

Paramount Will Be Scene of Pep Rally

Oregon Students Will Gather at Burnside Bridge at 10 p. m., Fort Says

Preceding the Oregon-California game, a huge pep rally will be held Friday night at the Paramount theater in Portland featuring a state-wide broadcasting hook-up, Sam Fort, rally chairman, said yesterday.

Students will congregate at 10 p. m. at the foot of the Burnside street bridge on the west side and go up Broadway to the Paramount theater in a rally parade led by the Oregon band and a noise float.

Binford's Band Greets

Arriving at the Paramount they will be met by Binford's band which will be outside the theater in the true style of premier opening. Student celebrities, Oregon yells, and Oregon songs will all be heard over a state-wide hook-up over KEX from 10:35 to 11 o'clock.

At 11 the scene will shift to the Paramount stage. Preceding the main feature will be a stage show, vaudeville skits, a chorus routine, Maury Binford's orchestra, and a rally skit that has been planned by Wendell Kaufman.

Eddie Cantor Feature

The regular feature will be Eddie Cantor in "All Baba Goes to Town." The admission price will be 55c with tickets obtainable from all rally members.

In general charge is Sam Fort. Scott Corbett is in charge of ticket sales.

A long-felt need will be answered if the proposal to make the University articulate is approved by the state board of higher education, from which source must come the necessary funds. The University, hitherto voiceless, except for a limited weekly time on the air, would be in a position to render a maximum of service, through providing a medium of expression for all departments, including music, speech, journalism, science, extension, and all the rest.

That there is emphatic public and student demand for services available only through the medium of radio, was the statement made yesterday by W. A. Dahlberg, assistant professor of speech, who said that the University is under present conditions unable to meet this demand.

Placing the stamp of approval upon the proposal to give the University a voice, Mr. Dahlberg suggested that addition of radio connections would provide facilities for including a strong radio course in the curriculum of the state system, both from technical and other standpoints.

Speaking for the speech department, Mr. Dahlberg, who has made numerous tours of the state with University speech units, said that the speech department had never been able to answer all requests received for appearances, due to lack of time and of travelling expenses.

Radio would make possible better service through its directness, according to Mr. Dahlberg. Under the present arrangement much time and expense is lost in traveling to Corvallis to broadcast, or to other parts of the state.

Portland Commerce Group Hears Smith

Dr. Warren D. Smith, head of the departments of geology and geography on the campus, spoke before the Portland chamber of commerce yesterday noon.

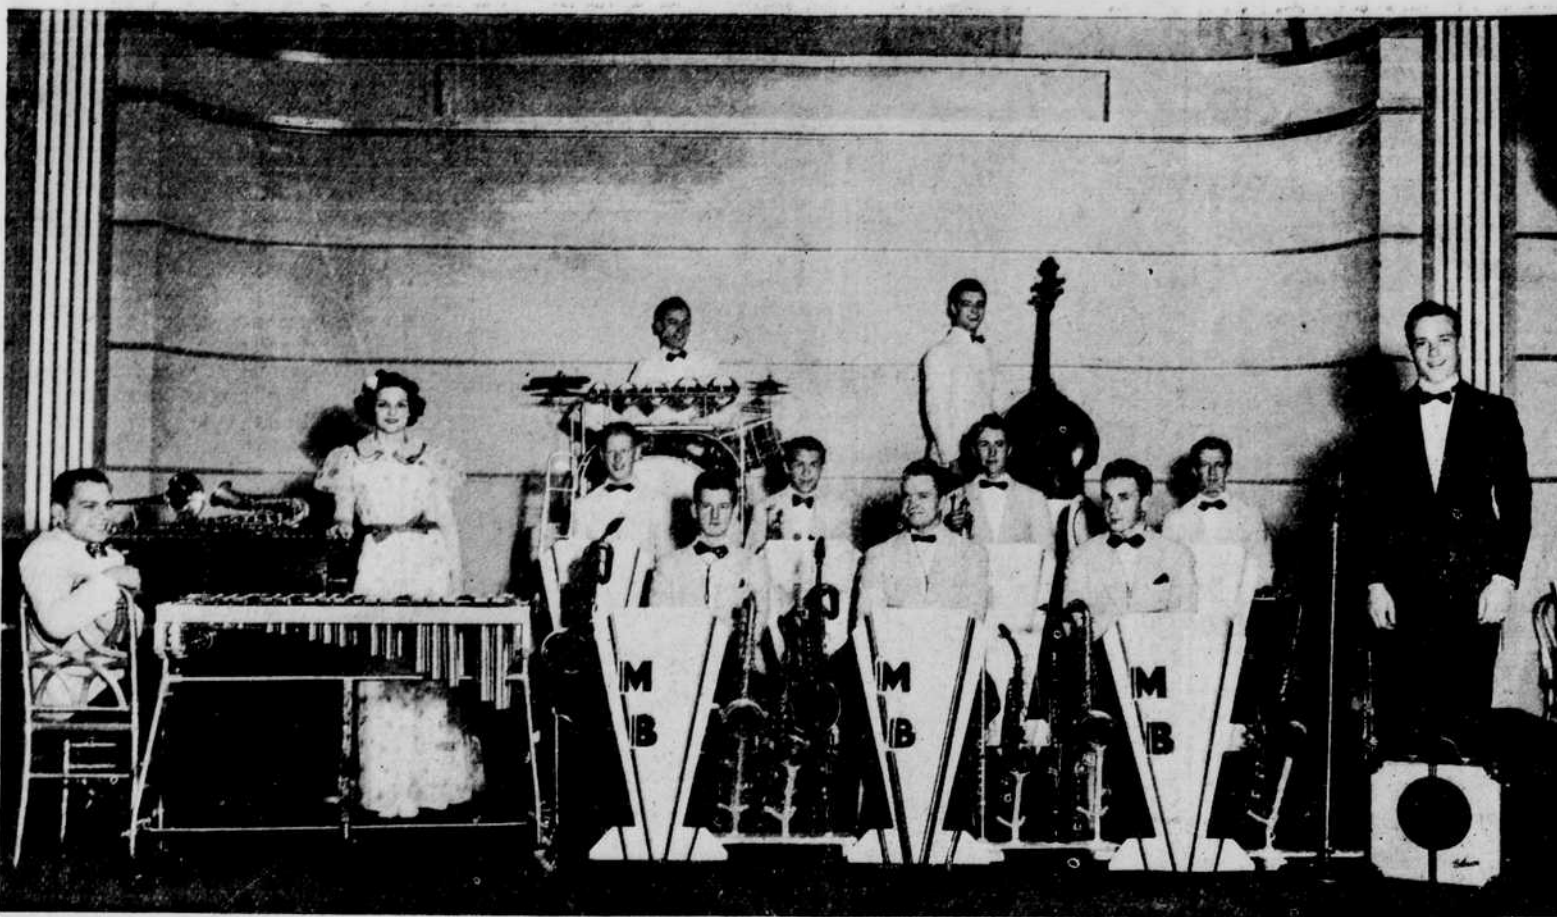

Dr. Smith's talk, which was broadcast over station KEX, presented a general picture of the Willamette valley project and also stressed the geologic causes and results of floods and means of flood control.

The Willamette project which is just now getting under way is one of the "little TVA's" encouraged by President Roosevelt. By means of seven dams built on seven of the tributaries of the Willamette river, floods will be reduced, irrigation and increased navigation made possible, hydroelectric power provided and stream pollution minimized.

Dr. Smith urged the cooperation of all valley interests in putting this project before congress at its next session, closing his talk with the reminder that "time and tide wait for no man, and in the meantime 'Ol' Man River keeps rollin' along."

To Star at Portland Rally

Maurie Binford's campus orchestra will furnish the music for the University of Oregon's rally in Portland this weekend. They will play at the Paramount theater on Friday night preceding the Oregon-California game. As a feature of the Emerald of the Air program, Binford's orchestra will also be the student talent for tonight's broadcast.

Fee Payments Must Be in by Wednesday

Wednesday, November 10, will be the last day students can make University fee payments, according to an announcement today by Clifford K. Stalsberg, University cashier.

After 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon students delinquent in fees will be subject to a fine of 25 cents a day for the first week, to be followed by suspension from the University if fee payments are not made by the end of the week. Delinquents include not only registration fees, but also non-resident tuition and student body fees. Payments are also due on the $15 student body cards on which the purchaser is allowed $1 toward the price of an Oregon.

Alpha Delta Pi Has House Party, Tea

Gretchen Smith, of Alpha Delta Pi, entertained three of her sorority sisters over the weekend by giving a house party at her home in Oswego, Oregon.

Next Sunday the girls will give a preference tea. This tea will be held from 6 to 7:30, and boys will be invited.

Mrs. Underwood To Present Piano Concert Tonight

Opening her program of classical piano masterpieces with a Mozart number, Mrs. Aurora Potter Underwood, assistant professor of music at the University, will present a group of selections in the music auditorium at 8:15 tonight.

Compositions by Brahms, Chopin, and Debussy, are to be played by the musician. The famous contemporary Paderewski is to be represented by the playing of his selection, "Cracovienne Fantastique." One of the most interesting numbers which Mrs. Underwood will give is the Schulz-Evler "Concert Arabesques on Motifs by Johann Strauss." The motifs will be themes from the ever-popular Strauss "By the Beautiful Blue Danube." This will conclude the program.

The concert is open to the public.

The Alpha Xi Deltas have planned an informal dance which is to be given November 20. The decoration motif is to be kept a secret until the evening of the dance.

SAE'S TO HAVE DESSERT

The boys of Sigma Alpha Epsilon will play host to Alpha Omicron Pi next Wednesday evening when they will entertain them at dessert.
