel, told the cooperators of Campbell house recently that student living cooperatives, while furnishing inexpensive board and room, are filling their most important function in giving students a philosophy of life for a society which is becoming more and more sold on the whole idea of cooperation as the most rational way of life.

The experience of group living which many students would otherwise not get, was also mentioned as an important function of the cooperative houses. The housing administration, he said, was once frankly skeptical of cooperative housing, but now looks to it as a vital and growing feature of college life. He congratulated the co-operators for successes of the past year, and particularly urged the development of new leadership to insure the permanency of cooperative housing on the Oregon campus.

Richard Hagopian Wins Phi Mu Alpha Award

The Phi Mu Alpha scholarship has been awarded to Richard Hagopian, a freshman and voice student from Revere, Massachusetts.

Phi Mu Alpha, men's professional music honorary, awards one year scholarship each year to the contestant who, in the minds of the judges, shows the best musicianship, the most accomplishment, and the most promise.

The judges for the contest were Paul Petri, George Hopkins, and John J. Landsbury, all members of the staff of the school of music.

Student Loans Total $2,346 in Last Year

A total of 2,348 student loans have been issued by the loan department of the University in the fiscal year 1935-36. The loans equal $56,248.63 and have been issued to 453 women and 1,893 men.

Freshmen were granted 512 loans amounting to $9,288.58. Sophomores received 800 equaling $17,635.24, juniors received 364 amounting to $8,419.39, seniors received 518 equaling $15,205.47. Loans granted to graduate students number 152 amounting to $5,699.95.

Juniors and seniors are preferred borrowers, since they have demonstrated their ability to do college work successfully. They are within a year or two of graduation and their accumulated indebtedness is not likely to be a burden too heavy for them to carry. Interest on all University loans is charged for at the rate of six per cent, payable annually. In case a borrower renews his loan, the rate of interest is raised to eight per cent.

The personal qualities considered in applicants are: scholastic record, reputation, need for aid, amount of present indebtedness, ability to repay and effort which the student has made to assist himself. All applications are made through the dean of men's office.

Lassen Park Naturalist To Lecture at University

Dr. Carl Swartzlow, park naturalist of Lassen national park in California, will give a lecture at the University of Oregon October 22 on Lassen national park, which will include not only the geology of the park, but also the research and educational program carried on by the park.

This lecture will be the first in a series of popular science lectures to be sponsored by the science faculty and the University museum. Dr. Swartzlow is from the University of Missouri, and is in the west on a two-year leave of absence. He will also speak before the geology classes.

Music Group to Give Smoker Monday at 8

The annual Phi Mu Alpha smoker will be given in the lounge of the school of music next Monday evening at 8 p. m.

All men students are invited to this informal get-together. Entertainment will be provided by the pledges of the organization who will present instrumental and vocal numbers. Refreshments will be served.

YMCA Cabinet to Meet At Mossy Maples Camp

A group will meet at the YMCA bungalow at 8 o'clock Thursday evening to sing Oregon songs. The meeting under the direction of Mrs. E. P. Seifert, is open to girls who like to sing. Girls who play the banjo, mandolin or guitar are asked to bring their instruments with them.

Yeomen Expect Increase In Members This Year

The Yeomen will meet at 7:30 Monday night in Gerlinger hall. Entertainment will be in the form of a dancing class.

The Yeomen are expecting an increase in membership this year ranging from 200 to 250, exceeding last year's figure of 120 members.

YWCA Schedules

Living organizations will be called Tuesday for their orders, to be delivered Thursday.

Wednesday will be campus day; Thursday, houses and faculty; Friday, townspeople and hotels; and Saturday, the football game. Booths will be set up in McMoran and Washburne, also on Friday.

Each chairman will choose at least five girls to work under her and those having campus booths will have several each for different hours of the day.

Working with Miss Edmonds are Beth Pratt, house orders; Frances Olson, hotels; Betty Meek, secretary; Myra Hulser, publicity; Margaret Carmen, treasurer; Jean Ackerson, campus; Kae Coleman, faculty; Dorothy Dinslow, town orders; Frederica Merrell, booths; and Marionbeth Wolfenden, football game.

Voice Records

The recordings are made on aluminum alloy disks which may be played on any phonograph. During the second term all students in the extempore speech classes will have a second recording made on the back of their first ones to show what change or improvement has resulted from a term's training in speech.

Marian Morse Is New President Of Spinster Club

Marion Morse, sophomore, was elected Wednesday as president of the Spinsters' club, national service organization for town women. Jessie Rae Atwater, junior, was chosen as vice-president of the women's organization; Gayle Buchanan, junior, secretary; and Jean Schaefer, junior, treasurer. Miss Morse replaced Constance Lewis, who graduated last year and who is now working in Portland.

Oregon chapters of the organization are located in Portland, Salem, Corvallis, Eugene and The Dalles. Plans are being laid for raising money for the $100 scholarship which is awarded each year to a Eugene girl, Miss Morse said.

Emerald Ballot

(Continued from page one) vote will not be postponed until after the ROTC debate next week, although the challenging Oregon Committee for Peace and Freedom was active in urging this change yesterday.

The daily has editorially affirmed its stand in the interests of the facts involved, the debate should precede the straw vote, but this paper's activities in the latter part of next week would not allow proper play to the poll results at that time.

Debate Time Uncertain

The Oregon Liberty association has declined to debate before the vote or during its first day, Monday. Difficulties in organizing the compulsory sentiment into an active group and in selecting debaters was cited by Robert Prescott, active member of the association, as the reasons for the delay. The expected details of the time and place of the debate, therefore, were not available as the Emerald went to press last night.

Unique in the ever-increasing national pastime of straw votes, the Emerald's poll will be conducted more along the lines of an actual vote. Names will be checked off a list of all the students in the University as the ballots are handed out to voters by the poll clerks.

Classifications Listed

It is believed this new plan will be an insurance against unfair voting. Any student in the University is eligible. The ballots will indicate the presidential choice, opinions on voluntary or compulsory ROTC, sex, year, major school, independence or affiliation in regard to fraternities and sororities, and in the case of men, whether or not they have taken any course of compulsory training here.

Next week the Emerald will print a daily survey of the results in regard to the many angles made available by the classifications listed. Two large committees have been named to clerk the polls and to tabulate the totals. The Emerald has endeavored to contact persons of every political belief for representation on the committees.

Send the Emerald to your friends. Subscriptions only $3.00 per year.

Oregon Graduate Goes To Harvard University

Irving Anderson, a graduate of Oregon, now has a position in the psychology department at Harvard university.

He obtained his bachelor's degree in 1932 and his master's degree in science from Oregon. He studied under Dr. Seashore of the University of Iowa.

He married Josephine Potts in 1933, an Oregon graduate in sociology, of that year.

Broadway to Give Style Show Today

The Broadway Incorporated will stage its semi-annual style show in the parlor of the chamber of commerce building Friday evening, October 16 at 8 o'clock. Hand knits from Fleishers Yarns, Incorporated will be shown under the supervision of Miss Hazelle Bozeman. Assisting her will be Miss Mary Ann Franzwa, instructor in knitting at The Broadway, and several models.

The second half of the style show will be devoted to the showing of fur coats, sport coats, dresses, knitted suits, formals, and accessories. Music will be furnished by a string trio composed of Elaine Moore, Martha Moore, and Roberta Moffitt. Dorothy and Joanne Ward will entertain with tap dancing.

Thomas Issues

(Continued from page one) An advance guard of Oregon students will enter Portland tonight. Many students are expected to leave this afternoon by auto. No official rally will be held Friday night.

Students will be greeted by an enthusiastic and well-practiced rally team. The yell leaders have accumulated an interesting repertoire of antics and gymnastic tricks.

Ends Are Scarce

Pot and Quill Plans Short Story Contest

An original story contest for campus women will be conducted by Pot and Quill, women's writing honorary. From these stories, which are to be turned in by November 15, the organization will select its new members.

Short stories, poems, plays, and any other form of literary work will be accepted. The manuscripts may be of any length and may deal with any subject.

The place where the stories are to be turned in will be announced later. Judges will be active and alumni members of Pot and Quill. The meeting of the group planned for last evening has been postponed until next Tuesday.

Interpreter

(Continued from page one) she wrote in an article published that November in the Saturday Evening Post, because he was a superb opportunist and understood Germany, then crying for an outlet. He cleverly played his trump card: militarism.

Germans like to be dictated to, she wrote. It pleases them to be part of a system, to unquestioningly perform a duty. Hitler knew how to appeal to their class-consciousness. Mrs. Ross, who with her husband is visiting at the home of Dean and Mrs. John Bovard, said the school which she was attending was closed and that post-modernism which had rapidly been gaining momentum, was stifled.

Khaki-clad Nazis present a united front now, but behind it is a people whom Bismarck described as having innumerable varied interests. Some day, she wrote, Germany's status as a nation must be determined.

Hitler Teaching Needed

"If Germany must continue to suffer before she learns the solution, then she needs someone like Hitler to teach her that political histrionics are not the answer to this crisis," Mrs. Ross concluded in her article.

Thus, back in 1932, an article, which was pooh-poohed by followers of the European situation and even by friends of Nancy Ross on the University of Oregon faculty, has been proven true to the letter.

After interpreting Germany as she saw it, Nancy Ross returned to the United States to publish her first novel, "Friday to Monday." The past several months she and her husband, a federal architect, have been touring the country in a car and yacht-like house-trailer. In it she has a library of 150 books, and an extensive collection of modern art studies. "Even an ice-box and electric stove," she added.

Speaks to Editing Class

Mrs. Ross spoke to Dean Eric Allen's class in editing Thursday morning about a modern art-appreciating system suggested for the browsing room in the new library.

While attending the University, Mrs. Ross was a member of Theta Sigma Phi, Pot and Quill, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and wrote special features for the Emerald. She will be in Eugene until the middle of next week.
