

DUCK TRACKS

By ELBERT HAWKINS

The last mile! We'll call it that, for this is the last Emerald of fall term, and consequently the final Duck Tracks. John Pink, the Astoria pen-pusher, who was an ideal pard in putting out the sports sheet last spring, is going to assume the task for winter term. John is a fine and interesting writer, and you'll just love to read his luscious column over the morning broth. As far as this scribe is concerned, it has been a lot of fun dishing out tripe a la Duck Tracks, no foolin'. I'll take this opportunity to catch up on a little sleep and probably be back on the rag for spring term. John, I wish you the best.

What is past is past, so for this final comment we'll delve into a future pastime, basketball. It'll be (Please turn to page six)

Ten Conference Hoop Tilts Billed For Ducks Here

Cougar Champs Will Open Winter Slate On January 7

The complete conference schedule of the Oregon varsity basketball team this year will include ten home games here on McArthur court. Each team of the conference will be seen in action on the home floor. Regular games will open with Washington State, conference champions of last season, invading the campus for a two-game series on January 7 and 8, and will close when the Webfoots meet Oregon State here on February 26. However, the final game of the season will be away, at Corvallis on March 5.

Eight Pre-Season Tilts

Aside from the conference games, eight warm-up games are on the slate for the varsity, these include three games to be played here. December 17, the casaba artists will meet the strong Union Oil team here; December 18, Southern Oregon Normal here; December 21, Astoria Easterns at Astoria; December 22, Multnomah club at Portland; December 23, Portland university at Portland; December 27, Union Oil at Portland; December 28, Willamette at Salem; and January 1, Willamette here.

The complete schedule of the conference games is as follows: Jan. 7-8—WSC at Eugene. Jan. 14—OSC at Eugene. Jan. 15—OSC at Corvallis. Jan. 21-22—Montana at Eugene. (Please turn to page five)

Announcing the 1937 collegiate sports writers' all-America football team! Magazines, players, and fans alike are picking all-something teams this season, but we have here a different one, picked by the sports editors of 83 colleges and universities in 40 states and the District of Columbia. It's a worthy poll, too, for last year's eleven agreed, with but one exception, with the all-America board of football's choices. And what a team it is. There's a backfield paced by three choices of most teams, Clint Frank (Yale), Marshall Goldberg (Pittsburgh), and Byron White (Colorado), and also Joe Kilgrow (Alabama). Frank is the East's master footballer, a triple threat, and perfect team leader. Whizzer White is the Phi Beta Kappa, student prexy, and all-around man, who made it despite playing on a smaller team.

Boxers, Wrestlers Perform for Dads

Four Fights and Four Wrestling Matches Feature Program

Oregon dads, some 200 strong, watched the University wrestlers and boxers present 40 minutes of fast action last Saturday afternoon in the men's gym in one of the athletic features of the Dad's day celebration. Four fights and four wrestling bouts made up the exhibition card that drew considerable applause from the spectators who crammed the boxing rooms to see such capable performers as Smoky Whitfield, Gale Ferris, Willie Williams and others do their stuff inside the squared circle.

While every fight was received with some display of enthusiasm it remained for the two husky middleweights of the University Mitt and Mat club—"Smokeball" Whitfield and Gale Ferris to really excite the crowd. "Tiger Nick" Nickerson, aggressive 145 pounder, had a distinct (Please turn to page six)

Oregon's Webfoots Close Sixth Year Under Callison With 4 Victories, 6 Losses

Oregon's Ducks returned from Tucson, Arizona early Tuesday morning, finishing a mediocre season with a record of six games lost and four won. While Oregon's record is not much to brag about, the Webfoots won two conference games, two more than last season, beating Stanford, second in conference standings, and Washington State.

In the first game of the season, with UCLA, Oregon went out and got two touchdowns, but the Westwood Bruins with Kenny Washington, brilliant negro half, in top form doubled Oregon's best efforts and won 27 to 14.

Sig Eps Capture Title in A League Volleyball Chase

Upset Phi Delt Team In Final Tilt; ATOs Grab B Crown

A scrappy, heads-up bunch of boys from Sigma Phi Epsilon tipped over the dope bucket last Monday night by upsetting the highly-touted Phi Delt volleyball squad, 15-8, 15-11 to win the intramural A league championship. The Sig Eps outclassed the barn boys in every department of the game to win handily. Excellent work in setting up plays, and a spiking attack, which had everybody guessing, were outstanding features of the games. Start Even The Phi Delt, defending champs, started out on even terms in each game for the first few points, but collapsed when they were unable to handle the kill shots offered by the inspired Sig Ep gang. Cliff Morris and George Jackson contributed most of the trouble for the Sig Eps, while Ken Shipley and Ed (Please turn to page five)

The San Diego Marnies were the first opponents with the Ducks' encephalitis. Jay Graybeal was easily bowled over their inexperienced "Big Bertha" in the Oregon attach, with Oregon winning, 24 to 7. The next week against Arizona, the Ducks were trimmed, largely through the efforts of Walt Neilson, 215-pound fullback, with Coach Tex Oliver's Wildcats winning, 20 to 6.

Bogue Is Appointed Wrestling Skipper

PE Major Assumes New Task to Help Boxer Jim Dimit

Appointment of Alvan Bogue, physical education major, as wrestling coach, was announced yesterday by the school of physical education. Bogue will take charge of wrestling workouts immediately. Earlier in the year, the University of Oregon Mitt and Mat club asked Dean R. W. Leighton and Paul R. Washke of the physical education department to appoint a physical education major as wrestling instructor in order that Jim Dimit, Mitt and Mat club prexy, could devote his entire time to the glove-tossing pastime.

Riordan Couldn't The club at that time suggested Stan Riordan, ex-Oregon football player, as the man for the job, but Riordan was unable to take it over. After a lapse of two weeks, Bogue was appointed. He will receive credit for practice teaching for his work. Bogue will take charge of workouts and training routine, keeping toll and instructing the grapplers (Please turn to page six)
