Final Preparations For Junior Weekend Nearing Completion

First Event Friday to be Lawn Luncheon With Coronation of Queen Virginia to Follow; Jepson Concert Grand Climax

By BUD JERMAIN

With the signing of Billy Mozet's orchestra for the junior prom, final preparations for Junior weekend, annual three-day festival of University students, are being rushed to completion this week for the program opening May 6.

Including many new features this year, the weekend program will carry on all the traditional events, with campus luncheon, the canoe fete, the junior prom, the frosh-soph tug-of-war, and Mothers' day attracting hundreds of visitors to the campus.

Queen Virginia Gets Airy Ride; Models Styles

Junior weekend queen, Virginia Regan, was up in the air yesterday but she wasn't having trouble with anyone.

Along with several of the highest paid professional models on the coast and northwest style experts, Queen Virginia modeled newest air styles in a huge United Airliners' mainliner flying over Mount Hood yesterday.

The style show, first of its kind on the coast, was covered by representatives of Life, news-reel cameramen, and news reporters.

Tuition Paid By Blood Donors at U. of Michigan

By ALYCE ROGERS

Nearly 200 University of Michigan students are helping to further their education by selling their blood for transfusions, according to the assistant director of the university hospitals. Blood donors are paid from $10 to $30 for each donation.

Prexy's Wife to Arrive Here for Junior Weekend

Mrs. Donald M. Erb will pay a hurried visit to Oregon's campus, her first here since her husband's installation as president, when she arrives May 6 for Junior weekend festivities, President Erb said yesterday.

Since his wife is to be honor guest at all the official Junior weekend functions such as the Oregon Mothers' reception Saturday afternoon, President Erb was asked if his wife would be making speeches at the affairs she will attend.

"Definitely not," the president declared. "In fact," he went on, "the only condition upon which I was able to take my position was to guarantee my wife she would never have to make speeches!"

Mrs. Erb will stay only through May 9 when she will return to Palo Alto.

Double Nomination Likely at Assembly Today in Gerlinger

Johansen, Kemler File Notices; Weston and Husk Are Expected to Enter Race Shortly, Before Deadline Saturday

By BILL PENGRA
Emerald News Editor

The possibility of a two-man nominating assembly faces the ASUO this morning at 11 o'clock in Gerlinger hall, after it was learned last night that only Wally Johansen and Zane Kemler had secured their eligibility okay from the dean of men's office and filed notice with ASUO Vice-Prexy Noel Benson of their intention to run for the executive committee positions.

Although campus politicians have rumored the names of various candidates who might run for several weeks, these two were the only ones who had prepared to be nominated up to last night. It is believed that Harry Weston, one rumored candidate, and Ron Husk, dark horse candidate, will throw their hats in the ring some time this week.

Saturday Deadline Set

Deadline for late nominations was set for Saturday, midnight, as stated in the ASUO by-laws. Late nominations may be made by petitions signed by 50 ASUO cardholders and must be accompanied by written declarations of intention to run before being filed with Benson.

Prexy Barney Hall said last night that the use of a faculty parliamentarian would probably be required this morning to define the by-laws when unqualified nominations are made.

Nominations will be made for positions on the Excomm rather than for president, vice-president, and so on. Elections will be held next Thursday.

Swing Session Follows ASUO Assembly at 11

A "swing session assembly" will follow the ASUO nominating meeting this morning at 11 o'clock in Gerlinger hall, ASUO Prexy Barney Hall announced this week.

With music being furnished by Babe Binford's orchestra, campus entertainers will bend their efforts to provide a real swing club for student "jitter bugs."

Buck McGowan, Joan Van Cleve, Pat Taylor, Lloyd Magill, Don Kennedy, and Smoky "Dark Gable" Whitfield will feature new songs, sweet swing songs and comedy.

Band Members to Have Storage Room

No longer will the Oregon band members have to carry their uniforms with them wherever they go, for they will soon have a new room in which to store their instruments and suits.

Carpenters are now busy remodeling the upstairs of the ROTC building, and making a special band room, where all band equipment will always be available.

Frosh Assembly Plans Changed; Meetings Today

A frosh nominating assembly will be called in Villard hall today at 5 p.m. to nominate candidates for sophomore offices, it was announced last night by Gleason Payne, class president.

Payne announced the change in the frosh election plans last night from the previous plan of a nominating-electing assembly May 5. Elections will be held May 5 by secret ballot.

The frosh meeting will follow the junior meeting at 4 p.m. as announced by Zane Kemler in Villard.

Sophomores will meet tonight in Villard at 7:30 to nominate junior officer candidates, Dick Litfin said last night.

Who's the Fairest of Them All?
