

AWS Meeting Presided Over By New Hands

Gayle Buchanan Wields Gavel for First Time During Installation in Gerlinger Hall

Gayle Buchanan wielded the AWS gavel for the first time yesterday, after being installed as new AWS president by Helen Bartram, out-going vice-president, at the mass meeting held in Gerlinger.

Vivian Emery was installed vice-president for 1937-1938. Felker Morris, treasurer; Myra Hulser, reporter; Phyllis Gardner, secretary, was not present at the installation.

Reports Given

Miss Buchanan gave a report of the AWS national convention held in April, on the University of California campus. Both she and Miss Emery attended this conclave.

Closing the program were selections by the Alpha Phi trio and a vocal solo by Barbara Ward, accompanied by Irene Honstead.

New and old officers of AWS, YWCA, and WAA were entertained at a banquet given at the Alpha Phi house during the dinner hour last evening. Special guests were Mrs. C. V. Boyer, Mrs. Alice B. MacDuff, and Mrs. Alta Wall.

Casteel, director of the speech division, who urges that all seniors who plan to take part sign up at once as a considerable amount of revision is usually necessary on the oration.

The deadline for entering the contest has been set for Saturday, May 8, and the final contest will be held Friday evening, May 28, in the music auditorium at which time the prizes of $150, and $100 will be awarded.

All graduating seniors are eligible to enter the contest, prizes are made possible by the income from gifts given to the University by Henry Failing of Portland and C. C. Beckman, of Jacksonville.

Camp Cookery Class Presents Anti-War Crisis

Anti-war student Leonard Hufford is afraid he will be obliged to drop camp cookery. He claims it is training in battle technique. And he claims it is the most deadly type of propaganda, because of its subtle, underhanded nature in lending skill and strength to its users.

This realization suddenly dawned upon unsuspecting anti-war student Hufford when he opened a large drawer in the home economics department.

"Goah, what an arsenal," he gasped in awe as he beheld 30 or 40 rolling pins residing in the bin.

Nazis Greet With 'Hiel Hitler', Not Regular 'Hello'

An American using a telephone would find it strange indeed if his proverbial greeting of "hello" elicited nothing but a vituperative tirade but professor of history Arthur Marder told his Modern Europe class Monday that he was faced with just that situation in Germany two years ago when he lifted the received and tried "hello's" German equivalent.

Arriving in Berlin late one night, Professor Marder resorted to the phone in an attempt to secure accommodations in a hotel. He tried the conventional salutation. Back over Bell's famous speaking device came a torrent of swift and expressive German—too swift for him to understand. A second attempt brought a rapid-fire reply, but no accommodations. Subsequent efforts to put across his meaning were equally fruitless.

A passing railway station service man came to Dr. Marder's assistance. He took the receiver, spoke into the mouth piece. "Why," he exclaimed, "you forgot to say 'Hiel Hitler' before you started talking."

Not only conversations but letters are started in Germany with the pledge to the reichsfuhrer, the professor declared. He advised the class to see "Europe this summer for it might not be there next."

Council Passes Rush Week Cleanup Rule

Full details of the interfraternity council meeting which took place at the Phi Delta Theta house last night will appear in tomorrow's Emerald. The council took definite action on its "cleanup week" policy and passed several measures intended to accomplish this end. The meeting did not close until too late to publish the full happenings in Thursday's Emerald.

Dr. Smith Turns Down Science Committee Post

Dr. Warren R.D. Smith, head of the geology department, has been asked to serve as a member of the general American association for advancement of science committee at the Denver meeting in June of the Association of Pacific Coast Geographers.

Dr. Warren D. Smith, head of the geology department, has been unable to accept it as he expects to be in southern Oregon at that time.

Housing Provided For Visiting Moms

Coeds who will be unable to house their mothers in living organizations over Junior Weekend, when they visit the Oregon campus for Mother's day festivities, are requested to see Alice M. Macduff at the dean of women's office as soon as possible for reservations in private homes.

Mrs. Macduff announced last night that the hotels are already full for that weekend, and mothers not being housed in sorority houses will be placed in private homes.

A list of Eugene homes has been turned in to Mrs. Macduff for use by mothers and any friends they may bring. Charges will be $1 a person a night, or $1.25 for two people.

The Portland Oregon mothers club is finding transportation to the campus for mothers on Friday, May 7, announced William Lubersky, head of the student advertising committee, last night.

"Students are requested to tell their mothers if they are from Portland of the rides available and make their reservations immediately," said Lubersky.

The following Portland women will arrange rides: Mrs. Joseph Reich, Ta 6313; Mrs. Reugnitz, Ga 0378; Mrs. Yoram Ta 3229; Mrs. Bennett Ga 2661; Mrs. Cleator, Ga 8429.

Oregon Golfers to

Two meets this weekend will see the undefeated varsity crew go 36 holes Friday against the University of British Columbia on Eugene county club, and the Ducklings travel to Corvallis to mix with the Oregon State Rooks on Saturday.

The frosh today will be minus the expert golfing help of Shelby Golden, No. 3 qualifier, through eligibility rules. Filling in for Golden will probably be Max Peabody, reserve.

Other Duckling aces are Don Coles, Ben Hughes, Bill Rosson, Doc Near, and Charles Phipps.

Sid Milligan's varsity golfers, winners of five matches this season to bring Oregon's victory string to 13 straight in two years, know nothing about their Canadian opponents. The British Columbia golfers come shrouded in mystery, so the outcome of Friday's match is doubtful.

Tentative Oregon lineups are the same as last week's, with Milligan, Walt Cline, Doug Ramsey, Dave Hamley, Bill Watson and Bill Stockton playing in that order.

Duck Netmen

In another thrilling duel, Bill Wanker, transfer from the University of Portland, defeated Vic Ramis, ex-Alabama university star in three sets 2-6, 8-6, 10-8. Walker, playing in place of Larry Crane, experienced considerable difficulty in defeating his more experienced opponent, but managed to outlast him in the two deciding sets.

Eaton Defeated

In the third singles match of the afternoon, Chuck Hoff, former Oregon student, and ex-captain of the Portland university squad, placed the Leader team in front by dropping Chuck Eaton, No. 3 for Oregon, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3. Hoff relied in tricky drop-shots to outplay Eaton.

Bill Zimmerman evened the match count by defeating Jim Presley of the Leader squad in straight sets, 6-1, 10-8. In the opening set, Zimmerman had little difficulty but as the battle progressed Presley put up a stubborn fight before Zimmerman defeated him.

Ducks Win Doubles

In the doubles competition, the Oregon teams found going clear in defeating the Leader duets. Eaton and Economus made it two straight over Ramis and Hoff by 6-2, 6-2 scores.

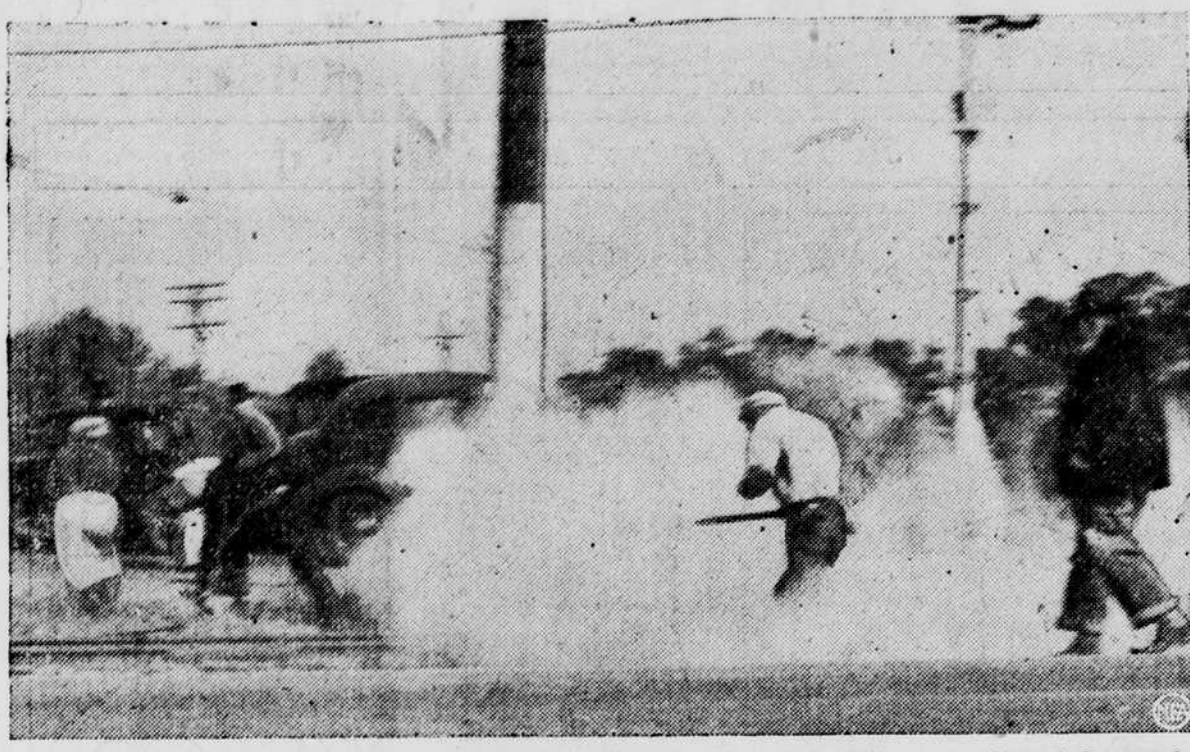

The Webfoot No. 2 combination of Al Finke and Bill Zimmerman had little difficulty in disposing of Presley and Hartman, 6-3, 6-2.

With four victories under their belts, the Ducks will depart on an eastern invasion to Pullman and Moscow at 6:00 a.m. Thursday to open their regular conference schedule. Those expected to make the trip are Economus, Crane, Eaton, Zimmerman and Finke. The Ducks will meet the Cougars on April 30, and then depart to the Vandal meet the next day.

NYA CHECKS

Students are requested to call for NYA checks which are now ready at window two on floor two of Johnson hall.

ROTC Inspected By Army Head

Members of the University ROTC were inspected by Major-General George S. Simonds, commander of the 9th area corps of the army, yesterday. The commander inspected the barracks classes and a special drill company commanded by Del Bjork, local honorary man.

During his stay, the major will give an examination to the senior ROTC students in military tactics. He will also inspect the advanced military classes and their work.

He came to Eugene from Corvallis, where he had inspected the Oregon State ROTC unit. Major Simonds is making his annual inspection trip, covering eight states, during his review of all the ROTC and National Guard units in the 9th area.

After the inspection, he was a luncheon guest at Colonel Murphy's and inspected the local Na-

YMCA Will Sponsor Deputation Committees

Speaking at a Hi Y banquet at McCrady's cafe Sunday, Harold Strawn, president of the campus YMCA, told the 98 high school Hi Y members, who were here for a state meeting, of his intention to tie the YMCA up with the state Hi Y organization.

Strawn told the group that he was organizing deputation teams which would visit high schools and talk to Hi Y members and graduating seniors in an attempt to give them some idea of what college is about. This is not an attempt to sell any one state institution, but it is an attempt to give some helpful information to seniors, he said.

Strawn asks anyone interested in deputation work to see him.

Fraternities of Today Lauded by Old Doctor

College fraternities of today are "way ahead by far" of those of the period around 1870, according to Dr. George O.E. DeBar, a college fraternity man since that time, who was honored at an interfraternity council dinner last night in the Phi Delta Theta house.

As genial and friendly as a present-day fraternity member, Dr. DeBar gave his impressions about modern college life before the council banquet.

Dr. DeBar, who has been affiliated with Phi Delta Theta for 67 years, said that Greek living organizations are better managed today, and control the "wilder fellows in a better manner, and I ought to know because I was one of them."

"You fellows know more in a day now about college and fraternity life than we did in a week," he stated, and added that Greek fraternities are absolutely necessary, as well as beneficial, to modern colleges.

The local chapter of his fraternity honored him at the banquet with a plaque, honoring his 67 years of active affiliation, which was presented by Doug Milne, member of the council from the chapter.

A good memory for faces and names was shown by Dr. DeBar, when he recognized Dean Outbank as "the same aged and sized kid" that he had always known. One name, that of Council President Ed Reames, puzzled the doctor as an unfamiliar one, until he suddenly remembered Ed's uncle, practicing law in Medford, "and doing very well there, isn't he?"

Telling about the manner in which he finished four years of pre-medical work in three years, Dr. DeBar gave a good philosophy for life. "Do the best you know how, and when you are finished, don't give yourself praise for the showing you made. Give the good Lord the credit for your success."

DEGREE APPLICATIONS

Graduate students expecting to apply for degrees to be given in June should file their applications immediately at the graduate office. The deadline for applications is May 1.

Ran 2 Record-Smashing 440 Yd. Dashes in One Day!

RAY ELLINWOOD, sensational track star of the University of Chicago, clipped .3 second off the world's indoor 440-yard dash record in his first college meet.

HE DUPLICATED the feat 20 minutes later as anchor man on the relay team. Ray's start enables him to jump into the lead at the crack of the gun.

IN THE FIRST FEW STRIDES, Ray unleashes almost explosive power. And keeps driving!

JUST IMAGINE breaking the world's record twice the same day! That takes stamina and endurance of high order.

"IT'S EASY to get fatigued at exam-time," says Bob Sommerville (left), college senior. "When I'm tired, a Camel gives me a 'lift' in energy, bucks up my spirits, and helps me sail along with pep to spare."

EVERY HOUR'S A BUSY ONE for attractive Claire Huntington (right), public stenographer. "Yes, it's a strain," she says, "but no matter how tired I get, smoking a Camel brings back my energy. Although I smoke a lot, Camels never jangle my nerves."

SURVEYOR William Barrett (left) speaking: "I get in a lot of Camel smoking during the day. When I begin to feel below par, it's me for a Camel and that invigorating 'lift' in energy."

"Please add me to the athletes who get a 'lift' with a Camel"—Ray Ellinwood

"I NEVER fully realized just how much 'Geta 'lift' with a Camel' meant to me until I ran two world record-breaking quarters in one afternoon," Ray continues. "That's the time I put on my supreme effort. Afterwards a Camel helped me pull myself together—helped me change over from being tired to feeling full of pep. And that night I ate heartily and digested my meal as well as ever. This convinced me 100% on the value of enjoying Camels' for digestion's sake."

In every line of endeavor—active, hard-working men and women light up Camels to renew their vim and energy—to add more enjoyment to mealtimes—and to ease strain and tension.
