

Pierre de Lanux Speaks Tuesday On Europe Crisis

War Correspondent Assembly Speaker; Classes Postponed

Pierre de Lanux, internationally famed French author and journalist, will speak at the third assembly of the spring term to be held in Gerlinger hall Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

His address will be concerned with the present European situation. It will be highlighted by personality glimpses into the lives of eminent men of politics whom he has known during his years in newspaper and government work.

War Record

M. de Lanux, who served as war correspondent in the Balkans in 1912 and 1913 and has a distinguished record of service in the war, was appointed a member of the French high commission to the United States in 1918.

During the Paris peace conference he was on the staff of Andre Tardieu. From 1924 to 1936 he served as director of the Paris office of the League of Nations.

Morris Audience

In the Northwest a few years ago on a lecture tour, he was heard in Portland by Victor P. Morris. Dean Morris comments on M. de Lanux: "He was a very excellent speaker and had a most constructive point of view."

Other occasions which the speaker will attend are a 12-o'clock luncheon at which Dr. Donald M. Erb will be host, a meeting with the University French club at 4 p.m., and an intercity meeting of the Rotary club to be held at the Osburn hotel at 6:30.

Regular Tuesday 11 o'clock classes will be postponed until the same hour on Thursday.

President Erb Says Harvard Plan Would Not Work Here

By PAT ERICKSON

Impractical for Oregon, was the comment made by President Donald M. Erb on a new plan started at Harvard giving undergraduates control in hiring and firing their teachers.

Asked unexpectedly what he thought of the Harvard plan, the University's new prexy thought there were a "lot of jokers" in the idea.

Harvard students are endeavoring to give undergraduates real control through a powerful student committee representing each department in the school. The committee would have voting power in the advancement or dismissal of faculty members.

Saying, with reservations, that a student committee, if it were non-voting, might be a feasible plan for the University, President Erb looks at the general idea of the Harvard committee as "ghastly."

A university, believes President Erb, should attract students mainly by the established advantages it has there to offer. They are not "shanghaiing," as he put it, into attending college, and considering that, they should come with the idea of getting the best from what is there, not trying to make the school over for each individual.

"I shudder to think what such a plan might lead to," the president said. "For instance, differences in opinions among students themselves would be confusing." Most generally opinions are not at all unanimous. This lack of unity among the students themselves would be a serious drawback, then, to the establishment of such a plan as the Harvard committee."

Lyman to Direct

The men will be directed by Ralph H. Lyman, formerly dean of the University of Oregon music school, and for 21 years in the service of Pomona college.

The Eugene concert will be one of the most important of a series of 35 concerts to be given in California and Oregon by the group.

to Grants Pass for the weekend to join a party of engineers who will make a geological study of the mountains in southern Oregon.

Mr. E. K. Nixon, state director of the department of geology, will also be in the party who will work through the mountains and on up the coast.

Pomona College Glee Club Offers Concert Tonight

Singers Directed by Ralph H. Lyman, Ex-Music Dean

With one of the opening programs of their 46th season, the Pomona college glee club will present a concert to an audience at the school of music auditorium at 8 o'clock Saturday night.

The 32-member group will present a series of numbers among which will be the famous "Torchbearers," more popularly known as "The Ghost Dance." The dance is one of the most famous college songs ever written, and is an adaptation of a weird Indian war dance obtained in the early days of the college by a Pomona student and two professors who watched the Indian ceremonial from a hiding place on the slopes of San Jacinto mountain.

Seniors May Try For Army Posts After Graduation

An opportunity for three or four graduates in military science to secure one year's active duty in the U. S. army was revealed yesterday by Colonel E. V. D. Murphy, in command of the Oregon ROTC division.

Twelve seniors in military have filed applications for the positions, Colonel Murphy said. All applicants must be 28 years of age, physically fit, and unmarried.

Colonel Craft of the University medical school will give the physical test to applicants today at 9 o'clock.

Books on Jewry Available in Libe

A group of books have been received from the American Jewish congress, New York City, and are obtainable in the University library, according to Corwin Seitz, order clerk.

Included in the group are "The History of the Jews," by Abram Leon Sachar; "The Making of the Modern Jew," Milton Steinberg; "How to Combat Anti-Semitism," a symposium; "The Jews of Germany," Marvin Lowenthal; "Jews in Palestine," A. Revusky; and "Anti-Semitism," Hugo Valentin, as well as pamphlet material on the Jewish situation in Germany and Poland.

Nations, Partners In Canoe Fete to Be Chosen Today

18 Houses Will Draw Selections at Meet In College Side

Representatives from nine men's and nine women's houses will be on hand this morning at the College Side to see what the grab bag holds for their organizations as they draw for partners and nations to be depicted in floats at Junior week-end's canoe fete.

The men will draw for partners, while the women will find out what nations their floats will represent at the canoe fete. Nations must be kept as drawn unless changed within three days after the drawing with the consent of the canoe fete chairman, Ed Thomas.

Rules Prepared

Rules governing the floats will be issued at the drawing, with provisions having been made for some elasticity, according to Chairman Thomas.

First right to enter the canoe fete was given to organizations which did not compete last year, with second choice going to those not entering two years ago but entering last year.

Houses Listed

Women's houses listed are Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Phi, Alpha Xi Delta, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Gamma, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Alpha Theta, and Zeta Tau Alpha.

Men's houses which will draw are Delta Tau Delta, Delta Upsilon,

Last Chance for Added, Dropping Courses Today

Last date for additions to courses is noon on April 2, announced Clifford L. Constance, assistant registrar.

It is also the latest date for withdrawals from classes unless withdrawal is made with passing grades later in the term. Later withdrawals must be made by a special petition to the academic requirements committee.

Second installments on registration fees and non-resident fees are due on April 11, Mr. Constance said.

Plans in Progress To Dedicate Gates

Plans to dedicate the new gates at the entrance to Howe field on April 22, the day of the baseball league opener, were revealed last night by Anse Cornell, athletic director.

The plans are tentative as yet, Cornell said, but several prominent state officials and business men will be asked to take part. Dr. Erb will be asked to "chuck" the first ball across the plate with Chancellor Hunter receiving.

Professor Howe, whose name the field bears, will probably be on hand to take part, Cornell said.

Phi Delta Theta, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Alpha Mu, Theta Chi, Beta Theta Pi, Phi Kappa Psi, and Pi Kappa Alpha.

The drawing will be at 10 o'clock in the back room of the College Side.

Gov. Martin and Bonneville

The allocation by the President of funds for the construction of the Bonneville project was, in a large measure, due to the activities of General Martin while serving this State as a member of Congress.

Declaring that the project should be administered for the best interests of all the people in the State, the Governor has, to this end, pledged himself to co-operate with the President and Administrator Ross in every way possible.

It was largely through his efforts that ship locks were included in the Bonneville project—thus making it possible for sea-going vessels to take on and deliver cargoes as far up stream as The Dalles. He has never ceased his fight for the canalization of the Upper Columbia in order that the grain growers and shippers of the Inland Empire may enjoy such favorable rates as are obtained through water competition.
