

Junior Weekend Lunch To Serve 2500 as Queen Starts Three-Day Reign

Plans are underway for the biggest Junior weekend luncheon in years, according to Margaret Goldsmith, general chairman, who is expecting nearly 2500 people. Barbecued sandwiches from a local restaurant will be served at 12 o'clock May 6 on the lawn in front of the old libe to visitors and students alike, with no luncheon being served at any of the living organizations.

Mothers, alumni, and friends of students will see lovely dark-haired Virginia Regan as queen of Junior weekend. Earl Scott's orchestra will furnish swing music for the event.

Wending their way impressively through crowds, black-robed Friars and Mortar Board members will tap new members. Selection of members of the senior service honoraries is based on scholarship, leadership, activities, and service.

The luncheon, a traditional part of Junior weekend festivities will be served by Kwamas and Skull and Dagger members. A public address system will be used to give general directions and announcements.

Intermingled with other activities, Order of O members will have their day. They will dunk in the water fountain near the old libe all fellows wearing white shoes, neckties, or speaking to a girl. The cause for much hilarity is the traditional dunking of campus leaders, a few girls, and even now and then a faculty member.

The directorate for the campus luncheon is composed of the following people: Miss Goldsmith, chairman; Mary Elizabeth Norvell, assistant chairman; Bob Recken, finance; Barbara Ward, secretary; Jack Gaven, grounds; Betty Reich, serving; and Marian DeKoning, service.

Delegates Back From Physical Education Meet

Professors Elected to Important Offices At Conference

With the return yesterday of Dr. R. W. Leighton from Atlanta, Georgia, Oregon's physical education school promised a full staff for the first time in almost a month.

Dr. Leighton has been attending the national convention of the Society for Health, Physical Education and Recreation. The other two members of the Oregon delegation, Paul Washke and Earl Boushey, are expected to arrive today or tomorrow.

Most important business at the convention was the enlarging of the society to include recreation as well as physical education and health, Dr. Leighton said. San Francisco was chosen as the location for the convention next year, he said.

All three Oregon delegates attained national offices at the convention. Earl Boushey was elected to the governing board, Paul Washke to chairman of the activity section and Dr. Leighton to secretary of the research division. Dr. Fred Couzens, who received his doctor's degree at the University and who is now at UCLA, was elected president of the association.

On the way east the Oregon delegation stopped at Salt Lake for a meeting of the Southwest district association.

Studes to Get Holiday During UO-OSC March

Prospects of a half-day holiday to allow students to view the Oregon and Oregon State ROTC units in parade on Governor's Day, May 25, were seen yesterday when Colonel E. V. D. Murphy announced that afternoon classes at both Oregon State and the University would likely be dismissed.

The combined OSC-Oregon units, divided into infantry, engineering, and artillery corps, will number over 200 students, 1250 of which will come from Oregon State. Special trains have been chartered to bring these units to Eugene for the competition.

Winslow Acquitted In Moot Court Trial

Norman Winslow, defending a suit for $3000 damages brought by Charles McGirr, was found not liable by a unanimous verdict of the jury of University court last night. The action was the third case in the law school's series of moot court trials.

Winslow was charged by McGirr of writing and publishing a note which was defamatory to McGirr's character. The defendant admitted writing the note, as part of a play script, but denied publishing it, or allowing it to be published.

Witnesses for McGirr, besides himself, were Bill Shepherd, Ken Schramm, and Nathan Cohen. He was represented in counsel by Hammond and King.

The defendant, George Neuner and Ed Raudsep, testified for Winslow, with Silven and Miller at the counsel table.

Orlando J. Hollis, acting dean of the law school, was on the bench, as usual.

Research Bureau To Make Survey of City Government

The Oregon Bureau of Municipal Research in cooperation with the committee on public administration of the Social Science Research council is commencing a comprehensive survey of the city manager type of government in the United States. The Oregon research bureau, under the direction of Herman Kehrl, and William O. Hall, staff member, is supervising the research in Oregon.

The Oregon cities to be surveyed are Bend and Astoria. The purposes of the survey are: to appraise the city manager type of government after 25 years of operation; to determine, if possible, whether or not this distinctive type has been successful or not; to gather data of help to cities contemplating changing to this type of government and to give advice to cities already using it.

Phi Theta Upsilon to Act as Frosh Advisory Council

Plans for a newly-revised Phi Theta Upsilon were given by AWS Prexy Elisabeth Stetson at the meeting of the women students yesterday afternoon. The group will cease to act as a junior women's service honorary and will serve as an advisory council for freshman women in orienting them and in choosing their activities. The group is expected to pledge girls within the next two weeks. From these girls a president will be chosen who will be on the AWS council as frosh councilor.

The local chapter of the order is playing host for the affair. It for the coming year. Peggy Jane Peebler and Elisabeth Stetson spoke of their trip to the AWS convention and mentioned the fact that in 1940 Oregon will hold the convention here. The recent carnival was pronounced a success and a vote of thanks given to Marionbeth Wolfenden, chairman.

The meeting was in honor of the Junior weekend queen and princesses who were presented with short entertainment. Jeanette Harbert gave two readings. Roll call was taken of the girls' living organizations.

SPEAKERS TO HOLD BANQUET

Order of the Mace, speech honorary, will hold its annual banquet May 12, it was decided at a meeting of the organization yesterday afternoon. Exceptional members of the speech classes will be invited.
