

Davis Chosen Head Of Legal Fraternity

Alan F. Davis, second year law student, was elected president of Phi Delta Phi, national legal fraternity, at a regular meeting of the group recently.

Davis, who will take over leadership of the law society at a dinner meeting soon, has been active in campus activities since he was a freshman. He was sophomore class president, and a member of Friars.

Sheldon Parks was elected vice-president and Wallace Kaapcke, treasurer.

Frosh Glee Bandsman Noted for Sweet Music

Dick Jurgens, who brings his orchestra to the Igloo through arrangements with the Music Corporation of America, on April 29 for the Frosh Glee, is considered to have one of the most versatile orchestras in the field of entertainment.

Primarily noted for sweet, smooth rhythm, Jurgens has instilled in his organization the ability to "tear it up" when the occasion calls for that type. One moment, the band will have a crowd of dancers swaying to the strains of a beautiful waltz, and the next minute, with the entire brass section lined up at the front of the orchestra pit, they will figuratively "tear down the walls" with a fast moving bit of swing.

Novelties Featured
The most popular parts of any program played by Dick and the boys are their side-splitting novelty numbers.

With such a combination of swing, novelties, and sweet music, Jurgens and his orchestra have the capacity of fulfilling the desires of any and all dancing crowds, and this has been done at the Drake hotel and the famous Aragon ballroom in Chicago, and many others. He now comes to the campus from an engagement at the Wrigley Casino on Catalina Island.

Frog Declared Mystery After Husky Comes

A young stranger—obviously a college man—walked into the music school Friday afternoon and asked permission to practice with the University of Oregon symphony orchestra, which he said he had heard on a broadcast.

He was granted permission to play with them, and sat in the section of first violins, enjoying himself immensely and playing very well, too, according to Dean John J. Landsbury.

At the conclusion of the practice, he thanked Dean Landsbury and in talking with him revealed that he was Victor Palmason, University of Washington trackster.

"Well!" exclaimed Dean Landsbury, "as the old proverb goes, you can't tell by the looks of a frog how far he can jump!"

Milligan to Face Damages Suit in Moot Court Trial

Primary action for the law school's second moot trial in University court had begun yesterday with complaints and demurrers filed with the clerk. John Thomas, third-year law student, is bringing suit against Sid Milligan, president of the law school student body, on a charge of negligently allowing the plaintiff to be struck with a softball bat.

Attorneys for Thomas are Alton McCully and Tallant Greenough, while Robert Mulvey and Harrison Winston represent the defendant.

Women's Prexies Guests at Dessert

The new presidents of women's organizations will be entertained at a dessert tonight at 6:30. The dessert is being given by the past presidents of heads of houses at the home of Dean Schwering.

rises to wealth and power despite a famine and a civil war. Then Muni, head of the family, spreads discontent by ignoring his sons and changing his affections to "another woman." It takes the threat of an insect drove to unite the family and bring about a conclusion happy for one and all.

Two University radio classes present programs over the air tonight. KORE will broadcast a medical drama, while the KOAC program will concern itself in the life of Goodyear.

Douglas Fairbanks Jr. is to be a guest on the Al Jolson program and will be cast in a short skit.

Results of investigation in the field of inexpensive group recreation were given by Rev. Williston Wirt of the First Congregational church of Eugene.

Separation of the sexes in recreation in educational institutions has led to a lack of mutual understanding and later maladjustment, the conferees were told by Miss Eva M. Seen, director of physical education for women at Oregon State. She outlined progress made in co-recreation, pointing out the necessity for substituting a social for a competitive attitude.

Group Training Aid

The part played by character building organizations in reducing juvenile delinquency was pointed out by Edward Curtis, regional executive of the Boy Scouts of America, who cited reduction of delinquency among under-privileged youths after introduction of Scout troops and similar organizations.

Practical problems of dealing with juvenile delinquency in county courts was described by Judge Earl B. Day of the Jackson county court, who suggested that the granges include in their programs some arrangement for placing delinquent youths on farms, where rehabilitation may be aided.

"Good Earth" with Luise Rainer and Paul Muni is featured at the Mayflower tonight and tomorrow night. Although a third-run picture by now, "Good Earth" still has drawing power. It is one of those shows that people enjoy seeing over again.

Both Miss Rainer and Muni are Academy Award winners. Muni won his laurels a year ago, while Luise Rainer won the statuettes "Oscars" they are called in film-dom slang) both last year and again this year with her performance in "Good Earth," responsible for the top actress honors.
