Bandon's Trouble

By DARREL ELLIS

Buenos Aires Bound

In order to make a personal appearance at the Inter-American peace conference, which he initiated, President Roosevelt last night tentatively scheduled a hurried voyage to Buenos Aires next month, according to White House spokesmen.

The president is expected to deliver a ringing denunciation of international armed conflict and give added impetus to the conference's purpose of abolishing war from the western hemisphere.

Election Rehearsal?

With about 475,000 workers directly affected, several of the nation's largest steel concerns yesterday voted to raise their pay scales about 10 per cent, and the entire industry was expected to concur with the increased scale after November 16.

For U. S. Steel and Bethlehem subsidiaries alone the increase, on the basis of 1935 payrolls, was expected to amount to $33,000,000 a year.

Alaska Anticipates

Alaska, evidently in anticipation of the nation-wide maritime strike, had stocked up with $2,500,000 more commodities the past two months than during the same period a year ago, customs authorities revealed yesterday.

According to union officials, Juneau merchants have ample food supplies for the next 60 to 90 days. Reports further indicated that the unions stood ready to negotiate with Alaska shipping lines in the event of a food shortage.

Flames Again

"Maybe lightning doesn't strike twice, but what about fires?" Bandon residents are beginning to query.

The flame-torn community all most lost its chief remaining industry yesterday when fire threatened the destruction of the Moore Mill and Lumber company. Damage was estimated to be slight.

Pensions Planned

With 26,000,000 workers to be listed under the provisions of the social security act, government authorities yesterday completed plans to start the gigantic administration machinery rolling in about ten days.

The pensions, which will range from $10 to $85 a month, according to the earnings of the worker, will take effect with the taxes January 1.

Propaganda Stopped

Influences of politics and propaganda was banned in France's armed forces, as the French senate yesterday passed a resolution forced by conservatives who opposed it.

Stanford Shows
Shove Rates Up;
Students Strike

Stanford university and Palo Alto high school are planning a boycott of the local theaters. The Palo Alto theaters recently raised their rates simply because they had a monopoly. The schools will be striking for student rates of 25 cents.

They are considering striking also for the death of the double bill and the return of Mickey Mouse.

Take Under, Students

"Today's undergraduate is sophisticated, in-on-the-know, intelligent, clever, cynical, sure. He is not burdened with a sense of humor, he entertains self-pity, he thinks the world owes him a living, he is understandably apprehensive, he is tempted to drop his piece of meat for what he sees reflected in the water. He is not inclined to properly evaluate the country in which he has played no pioneering part. He does not believe in Santa Claus," says Fannie Hurst in panicking the undergraduate.

Hats Greet Prof

A group of students on the Hastings campus was reprimanded severely for leaving the class at ten minutes after the hour when the professor failed to appear. The next day when he met the class he said, "You could see I was here. My hat was on the desk." The next day the professor found the room empty but found a hat on each desk.

DUCKS DOPED TO TOP UCLA

Rooters Vacate Campus to Go to UCLA Contest

Special Rally Train Off To Portland at 8:45; Many Also Expected to Go in Cars

Following the advance guard of Oregon rooters who left the campus yesterday via trains, cars, and the open road, several hundred more enthusiastic Webfoots are expected to head for the UCLA contest in Portland today.

Today's special rally train will leave at 8:45 a.m. Round trip tickets have been reduced for the trip. Southern Pacific officials announced last night. At least 100 Duck supporters will probably en-train.

Rally Dance Friday Night

The first pre-game rally dance was held Friday evening at the Uptown dance hall in Portland. Rooters were admitted at reduced rates.

The Oregon rally committee left Friday afternoon to complete arrangements for the dance and rally stunts Saturday, before and during the game.

Cramming Rush For Mid-Terms Sets Libe Record

"Thursday we had the largest circulation we have had for four years," declared Willis C. Warren, reserve librarian, speaking of the circulation from Condon library.

Volumes given out numbered 1,622, the greatest number since January 12, 1932, when 1,827 books were recorded. Approximately 60 per cent of the books were for students of beginner's psychology, backgrounds of social science, or principles of economics. A quiz in three sections of beginner's psychology can account for many of the books, with the last-minute "cramming" rush.

Thursday was the fourth consecutive day this week in which the circulation ran over 1,000, establishing the record for this term.

Old Libe Soon to End Thirty-Year Service

By BEULAH CHAPMAN

Thirty years of service for the old libe will be ended winter term, when the 275,000 volumes composing the Oregon library will be moved to the new building. This will be the library's eighth move in its 54 years of existence.

Built in 1907, the old libe is the only building ever erected on the campus as a library. For although various departments adequately and conveniently through the years it has usually been at the tail-end of most of the building and development of the school.

When the University was founded in 1876 with one building, Deady hall, there was a delay about securing a library. Until 1882 the University's only "library" was 500 books obtained by the Laurean and Eutaxian, two literary societies on the campus.

In that year Henry Villard, pioneer railway builder of the West, gave 1,000 worth of books to start a local library. At first this was located in Prof. Mark Bailey's office in Deady hall. Besides teaching mathematics and astronomy, Professor Bailey served as librarian from 1884 to 1891.

In 1885 the 625 books were moved to a corner in Villard hall,

These three lads will be in there making it tough for Oregon on Multnomah field this afternoon.

Vernon Sprague Condition Better

Injury Is Fractured Skull Say Hospital Officials; Cutler Improved

Condition of Vernon Sprague, injured November 4 in an unofficial football game, was somewhat better, although he was still irrational, it was reported from the Sacred Heart hospital Friday night.

Sprague's injury is definitely a fractured skull, according to hospital officials. He will be confined for an indefinite period.

Russ Cutler, gym instructor, who received a broken cheekbone during his touch football class last Wednesday, was considerably improved last night. He expects to be back to his classes Monday.

Nothing definite could be learned in regard to the investigation of the intramural sport by Paul R. Washke. Indications are that most accidents have occurred in unregulated games.

Announcement of Alumni Secretary May Be Made Next Week, Says Gilbert

A decision on the appointment of traveling alumni secretary will be forthcoming some time next week, it was reported yesterday by Dean James H. Gilbert, head of the alumni committee in charge of selection of a secretary.

Announcements of plans awaits the return and approval of C. Valentine Boyer, president of the University, who is out of town at present.

The office of alumni secretary has been vacant since Robert Allen resigned last summer. On October 10 it was reported that efforts were being made to appoint a new man by homecoming time, but nothing was accomplished.

Under the original plan, fraternities and sororities were to contribute $1000 a year to the expenses of maintaining a secretary, the balance to be paid by the alumni association.

Fraternities Cause Delay Failure of the fraternities to approve their $3.50 contributions per month for each house added to the delay. Sororities, on the other hand, announced their 100 percent support of the contributions over three weeks ago.

In the opinion of those connected with the selection of a secretary, fraternities and sororities will not be asked for contributions, although the way has not been closed for them to secure material in regard to incoming students.

Last reports on the situation indicated that thirteen or fourteen applicants were being considered for the position. The secretary when appointed will act as a traveling contact man for the University, aiding in interesting high school students in Oregon.

Call for Coeds; Bashful Lawyer Still Needs Date

Girls, girls! Where are all those girls? Surely, out of all the comely coeds in this University, one must want a date with a handsome young law school Lothario.

A whole day has slipped by with earnest law students anxiously awaiting the first clatter of high heels on the venerable stone steps of the law school, and—no clatter! Now they're betting 2 to 1 that "X-3" won't get a date.

Girls, something must be done to remedy this awful situation. Can it be that there is not a girl in school willing to take a chance? Think, girls. Haven't most of you taken blind dates? And haven't most of them been with a whole lot less assurance of the character of your prospective escort than the dignity and reputation of the law school provides? Well then, what's stopping you? It's still not too late if you hurry!

Remember, see Dick Devers at the law school and ask about X-3.

Erratic Bruins Face Crack Oregon Line, New Aerial Attack

Webfoots Picked to Snatch First Win In Conference Round-Robin; Yerby, Gammon Passing Act Ready

By PAT FRIZZELL (Emerald Sports Editor)

Oregon's rejuvenated Webfoots, armed with a passing attack and a stone-wall line, taste conference gridiron play again this afternoon when they roll into action against an up-and-down Bruin horde from UCLA in Portland's Multnomah stadium. Opening kickoff is at 2 p.m.

Prince Gary Callison's crew, which startled the football world by holding Washington to a slim 7-to-0 win a week ago, rates as a slight favorite to down the Bruins. UCLA stumbled before Stanford in a tremendous upset last Saturday, 19 to 6.

For the first time in several seasons, the Webfoots are assaulting their foes through the air. They began heaving the pigskin last week when Dave Gammon and John Yerby took over left end to snatch Gammon's passes. Today more aerial maneuvers are expected from the Uclan machine.

Oregon Completes Passes Oregon completed eight passes against the Huskies, more than were completed in five previous games, and all this week in practice Coach Callison has drilled his team further on overhead plays. To go with the passes, the Webfoots have an improved running attack which promises to make things interesting for Bill Spalding's charges.

UCLA was admitted to the coast conference in 1928, and every season since, Oregon has played the Bruins. The Webfoots have copied the rosy half of the score six times in eight games.

1932 Game Thriller The greatest Frank Merriwell finish in Pacific coast conference history came in an Oregon-UCLA contest in Portland in 1932. The Webfoots were leading, 7 to 6, with less than a fleeting minute to play, and the Bruins were cooped up deep in their own territory. A sophomore named Ransom (Pants) Livesay dropped behind his goal line and heaved a pass to another sophomore, Mike Frankovitch. The latter snagged the ball and raced for a touchdown, scoring after the final gun had sounded, giving the UCLA an amazing 12-to-7 triumph.

Last fall a strong gang of Bruins ground the Webfoots into the turf of the Los Angeles coliseum, 33 to 6. Today Callison's brigade is out to avenge that massacre.
