

PINK Lemon--Aid

By JOHN PINK

With old Frizzell-puss languishing in the infirmary you are going to get this stuff a la Hopkins. Short short story: There was once a bunch of the boys who were fond of playing the game of basketball. And all these boys went to the same little school, where there wasn't so much money but the atmosphere was nice and the food good. And these boys practiced and practiced, and never went out nights and never went down to that awful Side—in fact they were nice boys. And these boys had a nice coaching person, too. And this coaching person understood the boys, because when he was a young man and full of the stuff that young men are full of, he had gone to the same school and had played the game called basketball and played it good, too.

And these boys played in a kind of a league, or what they call a conference. And these boys played one other school that was considered tough. And they rolled these boys up and sent them home one night, and they got rolled up and sent home the next night themselves. So they went down the road a bit and played some boys that were called arch-rivals. And the boys that had lived right and wrote home to their mothers and studied their Shakespeare threw the ball in the basket one more time than the arch-rivals, and won.

But the boys and girls that paid to go to school didn't think so much of this, yet. So these boys went travelling one day, and pretty far, too. And they waxed one team one night, and they got polished themselves, the next. But then these boys got to thinking that this wouldn't do so they beat it over to another place where they had basketball boys and proceeded to wax them. Not only the first night, but the second night, too. So then they came home. And while they were gone one of these other schools had been winning some games, and another one had been losing some. So it got that one school had won a lot of games and another one lost a lot.

And so the boys and girls that paid to go to school began to wonder if they were going to get to see that guy who throws in all the baskets for a team that plays in the southern part of this coast. Because when that boy gets through throwing in baskets, he and the rest of the boys are going to come up here, and play one of the little schools that also throws in some baskets than the other schools.

And the reason that the boys and girls began to wonder was this: it so happened that this school that won a lot of games was going to play this school that lost a lot of games. And this school that lost the games was kind of upset. So the boys and girls began to think that this school that lost the games was going to wax this school that won all the games. And then the boys' and girls' school was going to play them. And these boys that won all the games having now lost several would be all nervous and they would then lose a couple of more.

And the boys and girls that paid to go to school about this, and about seeing this guy that throws in all the baskets. And this was all very good and nice, but at this point it will be necessary to continue the story till week after next Wednesday night. But the boys and girls that pay to go to school are thinking anyhow, "Are we going to see that guy that throws in all those baskets?"

Alpha Tau and Abba Dabba Quints Retain Unbeaten Standings

ATO Beats Theta Chi 20-10; Dels Trounce Lose to Phi Psis 26-11 Yeomen 21-16; Comets

By RUSS ISELI
Jay Graybeal went to town for Alpha Tau Omega, slipping in 9 points in the first half of their game with Theta Chi to set his team mates up with a half-time lead of 14 to 4 which the Theta Chis failed to overcome, and the ATOs led 20 to 10 as the final canto ended.

Dunn drew first blood for the Taus, sinking a gift throw which netted one point. Graybeal and Dunn swelled the total with goals from the floor and Graybeal added another as the quarter ended with ATO in the lead 7 to 0. Graybeal and Stafford potted a goal apiece before Phillips sank the first Theta Chi score. Graybeal added a free throw and a field goal and Pink dropped in another Theta Chi counter as the half ended 14 to 4.

Second Half Even
Scoring was even in the third quarter with both teams doing some tight checking. Wyman scored for ATO and Phillips scored for Theta Chi. Stafford opened the last frame with a one-handed field goal. Callahan and Loback followed with two in quick succession for Theta Chi. McKenzie lifted a long one that dropped through the hoop as the game ended, giving the Theta Chis 10 points to the ATOs 20.

Graybeal was easily the outstanding man on the floor for either team. He was also high point man for both with a total of 9 counters. Phillips was high for Theta Chi with 4. The game was played on almost even terms in the second half but the early ATO lead was too large to overcome.

Summary:

Delts 21; Yeomen 16
The Yeomen tumbled to their second defeat last night at the hands of an inspired Delts team who started playing over their heads and kept right on until the end of the game. Final score of the game was 21-16.

Muser and Butler put the Delts into an early lead, both sinking free throws. Carlson potted a gift shot for the Yeomen, but Muser and Webster both tallied field goals, and Webster sank a free throw to give the Delts a 7 to 1 lead at the end of the first quarter. The Yeomen pulled up to tie the score 7 to 7 in the second quarter, but Butler put the Delts back in the lead with a quick crumple as the half ended.

Delts Hit Basket
The Delts rang up 8 points in the third quarter and held the Yeomen to a lone field goal. The Delts were outscored, 6 to 4, in the last quarter but their former lead was large enough to enable them to take the game 21 to 16.

King of the Yeomen led the scoring for both teams with 8 counters. Webster, Delt, was close behind with 7. Scruggs was easily the outstanding man for the Delts.

Phi Psis 26; Comets 11
Don Casciato's Comets went down to another inglorious defeat, this time at the hands of the Phi Psis by a score of 26-11.

The Comets held the score fairly even in the first quarter, but were behind only one point, 5 to 4, but fell behind in the second quarter and the half ended 12 to 6. From then on the Phi Psis scored at will and led 20 to 8 at the third quarter and 26 to 11 at the final tabulation.

Carlson, Lacau, and Sleeter did most of the scoring for the Phi Psis and rang up 8 points apiece. Whitfield led the desultory scoring

Abba Dabbas Victorious Over Pi Kaps; SPEs Top Chi Psis 26-3; Canard Gets First Win

By CHUCK VAN SCOYOC
Unleashing a relentless scoring attack, the Abba Dabbas swamped the Pi Kaps, 33 to 8, to keep a clean record in intramural A league basketball.

Morrie Ward opened the scoring for the Pi Kaps with a beautiful howitzer but this was soon topped when Jay Webber dropped a foul toss and Tom Jacobs potted two crumples. Following Jacobs basket, the Abba Dabbas assumed a lead that was never threatened for the remainder of the game. First quarter score was 8 to 3 for the Abba Dabbas.

Pi Kaps Fail to Score
During the second period the Pi Kaps were unable to mark up a counter while the Abba Dabbas ran up ten more points to bring the half-time score to 18 to 3.

The second half was practically a repetition of the first period. Ed Hopkins led in scoring for the Abba Dabbas while Ward scored the remaining five points for the Pi Kaps. Tom Jacobs was high scorer for the game, tallying 8 counters.

SPEs 26; Chi Psis 3
In a wildly played game that kept spectators in spasms of laughter, the SPEs drubbed the Chi Psis, 26 to 3, in an A league basketball game yesterday.

The first half was a comedy of errors, 12 personals being called. The half scored ended 5 to 2 in favor of the SPEs. Bob Anderson and Wilbur Greenup contributed the only field goals for the SPEs in the first half and Vic Reginato added a foul conversion. Bud Arno son and Doug Ramsey dropped in foul shots for the only points scored in the first half for the Chi Psis.

SPEs Run Wild
The second half was an entirely different story. After a foul conversion by Doug Ramsey, the Chi Psis failed to make another point during the game. Don Anderson went on a wild scoring spree for the Sig Eps when he scored six crumples for 12 counters. Sixteen points were scored in the fourth quarter by the SPEs who paraded through the Chi Psis almost at will. Six more fouls were called during the second half to bring the total to 18 for the game.

Donut Handball Will Open Today

New Courts Will See First Intramural Action in Doubles, Singles

The second event of winter term intramural contests is scheduled to get under way this afternoon when the Theta Chis meet Gamma Hall in the opening game of the annual intramural handball tournament to be held on the new courts at 3:40 p.m.

Courts 42, 44 and 46 have been reserved for the Greek battles, which are expected to continue until February 11. Each team will be composed of four men; two men will be playing in singles competition and the other two will comprise the doubles team.

Each man is required to remain in either the singles or doubles division, as changing of men is not sanctioned by the intramural board. The tournament is on a single elimination basis and as each team loses, they will be automatically disqualified.

There were no participants in last year's scheduled tournament, but the creation of the new PE handball courts is expected to stimulate unusual interest in the tournament. Twenty-six organizations have entered teams and competition is expected to be keen.

Intramural volleyball will begin February 8 and intramural managers are urged to signify their intentions of entering the tournament. The schedule is expected to be arranged in the near future.

Intramural wrestling will start in approximately three weeks and all bone twisters who wish to enter the competition are asked to report to Mr. Bouche for registration.

Ducklings Get Rest Following Two Rook Tilts

Warren's Troopers Have No Games This Week; Frosh Overhaul Early Leads to Win

The Duckling basketballers will get a rest from hoop wars this week following their two terrific clashes with the rooks of Oregon State. No games are at present scheduled.

Far from pleased with their performance, Coach Warren however plans to keep his hoopers busy with continued work on the rudiments of caging a casaba.

Take Both Games
Skipper Warren's only comment on the rook games yesterday, was that his team could stand a lot of improvement. The frosh beat their highly touted rivals twice last week by margins of 8 and 10 points, but moaning Honest John is far from satisfied and plans to pull them out of the doldrums this week.

Work on offense occupied yesterday afternoon's practice session. Only about ten were on the floor, but four of these were first stringers. Ted Sarpola and Bobby Blenkinsop, forwards; Stan Short and Matt Pavalunas, guards; and Wimpy Quinn, who filled in at center in the absence of John Dick, formed the first five.

Slow Starting
The frosh were slow turning on the heat in Saturday's encounter at the Igloo, but when they did start rolling looked hard to beat. They trailed at half-time 23 to 15, but came out in the second half primed to whittle down the lead, and did so at 25 all.

They really hit the bucket in earnest in the last two minutes of play, piling up 12 points in an amazing spree after the score had seen-sawed several times.

Hobson's Quintet Takes 2 Tilts From Idaho; Early Leads Overcome For Victories

Victorious in three out of four contests on the tough Inland Empire trip, Howard Hobson's basketball team returned to Eugene yesterday noon determined to give the University of Washington a real battle for the northern division title when the Huskies invade the Webfoot campus February 1 and 2.

At the present time, the Huskies have won four and lost none, while the Ducks are in second place with five wins and two losses. Hed Edmundson's team has rolled up two victories each over Idaho and Oregon State. The Ducks hold two wins in four games with Washington State, and boast two narrow victories over Idaho and one over Oregon State.

Men Suffer From Colds

Oregon's feat of capturing three out of four games on their difficult road trip was made even more impressive by the fact that nearly every member of his squad was suffering from severe colds. Ken Purdy, Slim Wintermute, Wally Johansen, Bob Anet, and Dave Silver were all afflicted with colds.

Both Idaho games were fiercely fought affairs with Oregon each time overtaking a huge early game Idaho lead to win in the final minutes. Both games were (Please turn to page four)
