Chancellor Asks $595,000 To Run Education System For Coming Two Years

Interim Committee Asked for Emergency Appropriation to Tide Schools Over; Due To Increased Enrollments

Minimum additional funds of $595,000 will be necessary to operate Oregon's higher educational system for the next biennium, 1939-40, Chancellor Frederick M. Hunter told an interim committee of the legislature recently.

Hunter asserted that the promised shortage was because of the combination of increased enrollment and decreased appropriations. He said the enrollment had reached the 10,000 mark with a gain over 1929 of 108 per cent at OSC and a 50 per cent increase at the University, while the appropriation in 1929 of $5,995,054 was cut in 1938 to $5,067,637.

Other Factors Named

Other factors enhancing the demand for more money, the Chancellor said, are:

Replacement of equipment and repairs to buildings.

Salary restorations.

Building of a chemistry building.

Hunter said that the latter need might be met from student funds and WPA appropriations. The new building would cost an estimated $500,000.

Savings through unified administration in the present budget as compared to that of 1929-30 were fixed by the chancellor at $332,417.

Hardy Leads Ducks To Victory Over ONS

Wolves Score Hits as Mattingly Pitches First 6 Innings

With Veteran Bob Hardy pitching three innings of no-hit ball, Oregon's hustling Ducks came back scoring two runs in both the eighth and ninth inning to defeat the ONS Wolves, 7 to 4, on the normal school field yesterday.

LeRoy Mattingly hurled the first six innings for the Ducks and allowed all the hits and runs that the Wolves got. Hardy came in at the start of the seventh inning and received credit for the victory.

Bob Beard, right fielder, with three hits in four times at bat, Captain Ford Mullen, and Jack Coleman led the Duck attack. (Details in sports section.)

Burning Caps Cause of Riot at Northwestern

By ALYCE ROGERS

Indiscriminate wreckage was left in the wake of Northwestern's "young" going through the state of becoming a "man" last week when the annual cap burning ceremony made headlines characterizing it as a riot.

Two to three hundred freshmen, stealing a march on the Interfraternity council, burned their caps, and then invaded the five girls' dormitories, overturning beds, breaking windows, throwing water, and leaving the dormitories in a state of turmoil, with an estimated damage of $800.

The "unguided mob action" continued at two downtown theaters where the managers let them in free peacefully.

Overturned furniture was expected, according to the freshman girls, but not so the wanton destruction of expensive perfumes, victrolas, radios tossed from third stories through closed windows, plus the confiscation of pictures, bedding, and personal effects.

The girls weakened after the turmoil, with their humanitarian instincts giving rise to hopes that the boys did not become ill from smoking stolen cigarettes.

Godfrey Speaks on Housing Problem; New Members Will Take Control

Nominations for officers of the interfraternity council for the coming year were made at a special meeting last night. Elections will be held two weeks from Thursday night at the ATO house.

Bill Cummings and Ron Husk were nominated for president of the group. Hank Nilsen was the only member named candidate for vice-president and Keith Osborne, the only nominee for secretary-treasurer.

George Godfrey, head of the University news bureau, talked to the council on the fraternities' housing problem. A discussion of a plan for providing a permanent housing program for campus visitors, such as high school bandmen, was held.

Koch to Be Delegate

Karl Koch, manager of the house managers' council, was named to sit in at interfraternity meetings as the representative of his group.

At the next meeting of the council the new members will take over the control of the group's business. Several projects are well lined-up for the coming year, said Prexy Don Johnson last night. A study of such current problems as rush-week rules, mid-week preference, and all-campus pledge training will be made.

British Journalist To Speak Thursday

S. K. Ratcliffe, British author and journalist, will be guest of honor and speaker at a dinner meeting of Sigma Delta Chi on Thursday night in the Anchorage.

The dinner session, which will start at 5:30 p.m., is the only forum scheduled for Mr. Ratcliffe. He will answer questions on European journalism.

Members of Sigma Delta Chi have been asked to bring guests. Anyone interested in attending the meeting may do so by making reservations with Dorothy Dill, journalism school secretary.

Geological Society Guests of Honorary

Condon Club Honors Portland Group With Banquet, Tour

Condon club, geographical and geological honorary on the Oregon campus, entertained several members of the Geological Society of Oregon at a banquet, last Saturday at the Osburn hotel.

Dr. Warren D. Smith, head of the geography and geology department, acted as master of ceremonies. Dean Packard of the science department at OSC, and Dr. L. S. Cressman gave short talks on the Condon collection and its history.

The banquet was followed by a tour of the Museum of Natural History, located in Condon hall. From all reports the group seemed well pleased with the display.

Sunday the group went on a field trip to Hobart Butte southeast of Cottage Grove.

Theta Sigs to Hear Mrs. S. H. Krieg at Luncheon Meeting

Members of Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary, will hold a luncheon and business meeting Thursday noon at the Anchorage.

Mrs. S. K. Krieg, who is visiting the Zeta Tau Alpha chapter here, will speak to the group informally. Mrs. Krieg was a charter member of the chapter of Theta Sigma Phi at Illinois University. At present she is editor of the Zeta Tau Alpha magazine, Themis.

Officers for the coming year will be elected.

Reserve Chief

Carlton Spencer . . . recently named to head Oregon's army reserve corps.

Spencer to Pay Visit To Reserve Officers

Will Carry Invitation From Eugene Post For Convention

Carlton E. Spencer, professor of law at Oregon, will visit local chapters of the Reserve Officers' association at Roseburg, Klamath Falls, Medford, and Marshfield this week. Professor Spencer is departmental president of the organization for Oregon and holds the rank of major.

He will carry an invitation from the Eugene chapter for the organized reserve officers' annual convention, scheduled for May 21. Plans are already under way to make the annual meeting outstanding in the organizations' history.

When the tour is completed Major Spencer will have visited every reserve chapter in the state except that at Astoria, where he plans to go in the near future.

Major Spencer holds his commission in the judge advocate section of the reserves. He has been active in various phases of military work in Eugene and other sections of the state. He has been a member of the law faculty at Oregon since he obtained his degree in law here in 1915.

Dick Jurgens, popular maestro, brings his band April 29 for the Frosh Glee.

New Editors To Be Named By 'Ex' Council

Next Year's Emerald, Oregana Positions Filled Today

Meeting tonight to choose next year's Emerald and Oregana editors and business managers and to settle on student body fees for next year will be the ASUO executive committee, six students and the dean of men representing the associated students.

The four important publication positions will be filled at the meeting, all candidates having appeared before the educational activities board within the last week. The executive committee acts on the recommendations of the board.

Fees Question Due

Student body fees for next year will also be decided on, with the expectation being that the same scale as used this year will be carried over to next year.

Members of the committee in addition to Virgil D. Earl, dean of men, who is ex-officio member of the group, are: ASUO Prexy Barney Hall; Noel Benson, Frances Schapp, and Dave Silver, ranking ASUO officers; Elisabeth Stetson, AWS president; and LeRoy Mattingly, editor of the Emerald.

The meeting is scheduled for six o'clock at the Anchorage.

Erbs Guests at Social Affairs? Mrs. Not Here!

Correcting the statement being made by ambitious social chairmen when reporting with pride their guests at various social affairs, the Emerald wishes to state that Dr. and Mrs. Donald M. Erb will not accept any invitations to affairs on the campus together this term.

The reason: Mrs. Erb has not come to the campus yet from Palo Alto, and will not do so until the end of this school year.

Oregon Alumnus to Seek Congress Seat

The forthcoming state political campaign will see at least one University of Oregon alumnus in the field as Walter Norblad, Jr., seeks the nomination for a seat in congress from the first congressional district.

Norblad, son of A. W. Norblad, former governor of the state, has both bachelor of science and doctor of jurisprudence degrees from the University, and has done graduate work in the Harvard law school. He has been a state representative at three sessions of the state legislature.

Norblad, an Astoria man, was active while on the campus, serving as chairman of Junior weekend and ASUO junior man. He is vice-president of the University of Oregon alumni association.

Frosh Election Plans Start With Dinner Meet

First attempt to line up a strong "gravy" train for the coming frosh election will be made tonight when members of the Beta-Phi Delt-ATO-Sigma Chi-Chi Psi bloc put on the feed-bag for representatives of their houses and every sorority on the campus.

The banquet, to be held at McCrady's cafe at 6:30, will bring into the open the usual spring activities to secure party-tickets. With the representatives of the fraternities choosing the men they will run, the all-campus women's representative will be given a chance to name part of the ticket and help form the platform of the bloc.

Paul E. Kiepe, instructor in speech, will talk at the meeting.
