

Six Candidates Aspire to Be King of Hearts

Campus 'Wallises' Pick
Their Edward in Tilt
Of Ballots, Scheduled For Wednesday

The King of Hearts, ruler over the Heart Hop, February 12, will be selected by feminine vote next Wednesday. Six candidates have been picked for their manly beauty and charm. They are:

Bill Reese, College Side jerker of sodas and hearts, sophomore in business administration, and a Sigma Chi; Harry McCall, the Phi Delt's darling of the law school, recent campus auctioneer, and president of the Order of O, 35-36.

Candidates Named

Gilbert Schultz, ASUO prexy, trackman, junior in business administration, SAE, lecturer and class debator; Dave Silver, head of the Phi Delta.

1937 Javett speech contestant, and a junior in law.

Don Casclato, Oregon editor "Major Bow-Wow" of the ASUO student-body assemblies, and senior in journalism; Del Bjork, captain of Oregon's football team, SPE, and senior in physical education; Jack Wagstaff, blond ATO, sophomore in business administration.

Others Must Petition

Other students who desire to be on the ballot must have a petition signed by 25 co-eds before next Wednesday.

The Heart Hop will be held Friday afternoon at the Alpha Chi Omega, Chi Omega, Pi Beta Phi, and Kappa Alpha Theta houses. Dancing will be from 3:30 until 5:30 o'clock. Either piano or radio music will be furnished by the houses.

Coronation at Four

Coronation ceremonies for the King of Hearts will be at 4 o'clock at Alpha Chi Omega. Barry Baker, who is in charge of this part of the entertainment, promises a varied and fitting program to entertain the "royal court."

Tickets are now on sale in all women's living organizations. A prize will be the first house having 100 per cent ticket sale. Admission is 25 cents for YWCA members and 35 cents for non-YW members.

All Oregon women may vote for the King of Hearts Wednesday, February 10.

was the second number, "Aurora's Wedding." There was color and pageantry in the court dances of the corps de ballet. The three Ivans brought down the house with their wild, Cossack dances; little Red Riding Hood and the wolf and the Chinese "porcelain" princesses danced diverting and amusing bits. From a ballet standpoint, however, the afternoon's highlight came with the spectacular "Bluebird" number which blonde Titiana Riabouchinska and dark, athletic David Lichine danced together and separately. Lichine's leaps and turns (held in bounds on the small stage) revealed the male dancer at his best.

Not as colorful, but more dramatic and humorous was "The Beautiful Danube," the last number which introduced the most celebrated member of the troupe, Leonide Massine. He not only danced the leading role of the hussar brilliantly but he was the choreographer (dance composer) for the entire number. Massine's distinction which now incite competition.

Meanwhile, he continued, we can reduce dishonesty by helping financially more students who really desire to study and have the ability, so that they may have more time to do so. Although, he said, we can limit the amount of extracurricular activities per student, prohibit the importation of uninterested athletes into college just for their athletic ability, and study the effect of fraternity and sorority membership and participation in campus politics upon cheating.

Furthermore, he concluded, "let us all do what we can to show our children that there isn't much sense in trying to excel in everything, regardless of our natural abilities."

mock Friday night and will then take on the ultra-strong Union Oilers in a game at Astoria Saturday.

Union Oil captured one game from the varsity Webfoots and lost two others by close scores. Thus the Oilers are expected to be extremely stiff competition for the frosh.

Warren and one of his leading players, Ted Sarpola, will be going home on the Astoria trip. For seven years the frosh tutor coached at Astoria and for three seasons Sarpola played there and earned all-state honors.

The game scheduled with the Gardiner town team at Gardiner for last Saturday night was cancelled when it was determined that roads were impassable between here and Gardiner.

The first string Duckling five still consists of Sarpola and Bob Blenkinsop at forwards; John Dick, center, and Matt Pavalunas and Stan Short, guards. Leading reserves include Al Krietz and Burton Boroughs, forwards; Wimpy Quinn, center, and Paul Jackson and Jimmy Jones, guards.

Shipping Strikers End 100 Days' War

Nearly 100 days of idleness were ended Thursday when 40,000 union seamen and longshoremen voted to return to work. Above, maritime workers at Los Angeles harbor casting their ballots. wife, Alexandra Danilova, played the vivacious street dancer.

Although the entire company is extremely competent, Eugene was fortunate in seeing all four of the greatest ballerinas of our times: Irina Baranova, Tamara Toumanova, Titiana Riabouchinska and Alexandra Danilova.

Milne, Benson to Take Part in KOAC Broadcast

Douglas Milne, sophomore in business administration, and Noel Benson, junior in journalism, will take part in the weekly radio broadcast over KOAC Corvallis at 8:45 Tuesday.

Firing Line

Dave Silver, who was in there all the way until public enemies number one and two sent him to the showers.

In the infirmary hawking the radio as he usually hawks the leather sphere was Wally Johansen. "Jo" was rushed to the campus hospital Saturday noon, and it looked bad for Oregon. He's a vital spark in that machine of Hobbs.

Latest reports from the infirmary indicate, however, that Johansen is improving by leaps, bounds, and dribbles, and will be out of the "pest house" before Idaho's victory-starved Vandals assail the Webfoot citadel.

"Happy Days Are Here Again" was the theme song of little Anse Cornell and other interested parties after the Webfoots blasted the Staters. It wasn't only the mark of victory emblazoned on Oregon's escutcheon. It was the intake.

Last year 7514 persons jammed Mac court to watch the Webfoots edge out Wally Palmberg. Saturday night figures were probably below 6500. But varsity ball games, like potatoes, cost more than last year. And the shekels which rolled into Webfoot coffers were doubtless considerable in number.

Incidentally, the Igloo probably held more humanity Saturday than at any time in its history. The Ballet Russe was witnessed by some 4500 persons (it outdrew the Ballet Moose). Add that to 6500 and we have eleven thousand.

UO Alum Writer Honors Thacher

Ernest Haycox, magazine writer and novelist who was graduated from the University of Oregon in 1923, has dedicated his most recent novel to W. F. G. Thacher, professor of advertising and English.

Haycox was graduated from the University fourteen years ago and has since been writing steadily for several of the better magazines. He has also published nine novels. For the past two years he has written exclusively for Colliers, many of his novels appearing serially in that magazine before being published in book form. His latest novel, entitled "Trouble Shooter," is a story of the early days of the West and follows the adventure of a trouble shooter for the Union Pacific railway when it was pushing its tracks into the new country.

The dedication of the new novel reads: "To W. F. G. Thacher, whose old-time talks still remind me of those stories I have not written." Haycox was a student under Professor Thacher.

Herbert Marshall says:
"...a light smoke is a joy to the throat"

"Before I came over to this country an English cigarette appealed to me because it was firmly packed. In America I tried various popular brands looking for the same virtue. Lucky Strike led all the rest. And what's more—I soon discovered that Luckies were a light smoke and a positive joy to the throat."

Herbert Marshall
FAMOUS RKO RADIO PICTURES' STAR

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Mr. Marshall verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen, and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat!
