

Oregon's Seventh Head Man

Dr. Donald Erb ... finishes first week as president of Oregon.

Inspired Webfoots Will Send Hoopsters South

Overlooked by a 40-foot "O" outlined in flames, an inspired crowd of Webfoot supporters will gather tomorrow night at the railroad station to send off a do-or-die Lemon and Green basketball team to the coast conference championship wars in California. Ralliers will meet at 8:30 p.m.

The first crowd to gather for such a purpose in 11 years, students and townspeople will make the most of their distinction in giving "Hobby" Hobson and his boys their last bit of home boosting.

The flickering light of torches carried by Skull and Dagger men will add to the rally atmosphere, while the University band and the American Legion drum corps will also contribute to the general uproar for the departing northwest conference champions.

German Penologist Due Next Summer

Dr. Hans von Hentig, eminent European penologist from the University of Kiel in Germany, will be among the visiting professors on the University campus during the 1938 summer session.

A new course will be offered in speech pathology, with the co-operation of the speech clinic of the school of education. The class will become a regular course next year.

One of the consistently popular courses is that in athletic coaching, to be taught this summer by Oregon's new mentor, "Tex" Oliver. The class is given for high school coaches.

Art fellowships will be awarded to supervisors and teachers in the West for the ninth year, under the Carnegie grant. In the past years Harvard and the University of Oregon have been the only schools in the nation to offer these Carnegie fellowships.

BA Student Body Forestalls Vote on New Constitution

The student body of the school of business administration will have to wait until early next term before they see, hear, or vote on their proposed constitution, said Harry Hodes, senior in business administration, who is chairman of the committee for organization of the school.

The report on the proposed merging of the business administration library with the main library will be made public soon, said Hodes.

GOFF GETS SCHOLARSHIP

Victor Goff, senior in English, recently received word that he has received a scholarship to Union theological seminary in New York for next year. The scholarship is for $400. He has been active in young people's work while on the campus.

$2 Fee Boost May Come up At Meet Today

Opposition Evidenced In Last Meeting's Motion to Table the Question

Action on the proposed plan to increase tuition fees $2 per term may be taken at the meeting of the state board of higher education in Portland today. The group referred this proposal to Chancellor Hunter for further study at the last meeting, January 25.

The suggested raise, from $10 to $12 per term, came from the board's finance committee. It would be levied on all undergraduates in every institution of the state system.

Opposition to the finance committee's report was seen at the last meeting when a move to table the question for further study drew the support of three board members.

Arts, Letters College To Be Reorganized

Reorganization of the college of arts and letters is the first thing on the program for Dr. C. Valentine Boyer, now that he has returned to that department as dean and director.

"It is a very pleasant feeling I have in returning to the department," said Dr. Boyer Saturday. "I feel quite at home here."

Besides getting the department's work for next year in shape, filling in new classes, and doing other revisory work, Dr. Boyer will assist Dr. Donald M. Erb in his new duties for a time, "If he is needed," he said.

Dr. Boyer will teach no classes until fall term. At that time he will possibly teach courses on the English novel, nineteenth century prose, and social problems in English literature.

Donald Erb Will Be Honored by Alumni In Portland March 17

Fansett Plans Mammoth Banquet for New University Officials; Students Are Invited To Attend Celebration

The biggest activity in the history of the Alumni association is being planned for Thursday, March 17, when the organization, in co-operation with the Portland group, will hold its annual banquet at the Portland hotel.

This year's meeting, under the direction of the general chairman, Bert Gooding, will feature President Donald Erb in his first Portland appearance. Coach Tex Oliver will also be presented to the Portland grads.

"The banquet has been scheduled during spring vacation so that students will be able to attend, too," said Elmer Fansett, alumni secretary. "We hope that all the students who are able, as well as graduates and friends of the University, will attend."

Erb to Speak

Besides the principal address of the evening, which will be given by President Erb, musical entertainment will be provided by George Hopkins and Hal Young, music professors, who were also guest artists at last year's banquet. The 1937 get-together was a huge success, with a more-than-capacity crowd turning out for the meeting, held at the Congress hotel.

Class secretaries in Portland have been contacted and are planning class reunions to be held at the time of the banquet. Portland presidents of the fraternity and sorority alumni groups are also making arrangements, in cooperation with the active chapters on the campus, to renew old friendships.

Tickets $1.25

Tickets, which are $1.25, are being sold by Kelsey Slocum, in Portland. Reservations may be made by telephoning him at Tabor 7634 or Beacon 4195, or by writing to him in care of the Pacific building.

Other committee chairmen are Vinton Hall, publicity; Ward Cook, program; and Mrs. W. Sheldon Dunning, arrangements.

Students willing to handle ticket sales for their houses or other groups have been asked to contact Mr. Slocum.

Emerald News Staff Will Undergo Purge

Announcement of a general reorganization in the Emerald staff, including several major appointments to become effective spring term, came from Lloyd Tupling, managing editor, yesterday.

Changes in the reporting staff of City Editor Bill Pengra will include the appointment of several seniors to "beats" on the campus.

Two new assistant managing editors will be named and several copy desk changes will be made at the start of the term.

Applications for positions on the news and sports staff may be made in the news room.

GLEE HEAD PICKED

Activities began in the freshman class as "Tiger" Payne, frosh prexy, announced frosh glee appointments.

Dick Williams and Stan Staiger were appointed co-chkairmen of freshmen's event. Betty Buchanan and Frank Meek are in charge of music.

Shirts Delayed? New Postal Law Changes Mails

Students of the University, who send their laundry home and find that it is frequently delayed, are actually themselves to blame, according to an announcement made Monday by Frank L. Armitage, Eugene postmaster.

The delay is caused because students or their parents have failed to remove cancelled stamps from the postage cards. Such stamps must be removed, even if the cards are reversed, since the recent enactment of a postal law.

Neglect of this kind usually causes a one-day delay, Mr. Armitage says. He advises students to inform their parents to conform.

Exams Scheduled To Start Thursday

No Major Change of 'White Book' Dates Announced

University of Oregon students will begin final examinations for winter term at 8 o'clock on Thursday morning and will proceed to follow the exam schedule as set forth in the 1937-38 Year Schedule and Regulations booklet, according to Clifford L. Constance, assistant registrar.

No major change has been incorporated in the program of the tests, although in some cases, specific classes may have arranged a time aside from that set forth in the manual.
