

Fraternities' Song Contest Plans Ready

Group Singing Meets Start Next Monday; Will Be Sponsored By Phi Mu Alpha

The annual contest sponsored by Pi Mu Alpha, men's musical honorary among men's living organizations on the campus for the best group singing will begin Monday, Harold Faunt, chairman of the group arranging for the contest, said last night.

Judges of the contest, chosen recently, are as follows: Donald E. Hargis, instructor in speech; Bill McGinnis; Bert Chamberlin, junior and president of Phi Mu Alpha, the sponsoring organization; and Robert G. Vosper, graduate student.

The contest will begin Monday evening about 6:00, with the Sigma Nu boys meeting the fellows from Gamma hall. Coaches and accompanists must come from within the group. The houses must participate as a whole, and small groups will not be permitted to represent large houses.

Oregon Song Compulsory

Each house will sing three songs, one of which is to be an Oregon song, and the other two are to be selected by the house. Advance notice of at least three days will be given each house so that they will have time to report whether they intend to participate.

The winning organization will be selected from the four best chosen at a student assembly or other meeting arranged for the selection.

First Contest Monday

After the Sigma Nu-Gamma hall contest Monday evening, the following contests will be arranged on week nights, one contest each night until the complete house groups have participated.

Sigma Alpha Mu will meet the Chi Psi group Tuesday evening; Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Delta Tau Delta Wednesday evening;

Ethel M. Foster, English Unemployment Authority Arrives on Campus Today

By ROD ORANGE

Miss Ethel M. Foster, one of the most accomplished women in the British civil service, will arrive on the campus this noon for a four-day visit during which she will speak to several University organizations.

Miss Foster, former assistant principal in the English ministry of labor, stands high in the British civil service. She entered it as one of the first inspectors appointed to enforce the national health insurance act of 1912, and was transferred to the ministry of labor in 1919 to assist in setting up the national unemployment insurance plan.

Helped Social Legislation

During her 16 years' service in the ministry of labor, Miss Foster took a prominent part in the administration of the unemployment insurance act, the minimum wage act, the international labor work, and the training of unemployed women and girls. In 1935-36 Miss Foster undertook an extended tour in the United States to study the inauguration of the social security act.

Her official duties and outside contacts have brought her into touch with members of most of the government departments, and she has thus a wide knowledge of the personnel and organization of the British civil service.

To Speak Sunday

Sunday evening Miss Foster will speak at a buffet supper of the combined co-ops to be held in the sun porch of Gerlinger hall. She will speak on the British civil service.

At 11 o'clock Monday she will speak to several economic and sociology classes in 107 Villard on the unemployment service in England. This meeting will be thrown open to all persons interested.

Monday evening she will address the faculty social science club on "Notes on Unemployment Compensation Administration." At a luncheon meeting Tuesday with the Rotary club she will talk on health insurance in Great Britain.

Queen Virginia

(Continued from page one)

Pitching the first new white baseball in from the stands will be Queen Virginia, who will throw the ball to L. H. Gregory, sports editor of The Oregonian, in pitcher's box for the first pitch. "Greg" will have a "dark one" to Chancellor Hunter at the plate, with Mayor Large behind the bat.

The only shadow over the opening day proceedings was the spirit of J. Pluvius hovering over the campus last night in the shape of a gathering of inky clouds. However, the prospect of rainfall failed to deter the planners of opening day ceremonies, who declared that nothing short of a cloudburst could spoil the affair. Game time is 3 o'clock.

Radio Group

(Continued from page one)

with Dahlberg sitting in as ex officio member. Others on the committee are Horace W. Robinson, drama; Herman Kehrli, municipal research; L. F. Beck, psychology; and Luke L. Roberts, KOAC manager.

The general committee, a definitely established group, is to organize and promote the radio programs which will emanate from the University campus. The committee will cooperate with Luke L. Roberts, manager of KOAC, in adapting the programs to the state at large, Chairman Dahlberg said.

Working with Dahlberg on the general committee are Dr. Dan E. Clark, assistant director of general extension, and Deans Onthank, Allen, Landsbury, and Morris, representing personnel, journalism, music, and business administration respectively.

Captain and Fan

Ford Munn and Chancellor Frederick M. Hunter . . . take part in the opening-day ceremonies today.

Contest Opens for

(Continued from page one)

White." The glee, annual frosh frolic, this year will feature the music of Dick Jurgens and his orchestra.

The band will come to the campus directly from the Rainbow cafe in San Francisco where they have been playing.

DR. JAMESON TO SPEAK

Dr. S. H. Jameson, professor of sociology, will address the Week-end forum Sunday night at 8 o'clock in the AWS room in Gerlinger on "Minority Prosecutions." Last meeting was featured by a talk on "Proletarian Literature" by Assistant Prof. Bertrand Jessup of the English department.

FRESHMAN CLASS

in its

FROSH GLEE

presents

FRIDAY APRIL

29th

General adm., $1.25

in person!
Music Corporation of America Presents

Dick Jurgens

JURGENS

AND HIS Orchestra

Featured On Network Radio Nightly Broadcasts HIT OF St. Francis Hotel, San Francisco. Palomar, Los Angeles. Olympic Hotel, Seattle.

DANCING 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. (12:30 a.m. permission)

50c Reduction

per couple on Frosh class cards; general admission, $1.25.

Quick Service
DEVELOPING & ENLARGING

The largest supply of cameras in Eugene.

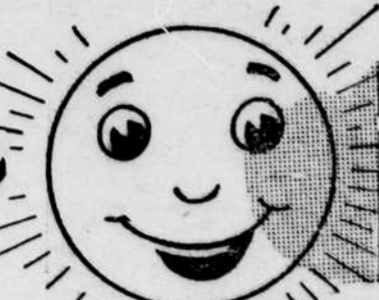

Don't forget . . .

That proper development and printing is just as important as the proper film . . . Try the . . .

CARL BAKER FILM SHOP

7th and Willamette

It's time to

FRESHEN UP

that Summer Wardrobe

Get your white suit cleaned and ready for the spring formals

Eugene Laundry

Phone 123, 178 W. 8th

