

DUCK TRACKS

By ELBERT HAWKINS

It wasn't long ago, not long ago indeed, that people in the Bay district spoke about the University of Oregon's football teams with more or less of a snicker. One of the top-notch southern mentors has even been quoted as saying that Oregon plays "dumb" football down there.

People merely laughed it off by saying that our Webfoots should stay in the northwest, in their class. For years it was purely the guiding hand of fate that ever brought a California team up here. They always dragged our poor football teams into the heated south with the excuse (possibly a very good one) that attendance down there fully warranted it.

We can't deny it, the record of Oregon teams against California teams has been truly under par. The Ducks had a traditional game with St. Mary's, which continued for seven odd seasons, all games played there, but despite some well-played tilts Oregon won only once and crowds weren't so huge, so they finally discontinued it.

Against Southern California it has been the same story. Oregon captured the first game back in 1915, 34 to 0, but since then in six clashes failed to score. Relations were finally called off in 1935, but the round-robin schedule brought them together again.

Southern California is rated as top-heavy favorite to down Oregon today. But so was Stanford. I can't help but feel that some time soon Prink's boys will get some breaks when they play the Trojans. Why not today?

Callison has a bunch of ambitious sophomores, mingled with veterans, and improving by leaps and bounds. Oregon looked good in losing to UCLA three weeks ago, then gradually gaining stride sailed into Stanford in a memorable upset, and really turned on Gonzaga.

Possibly they're due for a let-down. Southern Cal might too following that bruising 13 to 12 win over Ohio State last Saturday. Let-down or no let-down, the Stanford victory—Oregon's first in history over the Indians—may be the beginning of a new regime against California clubs.

Our pals around the shack want some predictions on today's classics, so here goes. Number one is this Trojan affair. I'll play a hunch and stay with the Ducks. More manpower and scoring punch is the reason. A good offense is the best defense anyway.

California's Golden Bears face Alonzo Stagg's College Pacific and the Cal Aggies in a twin bill. California 25, College of Pacific 0. California 33, Aggies 0. A lot of touchdowns for one day, but California has the team.

Washington and Washington State tangle at Pullman in one of those yearly classics like our "civil war" with Oregon State. Too much Washington, 20 to 6.

UCLA over Oregon State, 13 to 7. . . . St. Mary's over Loyola, 12 to 0. . . . Oregon frosh over Southern Oregon normal, 19 to 7. . . . Santa Clara over Portland University, 20 to 9. . . . Idaho over Utah, 7 to 6. . . . Enough this week.

Sometimes They're Optimistic

HEAD COACH
JAMES YEAGER
OF IOWA STATE COLLEGE

I THINK I'VE GOT SOMETHING HERE

UNLIKE MOST COACHES, YEAGER IS SATISFIED WITH HIS WORKING MATERIAL

Ducklings Face Third Test of Season Today

John Warren's Unbeaten Proteges Play in Field Dedication at North Bend

Tackle Creager Out of Starting Lineup; Wally White to Sub for Injured Lineman As Warren Shifts Forward Wall

Staters, Bruins Dedicate Orange Sward Today

Soph to Lead Uclan Attack on Husky-Baiting Beavers

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Oct. 15.—UCLA's colorful Bruins, led by their brilliant Kenny Washington, sophomore passing and running star, will clash with the new Orange turf field here Saturday afternoon. The game will start at 2 o'clock.

Booked as one of the important conference clashes of the season, matching a pair of dark-horse teams, both in the middle of the pennant chase with an excellent chance of advancing toward the crown, the initial home game will be filled with color. In addition to the dedication of the field, the game will feature Dad's day, an annual celebration here.

Same Beaver Lineup
Coach Lon Stiner of the Beavers indicated he will start the same team which defeated the Huskies, 6 to 3, last week. Star of the lineup will be Joe Gray, the freckled phantom of the backfield and second to none as a passer on the coast. Elmer Kolberg, another star of the Orange backfield in his own right, probably will play the most important part in the Beaver defense against the Bruins.

Coach Bill Spaulding upon arrival here late this week announced he probably would start Woodrow Strode and Nash at ends; Murdock and Wyrick, tackles; Pfeiffer and Cohen, guards; Ryland, center; Johnny Baida, quarterback; Kenny Washington and Hal Hirschon, halfbacks, and Billy Bob Williams, fullback.

Probable starters for the Orange are Don Coons and Joe Wendlick, ends; Frank Nihil and John Watts, tackles; Frank Ramsey and Prescott Hutchins, guards; Jim Orr, center; Bill Duncan, quarter; Joe Gray and Jay Mercer, halfbacks; and Elmer Kolberg, fullback.

Amphibians Draw Coed Swimmers

About twenty-five girls turned out Thursday evening for the Amphibian tryouts in Gerlinger pool. Some very outstanding swimmers and divers participated, and the tryouts so far have been very successful.

Thursday evening, October 21, at 7 o'clock, tryouts will again be held to complete the tests and to select the new members.

High, Wide, and Handsome

Arliegh Bentley, utility fullback and quarterback, may be punting 'em for Oregon at Los Angeles today.

Callison's Ducks Face Trojans in Eighth Grid Test

Oregon Team Holds Lone Victory Over Southern Rivals

(Continued from page one)
punts paved the way for the two Ohio State touchdowns, one of which was made by air and one by land.

As in the case of USC, the Webfoots lost their first game, but came back to win the rest of the tussles on their slate.

Although they scored 13 points in the first game against UCLA, the Ducks went down to defeat largely through the influence of Kenny Washington, 26 to 13.

Goal Kick Wins Game
In their next game, with the Stanford Indians, Joe Huston's accurate toe provided the margin of victory when the Ducks won 7 to 6. Graybeal scored for Oregon on a pass from Bob Smith, while Jim Groves plunged through the line for the Stanford score in the fourth quarter.

Last week, Prink Callison's sophomores went touchdown crazy against Gonzaga scoring eight times, although two of the scores were called back. It is largely as a result of this game that Steve Anderson will probably start the game this afternoon. In the backfield with Steve will be Hank Nilson, Dale Lasselle, and Arliegh Bentley, according to the lineup Coach Callison was using before he left here for the southland.

Line Against Indians
In the line were John Yerby, Don Kennedy, Bill Foskett, Cliff Morris alternating at the other tackle with Bill Estes, Joe Huston, Captain Tony Amato, and Vernon Moore alternating with Denny Braid at center.

Now that Bud Robertson has returned to form following his Stanford game injury, he will probably start at end instead of Don Kennedy.

The largest score ever rolled up by a University of Arizona football team was its 110-0 victory over the New Mexico Military institute in 1921.

member still thinks a lot of the game.

"Rugby helps football players quite a bit. It aids timing, develops speed and footwork and gives you practice in ball handling. However, I don't think it will ever achieve the popularity down here it holds in Canada. The nearest approach would be a combination of the two games."

The six-foot-one Paul Rowe thinks Oregon has a chance to upset the apple cart and conquer the Legions of Troy today so . . .

Rowe, Oregon, Rowe, Rowe, Rowe.

Limited Budget Prevents Boxing, Wrestling Teams

Meeting Is Called for Next Tuesday to Discuss Chances

By PETE IGOE
There is very little possibility of boxing and wrestling becoming a minor sport at the University this year, according to Dr. R. W. Leighton, dean of the school of physical education. Dr. Leighton stated that the present budget of the physical education department would not meet the expenses of any new sports.

Several students of the University have evinced considerable interest in boxing and wrestling as a sport, and Dr. Leighton immediately took the matter up with both the physical education board and the faculty.

Meet Tuesday
A meeting has been called for Tuesday by all the boys interested at which the matter will be talked over and explained by Anse Cornell, graduate manager. It is probable that both sports will be attempted as recreational sports if enough interest is aroused.

Much difficulty has been met in attempting to obtain a coach, and

Three Games Slated For Conference Play

COAST CONFERENCE STANDINGS

	W	L	Pct.
California	2	0	1.000
Oregon	1	1	.500
Stanford	1	1	.500
Oregon State	1	1	.500
Washington	1	1	.500
UCLA	1	1	.500
USC	0	1	.000
Washington State	0	1	.000

By BILL PORTER
With California, only undefeated team in the conference taking on a breather, the Pacific coast conference will swing into action this week with three important contests on tap.

All six participating teams have suffered a single defeat so far this season, and another loss will definitely eliminate the loser of each of the three games.

Trojan Fray Important
Probably the most outstanding of the three games is the Oregon-Southern California game, which will be played at the Memorial coliseum in Los Angeles. USC will at the present time nobody has been mentioned. Coast conference eligibility rules are very strict concerning boxing and wrestling. Anyone who has boxed in Golden Gloves or AAU tournaments becomes ineligible.

enter the game as a slight favorite, despite Oregon's convincing display of power in their 40 to 6 victory over Gonzaga.

All indications point to the closest battle the two teams have waged in years, with Oregon's "Sappy Sophs" liable to do most anything to wrest a victory from the warriors of Howard Jones.

Cougars, Huskies Meet
Washington and Washington State will get together up at Pullman Saturday in a contest which Huskies are expected to grab off without too much trouble. Injuries from the California game and Washington's reaction after their surprise defeat at the hands of Oregon State make the Cougar's chances appear very slim, on paper at least. However, Washington State is always a tough club to beat on their home field, and is liable to pull another upset out of the bag.

Bill Spaulding's Bruins of UCLA will invade Corvallis on the same day for a crack at Lon Stiner's Oregon State Beavers. Both teams will be fighting hard for this victory with the battle cry of the Beavers being, "Stop Kenny Washington." The battle will mark the dedication of Oregon State's new turf field, and Oregon State backers are hoping for an initiation victory.

Women's Volleyball Schedule Is Posted

The schedule for the women's intramural volleyball tournament for the coming week is as follows:
Tuesday, October 19, indoor gym: Kappa Kappa Gamma vs. Kappa Alpha Theta; Delta Gamma vs. Hendricks hall; Alpha Phi vs. Gamma Phi Beta. Outdoor gym: Susan Campbell vs. Tri Deltas; Chi Omega vs. Alpha Omicron Pi.

Wednesday, October 20, indoor gym: Orides vs. Alpha Gamma Delta; Women's Co-op vs. Alpha Delta Pi; Alpha Chi Omega vs. Alpha Omicron Pi. Outdoor gym: Gamma Phi Beta vs. Alpha Xi Delta; Pi Beta Phi vs. Sigma Kappa.

Thursday, October 21, indoor gym: Phi Beta Phi vs. Chi Omega pledges; Delta Gamma vs. Sigma Kappa; Susan Campbell vs. Alpha Chi Omega. Outdoor gym: Tri Deltas vs. Chi Omega.

The tallest man on the University of Arizona grid squad is George (Dinky) Jordan, 6 ft. 7 in. tackle, while at the other end of the height range is Charles Ott, 5 ft. 5 in. guard.

Carl Cooper of Tucson, University of Arizona right halfback, is the second fastest man on the varsity track squad. He runs the century dash in 10 seconds flat.

Pass Snatcher

Snare 'em Yerby, Duck wingman, is expected to harrass the Trojans today.

It's a Lie!

You Don't Have to Write Home--- Let US do it!

JUST THINK! . . . NO MORE WRITER'S CRAMP— NO MORE MENTAL ANGUISH

Arrange to send the 115 remaining issue of the Emerald direct to your home. Five personal letters a week for the remainder of this year for the special price of only two dollars and fifty cents, or the remainder of this term for 75c.

Mr. Jerry Norvallie, Circulation Manager, Oregon Daily Emerald, Eugene, Oregon.

Dear Sir:

Please send me a copy of each issue of the Oregon Daily Emerald for

Remainder of fall term (75c)

Remainder of school year ($2.50) to the following address:

NAME.....

ADDRESS.....
Send the bill to the address above or to the following address:

NAME.....

ADDRESS.....