

Old South Bloc Threatens Stall Of Lynching Bill

Filibuster in Senate Is Proposed by Texas Member in Tie-up

By GORDON RIDGEWAY
WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Filibuster is again the talk in the senate today, as southern members threaten to block an anti-lynching bill with lengthy oratory and reading of bedtime stories. Senator Connally of Texas told his colleagues that any attempt to pass the bill would cause "Some little delay."

"What was the session called for?" he queried.
Oregon's McNary replied, "We don't know, ourselves."

Meanwhile the wage-hour bill was tied up in the house rules committee. House leaders also decided that the time was inopportune for considering government reorganization, and committee chairmen indicated that tax revision may be postponed until January.

No Competition

An Alabama power company admitted today to the supreme court that it would be put out of business in four cities if federal plants competed. The company contended that it "Had a right to conduct its business free from interference from public officials acting without the authority of the law."

No French

PARIS, Nov. 16.—Men and munitions will not be allowed to pass into China through French Indo-China, authoritative sources indicated tonight. Such a move was designed to prevent further international complications from arising.

Flee From Nanking

SHANGHAI, Nov. 17.—Chinese vestiges of government are being moved today from Nanking, the capital. Japanese forces are closing in from the west and from the north.

American and foreign embassies are arranging the evacuation of their citizens, but are troubled by a shortage of transportation facilities. Seventy Americans and 38 British and other refugees are fighting for space on the few steamers in the Nanking harbor.

Fire Drill!

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Fire drill! And 2000 school children marched out of a Harlem school. A moment after all were in the street, the fire engines arrived. Investigators found kerosene-soaked waste blazing on the second floor and an upholstered chair ablaze in a wash-room.

State Planners at UO Raise City From Ruins

Members of the Oregon state planning board have been busy for the past year formulating plans for building a modern city from the ruins of fire-swept Bandon, Oregon. Above is one of the town's buildings after the town had been swept by the worst forest-fire in recent years. Below is the city plan as formulated by the board, expected to make the new Bandon a model American city.

Increases Are Noted In English Classes

Statistics Show New High in Enrollment In Composition

In comparing this year's enrollment in lower division English classes with that of last year, Herbert Crombie Howe, professor of English, finds that there are 234 more students registered in English composition courses this year. There are now 39 sections with a matriculation of 958 as over last year's matriculation of 724 in 32 sections.
This fact remains even though last year's English I course which had an enrollment of 150 is not now being offered.
Survey of English Literature was studied by 113 more students last year than this year, there being 545 students registered last year and only 341 this year.
Registration figures show that 160 students are enrolled in Introduction of Literature classes over last year's enrollment of 128.

Only 12 Hours

PONTIAC, Mich., Nov. 16.—After a 12-hour sit-down strike, workers in the Fisher Body plant here declared that there would be no further strikes pending negotiation of their dispute, and acceded to the company's desire to reopen. The grievance concerns a lay-off of 450 men last November. Negotiations begin tomorrow.

Ex-ASUO Prexy Now Foretells Elections

Former student body president Claude Robinson, class of '24, is associated with Dr. George H. Gallup of the American Institute of Public Opinion.
In a recent forecast of the Detroit elections, Robinson's predictions were 93 per cent right.
Robinson took his Ph.D. degree at Columbia university. His thesis on election forecasts with a political science major gave him the foundation for his present work.

World Fellowship Banquet Slated for Coming Saturday

"Encouraging Factors to International Goodwill" is the topic chosen for consideration at the annual world fellowship banquet to be held at the Cafe Del Rey, Saturday evening, November 20. Foreign students will be honored guests.

Victor P. Morris will discuss international goodwill following short talks by two guest students on the "Encouraging Factors" in the East and West.
The banquet, which has previously been sponsored by the Wesley club as an "International Banquet," is being planned this year by the Student Christian Council, a campus-wide, cooperating Christian group. Reports of committees working on the program and given at a meeting of the council Monday afternoon indicate that the banquet will compare favorably with those of previous years.
A limited supply of tickets are on sale at the YWCA and YMCA.

Walnut Tables Are Placed in Library

Two solid walnut tables, one of which is to be used for a magazine-reading table and the other for display purposes, have been placed in the library as the first step in the furnishing of the browsing room.

The school of architecture and allied arts led by Brownell Frasier, assisted by Maudie Kerns and Wallace Hayden, is designing the new furniture that is to be installed in the browsing room.
Other furniture, a davenport and four chairs, is being made by Elbert Peets company in Portland and will be completed soon. Two of the chairs are to have leather upholstery and two are to be cloth covered.

Drew Selected for Board of Ski Club

Frank Drew, senior at the University, was recently chosen to fill a vacancy on the executive board of the Ski-lauers, Eugene ski society, according to information received from Mrs. H. A. Moore, secretary of the board.
Ski-lauers, Norwegian for "skiing on the level," is an organization of Eugene people interested in skiing. There is no age limit or other special restriction placed on membership to the club, and several University students belong.
Club membership is about seventy, while the club board is composed of ten members. Drew was elected by the members to fill a vacancy left by Dana Washburne.

Series of Honorary Banquets to Be Held

New Members Will Be Pledged Tonight at Seymour's Cafe

Oregon's chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma, advertising honorary, will begin a series of informal banquets to be held with Eugene associate and alumni members tonight at Seymour's cafe.
A pledging ceremony will begin the after-dinner meeting. Kenneth Ely will be added to the four student pledges who were selected earlier in the term. In addition, Elmer Fansett, alumni secretary, George Root, director of educational activities, Claire Kneeland, Byrom and Kneeland, and John Durr, secretary of the Eugene Chamber of Commerce, will be pledged as associate members.
Following the pledging ceremony, Mr. Durr, Frank Short of the University faculty, and Walter Verstrom, business manager of the Emerald, will lead a discussion on town and campus advertising problems.

Second of UO

Dr. Dan E. Clark, assistant director of general extension, yesterday expressed pleasure at manifested of public interest in the program, and said that the general extension division was quite well pleased both with the program and with the manner in which it was run off.
Luke L. Roberts, manager of KOAC, and Grant Feickert, engineer in charge of the technical end of the broadcast, said they were well satisfied with the manner in which the program was put on. "This is only a demonstration of what we might expect," said Roberts after the broadcast.
Among the seven remaining programs under the one-month trial of remote-control broadcasting from this campus may be included a broadcast during Dads' day weekend. Last broadcast in the series will probably be given on December 10.

In the first bout, Bill Dudley swaps punches with Will Hughes. Both of these boys weigh close to the 135-pound mark.
The winners of these bouts may get the call to fight the Eugene Athletic club boxers November 24.

Red Cross Week Donations to Be Collected by YW

Annual Membership Drive to Contact All Students

The Oregon campus is participating in national Red Cross Roll Call week this year for the first time, under the direction of the YWCA Community Service group headed by Anne Fredericksen, chairman. Roll call week started November 15 and ends Saturday, November 20.

The campus' part in the annual membership drive is in contacting all sorority and fraternity houses and interviewing each professor personally by appointed contact chairmen. There will be about 400 personal contacts altogether. The Eugene chapter of Red Cross has left the contacting of University faculty entirely up to the campus organization, to avoid duplication.
A minimum donation of one dollar has been set. Donors will receive in return a Red Cross sticker, button and official membership card.

"It is expected of every sorority and fraternity to purchase membership cards," stressed Miss Fredericksen. She has appointed Lois Onthank and Pat Temple as contact chairmen for sororities and fraternities, respectively.

Personal contact committee includes: Mary Failing, Bettylou Swart, Laurie Sawyer, Peggy Robbins, Joan Murphy, Pat Taylor, Pat Brugman, Merry Brugman, Barbara Espy, Bettylou Kurtz, Caroline Dudley, Betty Jane Van Dellen, Jean Weber, Marjorie Montgomery and Ruth Richardson.
All money must be turned in at the Y bungalow by Friday.

House Teas to Be Featured by Miss MacNair

House teas at Susan Campbell hall are only one of the many new ideas being introduced by the new house mother, Miss Hazel MacNair.
The teas will be held five days a week from Monday to Friday inclusive from 4 to 5 o'clock. Girls from the hall are permitted to invite friends and instructors to this function.

Miss MacNair is taking over the position temporarily filled by Mrs. Senn this fall. Miss MacNair has but recently returned from Shanghai, China where she has been teaching in the St. John's University, a private school for Chinese men students. She was a member of the faculty for six years but was prevented from returning to her position by the recent invasion of Japan into China.

Although she has enjoyed work in the Orient, Miss MacNair states she is looking forward to her new position as house mother with much enthusiasm.

Send the Emerald home to Dad every morning. He will like to read the University happenings.

Nearly 2000 Enroll For Extension Work

Practical Experience Is Offered in New Drama Course

With an increase of more than 200 bringing enrollment in the Portland general extension center to 1938, registration seems likely to reach 2000 in the fall term, according to Prof. Dan E. Clark of the University general extension division. Allowing for the withdrawal of nurses' training and American Institute of Banking courses, this registration equals any of the previous years.

Drama students are offered practical experience by one of the new courses, with the cooperation of the Portland Civic theatre. Other new courses are being offered in health education and in first aid.

Making their appearance in the curriculum for the first time in several years are courses in dancing, ballet and modern, besides more physical education courses. Ever popular fields include English, psychology, education, and history. An especially large group has enrolled for the course in accounting. Public speaking likewise finds favor with many.

Besides the permanent full time teaching staff in Portland, and various experts living in Portland who teach part time, the extension instructors come from institutions all over the state. There are 16 from the University.

No longer in the downtown district on Taylor street, the general extension center now has its headquarters at N. W. 23rd street.
