Compromise Seen
27,000 Steel Votes
'We' 10 Years Ago
Fighting Ex-King
By PAUL DEUTSCHMANN

Court Muddle Clears

In what appeared to be a clearing of the supreme court reform muddle, representatives of both opposition and support yesterday seemed sure that a compromise would be the solution, despite the president's definite statements to the contrary.

Illinois' Senator Lewis added his bit to the situation by announcing that he was "sure" two more judges had told FDR that they would resign. Speculation on the Van Devanter successor still was high, New Dealer Senator Joseph Robinson of Arkansas being mentioned conspicuously as the possible man.

Action of senate blocs was constituted in wary political moves by each side in an attempt to push something definite through. Almost everybody was either keeping an open mind, or a silent mouth on the question.

More Power for CIO?

John Lewis' CIO attempted to continue its gargantuan growth yesterday in a vote of 27,000 employees of the Jones and Laughlin steel corporation held to decide whether or not the mammoth labor organization would be representative of all the workers of this plant. A victory for the CIO will strengthen its hold on the steel industries won in the recent walk-outs of hundreds of thousands of laborers.

Other major labor movements were in Michigan where UAWA members walked out 95,000 strong, only to be ordered back by their chief, Wyndham Mortimer, pending negotiations. Minor strikes continued unabated.

No Commemoration

Ten years ago today a slim youth and a silver monoplane became famous as "WE" who made the first solo trans-Atlantic flight. Today, Charles Lindbergh failed to see any reason to commemorate his epoch-making flight.

Retiree and uncommunicative, the Colonel lives in his peaceful English country home, makes secret biological experiments, and works in his garden. All he had to say about the momentous occasion was: "I did it. Why should I celebrate it?"

Students Fined 3 Bucks Every Hour Flunked

By ALYCE ROGERS

Three dollars for every hour flunked is no joke at the University of Oklahoma. In the last spring semester, students failed in almost 4500 hours, which would have brought in an income of $13,500. The main purpose is to stimulate students to bring up their grades, but the money comes in very handy also, being used to pay for the overload work for instructors which is the work of the school putting the student twice through the same course. Using this method the state wouldn't have to pay twice because the student failed.

Prerequisites Listed

A professor of public speaking at the University of California lists the following prerequisites for a professor's wife: the ability to love, honor, obey, typewrite and proofread.

Advice to Snoozers

To snooze or not to snooze is the questioned answered recently by an instructor on the University of Idaho campus. According to him, there are two attitudes a student can adopt in a classroom. He can either be wide awake or sleep soundly.

If a student feels that the class has nothing to offer him, the intelligent thing to do is to sleep. Don't try to keep awake if you must sleep as such agony is wearing on the nervous system.

If the class won't profit intellectually, it might as well profit physically and the student will be able to leave the room feeling that he has accomplished something at least in the way of repairing tissues and in repairing for the night ahead.

NUMBER 121

Annual Prep Cinder Meet Opens Friday

57 Schools to Send 240
Men to Annual Event;
Grant, Bend Favored;
3 Defenders Return

Approximately 240 of the outstanding high school track and field performers from 57 schools throughout the state will gather on the campus tomorrow morning and afternoon for the start of the eleventh annual interscholastic championships, which begins tomorrow at 1:30 o'clock on Hayward field with qualifying heats in all events except the mile run.

All visiting athletes will be quartered at living organizations on the campus, according to Anse Cornell, meet director, who has also lined up a corps of trainers to handle the young contestants.

Grant, Bend Favored
Grant high school of Portland, winner of the District 8 qualifying year are Bob Hendershott of Bend, pole vault; Klienfeldt, also of Bend, mile run; and big Bill Blackledge, husky Corvallis high school weight man who will defend his crown in both the shot put and discus.

Three defending titlists are listed to return and defend their laurels against a field which is considered one of the strongest in years. The 1936 winners back for another year are Bob Hendershott of Bend, pole vault; Klienfeldt, also of Bend, mile run; and big Bill Blackledge, husky Corvallis high school weight man who will defend his crown in both the shot put and discus.

New state marks are anticipated, one record already having been smashed in the qualifying meets. Francis Schultz, versatile Forest Grove star, and cousin to Gilbert Schultz, ex-student body president, leaped 23 feet 2 inches to better the meet mark of 22 feet 6 1/2 inches held by Burdette of Sandy high.

Performance in the mile run and high hurdles listed earlier in the week as a record-smashing were discounted yesterday after a thorough check by officials. The 14.6 high stick time turned in by Loving, Hood River, was found to have been run over a 110-yard course instead of the official 120-yard distance. The almost unbelievable time of 4:22.3 sent in by Briggs of Mac-His in the mile run was found out to be a telegraphic transmission error with the correct time being 4:42.3.

Cutler to Be Referee
Owing to the absence of Bill Hayward, veteran Oregon and Olympic track coach and usual director, who will be at the northern division track championships at Seattle, the meet will be refereed by Russ Cutler, instructor in the school of physical education.

Walter Hummel, Eugene, will be starter, with majors in the school of physical education and members of the Webfoot track squad as assistants.

Geology Department to Show Petroleum Movie

Animated diagrams and actual scenes taken in the production of petroleum will be shown Thursday to all students on the campus who are interested in the subject, Warren D. Smith, head of the geology and geography departments, said yesterday.

The pictures were loaned by the Union Oil company of California to the geology department include a review of historic geology especially connected with the development of petroleum.

The first showing will be at 4 o'clock and second will be held at 8 o'clock Thursday in 101 Condon. Admission is free to both performances.

Barbara Espy Heads YW Sophomore Girls

As the result of the rebalancing of freshman girls Monday, Barbara Espy, Portland, will head the YWCA sophomore commission next year. Peggy Robbins, Newton Centre, Mass., the only officer to be elected in the first ballot, won the vice-presidency. Other officers elected were Lucille Stevens, Portland, Secretary, and Anna Marie Huffaker, Eugene, treasurer.

Dr. Boyer Gives Approval To Welcoming Committee Plan Suggested by Gilbert

President Doubts Chances of Getting
Additional Funds to Pay Full Time
Secretary to Head Group

The proposed "welcoming committee" to "sell the University" to visitors on the campus by planning better programs and entertainment for these visitors when here may become a reality in the very near future, having met with the approval of President C. Valentine Boyer.

Dr. Boyer said last night he would consider the matter of appointing a committee at his earliest opportunity. He is meeting with Dean Onthank and Dean Gilbert today to discuss the proposed committee.

"There is unquestionably a need for presenting the University in a more favorable light than it has been to visiting groups," Dr. Boyer said. "Something should be done to meet this need. This plan (Dean Gilbert's proposal) is one suggestion and unless something still more effective can be suggested I favor it. We can give it a try."

UO Has Suffered
The president said it was perfectly true that the University had suffered from the lack of such an organization in the past and that Dean Gilbert's proposal might be a happy solution.

At the same time, he pointed out the improbability of getting approval from the chancellor's office for any expansion in University personnel at this time, as called for in the proposal, which asks that one salaried man head the committee with an office on the campus. The committee, as proposed, would be made up of ten students, two faculty members, and the chairman, an Oregon alumnus living in Eugene.

One of the difficulties in the past, according to Dr. Boyer, has been in not always knowing in advance when an important person was to be on the campus. As a result, either last minute arrangements or none at all have been made for the visitor's entertainment and the visitor has not always received a very good impression of the University.

The president believes a committee that would get events lined up in advance, that knew when different groups were conferring and prominent people visiting on the campus, and that would plan active programs and entertainment for these visitors, would undoubtedly make better impressions of the University.

Onthank Also Approves
Karl D. Onthank, dean of personnel, also favors the formation of some such "welcoming committee." He does not believe a full salaried man as chairman absorbed.

Silliness Predominates At Amphibian's College

Everyone was slightly silly last night in the pool at Gerlinger hall when the Amphibians and the varsity swimmers put on their annual show. This year the coronation idea was carried out from the abdication of King Edward to the coronation of King George.

Even though goofyness was the key word, there were more or less serious drills, formations, and exhibitions by different groups. The whole show was put on in the water.

Wilbert E. Moore Passes Sociology MA Examination

Granted the second recommendation for honors to be given in his department, Wilbert E. Moore, graduate student in sociology, passed his final examination for his master's degree taken May 17. Dr. Samuel Jameson announced.

Mr. Moore, graduate assistant in background of social science, wrote his thesis on "Current Sociological Theories in Argentina." This topic was elected by him at the suggestion of his major adviser because of his ability to read Spanish and French fluently.

His recommendation for honors came through his contributions to sociological literature, Dr. Jameson said.

The only other recipient of an honors degree in this department was Paul Foreman, who wrote his thesis on "The State Care of Male Delinquents in Oregon."

Mr. Moore, who majored in languages when taking undergraduate work, has received a fellowship to Harvard university for next year to carry out his work in the sociological field.

Commencement Weekend Plans Are Completed

Program Opens Friday
Afternoon With Tea;
Reunions, Graduation
Fill Three Days

Final arrangements are being made for the entire Commencement weekend, May 28 to 31, according to James H. Gilbert, dean of the college of social science and chairman of the event this year. Plans have been completed to entertain alumni groups, hold the special class reunions, and present degrees to more than five hundred graduating seniors and advanced students.

The commencement program will officially open Friday, May 28, with the benefit tea in the library from 3 to 5 o'clock, for the Pauline Potter Homer collection of browsing room books. Annual senior orations will be held that evening at the Failing and Beekman contests in the music auditorium at 8 p. m. Prizes of $150 and $100 will be awarded winners of the contests.

Women to Breakfast
Senior women will attend the annual breakfast meeting of the State Association of University Women, to be held at 8:30 at the Osburn hotel. At 10:30, the University alumni will hold their semi-annual meeting at the Guild theater, presided over by Vice-

Phi Delta Kappa To Hold Initiation

State Educators, Students
And Faculty Members to Be Honored

Eight students and members of the faculty will be initiated into Phi Delta Kappa, national education fraternity, at the society's annual banquet May 22. It was announced today.

Those selected from the campus include Charles D. Byrne, secretary of the state board of higher education, assistant to the chancellor, and director of information; Rola S. Good, Eugene graduate student in education; Cecil Davis, William Harcombe, Vernon Sprague, Kenneth Miller, Irving Elle, and Richard Mayfield.

At the same time seven prominent educators of the state, six of whom are from Portland, will be initiated as "field members." The men were all chosen because of achievements in education.

The Phi Delta Kappa chapters of Oregon State and of Portland will join the Eugene group at the session. Speakers will be headed by Dr. Karl Oedekeoven, an exchange student from Germany; Dr. Dexter M. Keezer; Dr. John F. Bovard, dean of the school of physical education, and S. Stevenson Smith, professor of English.

Polyphonic Choir To Give Oratorio

A group of 133 voices, harmoniously blended together in the University of Oregon Polyphonic choir directed by Paul Petri, professor of music, will give the famous and popular oratorio, "The Creation," in the music auditorium at 8 p. m. Friday night.

"The Creation," written in 1798 by Joseph Haydn, and containing some of the most beautiful choruses and solos ever written, still evokes the same appreciation as it did when it was the toast of musical Europe.

One of the most famous choruses of all time, the well-known "The Heavens Are Telling," is included in the oratorio. Several beautiful solos will also be sung. Friday night's soloists will be Mrs. L. J. Murdock, soprano; Renold de la Mare, tenor; Louis Crow, bass; and William Sutherland, baritone.

The choir will be accompanied by Phyllis Schatz, with Mrs. Cora Moore Frey at the organ.

The public is invited to attend the concert.

Phi Beta Kappa Host to Sigma Xi

New Members Are Initiated
At Annual Joint Dinner
Of Honor Societies

Last night in the sun room at Gerlinger hall, Phi Beta Kappa played host to Sigma Xi in the fourteenth annual joint dinner. The dinner followed the initiation of these two societies and was presided over by Miss Mary Hallowell Perkins.

Dressed in dinner jackets and dinner dresses the guests were entertained by the Phi Beta trio. Dr. Dan E. Clark welcomed the initiates to the organization and asked each member to rise and let it be known to the world what they were and what they stood for. Minoru Yasui answered for the initiates.

Dr. Warren D. Smith, president of Sigma Xi, welcomed the initiates of his society and Charles Allen Reed Jr. answered for his group.

Dr. Bruce Richard Baxter, president of Willamette university, gave a talk on Thomas Masaryk, former president of Czechoslovakia, who, he said, is considered by Emil Ludwig, noted biographer, to be the greatest living man.

Yeomen-Orides Picnic Saturday

Yeoman and Orides will hold their last social event of the year in the form of an independent picnic at Swimmers' Delight Saturday, May 22, it was announced yesterday by Robert Winestone and Hazel Lewis, co-chairmen.

Plenty of transportation will be provided for everyone, sail the charmed, as well as dancing, boating, swimming, and softball when the picnic grounds are reached. However, members must present tickets which may be secured at the YM hut.

Yeomen and Orides will meet at 12:45 at the campus YMCA Saturday. All transportation and food are free. Eleven-forty-five late permission has been granted the group from the dean of women's office.

Mental Hygiene Course Added to Curriculum

After much agitation on the part of those interested in the establishment of a course in mental hygiene, it has been decided to offer such a course next year in the University of Oregon through the psychology department.

According to Dr. Howard R. Taylor head of the psychology department such a course is designed "to give freshmen an opportunity to understand their personality adjustment problems and essentials of mental health."

The purpose of the course is to seek the source and find remedies for problems, such as excessive bashfulness or fits of depression, by which entering freshmen as well as other students are often handicapped.

The course will be given as part of elementary psychology, which at present is open only to sophomores. As it is, it is a three term, 9 hour subject and based on a text where students learn the fundamentals of psychology.

Beginning in the fall term the course will be so arranged that freshmen may take the mental hygiene course their first term. If in view they may continue with the elementary course. Sophomores may take the elementary course for two terms and if they choose continue in the spring with the mental hygiene section.

In the new course the study will be based on individual requirements of the student, his problems and remedies. It will be a practical yet sound discussion of the development of the individual.

Gale Smith Slams Out Two Homers; Hardy Goes Route, Whiffs Thirteen To Give Webfoots 13-4 Victory

Northern Division Standings

	W	L	Pct.
Oregon	9	2	.818
Washington State	10	4	.714
Washington	5	4	.556
Oregon State	4	9	.308
Idaho	2	11	.154

Oregon's pennant-mad baseball team clubbed its way nearer the coveted northern division gonfalon by downing the lowly Idaho Vandals at Moscow yesterday, 13 to 4.

Coach Howard Hobson's traveling Ducks chalked up their fifth consecutive game in six days of the present road trip by pounding three Idaho hurlers for 16 base-hits. Six errors contributed to the downfall of Forrest Twogood's down-trodden outfit.

Need Two Wins

The Webfoots now need only two wins in their last three regularly scheduled games against Idaho and Oregon State to capture the championship. Today's game at Moscow will wind up Oregon's present Inland Empire trip, and unless two previously cancelled games against Washington are played, a pair against Oregon's State's fourth-place Orangemen ends the season.

In yesterday's loose contest the score was tied at 4-all at the end of the fourth inning after Idaho had completed a short rally. Gale Smith, Duck first sacker, clouted two home runs to spark Oregon's batting attack. Smith knocked one in the sixth, and added his second blow in the ninth with two mates on base.

Hardy Goes Route

Bob Hardy, Oregon's southpaw chucker, went the route, whiffing 13 Idaho stickers. Oregon pounced upon Earl Gregory, starting Vandal pitcher, for four runs in the opening inning, and continued the assault after a brief let-down by trotting five tallies over the plate in the eighth frame. The Ducks added three more in the ninth.

Bill Kramer, Idaho first baseman, and Catcher Baldwin paced the Vandal hitting attack which netted but two runs in the first and a pair in the third. Kramer and Baldwin were the only Idaho stickers to touch Hardy.

Summary:

Oregon	13	16	1
Idaho	4	6	6
Oregon	400	001	053-13
Idaho	202	000	000-6

Parliamentarians Win $5 in Jewett Speech Contest

The $5 award in the W. F. Jewett parliamentary procedure contest held Tuesday afternoon was won by team two of which Eugene Truby, sophomore in business administration, was chairman.

The three teams were made up of students in the class of John L. Casteel, director of the speech division. Each group was given the floor for 12 minutes and was judged on their knowledge of parliamentary procedure, skill in handling the business that was considered and manner in which they conducted the meeting.

Judges were D. E. Hargis, instructor in speech; Clyde Angerman, Bertrand C. Adams, Harold S. Strawn, and William E. Lauderback, former students in parliamentary procedure.
