

'Peer Gynt' Tryouts Open, All Parts Free

Hours From 11-12, 3-6 At Guild Theater; 40 Speaking Parts, Mostly for Men

Open season on parts in "Peer Gynt," spectacle scheduled to be presented at the Igloo April 26, was announced yesterday by Horace W. Robinson, director of the production, who last night issued a call for all interested persons to try out.

Tryouts will be at the Guild theatre in Johnson hall at the hours of 11 to 12 tomorrow morning and 3 to 6 in the afternoon. The tryouts are open to everyone—students, faculty, townspeople, and anyone else interested in reading parts.

No Casting Done

No casting at all has been done, according to Director Robinson, so all parts are still free. Although there are few women's roles in the play there are plenty of parts for men, Mr. Robinson said. There are almost 40 speaking parts, ranging in length from one line to two or three scenes.

Anyone interested in trying out who cannot arrange to appear at the hours named should call 3300 ext. 215 to make other arrangements.

Sinclair Lewis Says Hutchins Prexy Timber

By ALYCE ROGERS

Dr. Robert Maynard Hutchins, youthful president of the University of Chicago, should be the next president of the United States.

At least this is the opinion of Novelist Sinclair Lewis, who said in a recent lecture at Washington, D. C., that the famed educator is "the kind of man who could face Stalin, Mussolini, and Hitler and make them feel a little ashamed."

Warning...

Some girls break dates by going out with them.—Tiger.

Definition: Rubbers are something which if your feet are dry, you haven't walked in the rain without.—Owl.

Campaign Pointer . . . Did you hear about the guy that smoked so many Camels that his nerves got so steady he couldn't move?—Purple and White.

Can't Lie Pa . . . I really flunked, but with a roog high, 00.99999999—Bates.

Wasp-Waists...

Ohio State men are looking for girls with wasp waists, or the traditional "waist dance" general admission will be 10 cents plus one cent for each inch of the girl's waist measurements. If the man goes stag, he will have to pay a penny an inch for his chest measurement.

Another Honor...

"Student of the month" is the (Please turn to page two)

Oregon's Tom Mooney

Gordon Connelly . . . his fight to win ROTC exemption nears end.

Three-Year Fight to Win Exemption From ROTC May Give Connelly Degree

Possibility that Gordon Connelly, sophomore in journalism who has attended the University for the past four years, will win his three-year case to secure ROTC exemption and fully accredited standing as a senior was seen this week as the final decision appeared forthcoming shortly.

Connelly's petition for exemption is believed to have been passed at the last meeting of the faculty committee on military education, but the petition lacks the formality of going to President Erb for endorsement.

Professor Calvin Crumbaker, chairman of the committee, said last night that a complete and final report of the case will be made soon. The group is meeting in its regular session tonight.

Will Petition for Waiver

The petition for exemption having been passed, Connelly will petition the faculty committee on academic requirements for waiver of the regulation requiring 45 hours of upper division credits after receiving the junior certificate.

Connelly's junior certificate has been withheld during the three years of his attempts to secure military exemption.

(Please turn to page two)

Noel Benson Reveals New Election Plans For Campus Politics

Joint Meeting of Student Body Officers and Class Presidents Will Consider Proposal at Big Pow-Wow Tomorrow

A plan to bring complete revision of the present class and student body election set-up will be advanced tomorrow at a joint meeting of student body officers and class presidents, Noel Benson, ASUO vice-president, announced yesterday.

Benson, as instigator of the plan, will place before the group a "reorganization bill" that will create a powerful election board authorized to control all class elections and the student body voting.

Busy Godfrey To Serve on Gooner's Jury

George Godfrey, head of the University News Bureau, is serving this week on the "goon squad" jury in the Eugene circuit court. The compulsory call, coming in the midst of the bustle of a newly beginning term, caught Mr. Godfrey in a busy period.

Carrying on in his absence is Miss Marge Olson, his secretary.

Gamma Alpha Chi to Give Dance April 2

The spring formal season will be opened Saturday, April 2, with the Gamma Alpha Chi coeds invitational dance at McArthur court.

In keeping with the season the motif will be "Springtime in Paris." The Igloo will be completely transformed in keeping with the theme, according to Jean Rosson, member of the women's national advertising honorary.

As a special attraction during intermission a fashion show will be presented by Berg's of Portland. Four models, chosen from University of Oregon coeds, will present the new spring styles. Their identity will not be revealed until the night of the dance.

Tickets are on sale at all women's living organizations and the Co-op. Maurie Binford and his orchestra will play for the occasion.

Benson did not reveal his entire program last night, as he plans to submit his proposal to the class president-ASUO officer group for discussion and possible revision before revealing further details.

All Elections One Day

He said that all class balloting would be done the same day, and that the decision of the election board would be final in all cases of controversy.

The meeting is tentatively scheduled for three o'clock tomorrow in ASUO President Barney Hall's office in the educational activities building.

Stewart, Janes Get Commentator Jobs

Kay Daugherty to Air Feminine News on Thursdays

The fog surrounding the winners of the Emerald-Lucky Strike news commentator contest was lifted last night at KORE when Paul Stewart and Dolph Janes were announced as receivers of the $40-a-month broadcasting plums, with Kay Daugherty named as alternate.

Stewart led off last night with the first of the five-minute broadcasts in this term's series, which began with the first regular issue of the Emerald. Janes appears tomorrow night. The broadcasts will continue until May 27 with Janes and Stewart taking the microphone for alternate weeks.

From New York City, N.Y. To The Oregon Daily Emerald, Eugene, Oregon.

We have just selected Paul Stewart and Dolph Janes as Oregon Emerald Radio Commentators. Wish there were three jobs so we could name Miss Kay Daugherty, who was outstanding among the women. Please give the editors our best wishes for their splendid program.

—Boake Carter, Lowell Thomas Kay Daugherty will appear every Thursday night giving the women's side of the news.

(See page three)

MISS SMITH IN PORTLAND

Miss Janet Smith, employment secretary, left for Portland Friday to interview students planning to attend the University next fall and to search for permanent and summer jobs from several Portland employers. She also plans to investigate the summer resorts on the coast for student jobs this summer.

The Winnahs

Paul Stewart, Dolph Janes, and Kay Daugherty . . . won places on the Emerald's air edition.