PINK'S LEMON-AID

THIS afternoon in the men's pool Mike Hoyman will parade the 1938 edition of his perenially champion swimming team; but according to all advance publicity, this year Mike will have to drop from his perch as coach of the northwest's champions. Punctured by the loss of almost a half dozen of really outstanding men, and further riddled by the swath of ineligibility, the team will be barely able to keep its head above water (no pun intended) when it meets Washington and Washington Stateaccording to Mike.

I remember last year, with no pool to practice in and other difficulties to contend with, in early season Mike was bemoaning his chances for even winning one first place, but come the end of the season and they were-northwest champs again.

With only three returning lettermen and several of the gents he had counted on failing to earn those coveted Ds in 12 hours of appreciation courses, Mike will really have to perform some kind of miracle to come out on top this year. Although some publicity from Seattle stated that the Huskies are in a worse fix than Oregon, I am inclined to think it was the usual bear angle.

His three lettermen will form the nucleus of the team. Bert Myers won the diving title when he was a sophomore, came third last year, and should (if he learns to quit drawing to inside straights and holding ace kickers) be able to again wear the crown that was once his. Jack Levy, the Blonde Wave as Pasero is wont to call him, is one of the better distance men in this circuit with only one possible better and that is Bud Brownell of Oregon State.

Another word about Jack. He is an applicant for the lifeguarding job at Seaside this summer which has been traditionally filled by handsome Oregon men for a number of years. Any of you kids that know someone that knows someone and so on that can throw a good word it would help no end. Incidentally it would be a positive thu-rilll to be saved by Jack.

Jim Smith is the third letterman and he does the shorter distances. Jim's sun was more or less in the eclipse last year with Jim Hurd taking over all the heavy duty sprinting but this year he is practically Mike's whole sprinting corps.

Now that you feel you know the three main-springs of the swimming team I suggest you come over to the men's pool at 2:30 today and see them with a host of other boys in a little duel amongst themselves. There are some plenty smooth other swimmers but more of them at a later date.

Sandness, Marshik, Top Men: Wendling Wins Thursday

By CHUCK VAN SCOYOC

Badly off form from their battle- royal with the Wendling Cardinals Thursday night and from lack of practice, Coach John Warthe second half to keep Sigma Nu ren's elongated freshman hoopsters were lucky to emerge with a 29 to 21 victory in yesterday's game with Vancouver high at Mc-

Arthur court. Clearly out-classed in every department of the game, the frosh battled basket for basket with the Trappers for the greater part of the game. The height advantage of Archie Marshik, Chet Allen, and Earl Sandness was all that saved the game for the frosh. This combination scored 26 points of the yearling total, most of them coming from close in shots and tipins from the backboard.

The Ducklings dropped their first tilt of the season Thursday night to the Wendling townies Cardinals 31 to 27 in a rough-house contest in the Wendling pillbox gymnasium.

Wendling Wins

Although they led the townie giants 17 to 15 at half time, the tactics employed by Wendling Cards proved too much for them in the final minutes. There were 25 fouls called in the game.

Sandness of the frosh and G Wright and T. Dorsey of the Cardinals shared scoring honors for the evening, each netting eight points. George "Porky" Andrews stood next in line for honors with seven points to his credit.

With no games scheduled until a week from today, Warren will put his boys to work on intensive drilling and scrimmages against
