

J. PINK'S LEMON-AID

Although I am still some years short of 70 and am considered liberal in a large sense of the word I have reached the terminus of my tenure as disseminator of sports publicity for this sheet.

I could get philosophic and dribble on about how everything that has a beginning must have an ending; or all that goes up must sometime descend, as stock-brokers will verify. But I won't.

Some thoughtful soul very recently informed me that school was now in its third week and that mid-terms would be rolling in soon. That was a distinct surprise and more of a shock to me. I had been living a rather Utopian existence of late (as late as 3 or 4 in the morning sometimes), working for the paper and regarding school as non-existent, as a group of buildings one passed on his way to and from the Emerald office in the dark-stillness of the night.

Aside from that there is a more direct reason. It seems that I am a success. No longer need I slave and toil away unnoticed, unheralded, unsung. I have been recognized. And how? Well, those of you who carefully scanned yesterday's Emerald will find me mentioned in Pollock's Folly. Success? The Olympian peaks of that phantasmal being.

Casting such aside for the moment—those who prefer casting dry flies, wet flies, casting plugs, or just plain, garden-ordinary worms, will find an excellent selection at the Co-op—the purpose of this column is to introduce my successor.

Bill Norene and I started as freshmen on this sheet last year. We have come a long way together (and if you will only take a good squint at my beard you will know just how long) and I am happy to see Bill step into the shoes which, any number of reasons, equally good and equally bad, prevent me from continuing to occupy.

So henceforwardly Bill will preside as head man of this sanctum sanctorum while I attempt to regain the lost and tangled threads of my educational life. Not that this tripe drooling out has seriously affected that. But a fellow is entitled to a little rationalization to tide him over. I have to have some excuse to write home.

So, may I bow out now, and leave this to Bill Norene, a fine guy, a capable workman, and an up-and-coming journalist.

John's Boy Earl and Tovia

The two inseparable, where one goes the other goes also. A good example is the way the boys date a certain Pi Phi. The girl, it seems, is an old friend and the boys take turns dating her. The one that doesn't have a date goes along to keep the other two company.

Earl Sandness and Tovia Pippo are both from that basketball center, Astoria, and played together three years while in high school. Remarks from and about the two boys came mostly from tall, red-haired Sandness, who contributed the rather startling fact that Pippo looks more like Stan Laurel than Laurel does himself.

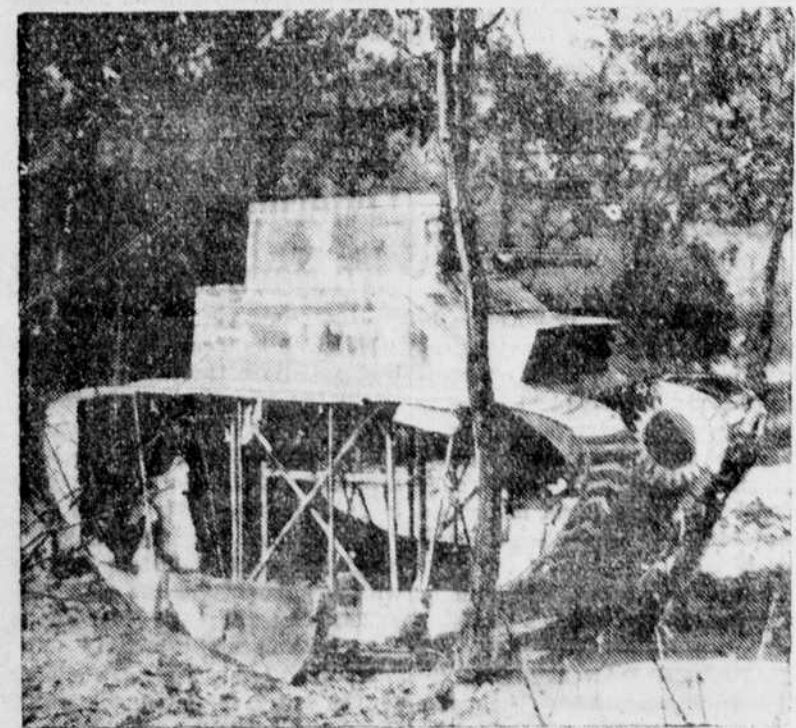

Stories seemed to flow freely about the quiet Pippo, who is reported to have got his name from the seagulls which flew about Astoria crying, "Pippo, Pippo."

When asked of Warren, the boys decided that it was Warren who made Astoria's stars. Such persons as Wally Palmberg, Sarpola, Anet, Johansen and others owe a great deal to a real coach like Warren.

The boys were prepared to enter Oregon State last fall, but decided Oregon was the real basketball center and so they enrolled here.

The boys are among the outstanding players on the frosh squad and are frequently in the starting lineup. Lately, however, Pippo has not seen much action because of weak ankles. The big, grinning Sandness, though, is in there every game.

Dudley Field Stars Lose Hot Cage Scrap To Phi Delt Tattlers

Phi Gamma Delta Hoopers Outplay Yeomen While Gamma Hall Measures Theta Chi Squad in A Loop Cage Festivities

With the score 16 to 3 against them at the end of the third quarter, the Dudley Field stars got hot and stopped the Phi Delt attack cold. With this in their favor they hit their lost stride and scored 10 points in the last quarter to come up within a basket of knocking the strong Phi Delt quintet for a loss.

The Phi Delt found all the trouble from the Stars they could handle. For at the outset of the fourth quarter in which the Stars got their scoring machine rolling Donovan caged a field goal followed in quick succession by two more thus making the score 16 to 9. The Phi Delt fought furiously for possession of the ball, but clever work on the part of Don Mabee kept the ball for the Stars who in the remaining time garnered two more baskets to make the score 16 to 13 as the gun sounded.

Shipley took high scoring honors with 7 points. Donovan for the Dudley Field Stars followed with 6. Don Mabee for the Stars played a very stellar game at the forward post.

Scoring:
Phi Delt, 16
Morgan, 2 F 6, Donovan
Shipley, 7 F 3, Mabee
Strohecker, 3 C 3, Stenstrom
Holmes, 1 G 1, Conway
Regan, 4 G 1, Emmons

Fijis 19, Yeomen 14
Holding a slight lead at the end of the first half and maintaining it throughout the Fijis defeated an up and coming Yeomen crew 19 to 14.

The game started rather fast, but the pace slowed down at the beginning of the second half. Here the Yeomen took advantage of the slowing down pace and began pounding the hoop with a little more consistency to cut down the Fiji lead to 5 points as the game ended.

Campbell starred for the Fijis with 9 points closely followed by Fox of the Yeomen with 8.

Lineups:
Fiji, 19
Campbell, 9 F 2, King
Fintner, 4 F 3, Tingle
Smith, 2 C 3, Mager
Hutchinson, 2 G 2, Hufford
Juola, 2 G 1, Mager
S Barnett

Gamma Hall 18, Theta Chi 12
Staging a last half rally Gamma hall defeated Theta Chi 18 to 12 yesterday afternoon in the last game of the day. The teams were tied at 8 all at the end of the first half, but at the beginning of the second Dick Wray entered the game giving the Gamma boys the necessary spark. Within a few minutes he had scored two field goals thus putting the game on ice with a 12 to 10 lead. From here on they forged ahead enough to sew up the game.

Wray for Gamma hall took scoring honors with 8 points, Loback followed with 7.

Lineups:
Gamma, 18
Engleke, 2 F 12, Theta Chi
Thorne, 2 F 7, Hackman
Wilson, 2 C 3, Harbert
Hayman, 2 G 3, Frye
Dickie, 4 G 2, Niemi
Wray, 8 S

Application was made last Thursday to make skiing a minor sport at the University. The athletic board referred the matter to the executive council for its OK, and if it is received the matter will again be referred to the board for final passing.

Woodrow Truax, club secretary, wishes to make the following statement concerning the ski bus, which was cancelled last week:
Ski Bus Riders:
After consulting Vernon Pomeroy this afternoon, I find that several of our enthusiastic ski club members would just as leave have my throat as fasten a pair of slats on their feet. I hope I am forgiven because my health isn't so good after two days in the mountains this weekend.

Not trying to make alibis but I think the defeat of last Sunday's ski bus can be laid upon no one. There were 26 persons signed to go and we had to have 32 to get the bus for that price. I wish that those of you who tramped off in a huff from the College Side had waited a little while and you could have secured rides from individuals who made the trip in cars. As soon as the supply of passengers was exhausted down town they drove out to the University and picked up those persons waiting at the Side.

A big bus will pick up skiers in front of the College Side at 7:15 a.m. Sunday. The round trip ride will cost $1. This bus is built to accommodate 36 persons but will make the trip no matter how many sign up.
Tryouts for the ski team will take place at Sunshine at 12:30 Sunday. All entrants be at the Sunshine shelter at 12:15 Sunday.

Too Many Wrestlers; Coach Is Bothered

If the coming boxing and wrestling show with Oregon State college on McArthur court January 28 excluded all but competitors of the 145-pound class, the powers that be of the Mitt and Mat club wrestling team could sit back and assume a thoroughly complacent attitude.

Al Bogue, grunt and groan coach, might even begin spending restful hours in the library browsing room instead of grinding away in the mat rooms of the men's gym in an attempt to round out a team that will pull ears on even terms with the Beavers from Corvallis.

It all narrows down to the fact that the 145-pound division of the squad is over-crowded with capable maulers. Six men, practically all on a par as far as wrestling ability is concerned, scrawl their names on the workout sheet which is hung in the training quarters. The six are Johnny Valleau, Walt Wood, Clarence Francis, Harry Schaffer, Morton Myers, and Elbie Studd.

But such a bevy of scrappers is itself a problem to the Duck mentor. Bogue is having trouble picking the two or three men to represent the club against the Dixon men.

Tarzan Valleau is last year's 145-pound champion, while Francis was 135-pound champ last year. Wood has been one of the best of the lot all year.

Two of the remaining three will be competing against their old alma mater two weeks from today if chosen to draw on trunks. Both Studd and Myers are ex-Beavers. Schaffer is one of Eugene's own athletes, having competed in this territory in amateur exhibitions. Francis, just a wee bit smaller than the rest of the grapplers, may train down to the light-weight class which has no representative at present.

There are eighteen places still open on the varsity track team, and many more on the freshman team. Anyone interested in trying out should report immediately, as spring aspirants who have not had the winter training, will stand very little chance of making the team.

Field men are particularly needed this year due to the heavy loss caused by spring football practice, thus giving the inexperienced men an excellent chance in this branch of the sport.

Track workouts are held daily in the unfinished part of the men's gym, where there are adequate facilities for pole vaulting, broad jumping, high jumping, and other field events.

The squad will take to Hayward field as soon as weather permits.

Oregon's Ace Scorer In Campus 'Coop' for Seventeen Hour Stay

Star May See Action Against Grizzly Pack; Coach Hobson Ranks Jigg's Dahlburg's Montana Crew as Top-Flight Outfit

Laddie Gale, second high scorer in the northern division, was discharged from the campus infirmary following a brief 17 hour stay after he had held his own with symptoms disturbingly similar to those displayed by Dave Silver before Dave came down with chickenpox.

Discharged at noon Wednesday, Gale spent the rest of the day in bed.

As Gale's condition remained unchanged throughout the day, Coach Hobson stated that he would probably be able to use the lanky Oakridge boy in the coming Montana series.

Maybe Two More
In the meantime two other members of the varsity ball club, Forward John Dick and Guard Ford Mullen, told Coach Hobson they did not feel so well. Hobson stated that their complaints were of the same kind as Silver's.

Both participated in yesterday's workouts although playing listlessly.

Meanwhile Coach Hobson has the Montana Grizzlies to worry about. After seeing them play Oregon State Tuesday evening at Corvallis he started figuring ways to stop the Montanan's fast-break and quick shooting.

Fast Ball Handlers
He said, "Although smaller than most of the teams, Montana handles the ball faster than any club I've seen this year and the players shoot from anywhere on the floor.

"The Grizzlies are very fast, and though not tall, are tough under the backboard," continued Coach Hobson. "Jim Seyler, center, Thompson, their captain, and Charles Miller, guard, are their outstanding men," he concluded.

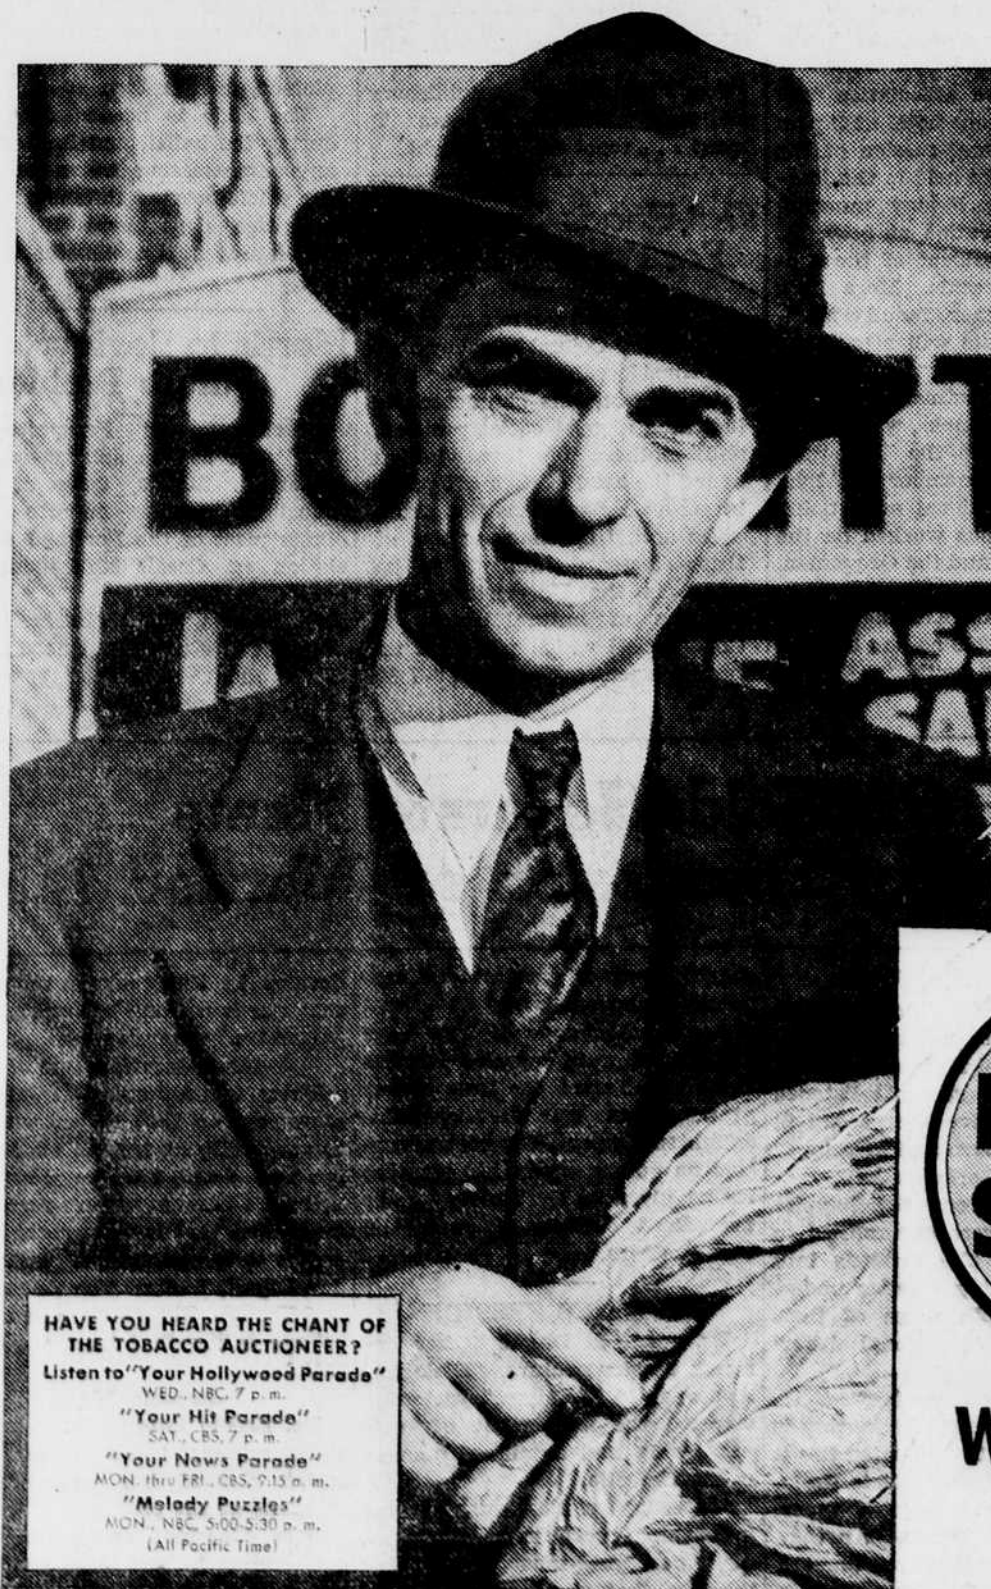

With Gale's absence Coach Hobson lost no time in working two of his sophomores, John Dick and Ted Sarpola, into the expected starting combination.

Matt Pavalunas was also given a trial at one of the forward posts and succeeded in dropping in a couple of his highly arched long shots. He may be used in either position against the Grizzlies.

HE SELLS TOBACCO TO THEM ALL

But Branch Bobbitt, like so many other independent experts, prefers Luckies...

"AT AUCTIONS in my warehouse in Farmville, North Carolina," says Mr. Branch Bobbitt, "the higher the tobacco sells for, the better my profits. So I'm always glad to see Lucky Strike buyers in there bidding. They know what they want and they'll keep bidding right up until they get it."
"Well—in a cigarette—it's the tobacco that counts. I know tobacco and I know what tobacco is in what cigarettes. So that's one reason I've smoked Luckies for 5 or 6 years."

Mr. Bobbitt represents the "aristocracy" of tobacco experts. He judges the tobacco that the growers grow. He's impartial, not connected with any cigarette manufacturer.
Many other experts agree with Mr. Bobbitt. Sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts, Luckies have twice as many exclusive smokers as have all the other cigarettes combined.
