

THE Firing Line

By PAT FRIZZELL

It's a bit late to be talking about last week's grid games. The games come, shock the fans, and go so fast that last week's football is like last week's ice cream.

However, one question arising from embers of last Saturday's gridiron fires still lives. Did a slow whistle beat the Webfoots in the UCLA game?

Yes, said about three thousand of the six thousand-odd spectators. No, said the other six thousand.

Most certainly Referee Jack Friel didn't rival any chain lightning when Izzy Cantor of the Bruins was apparently halted by Oregon's defense in that first quarter. Cantor, you few who viewed and booed the play will recall, came to a standstill in Webfoot arms momentarily, then spun completely around and continued unmolested for nine yards and the winning touchdown.

Calm and collected reasoning five or six days later tells us that Referee Friel, who does an A-1 job of coaching Washington State's basketball team in winter months, was right. The rule states that the ball carrier is not down unless he is so held that his forward progress is stopped or some portion of his body other than hands and feet touches the ground.

Cantor was standing upright, blocked by a pile of Oregon players. When he wheeled around and dashed on, it proved that his forward progress wasn't stopped. It looked as if he had been stopped momentarily, however. The Webfoots thought so. They relaxed and looked silly.

This wasn't the only time in the Bruin game that Friel was apparently slow with his whistle, but a touchdown was scored on the play and therefore it called forth the most protest.

Gene Shields, Oregon's line coach, didn't see Saturday's game (he was scouting), and he believes Friel was probably right on the

Women's Hockey Games Played With New Setup

A tournament of seven games, played by two teams chosen from those who turned out for women's hockey practices, has been substituted for the usual round robin tournament played by class teams. The change was made so teams would be of more equal strength. In the first two games, the Snowflakes, captained by Gertrude Branthover, defeated Cal Scott's Chihuahuas, 4-0, and 5-1.

Broad jump: first, Julius Scruggs, Delta; second, Milo Lacey, Beta; third, Jim Jones, Phi Psi. Distance: 20 feet 6 1-2 inches. In charge of the meet was Russ Cutler, physical education instructor.

Webfoot Hoop Team Will Play UCLA at Igloo

Bruin Contest Scheduled December 12; Squad Cut to 15 by Hobson; Scrimmage Slated

Oregon's varsity basketball team will play the Bruins of UCLA at McArthur court the night of December 12, it was announced yesterday by Howard Hobson, Webfoot coach.

Hobson has been drilling his basketballers on fundamentals for the past two weeks and plans to start scrimmages the first of next week. First pre-season games are less than three weeks away, but dates for contests with teams other than UCLA are not yet definite.

15 Men Remain
The squad was cut by Mentor Hobson last week, and 15 men now make up the daily turnout. Two or three more are expected to report at the close of football season.

Five lettermen are on the squad, but only one of the five was used as a regular last winter. Dave Silver was a first stringer during the latter part of last season, when he was a sophomore. Other monogram wearers are Johnny Lewis, Bill Courtney, Ken Purdy, and Bill Harcombe. Harcombe won his letter in 1935.

Other men turning out are inexperienced in varsity competition (Please turn to page four)

Ducks Depart With Chips on Each Shoulder

28 Irate Oregon Players Entrain for Berkeley And Battle With Bears Of California

Twenty-eight Oregon football players boarded a train for Berkeley Thursday noon, and on the shoulders of each one was a great big chip.

The Webfoots met bears last week in Portland and lost. But those bears were the UCLA bears. Saturday at Berkeley they meet a bunch of Bears, spelled with a capital B. They aren't counting upon losing to California's Bears, despite tremendous odds against them.

Prink Callison expressed the mood of the team before departure by saying, "California hasn't won this ball game by a long way. We're tired of playing just close games. We're out after 'em."

In practice all week the Webfoots exhibited fire and pepper to burn. They gave the appearance of an outfit leading the pack instead of a cellar-dwelling aggregation. And judging from the attitude of the squad, they may not be a cellar gang after Saturday.

The squad will be quartered in an Oakland hotel and will move to San Francisco after the game. The team will return after watching the St. Mary's-Santa Clara fray on Sunday.

Players who made the trip, along with coaches, trainers, and Student Manager Fred Smith, were the following:
Ends—Hank Nilsen, John Yerby, John Engstrom, Leif Jacobsen, Chuck Bracher, Bud Robertson.

Tackles—Del Bjork, Ken Skinner, Bill Fosskett, Pat Furry, Cliff Morris.

Guards—Nello Giovannini, Tony Amato, Joe Huston, Bill Estes, Johnny Pastega.
Centers—Ed Farrar, Vernon (Please turn to page four)

Oregon Ducklings To Face Rook Team In Season's Final

Dads' Day Crowd To See Second Tilt of Annual 'Little Civil War'; Two Squads on Par

By ELBERT HAWKINS
Hayward field will be the battleground tonight for the season's second gridiron classic between Oregon's sensational frosh eleven and the fast-stepping Oregon State rooks, in their annual "little civil war" series. Time for the opening kickoff is set at 8 o'clock.

Tonight's clash is the climax game of the '36 campaign for both teams and is expected to draw a large group of Oregon Dads' day fans, in addition to a contingent from the Oregon State campus. The Duckling eleven emerged with an 18-to-6 victory in their first clash at Corvallis three weeks ago, capitalizing on three long runs of over 70 yards.

Teams Rated Even
Dopesters are rating the freshman elevens about even for tonight's game, expecting the fracas to develop into a bitterly-fought, wide-open set-to. The Webfoot yearlings are gunning for a second straight victory to clinch their claim to the mythical northwest freshman grid title.

Coach John Warren's men are given a slight edge on season's performances, but rate underdogs according to precedent set by the clubs five years ago of splitting their annual two-game series. Not since 1931 has one team taken both clashes.
