Dead mice lined up on a tray, 100 strong, will be sent to the natural museum in Condon hall, with the compliments of the zoology department.

Although at one time the army was larger, the ranks have gradually been diminished by zoology students, who have been dissecting them in class-room experiments.

The mice were all local residents, having been caught and stuffed on the campus.

Champion Typist to Show Skill Tuesday

Grace Phelan, world's amateur champion typist from Etna, Pennsylvania, will give a demonstration of her skill in room 105 Commerce building at 3 o'clock, Tuesday, April 19.

Miss Phelan wrote at the rate of 129 net five-stroke words a minute for 30 minutes, striking 17,783 keys with but nine errors, thus winning the world's amateur typing championship, and making the greatest record ever made in an amateur contest. She broke the 14-year-old record of 113 words per minute.

In her demonstrations, Miss Phelan emphasizes rhythm, concentration, and lightning change of paper. While writing she carries on a conversation or answers the questions of people who wish to secure information on typewriting subjects.

Miss Phelan is sponsored on her trips by the Underwood Elliott Fisher company, and locally by the Stevens & Groshong Typewriter company, located at 942 Oak street, in Eugene.

War, Boycott, Drill Sunk In Adverse Student Vote

First returns on a national survey of student opinion on peace, being sponsored by the Brown Daily Herald and the United Student Peace committee, showed that American college students don't approve of a consumer's boycott against Japan, compulsory ROTC, collective security, or participation in a foreign war.

The poll was participated in by 28 colleges in 18 states and recorded votes of 9,858 students.

On Question 1, regarding American policy in the Far East, 51.1 per cent of those voting favored withdrawal of American forces in China, and 41.8 per cent urged innovation of the neutrality act. Only 30 per cent favored cooperation with Great Britain, France and Russia, in applying economic sanctions against Japan, and but 16.2 per cent declared in favor of a unilateral declaration by the United States branding Japan an aggressor and cutting off relations with her. Only 22.7 per cent favored a consumers' boycott against Japanese goods sold in this country. 9.8 per cent urged repeal of the Oriental Exclusion Act.

ROTC Voted Down

Question 2, regarding ROTC in schools and colleges, indicates an overwhelming sentiment against compulsory drill in any institution of learning except purely military schools. 23 per cent voted for complete abolition of the ROTC, while 54.1 per cent favored a more moderate program, permitting optional drill for those desiring it. 17.2 per cent desired compulsory drill in state owned schools and colleges.

Question 3 concerned a permanent policy for keeping America at peace, and here, collective action took an even greater defeat, 21.6 per cent voting for application of economic sanctions by the United States along with other powers, while only 17.5 per cent favored American participation in military sanctions against an aggressor nation. 39.2 per cent favored a policy of unqualified neutrality in all foreign wars, while 25.7 per cent urged American entrance into a revised League of Nations, with provisions for peaceful change and revision of treaties strengthened. 15.3 per cent voted for complete isolation of this country from the rest of the world. That students have little interest in the Spanish crisis was demonstrated when only 7 per cent urged withdrawal of American neutrality in Spain, in favor of aid to the Loyalist government, and but 2.5 per cent urged the same action, in favor of aid to the Rebel forces.

Defense Guaranteed

On Question 4, based on the so-called Oxford Oath, 14.6 per cent declared their determination to fight in no war the government might declare, while 66.2 per cent, the largest majority recorded on any issue avowed their willingness to defend continental United States from invasion. Only 8.6 per cent said they were willing to fight to defend "American Rights Abroad," and 9.8 per cent said they would support the government in any war it might become involved in.

Question 5 offered five courses of action in regard to military and naval expenditures. 37.8 per cent of those voting, urged progressive disarmament in cooperation with other powers. 25.1 per cent favored passage of the billion dollar naval bill, while 19.6 per cent urged reduction in naval expenditures. 20.3 per cent believed the army and navy should be stabilized at their present levels, while 10 per cent recommended a reduction in naval expenditures but an increase in the expense account of the army.

Pink Chairs Reappear in Library Rejuvenated After 'Break-Down'

Reposing in their accustomed corners of the new University of Oregon library browsing room once more, and bearing their share of weary student humanity are the two pink leather chairs which made so disastrous an exit from the contemporary scene three weeks ago as the result of chronic deflation of their horse-hair innards.

They do not stand alone—the only representatives of solid luxury, in a sea of wicker-work discomfort, for there is now a companion-piece—a remarkable brown and tan striped davenport in the midst of the broad expanses of floor space!

Europe Looms for Miss Ebba Wicks, Architecture Grad

Ebba Wicks, senior in architectural design, is leaving for her home in Astoria today to make final preparations for a summer vacation in Europe. She will leave with her sister the middle of May.

Miss Wicks, who received the trip as a graduation gift from her parents and sister, has completed the requirements for her bachelor degree. To obtain the bachelor degree from the architectural school it is necessary to complete a five year course.

The two will spend considerable time in Sweden visiting relatives. They will also visit other European countries.

Her drawing and water color sets will be "must" for the trip. Miss Wicks plans to do a good deal of pencil and water color sketching during the summer.

Coach Hobson said that they will not start, but that he intends to use them. Nicholson was regular center fielder last season, while Smith, who hits from the south side of the plate, is a heavy hitter. Walden has had considerable experience as a catcher.
