

ASUO Will Aid Campaign to Save 'Oregon'

Prexy Hall Appoints Students to Assist in Securing Berth for Battleship

With the naming by ASUO Prexy Barney Hall of a student committee of four members to augment the faculty committee already functioning, plans were completed yesterday to furnish aid in the campaign to save the Battleship Oregon. Those students named are Jack Enders, Mary Jane Mahoney, Eleanor Swift, and Gerald A. Smith.

The latest drive to obtain money throughout the state to provide a permanent "port" for the historic ship started on the campus a week ago. A faculty committee composed of Professor Carlton E. Spencer, Dean Victor P. Morris, Professor Leavitt O. Wright, and Dr. Earl M. Pallett was appointed by Chancellor Frederick M. Hunter, chairman of interschool board in charge of collecting the funds.

Needs New Berth

Faced with the problem of providing a permanent berth for the ship, which made the record trip "around the horn" in the Spanish-American war, citizens of Portland have asked that the aid of the entire state be enlisted to maintain it as a lasting memorial. Present plans call for a small park and dock to be built along the Portland waterfront at an estimated cost of $80,000.

Contributions to the fund to save the ship will be recorded by the placing of the donor's name on the honor rolls which will be erected in the park or on the vessel. Faculty members will be recorded when they have given at least a dollar, students to gain the "roll" need contribute only 50 cents.

90 UO Professors In National Group

The January bulletin of the American Association of University Professors lists Oregon with 90 professors who are members of the association. Oregon State College has 37 members, Washington State, 74, and the University of Washington, 82. Oregon is considered to rank among the highest in membership in proportion to size.

The Oregon members operate through a local chapter whose officers are Orlando J. Hollis, professor of law, who is president of the University chapter and A. H. Kunz, associate professor of chemistry, who is the local secretary.

Mothers Offer Cookbooks to Displace Mail

University of Oregon students whose mail boxes have been devoid recently of that most intriguing article of first class mail, "a box from home" containing cookies, cake, and other snacking material, will welcome the announcement of a new inducement to culinary activity—a new cook-book, compiled by the Portland chapter of Oregon Mothers.

The books, which go on sale at the Co-op today, contain recipes for pies, cakes, cookies, jam, jellies, and candy as well as the key to making more substantial fodder—all tested and submitted by mothers of Oregon students.

Money from the sale of the recipes will be used to build up the Oregon Mothers' scholarship for freshman students. The book has a waterproof cover decorated with the green and white Oregon duck by Jean Kendall, art student.

Washington Coeds Win Over UO 'Shots'

The match between the University of Washington and the University of Oregon girls' rifle teams Saturday morning resulted in a 32-point lead by the Washington team. The total scores being Washington, 2123 and Oregon, 2091 out of a possible 2200.

Although the Oregon team met defeat they are able to boast the turning in of the three highest scores for the day which were: 199, Marjorie Bates; 197, Louise Woodruff; and 197, Constance Kletzer. The highest target shot by the Washington girls was made by Gene Vradenburg who turned in a score of 196.

The lowest score made by the Seattle team, however, was 188 while the bottom score for Oregon was 180.

The Washington girls and coaches were guests at a luncheon given by the Oregon team at the Anchorage Saturday noon after the match.

Pastor to Speak to Faculty Members Tuesday, Feb. 22

Dr. Frederick M. Elliot, first western president of the American Unitarian association, and for 20 years pastor of the Unity church, St. Paul, Minnesota, will speak to faculty members at the Anchorage Tuesday, February 22, at 12 o'clock.

His topic has not been announced, but will be on some phase of religious study.

Dr. Elliot, a graduate of Harvard university and Harvard Divinity school, holds a Master of Arts degree from Harvard, and an honorary Doctorate of Divinity from Carleton college, Northfield, Minnesota.

Previous to his selection as president of the Unitarian association, Dr. Elliot served as chaplain in France during the World war.

In St. Paul he was recently chosen to receive the Distinguished Service medal, annually awarded by the St. Paul club of Cosmopolitan International to the St. Paul citizen deemed to have performed the most unselfish and voluntary service for the city during the year.

Dancers to Give Varied Program Here on March 4

Leaders of the modern dance, Doris Humphrey and Charles Weidman, and their group, will present a program including the discussion of the dance, a demonstration of the technique, and dances from their concert repertoire, in Gerlinger hall March 4.

Doris Humphrey and Charles Weidman were formerly with the Denishawn group and later joined with Martha Graham, originating the modern dance movement in America. 1927 Miss Humphrey and Mr. Weidman opened their own school in New York. At present they are employed as regular staff members of Temple university, Columbia university and New York university. They also teach at Bennington college, and Bryn Marr.

They have also appeared in several musical comedies in New York. One of them was "As Thousands Cheer." Mr. Weidman was the arranger of many of the dances which are being used in New York's current musical comedy, "I'd Rather Be Right."

This is the second transcontinental tour that the dancers and their group have made since they organized. They are bringing only

Senate Sends Farm Bill to Whitehouse

Administration Gains Large Powers for Crop Control

By GORDON RIDGEWAY WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Praised and denounced, the farm, or crop control bill completed its journey through congress today to be sent to the White House for the presidential signature.

The measure directs the secretary of agriculture to make an estimate of the expected supply, set this figure against expected demand and adjust production accordingly. The secretary will also be empowered to fix marketing quotas, limiting the quantities that can be sold.

Who's Boss?

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 14.—Hearing the question of which union shall represent Pacific coast longshoremen in collective bargaining, was begun today by the national labor relations board.

The present contract between employers and employees is with the International Longshoremen's association, of the American Federation of Labor. Since the time when the agreement was made, many of the longshoremen have joined the ranks of Harry Bridges in a CIO organization.

Just Waitin'

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 14.—People of Minneapolis were waiting literally for a street car tonight, as the last car drove into the barns before 6 o'clock as the city was gripped by transportation tie-up. Taxicabs also were not running.

The strike was caused by a proposal from the car company to place lines on a full-time, one-man basis.

Oregon Studes Rate

In the amount of money available to be spent for books and periodicals, Oregon met with a 15 per cent decrease last year. North Dakota and Oregon State alone met greater decreases in per cent of money available. At net change for all the schools from a 33 per cent increase in 1935-36 to a 22 per cent decrease last year was observed, Mr. Warren said.

'Stage Door' Dates Set for March 3-5

Playing dates for the University theater production, "Stage Door" have been set for March 3, 4, and 5, it was announced by Horace W. Robinson, assistant professor of drama yesterday.

Reservations may be obtained by application at the office of the drama department in Johnson hall.

The motion picture version of "Stage Door" has been so altered from the original play that the setting and the names of the characters are practically all that remain common to both.

The original play as written by Edna Ferber and George Kaufman contains frank denunciation of much that is Hollywood. This poke at the movies is characterized by the role of a youthful, ardent playwright, Keith Burgess, who is determined to give his works social meaning. He accepts an offer from the movies and proceeds to go "Hollywood" with all the trimmings. The movie version completely eliminates the part of Keith Burgess and any derogatory comment on Hollywood in general.

League of Oregon Cities Will Survey WPA Achievements

The United States Community Improvement appraisal, a movement which will compile nationwide information on the Federal Works program will be sponsored in Oregon by the League of Oregon Cities, it was announced by Herman Kehrl, executive secretary of the league.

The results of actual experience in handling unemployment problems in localities will be of great importance in the appraisal. The relative worth of employment projects to the needy unemployed who were given work relief will also be appraised.

Quarterly Publishes R. C. Clark's Story

A story entitled, "The Archives of the Hudson's Bay Company," by Professor R. C. Clark, head of the history department at Oregon was published in the January issue of the Pacific Northwest Quarterly.

The story is taken from his paper of the same title which was read at the thirty-third annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Branch of the American Historical association at the University of Washington, Seattle, December 30, 1937. The story is based upon notes and summaries made upon the material in the Archives that relate to the Pacific Northwest for the period 1821-1847.

Oregon's New Radio Program Needs an Oregon Commentator

Two Paid Radio Jobs Open to all OREGON Undergraduates in Competition Sponsored by Lucky Strike

Here is a chance for you to go on the air, broadcasting a regular commercial radio program. It's a chance to find out how your voice and personality register over the microphone. Best of all, it's a chance to win a cash prize and a part-time radio job at a regular salary.

The Oregon Emerald went on the air last night with a daily program of college news, sponsored by Lucky Strike Cigarettes. For the rest of this week, the news will be presented by a professional announcer. But for one week only! After that, the entire program will be produced as well as written by Oregon undergraduates.

Two student commentators, taking the microphone on alternate days, will receive their news items from the Oregon Emerald, just as the network commentators receive their news from the press associations.

Lucky Strike and the Emerald invite YOU to try out for one of these two new jobs!

All undergraduates, both men and women, are eligible to compete.

TWO FAMOUS RADIO COMMENTATORS ACT AS JUDGES

BOAKE CARTER LOWELL THOMAS

Have you a good radio personality? Here's how to find out. Just enter the auditions. Boake Carter and Lowell Thomas, both famous in radio, will be the judges and will make the final selection of the two best commentators.

So come on out and try! See the contest rules printed in the box at the right. Then tonight at 10:30 p.m. over KORE listen in to the Oregon Emerald Reporter. Listen to the professional announcer you'll hear doing the job. Can you do as well?

THE OREGON EMERALD REPORTER IS ON THE AIR!

Tune in KORE at 10:30 p.m. --- 1420 Kilocycles Every Night, Monday through Friday

Auditions, Tues. thru Fri., 2 to 5 p.m. Educational Activities Building Studio

TRY OUT TODAY FOR A CASH PRIZE AND A RADIO JOB!

Here Are the Rules

- Every undergraduate Oregon student will be eligible to compete. Members of the staff of the Daily Emerald will be eligible on equal terms with all other students.
- Auditions will be held today, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of this week at 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. in the Educational Activities building.
- An impartial jury from Station KORE will judge the auditions selecting ten finalists on the basis of clarity, easiness, and radio personality. Contestants will be identified by number only.

Ten Cash Prizes—$10 Each

- Each of the ten finalists will receive a cash prize of $10, and each will have a chance to broadcast as radio commentator for the Oregon Emerald for one day.
- When the auditions are completed, the ten finalists will take their turns on the air. Each program will be recorded from start to finish, and the records will be sent to New York for judging by Boake Carter and Lowell Thomas.

Lucky Winners Get Well-paid Jobs

- Mr. Carter and Mr. Thomas will choose the two winners and wire their decision to the Emerald. The winners will share the post of Oregon Emerald commentator on alternate nights for the rest of the college year.
- Each commentator will be paid a regular salary of $10 a week.
- If at any time either of the two regular commentators selected resigns his position, a new commentator will be chosen by the judges from the original records.
